

LETTERS FOR OREGON

The Oregon Products Letter Contest has been going now for nearly eight months. Only a few more months to go. If you have not tried for one of the prizes, get busy and send in your letter this week. The best letters submitted this week are printed below.

Jumble Word Judges:

"What Oregon makes—makes Oregon" is a slogan based on facts. But the consumers of goods must co-operate with the producers lest the supply becomes greater than the demand—a condition that spells disaster to the producer. Therefore if we wish to stimulate production in Oregon we must use the goods made here.

We are justly proud of Oregon and its resources, but we must go farther than feeling loyal, we must use as much as possible, products of our own state.

I use Carnation milk oats and find them after a few minutes' preparation, wholesome and appetizing.

I prefer Tim-Bake crackers because I can always depend on a fresh, crisp cracker—the two qualities crackers must have to be good.

Let us boost for Oregon-made goods by using goods made in Oregon.

Respectfully,
MRS. CARRIE L. HIGGINSON.

Jumble Word Judges:

I take pleasure in enclosing my solution of this month's

Jumble as well as a letter giving my little boost for Oregon manufactured products.

Like all other women, I have an awful time planning meals day after day the year around, but somehow when dinner or lunch time comes we sit down to fairly average meals and much of the goodness in our meals is directly contributed to Oregon brands of foodstuffs.

For instance, this cold weather chili goes well, and the catsup I use is Knight's. Of course I don't use Knight's alone, because there must be good pork cut in bits, onion, peppers and so on, but I give Knight's preference in point of importance.

Crown flour has been a standby of mine for long years. Bread making is not so important as it used to be, but I frequently make hot rolls and every Sunday morning we have waffles or pancakes and they owe their goodness to Crown flour.

I expect your space is limited, so I will refrain from telling any more of my particular Oregon favorites at this time.

Sincerely,
MRS. NATE OTTERBEIN.

Prize Announcements Soon! It Won't Be Long Now!

The winners of the MADE IN OREGON product JUMBLED WORD CONTEST will soon be announced. Watch for them! In the meantime, get out the pencil and try this month's contest. See the suggestions below and the rules in the last column.

Here's your chance to see how much you know about Oregon made products—and a chance to win a handsome cash prize of $10, or one of the other 22 prizes while you are enjoying yourself.

The Klamath News and the Oregon Manufacturer's Association want to see how much you know about Oregon products.

HOW TO ENTER

Just re-arrange the letters in each jumbled group to make them spell the name of one of the advertised products, the name of the manufacturer, or the slogan used in advertising that product.

It's easy. For instance, "GOONER NI DAME" simply means "MADE IN OREGON." Just unjumble the jumbles.

Then, in 250 words or less, tell the jumbled word judges why you prefer Oregon Made Goods, or what particular features of one of the advertised articles appeal to you.

Read the rules, read all the advertisements, get your pencil and go to work. Three cash prizes and 20 merchandise prizes every month. Send in a solution every month—every week—two or three if you wish.

RULES

1. This contest is open to all users of Oregon Made Products except employees of the Klamath News and their families.
2. List the jumbles and their solutions in their correct order.
3. Tell in 250 words or less why you prefer Oregon Made products in general, or one of the advertised brands in particular.
4. Write only on one side of the paper.
5. Facts may count—not literary style.
6. Each solution must be accompanied by labels or packages or store receipts, showing the purchase of at least two of the advertised products.
7. Impartial judges will be selected. Decisions to be based on correctness of solution and on the reasons given for buying Oregon Made products.
8. Solutions must be received by midnight, October 31.
9. Mail your solutions to JUMBLED WORD JUDGES, care KLAMATH NEWS.
