BIBLE SELECTION AND PRAYER

February 28, 1929

THE EYES OF THE LORD
—For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, (7) And I will give them a heart to know me, that I am the Lord; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.—Jeremiah 24:6,7.

PRAYER—O Lord, our Lord, guide us with Thine eye upon us.

OUR RECLAMATION RECORD

The activities of the federal government's Reclamation Bureau are often attacked these days on the ground that they cost far more money than they are worth. It is charged that the arid lands reclaimed for cultivation were not needed, and, in many cases, are not used.

Figures just issued by the Department of the Interior are interesting, in that connection.

They show that more than 600,000 people live on federal reclamation projects. Last year these people raised crops worth $135,000,000. The local food products which these districts supply have helped to open mining districts and keep mines in operation, and have strengthened the range stock industry by providing winter feed for stock. In addition, the crops grown on these areas have cheapened railway freight rates by providing an immense amount of local business for the transcontinental roads.

Such figures indicate that the Reclamation Bureau can be rather proud of its record.

$9000 FOR CATS

Relatives of a Boston spinster, who recently died and left a fund of $9000 for the benefit of her three cats, are fighting in court to break the will.

Most people will agree that any woman should have the right to do what she wants to with her own money. Yet a $9000 legacy for cats does seem a bit out of proportion. At a time when so many people are in actual want, the setting up of a trust fund to keep these felines in milk and salmon hardly strikes a popular chord.

"How well you look!" always offends a woman. She knows it means: "How darned fat you are!"

Chicago may be short of funds to advance aviation, but she has done her share for high-flyers.

DAVIS, secretary of war, is to be congratulated on happier conditions in the army, as proved by the great increase in re-enlistments. Men, once in the army, want to stay there.

THE nation has two schools for training officers, West Point and Annapolis. Why not make the army itself a great training school for them? Young men all want to fly, no higher mathematics, Greek or Latin, is necessary, only a flying machine and an intelligent teacher.

FILMS should get extra pay. From the army they should be graduated to commercial flying, and especially to postoffice flying. That is the way to make army life attractive, and useful to the nation. One thousand films might be worth many billions of dollars to this country.

MR. MILLS, able advertising man, wishes you to know he has offered President Coolidge $75,000 a year for four years, to act as general director of a homes furnishing movement.

President Coolidge has bigger offers. Why not offer the home furnishing job to Colonel Lindbergh, whose mind just now is probably concentrated on that very subject.

A last, real news of Trotzky. A walking up and down in Constantinople, free to do as he pleased—except that he mustn't leave Constantinople. And Turkish newspapers are forbidden to mention his name. Rather hard on a public man.

Looking over the Bosphorus, one of the finest prospects that the world affords, Trotzky probably indulges in a bitter mood.

LONG ago the Roman emperors established themselves there on the border line between Europe and Asia, and for centuries it was supposed that Constantinople would be the center of the world. The Mediterranean is now a lake and the Atlantic is yielding first place to the Pacific.

Trotzky must think of days when it was supposed that he, Trotzky, would be the center of the great Russian people. In revolution glory faded quickly.

PATRIOTIC ladies present to Mrs. Coolidge, a souvenir of her admirable "kindness and graciousness while hostess of the White House."

The souvenir contains 298 diamonds. Two hundred thousand diamonds would not be too many, except that Mrs. Coolidge cares nothing for jewelry, wears practically none.

IF a gentlemen's committee, emulating the intelligent ladies' committee, tried to give Calvin Coolidge as many dollars as he has earned, he would be the richest man in the world, with plenty to spare.

DEATHS

Donna Rao, the beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond V. Chase, passed away at the family residence at Dorris, Calif., shortly after noon Wednesday, as the result of a brief illness. The child was born in Klamath Falls March 25, 1921, and was nearing her eighth year when called. Besides her parents she leaves a brother, Carol Wayne Chase, and an aunt, Mrs. John Boyle of this city, to mourn her passing. The remains were prepared for transportation to Yreka, Calif., by the Yreka Mortuary. Funeral services, under quarantine regulation, will be held at the chapel of Turner Brothers, morticians, in the California city, probably Friday afternoon.

