

Gene's Retiring Statement Given In Printed Form

NEW YORK, July 31. (UP)—Gene Tunney's formal printed statement of his retirement follows:

"I have fought my last bout as a professional boxer. It naturally is with a certain regret that I announce my permanent retirement from the ring. No man realizes more than I do my debt to the game. It has treated me well. To it I owe such fame and fortune as I possess and it has given me something less ephemeral than fame—many real and warm friendships, which I hope and expect to keep through all the years to come.

"I always shall take a live and active interest in boxing. There is no finer physical exercise or more engrossing science. It is a game which, properly conducted, teaches and develops such qualities as stamina, confidence, patience, self denial, bodily fitness, mental alertness and courage.

"I have a great affection for boxing and one of my chief desires has been to leave the sport better than I found it. I have tried to be not only a champion, but a sportsman.

"But the time has come when professional boxing can offer me nothing further than I desire. I am putting it behind me, grateful for the benefits conferred, but with the feeling that I am still young enough to make a new start in other fields.

"There is no contender at the present time who appears capable of attracting public interest. If there were I might delay my retirement long enough to face him in the ring, but it looks as if it might be two or three years before a dangerous opponent is developed. That is too long to stand and wait.

"If I had fought again it would have been for Tex Rickard. I regard him as the foremost boxing promoter of all time. Realizing that another champion will follow me, I can think of no more capable hands than Rickard's in which to leave the selection of such a man, especially as he will necessarily be guided by the advice and assistance of another man to whom I owe more than I can express. There could be no more fitting time than this for me to pay tribute to the untarnished honor, the wise counsel, the generous friendship, and the lion's heart of that grand old man of sport, William Muldoon.

"Under these circumstances, it is my desire to place in the hands of Tex Rickard a belt, or other suitable emblem of supremacy, to be awarded by him to that boxer who, through a series of elimination bouts, or victories over the most formidable opponents that can be obtained, shall prove himself deserving of it.

"I have no thought of trying to nominate my successor. To the victor belongs the spoils. I merely step aside and say: 'May the best man win.'"

Americans Break Fifty-Fifty In Day's Olympic Contests

BY FRANK GETTY, United Press Sports Editor. AMSTERDAM, July 31.—American athletes won two of the four Olympic events held today and took an auspicious lead in the point score of all nations. One of the United States triumphs today was in the women's events, Miss Elizabeth Robinson of Chicago establishing the 100 metres distance in 12.4 seconds to beat the fastest women athletes of the world. The other American victory was scored by Eddie Hamm of Georgia Tech, who established a new Olympic record in the running broad jump with a leap of 25 feet, 4.3 inches.

The other events held today were won by Great Britain and Poland. Douglas Lowe, veteran of the British team, beat the field in the 800 metres run, breasting the tape in 1 minute, 51.8 seconds for a new Olympic record—one-tenth of a second faster than the record established by Ted Meredith in 1912.

Miss Konopacka of Poland won the discus throw for women with a toss of 129 feet, 11.84 inches. The fair-haired little girl from Chicago's South Side, who never ran a serious race in her life until four months ago, restored American Athletic supremacy in her spring after nearly two days had passed with the United States flag unraised on the center pole. She was bashful when the United Press correspondent talked to her after the race. Showed with congratulations from every side, Miss Robinson could only smile her thanks.

"Really, I don't quite know how I did it, for Miss Rosenfeld (Canada) caught me a few yards from the tape. I just felt I must go on and win and so I stuck out my chest," she said. "I was never happier in my life."

Miss Smith, another Canadian, was third. Hamm's victory in the broad jump came on his first try, when the Georgia Tech athlete touched the sunken take-off board and flung himself through the air to better the Olympic record. The broken sand, where Hamm's body first touched, was enough for the day and he hopelessly outclassed his competitors, although Alfred H. Bates of Penn State made the finals and placed third.

"I hoped all along just to make one jump," Hamm said. "I knew that my first effort should be the best, if I had good luck."

Hamm was the shyest of the American competitors and declined to talk much about his victory.

Another American girl found hard luck barring her from a first place position. Miss Copeland threw the discus beyond the best efforts of her competitors but her attempt was not allowed because she stepped outside the circle, giving Miss Konopacka first place.

stretch on even terms with a field of great middle-distance runners and then pulling away to win as he pleased. Had the Britisher been pushed he probably would have broken the world's record, for he was breathing easily at the tape, while others, including Hahn, were battling desperately to muster strength for the sprint. Hahn, rated as one of America's greatest runners, insisted on setting the pace throughout the race and was run out when the mighty Britisher challenged him in the stretch.

The American athlete was heart-broken at his failure to place better than fifth. "I'll never run again," he said after the race.
