

Heeney Returns to Ring, Trains for Possible Comeback

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (UP)—Between diamond rings and boxing rings, Tom Heeney, the New Zealand heavyweight, has chosen the latter and is training daily for a comeback he hopes will land him a match with Jack Dempsey in September.

Heeney married after his unsuccessful attempt to win the world's championship from Gene Tunney last July at Yankee Stadium and returned to his home at Gibbourne, New Zealand, on his honeymoon. He came back to this country in November with every intention of becoming a diamond importer.

Charles Harvey, his manager, and the late Tex Rickard talked him out of it.

"You can peddle diamonds any old time," Harvey insisted.

"Tom, I want you to fight Phineas," Rickard told him. "The winner gets Sharkey or Stripling and then the big shot with Dempsey will be waiting for the victor."

One of the best-liked fighters in the game, Heeney couldn't put on a convincing argument against them.

"As long as Dempsey's going to be in it," Tom said today, "I want the best the rest of us men can do to get in there and fight for a chance to meet him."

Miami Fight to Be Decision Affair

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 16. (UP)—The first heavyweight championship elimination bout, with Jack Sharkey of Boston and "Young" Stripling of Macon, Ga., as the principals will be staged under the auspices of the American Legion.

Contracts between Joe Dempsey, for Madison Square Garden corporation, and H. S. Fairbanks, post commander, for the American Legion, were signed here today, calling for the bout to be held February 27.

This formally apparently disposed of the last impediment to the bout, since Florida law requires all decision rights to be held under auspices of the Legion.

Introduces Bill To Open Records

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 16. (UP)—Olen H. Metaker, house member from Columbia county, Tuesday morning introduced a bill which would do away with the secrecy of the records of the state industrial accident commission. The bill which would amend section 6611 of Oregon laws would omit entirely the following paragraph:

O'Grady, Darr Go Ten Rounds to Draw, Fast Bout

Gene O'Grady, the trim, clean little fighter from Ashland, almost met his Waterloo at the Legion hall Wednesday evening when Orville Darr, a former Spokane boxer who now resides in Klamath Falls, showed the O'Grady boy just about how the big game is played.

From the first round Darr led the fight. He had O'Grady on the ropes repeatedly and by sent home some severe punishment at different times.

There was not a single round that could be credited to O'Grady, although a number of the rounds were plainly even. In the eighth and tenth Darr's energy seemed to increase and Gene sagged. Fight fans who had been accustomed to seeing O'Grady lead the fight were surprised when their idol hit the ropes so often and Darr carried the punching to his opponent constantly.

Although the judges gave a draw decision, the general sentiment seemed to be that Darr had far the best of the bout.

"Tiny" Holman, Bend heavyweight, who only weighs 194 pounds, proved no match for "Tiny" Abbott, "The Redwood Giant," who weighs 220 pounds and stands a head taller than Holman. Abbott beat Holman to the mat in the first round for a knockout with a right to the jaw.

Mike Daly, Pelican City pugilist, and Jack Broadlove, Bend welterweight, fought four rounds to a draw.

Billie Broadlove, also of Bend, won a decision over "Wild Bull" Effman, Chiloquin Indian, who substituted for Bud Jerry in a four-round preliminary.

Two young boys opened the show in a suitable manner and were given a draw.

The first American Legion sponsored fights were a success, with a good house and a card "that was worth the money." The American Legion has taken over the boxing cards in this city and will promote another soon. Joe Bickerstaff was matchmaker for the card, and Ed Arthur refereed.

Pasadena Greens Swamped By Rains

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 16. (UP)—Craig Wood, of New Jersey, one of the country's leading golf professionals, won the first annual Pasadena $4,000 open tournament, when he completed 36 holes in 118 late today.

After a first 18 of 72, which was one above par, had tied him for second position, he did the afternoon 18 holes in 66, to tie the course record.

Dallas Jeffers, of Long Beach, also had a 66 in the afternoon, and his 74-66-140, placed him in second place, two strokes behind the winner.

George Von Elm, Detroit amateur, was third with 141, shooting a morning 69 and an afternoon 72.

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 16. (UP)—George Vonelm, Detroit amateur, and Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., took to the city Municipal court like two ducks today and tied for the lead in the Pasadena $4,000 open tournament at the end of the first round.

They turned in cards of 69, two under par, for today's 18 holes of the 36-hole event. A heavy rain which hit the links this morning, swamping fairways and greens, did not hamper them as it did some.

Walter Hazen, the British open champion, seemed back in form after his disappointing showing at Los Angeles last week, and tied Henry Cluel of Bridgeport, Conn., for second place with a card of 79.

Hazen was out in 23, two under par, as was Armour, but a six on the 18th hole relegated him to second position.

MacDonald Smith, steady as usual, came in one over par with a 72. Tied with him were Eddie Loos, Pasadena, and Craig Wood, New York.

John Junior, Portland, Ore., and Bobby Cruikshank of Oregon, N. Y., had 73's. Cards of 74 were turned in by Fred Morrison of Los Angeles, Dallas Jeffers of Long Beach and John Black of San Francisco.

skull, and identified X-ray pictures of the head of Randall by "Jelly" which he said caused death. He said that the skull was cracked all the way around the head and that it was fractured down to the left ear and down the forehead to one eye.

V. B. Goodin, only eye-witness, with the exception of Morley, Randall, Ross Morley and Mrs. Randall, said that he invited Mr. and Mrs. Randall from the dance hall "for a little drink."

Morleys approached, and Morley, Goodin stated, said: "There the — is now."

Fight Described
Mrs. Randall came between the men and said to Morley: "Let's don't have any trouble." Then he said Morley picked up a board and struck the first blow, which knocked Randall down, and after knocking Randall down Morley hit him twice with the board, and then went over by the wall of the building, near where the men fought, and said: "Have you got your whipper? Well, I got this — put away." Goodin said that after he saw Morley hit Randall with the board, Mrs. Morley and Mrs. Randall had started fighting, and that Mrs. Randall was knocked

Merrill Defeats Chiloquin 36-27

CHILOQUIN, Jan. 16. (News Special)—In a Timber league basketball game at Merrill Tuesday night, Chiloquin was defeated by the more practiced Merrill five by the score of 36 to 27.

Chiloquin men playing in the game were: Joe Danore, H. Hall, Joe Hall, Fredman Kirk, Lawrence Hill, Ray Mack and Harold Wright. They were taken to Merrill by Chick Bryant.

Morley Arrested

They said that they went to Bly. Found that Morley had gone to Lakeview, and then went in pursuit. In Lakeview they located Morley's car in a garage, where it had been put when it refused to travel further without repair. Morley was found in a private home, arrested and brought back to Klamath Falls. On the trip back Morley told officers that Randall had a knife, one of the officers stated.

Law Boyd, of Bly, the last state witness called, said that he was in "The Bucket of Blood," a combined pool hall and rooming house, when the Morleys came in, supposedly after the fight. He said that Morley was bleeding and that they bathed his wounds with cold water and stopped the blood with a septic pencil, "like barbers use."

T. R. Gillenwaters, deputy district attorney, conducted the case for the state, while M. O. Williams, Chiloquin attorney, cross-questioned for the defense.

The jury is composed of the following: S. R. Redkey, Hugh D. O'Connor, Vincent Jelinek, G. C. Haller, Harry Vaughn, George W. Aasen, Carl Schuberl, R. R. Darr, John C. Cleghorn, A. J. Hickman, Albert Westfall, Ed Lovelady.