PAUL WAYNE TAYLOR
Paul Wayne, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Taylor, passed away in this city Wednesday night at 10:30 o'clock, following a brief illness. The child was born at Malin December 28, 1928, and aged 1 month and 23 days at the time of death. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Clifford Frederick and Ival Carl, and one sister, Alta Melvin. The remains are in the pink room of the Earl Whitlock funeral home, Pine avenue at Sixth, where friends may call. Arrangement of funeral arrangements will be made later.

TODAY IN KLAMATH'S THEATRES

At the Liberty

A story, said to be authentic in the main, of how it happened that the Grand Canyon in Arizona was selected for the principal setting of Tom Mix's latest thriller, "Sky-High." Has just come to light. It came about as a result of a dare which the intrepid star was quick to take up, so the story goes.

It seems that when Tom Mix visited New York to attend the Dempsey-Carpenter battle, he remarked at the Fox studio, jokingly, that he'd used up most of the wild scenery in America for pictures.

"How about Grand Canyon and Niagara Falls, Tom?" asked one of the company officials.

"Say, I've got a good horse and a couple of good stout legs, but I haven't noticed any wings sprouting yet," he murmured.

"Not afraid, are you, Tom?" "Afraid? I should say not."

"Well, I dare you."

Tom Mix never refuses a dare. And now out he comes in a picture that even made Mr. Fox gasp for breath, for the star rode through Grand Canyon in an airplane, rode Tony, his horse, up and down its dizzy trails, leaped across a chasm 2,000 feet deep, and then plunged from a "plane" into the Colorado river from a height.

The picture will be shown at the Liberty theatre today and tomorrow.

At the Pine Tree

Ricardo Cortes has the role of Julio in "The Gun Runner," a picture of Arthur Stringer's adventure novel, showing today at the Pine Tree theatre. Nora Lane plays opposite him as Ther, and Gino Corrado and John St. Paul have the other principal roles.

The story is all about a revolution, its leader, and the loyal citizens of the Republic of Porto.

At the Pelican

A woman's soul under the lash of the merciless elements—gigantic convulsions of nature, the cyclone, the dread Northern—vision of black lands reaching to a dark horizon—and through it all the story of a love stronger than life or death—these are the elements that make up the mighty drama, synchronized with sound, and with a surrounding sound program, in which Lillian Glush is starring at the Pelican theatre.

It is a new Lillian Glush that one sees in this huge drama of primitive lands; a Lillian Glush with all the vital charms of old, but with something more—for to her acting in the role of Letty there is added the fire of a Bernhardt. At times she dominates the play by sheer force of character. She has the soul of a woman, goaded to madness and desperation under the lash of the gale, in some of the most powerful scenes the screen has ever produced.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of an execution duly issued by the Clerk of Circuit Court of the County of Multnomah, State of Oregon, dated the 14th day of January, 1929, in a certain action in the Circuit Court for said county and state, wherein C. C. Kelley as plaintiff, recovered judgment against G. L. Reimann, for the sum of One Hundred and Sixty-Eight and 60/100 Dollars, and costs and disbursements on the 4th day of January, 1929.

Notice is hereby given that I will on the 14th day of March, 1929, at the court house of the County of Klamath, in Klamath Falls, in said county, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described property, to-wit: Lots 7 and 8 of block 1; all of block 2; lots 18 to 22 of block 12; all of block 19; lots 1 to 8 of block 20; lots 13 to 22 of block 20; lots 1 to 12 of block 29; lots 21 to 24 of block 29; all of block 30; lots 1 to 12 of block 31; all of block 34; all of block 35. All of the above-described property being in Mountain View Addition to Klamath Falls, Oregon.

Taken and levied upon as the property of said G. L. Reimann, or as much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the said judgment in favor of C. C. Kelley against said G. L. Reimann, with interest thereon, together with all costs and disbursements that have or may accrue.

Dated at Klamath Falls, Oregon, February 13, 1929.
L. L. LOW,
Sheriff of Klamath County, Oregon.

