

TODAY IN KLAMATH'S THEATRES

At the Pelican

Belle Bennett, one of the most popular character actresses in the United States, is admirably cast for the maternal part in "Mother Machree," film version of E. J. Connelley's play, which plays at the Pelican theatre today.

Mrs. Bennett, who won international fame by her unforgettable performance in "Stella Dallas," brings to this sweetest of Irish stories a broad human sympathy and a full complement of mother-love drawn from the recesses of her own soul.

The Irish scenes and sequences are faithfully reproduced, as many of the backgrounds were filmed in Galway. The cast includes such outstanding stars of the screen as Ethel Clayton, Victor McLaglen, the Captain, Flagg, of "What Price Glory," Ted Mo-namara, Eunice Jensen and Constance Howard, while Phillip-Lance, one of the most beautiful and remarkable child actors, is cast in the role of Brian, the son of Mother Machree.

At the Pine Tree

"Pay As You Enter"

The cast: Mary Smith, Louise Fazenda, Clyde Jones, Clyde Cook, Yvonne de Russo, Myrna Loy, "Terrible Bill" McGovern, William Desmond.

The comic possibilities of the street car have apparently been unrealized, except by Fountain Fox, with his cartoons on the "Tomerville Trolley." The fun of the old gent and his passengers has set the whole country chuckling, and now Warner Bros. no one better, in "Pay As You Enter," playing today at the Pine Tree, a comedy which has to do with Terrible Bill McGovern, conductor, and timid Clyde Jones, motorman, of the same street car.

At the end of the run, near the car barn, is the delectable wagon of "Quick Lunch Mary," for whose hand Clyde sighs in vain. Mary's heart goes out to the cave-man, Bill McGovern, who, in turn, has a run for Yvonne, a gold-digger. It is Bill's association to wield the whip and one night he loses out to an oppo-

At the Liberty

In "Hard Hittin' Hamilton," No. 3 in the Buffalo Bill, Jr. series of features, the producers have surpassed their previous efforts. As Bill Hamilton ear-horned adulates in just one, but two hat-acts with fast which are hair-raising, displaying a remarkable knowledge of the many art and making rough and tumble fight-er ability.

The riding of Buffalo Bill, Jr., in this film is amazing. At one juncture he leaps from the seat of a wildly careening buckboard in the back of a runaway horse, which will bring gasps from the audience who witness this latest Buffalo Bill, Jr. feature at the Liberty theatre today, matinee and evening.

AGED SENATOR DIES

PORTLAND, Jan. 18. (AP)—Charles Hilton, 91, died at his home here last night. He had lived in Portland for several years, moving here from eastern Oregon. He was a senator in the Oregon state legislature in 1891.

BEATTY

VESTON H. CASEY

(News Correspondent)

BEATTY, Ore. Jan. 17.—Wagon Greenough, highway contractor, has been working two shifts one day and one night. The work is now progressing rapidly. It is reported that about three miles of road have been laid the first layer of gravel.

The residents of Beatty enjoyed a short program given by the community club Friday evening, January 11. Some occupations and talks were enjoyed. Lunch was served. Due to the cold weather not a large crowd was in attendance for the performance.

Frank Smith, Beatty merchant, is hauling more saw dust to power his ice supply.

Sam Hiddle is sawing wood for spring and summer use.

Land owners and various others have been running "chick-on feed horses" on the table land and in the Black hills. The snow has covered the dry grass so that the wind horses are forced to feed on brush. This leaves them in a weakened condition and makes it easy for the vagrants to either corral or burn them. Frederick Schenck is "snak-ing" logs to his home on Whiskey creek. The wood can be more easily "piled up" this way due to the snow than sawing it in the hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham, school teachers at Beatty, motored to Grants Pass Friday, Jan. 11 to attend to business matters.

Jeff and Sam Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, and Gilbert Copperfield returned from Portland Friday, Jan. 11.

Mrs. John Simmon and daughter, Mary Jean, motored to Klamath Falls Friday, Jan. 11. Mrs. Simmon is to be installed as an officer in the Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary club.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Graham were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Simmon last Sunday, Jan. 5.

Mrs. Cecil Rhodes and son, Jackie, motored to Klamath Falls Friday. Mrs. Rhodes is having dental work done.

Mrs. Babe Casey has been ill for several days but is now improving.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Paul Hunter who has been confined at the Klamath Agency hospital will be glad to learn that Mrs. Hunter is convalescing. Mrs. Emily Faltstad of Beatty is quite ill with influenza.

Back Anderson began a horse drive to Chiloquin Tuesday. There is about 100 head of horses and all are "chicken feed."

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Casey and family spent Saturday evening, January 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McCarrie and family of Bonanza. Music and dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Early Tuesday morning, Walter Duffie killed a coyote from his door step. Although the hospital will be glad to learn that Mrs. Hunter is convalescing. Mrs. Emily Faltstad of Beatty is quite ill with influenza.

Eat Oranges Now

Due to an excess crop of small size Navel Oranges, and to the fact that the holiday demand just about cleaned up the supply of large sizes, prices on small oranges are cheaper now than for many seasons, and in comparison are much cheaper than large sizes.

For this week-end we are offering a special value on Fancy Navel Oranges in small sizes. The quality is the very best. They are sweet, juicy, thin-skinned, and the price makes them cheap enough for everyone to use.
