BIBLE SELECTION AND PRAYER

DAWES IS A CHANCE FOR CHICAGO

Of course, it's Chicago's own business. Maybe Chicago has already thought of it, and maybe the idea doesn't appeal to it at all; but anyhow, we think it's a hunch—

An extremely distinguished, capable and energetic citizen of Chicago has just returned to private life. After years in government service, he is, so to speak out of a job again.

Chicago, as it happens, has an extremely perplexing and pressing problem on its hands—a problem that has to do with gangs and crime and racketeers and such like phenomena. It needs a big man to give it a life out of its present situation; a man who can't be scared, a man who knows about government and about business, a man in whom the public has confidence.

So, we repeat, Chicago might ponder on the fact that just such a man, a citizen of Chicago, is returning to private life and might be pressed into service.

His name? Charles Gates Dawes, until recently vice president of the United States.

OIL PROBLEM AWAITS HOOVER

Among the important problems awaiting the attention of President Hoover is the matter of oil conservation—a problem that is, as weighty as any, although the general public has given it little thought.

The Federal Oil Conservation Board, appointed by President Coolidge, submitted its report on the present situation recently. It remarked that the oil industry had eliminated much waste and had done much to save our oil; but it emphasized the fact that the country is still exhausting its oil reserves at a dangerous rate. We consume 72 per cent of all the oil used in the world, and we produce 65 per cent of world production; yet our total oil resources are only 18 per cent of the world resources.

Eventually this might ease...

Nature's Balance. Getting Foreign Trade. Another Waldorf. A Boy's Mainspring.

Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

It is dangerous to interfere with nature's balance, one thing killing others, all kept in bounds. Yakima county, Washington, offered a bounty to exterminate hawks and owls, and thousands were killed, to protect game birds and poultry.

INVESTIGATION by government experts, examining hawk and owl interiors, found that the birds lived on snakes, grasshoppers, field mice and ground squirrels, all dangerous to man—especially the ground squirrels that spread bubonic plague.

YAKIMA has withdrawn the bounty. Kill off coyotes and foxes and you encourage a plague of field mice and jack rabbits. Montana made that discovery. The wise plan is to destroy the objectionable creatures by scientific means. Get rid of small vermin and the bigger nuisances will disappear.

HOW to get foreign trade is an important question for American manufacturers, especially automobile makers. General Motors' plan is to buy up important European factories, continue their output and graft Chevrolet, Cadillac, etc. On the foreign plant. Ford on the contrary, starts Ford plants from the ground up.

NEWSPAPER publishers know that it is wise to buy a going concern. It diminishes "local resistance."

General Motors has bought the biggest automobile plant in Germany, and is supposed to have secured another plant in Italy. If Mr. Sloan, now in Europe, could get Morris in England and Citroen in France, he might have a formidable "General Motors of Europe."

NEW YORK'S Waldorf Astoria soon to be torn down, will rise again, forty stories high, with 2,000 rooms, on Park avenue. The building, planned by Schultze and Weaver architects, will be built by I. J. Horowitz's Thompson Starrett company. It is proposed, as usual, to eclipse all other hotel construction.

IT is only fair to tell Mr. Boomer, who builds the new hotel, that another is planned, sixty stories high. He should go higher than 49 stories. Americans like to live and sleep as high up as possible.

WHEN this writer built the Ritz Tower, forty-two stories high, on Park Avenue, it was, by far, the highest structure ever built for human habitation. Agents and builders said, gloomily, "you will hardly rent the upper stories in the tower, the height will frighten tenants."

The top stories were rented first, before the building was finished, and at a new apartment rental of eleven dollars a square foot.

SOME FIGURES ON AVIATION

If you doubt that the aviation industry is rapidly on the way to a position among the nation's industrial giants, harken to these figures just made public by the Aeronautical chamber of commerce.

During 1928 American aircraft manufacturers built airplanes to the value of over $75,000,000—140 per cent greater than in 1927. To be sure, as American business goes, a gross production of only $75,000,000 is not large. But it is the rate of growth which this figure indicates that is important. The aircraft industry is just beginning to hit its stride. Such cities as Wichita, Kas., where airplane factories are centering, can look to the future with a great deal of optimism.

banglows, compared with build- ings already planned.

D. H. F. CLARK, professor of education at the teachers' college, says college education interferes with a boy's chance to earn a living. It sends him into professions overcrowded and robs him of "daring" necessary to success.

