Daily Lenten Thought

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of the Congregationalist.

The psalmist, poetically speaking for God, called upon men to "be still and know that I am God." But Jesus offered men rest and peace in the busy, noisy, hard-driven ways of daily life. It was not the rest and peace of retreat, but the satisfaction of a new spirit, a new yoke that made burdens easy, and a new fellowship that touched life with joy in common labors and in common quest.

We should never forget that Galilee and Judea were crowded centers—fairly teeming with human life, and humming with the noise of daily existence. It was in this environment that Jesus spoke to men, and it is in this environment that He speaks to men today. If He led men out into the fields and beside the still waters it was always only to send them back refreshed to labor and life. He offered to His disciples, not seclusion from toil, or lessened intensity of experience, but life, and the gift of it more abundantly.

BANKER URGES ISSUE OF BONDS

STATEHOUSE, Salem, Feb. 20. (UP)—J. C. Ainsworth, president of the United States National bank of Portland, appeared before the highway committee today as a representative of the good roads association and urged issuance of $1,000,000 in road bonds yearly for five years as a means to complete the highway map.

He said the bonds would net about $1,000,000 yearly, which added to other highway income and that these sums, new construction of uncompleted uncompleted could be finished in three years. The committee, after discussing his suggestions, went into a bundle over the various resolutions presented to both houses, some of which would order the highway commission to complete the map, others which would forbid the sale of more bonds, and those which would bring about construction of a short road from Portland to the benches.

Officials Leave For Legislature

Sheriff Lloyd Low, Constable Gary Corad, and County Judge Fred R. Goddard left yesterday for Salem. They will return Friday.

Sheriff Low went to the capital to lobby against the proposed bill which would lower the county sheriff's salary. The bill bases salaries on population of the county. It is felt that it would work an injustice on the Klamath sheriff who must cover a large but not thickly populated county in comparison to its size when considered with smaller and more densely populated counties of the state.

BYRD PARTY IS MAKING MANY DISCOVERIES

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (UP)—The New York Times, The St. Louis Post-Dispatch and their associated newspapers announced tonight that Commander Richard E. Byrd, in an extensive airplane flight made with two planes last Monday, discovered and mapped in part a vast new territory in the Antarctic, which he has claimed for the United States and has named for his wife, Marie Byrd land.

Other peaks to the east of these were seen, indicating the probability of being able later to chart a territory greater in extent than the Ross dependency. About 40,000 square miles of Antarctic have now been explored from the air by the Byrd expedition. In the last flight the Rockefeller engine was mapped by aerial cameras, the entire new section was sketched and the uncharted coastline east of the bay of Whales was mapped by Capt. Ashley McKinley of the air service, who was in the second of the two airplanes that made the flight.

Five Killed, Many Injured When Train Leaves Rail Lines

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 20. (UP)—Spreading rails caused by severe cold weather was believed responsible for the wreck near here today of the "matrons' special" in which five men were crushed to death and three scores of others were injured, two probably fatally.

Five coaches of the Peoria Railway Terminal company special jumped the tracks and rolled down a 15-foot embankment. The dead—William Brown, Cecil Walker, Charles Lathy, George Wilkinson and Lester Jones.

The train was enroute from Peoria to the Crescent coal mine at Hollis, Ill., with a load of approximately 800 mine workers. The sharp incline over which the train plunged and the intense cold weather added to the difficulty of workmen in removing the dead and injured from the wreckage. Three of the cars caught fire but the flames were quickly extinguished.

Physicians who treated the injured in Peoria hospitals tonight feared that Bert Noel and James Clark, two of the injured, would die.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20. (UP)—Delmar Doodridge, local attorney, was sentenced to five days in jail for contempt of court when he substituted a double for a defendant in a minor liquor violation case in municipal court today.

After Ireland had identified Lillian Poole, colored, as Mrs. Mattie Gravenburg, and the jury had retired, Mrs. Gravenburg slipped into court. The judge noticed the substitution. Unaware of the double the jury returned a verdict of guilty and Mrs. Gravenburg was given a 20-day suspended sentence.

Hawaiian Volcano In Eruption, Fire Fountain Spouts

HILO, T. H., Feb. 20. (UP)—The first major eruption of Kilauea volcano since 1924, which had covered the entire floor of Halemauana pit with hot lava tonight, was attracting hundreds of American tourists in the island.