DISTURBED SLEEP
IS NATURE'S SIGNAL
"DANGER AHEAD"

Mrs. G. W. Hushong, Bloomington, Ill., says: "Come or write to 1912 S. East St. and I will tell you my full experience with Libated Eucalyptol (Keller Formulation). Often was disturbed 20 times a night. It acts on bladder as epispma salts do on bowels. Drives out foreign deposits and lessens excessive acidity. This relieves the irritation that causes getting up nights. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores, Keller Laboratory, Mechanicburg, Ohio, or locally at Star Drug Store.—Adv.

Just Ramblin' Around

California legislature fails to attract attention of common man on street; Golden state "prosperity."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27. (By Mail)—California's legislative session apparently does not attract the state-wide attention that the Oregon legislature attracts in Oregon.

In San Francisco, occasionally one hears a little comment on what is going on at the capital but the subject is dismissed with some off-hand remark and business for the day does not worry over what may happen over there.

However, to scan the list of bills and their titles one is prompted to believe that California's "nuts," "cranks" and "boomers" get elected to the legislature occasionally. Evidently they have a good "killing" committee in the Sacramento assembly, for if some of the bills now before the session should actually become laws there would be untold hardships worked on several lines of business endeavor.

It is always refreshing to know that California has some of the rough places on the track that other states have. The wonderful front put up by her people is misleading. All get the habit as soon as they have lived here a year, so they claim, and the stranger within the gates must be massaged with soft words and lurid descriptions of great earnings and easy living.

NOW and then you meet a hard-head though and he spouts the beams. For instance, here is what one San Franciscan says: "Of course California is a rich state, she is a big state, but take it from me it is no easy job to make a living in California. People ride a lot and booze around a lot, but when it comes down to earning enough to live on and also have a little for the proverbial rainy day, it is just as hard to do it in California as in any other state in the Union. And, sometimes I think it is harder for the people here than for the people who have more places to spend their money and they spend it."

ONE class of fellows are keeping still in San Francisco now, whereas a year ago they were the chaps who were doing the loud talking. I have reference to the boys who thought it was easy meat to buck the stock market, live at a club or a good hotel, arise late in the morning and still make more money than someone could who had a hundred thousand dollars invested in some enterprise.

Yes, a year ago they were telling me how easy it was to cop off a few hundred a week by "studying" the markets. As a matter of fact, few of them ever "studied" anything. They were in on the upward wave and the poor saps thought that would continue forever. Well, the sag has come and then the crash. Paper profits were split in two and then wiped out. A few of those easy money boys still loiter around but they have a far away expression in their faces. The moon is not made of green cheese and they found it out.

Balsiger Motor Company Cleans, Changes Garage

Work of renovating the Balsiger Motor company, at a cost of more than $5000 will be completed within the coming two weeks.

Taking an additional 40 feet of floor space to the east of their present location, formerly occupied by the City Transfer company, the show rooms of the company will be enlarged.

Work shop space will also be enlarged and moved to the eastern entrance.

Complete redecoration of the interior of the building is now being done.

Robbers Ransack Outlying Cabins

A house-robbing gang which has systematically looted summer homes and ranch houses in the vicinity of Modoc Point, Williamson River and Chiloquin, is still at large.

Latest depredations committed by the gang include the ransacking of the Williamson River cabin of H. R. Harrison, official of the Pelican Bay Lumber company, and the Agency Lake home of J. M. Bedford, connected with the Shaw-Bedford Lumber company.

From the Harrison home the robbers took household effects valued at $75, while the Bedford home loss was close to $500.

Willard Hotel Is Sold to Austin

the next few days Mr. Dillon will leave for California where he will join Mrs. Dillon, who is ill. After a vacation of several months Mr. and Mrs. Dillon plan to return to Klamath Falls where they have made their home for the past three years.

"While my plans are as yet rather indefinite, it is possible that Mrs. Dillon and myself will enter the furniture business in this city," Mr. Dillon said yesterday.

For the past 25 years Mr. Austin, now proprietor, has been in the hotel business and at the present time owns the Hotel Taylor at Paso Robles, California, which he has operated for more than 15 years. Prior to coming to California, Mr. Austin was in the hotel business in British Columbia.

"I plan to retain the present personnel and for the present have no definite plans to announce as to possible changes in the hotel," Mr. Austin stated yesterday.

"This is my second visit to Klamath Falls and I became so interested upon my first visit that I am ready to cast my lot with the people of Klamath Falls and make this my future home," he concluded.