THAT will comfort parents unable to send boys and girls to college. The important thing for a human being is to think for himself and to take his mental mainspring, unbroken, into the world fight.

Any system of education, religion or society that forbids youth to think for himself is handicapped.

AT a meeting arranged by Thomas Lamont, of Morgan & Co., Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, New York's health commissioner, started a drive on diphtheria. Forty-eight diphtheria prevention clinics were opened, and in two months diphtheria deaths had diminished by 22.7 per cent.

WITH use of antitoxin and the Schick test diphtheria might conceivably become as slight a menace as smallpox or leprosy. The main danger is that children, when ill, play with cats and other pets, and send disease germs to other children.

THERE will be less disease among children when parents realize that a cunning baby with its face buried in a cat's or a dog's fur may have its face buried in disease germs.

SAFE in Turkey, Trotsky writes what he thinks of Russia's government, that turned him out. Pravda, Russian official newspaper, says Trotsky is "a living political corpse and a living renegade."

THE truth is that capitalistic "bourgeoisie" is pleased to see Trotsky out of Russia, with more conservative minds leading Sovietism in the direction of capitalism. 100,000 tractors, 5,000,000 low priced automobiles, 10,000 busy factories turning out a few billions of rubles a year, would soon make Sovietism as mild as mother's milk.

It's sad and hard for Trotsky to understand, but money does make men conservative.

THE British General Electric company, about one-sixth of its stock owned here, issues 1,600,000 new shares and won't let Americans buy any of them. Loud protests by American owners of British G. E., and an appeal to the state department.

THE British company says Britons will be its customers so it wants Britons to own its stock. Perfectly reasonable, even if not legal. That is how Henry Ford felt about his British company. He sold all the stock in England at $5 share. Americans paid as high as $21 to bring it here.

However, British stock holders in the British company are not allowed first chance at the new stock, which is the American plan, and that hurts.

DEATHS

The man who has few enemies has few friends.

"She's rich now—her father struck oil."

"Do you know Sweep Keeping the Cobwebs Off the Moon?"

"You got that wrong; you mean 'Keep Webbing the Cobwebs Off the Moon.'"

"I mean Keep Swabbing the Sweepings Off the Moon."

"Keep Mooning the Sweepings Off the Moon."

"Keep Mooning the Sweepings Off the Cob?"

"Sleep Keeping the Cobwebs Off the Web."

"Swab Keeping the Moonwebs Off the Sweep?"

"I mean Ramona."

"You advised that you were not bothered at all by mosquitos. The place is full of them."

"We aren't bothered. We've used to them."

Realization

Before I married Annabelle I was her pumpkin pie.

Her precious peach, her honey lamb.

The apple of her eye.

But after years of wedded life.

"This thought I pause to utter: 'I find I am none of these things.'"

"I'm just her bread and butter!"

Nurse (to reviving patient)—

"Your appendix, pancreas and spleen have all been safely removed, sir."

"Miraculous—and all I wanted to see a doctor for was to get a whiskey prescription."

Teacher was giving a lesson on the idiosyncrasies of March.

"What is it," she asked, "that comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb?"

"Father," replied the smallest pupil.

You can't judge a man by the company he invites, but by the company that comes.

Intrigue, Murder Told in Report

Subsequent developments proved the two theories untrue and directly involved Walsh in the whiskey plot, which cost a prominent New York iron and steel man $172,000.

The New York business man, however, was absolved from any connection with the smuggling plot as it was brought out he had been the victim of a trio of "sharpers."

Get $172,000

According to information received by government authorities, Walsh and another man, twice indicted for liquor conspiracy, approached the New York businessman with a proposition to purchase a huge supply of American rye whiskey held by the Cuban government for non-payment of taxes.

It was explained to the businessman that the whiskey, valued at approximately $215,000 in Cuba and worth at least $1,000,000 in this country, would be sold to American tourists in Havana at fancy prices.

The businessman put up his $172,000 while Walsh and the other conspirator made an offer of some $30,000 to purchase the liquor. A corporation was formed in Havana. The liquor was loaded into the Cuban schooner Tres Reyes and prepared for shipment to Florida.

"Jip" Business Man

The businessman still had his $172,000 invested, however, so Walsh and the third partner enlisted the aid of a Cuban lawyer, a member of the Cuban congress. The lawyer made a technical libel of $100 against the schooner and its cargo.