Although assured that the eruption would probably continue for at least two weeks without causing damage unless there is an outbreak from some other part of the mountain, sightseers were hurrying here on large liners making special trips.

Roots Fire Stream
When the bottom of Halemauana pit had been hidden completely by lava, a fountain of fire was shooting 500 feet in the air. Points of the flames were still 700 feet below the rim of the huge hole.

The pit itself is only a comparatively small indentation in the large crater of Kilauea, which is many miles across.

Prediction that the eruption might last two weeks was made by Dr. T. A. Jaggar, government observer, who was among the first to reach the crater after the eruption started. Jaggar made it clear that a definite time limit could not be set.

Many Watch Sight
The observer said that the crater would hold a tremendous overflow but added that an uprising of such intensity might result in a major outbreak somewhere else on Kilauea.

The pit began belching fire early in the day. Lee Sung, watchman at the crater's edge, said a heavy smoke cloud issued from the crater at 12:45 a. m. Fire started 25 minutes later and the earth trembled with a loud roar.

More than 300 persons had gathered at the crater three hours later, attracted by the brilliant spectacle.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20. (UP)—Former District Attorney Asa Keyes, who safeguarded the interests of the people of Los Angeles county for 25 years, today was sentenced to serve from one to 14 years in San Quentin prison, where his energetic prosecutions sent hundreds of others.

The one-time prosecutor was sentenced after a futile plea that he be given a new trial and another chance to prove that he was not corrupted by defendants in the Julian Petroleum corporation collapse cases.

Ed Rosenbers, a Julian defendant accused of paying him $125,000 to seek dismissal of an indictment, also was given a term of from one to 14 years.

Getzoff Sorry Figure
Ben Getzoff, convicted of being their go-between, was a sorry figure today, broken in health, and his sentence was postponed pending hearing on his application for probation.

AIMEE RUSHES TO LOS ANGELES

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20. (UP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, noted evangelist whose offer of a $2500 check to Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy has involved him in a senate impeachment trial to be held in the near future, passed through San Jose tonight on her way to Los Angeles, she advised her attorney here.

In a long distance telephone call to her lawyer, Kenneth Ormsby, the evangelist advised him she was driving all night in order to reach Los Angeles early Thursday.

The evangelist was to have appeared here Thursday but her attorney advised her to continue to Los Angeles and return here later in case the legislators wished to see her. When the assembly voted today to indict Judge Hardy for impeachment trial in the senate an order of the investigating committee for Mrs. McPherson to be here Thursday was automatically rescinded.

FEDERALS SAY WOMAN AIDED IN MASSACRE

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (UP)—The federal government sent its prohibition enforcement resources to the aid of the investigation of the St. Valentine's day massacre today and again involved the police department.

"Find the policeman with a beauty parlor sweetheart and you've got something," prohibition agents told the police.

A rebuke from James M. Duran, prohibition commissioner, followed the Chicago prohibition department's charge last week that police were mixed up in the slaying of the seven gangsters of the George "Bugs" Moran "alky mob."

Nevertheless, today the dry agents backed up the charge with details.

"The man you want," police were advised, "is a policeman from whom the Moran gang hijacked $12,000 worth of liquor. He has a partner in a roadhouse north of Chicago and has a sweetheart who operates a beauty shop."

William Russell, commissioner of police, appeared interested in the information, but made no comment.

The assembly approved the action by a vote of 57 to 18.

The assembly voted to indict Judge Hardy for acting as an attorney while serving as a judge and obstruction of justice after five hours of heated debate, which at the end threatened to break into a fist fight between enraged legislators.

ASK 4 TRUNK RAIL SYSTEMS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (UP)—Railway consolidation entered a new phase today with submission to the interstate commerce commission of two plans for grouping all eastern roads into four giant trunk line systems.

Petitions filed by the Baltimore and Ohio and the Chesapeake and Ohio asked the commission to approve creation of two new railway systems, both more than 13,000 miles long, was proposed in the petitions.

Filing of the petitions is an aftermath of conferences between important eastern railway executives in recent months in fruitless efforts to agree on allocation of all lines in eastern territory on a four-system basis. The B. & O. and C. & O., the latter a Van Sweringen road, advised the swimmers they had withdrawn from the negotiations.

With filing of the petitions, the entire tangled railway consolidation problem is placed squarely before the interstate commerce commission for decision. The controversy dates back to the transportation act of 1920 which directed the commission to prepare a merger plan. The commission has never published a final plan, however.