Walsh and the other conspirator, being directly in charge of the operations, made no answer to the libel so the schooner and cargo were seized and resold to Walsh, his partner and the attorney.

Quarrel Then Death

This left the businessman both out of the deal and his $172,000. According to information gathered by investigators, Walsh and his original conspirators came to the Coral Gables hotel to discuss means of leaving the Cuban attorney out of the liquor sale.

Just Ramblin' Around

Growth and Development of Phoenix Remarkable; Frank Irvine, Journal Editor, Advised to Relax in Southern Climes.

PHOENIX—Everyone is hearing much of Phoenix, Arizona.

It is one of the most talked of cities in the west. There's a reason. Phoenix—arisen from the ashes of pre-modern times—is taking her place in the golden southern sunshine, and it is a place worth having.

Finely built, she stands now sixty thousand people, with a future that is boundless. When Col. Roosevelt put his pen to the bill that built the Roosevelt dam he sent the thrill of progress throughout Arizona and especially Phoenix.

Excellent hotels, but very high priced, tell the story of the rich people of America seeking Phoenix as their winter home. With many fine hotels in the city now comes the opening of the Biltmore—about eight miles from Phoenix—a hotel that is a wonder, set in a setting that is almost indescribable. Here is where the rich and near rich will congregate and enjoy the out of doors bringing back the heart action and causing the red corpuscles to multiply.

I FOUND my old friend, "Sam" White of Baker county here practicing law. Years ago "Sam"—you must write his name that way and never spell out the word "Samuel"—was a big he-democrat in Oregon politics. He was head of the National Guard in Baker and was very active. A fine southern gentleman of wonderful traits of character this good soul cherished the belief that a democratic president would continue in office following President Wilson. He centered his hope on McAdoo and lost. This year he ran the Al Smith campaign in Arizona and lost.

Sitting in his office in the Laurs building in Phoenix the old judge said with some peculiar twang in his voice, "I am losing faith in the judgment of the leaders of the democratic party." Then he continued, "these damned Hoover democrats give me hysterics. I can think of nothing so degrading to a democrat other than to call himself a Hoover democrat."

And with that the Judge and I reviewed the old days in eastern Oregon when politics were tense. When I left his office he said:

"Please tell Frank Irvine of the Portland Journal to come down to Phoenix and spend a few weeks at least. This is the place for Frank to rest. He has battled for the people up in Oregon until he is tired and I know it. Tell him to come to the sunshine of Arizona."

And to Frank Irvine, whom we all love, let me say, I believe Judge Sam White is right, you should go down and spend a while there. I am broadcasting this to you, Frank, with the hope that it will sink in deeper than words in a personal letter might do.

AT THE LIBERTY

AT THE PINE TREE

One of the sweetest love stories ever told, with the World War as a background and with dramatic interest, suspense, tragedy and flashes of clever comedy. This, in a nutshell, describes the great epic of the tank corps, "The Patent Leather Kid," which is playing at the Pine Tree.

As The Kid, Barthelmess does the finest work of his career, and the role again stamps him as one of the finest actors on the screen.

Molly O'Her, a petite and charming Irish lassie, played her first dramatic role in "The Patent Leather Kid" and as the result of her characterization of "The Golden Buzzer" is now hailed as a screen sensation.

Today in Klamath's Theatres

The Ruberville Four at Pelican Theatre Today

Mr. Duval is appearing today at the Pelican theatre in his Juvenile Orpheum vaudeville act, "A Rhapody in Rink," a magic act that uses only 500 yards of silk for its props. "The Australian Waiter," another big feature on this program, presents a new idea in vaudeville. The cracking of whips and the zip of boomerangs gives some astonishing entertainment. On the screen, "Phyllis of the Follies," starring Alice Day and Matt Moore, further enhances the program with comedy served as only Moore can deliver it.

BUT, watch Phoenix, for it is so written that the vast lands now under water and sunshine, the spirit of the people and the great start that Phoenix already has, are bound to make the capital of Arizona a great place.

DON'T talk Boulder dam in Phoenix, or in any other part of Arizona. There is one state that is "against the government" on the Boulder dam. They argue that already they have thousands of acres of land under water and ready to put under water and they do not want another big acreage thrown open to compete with the men who are now farming in Arizona.
