MAJORS PICK NEW LINEUPS

Season to Open in 10 Days With Many Changes in Nines

NEW YORK, April 6. (UP)—Major league managers are making final preparations for the opening of the baseball season ten days hence.

Injuries and the failure of rookies to come up to expectations have caused several managers to revise their lineups. The clubs hardest hit in this respect are the Philadelphia Athletics, St. Louis Browns, Detroit Tigers, Chicago White Sox, Brooklyn Robins and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Joe Boley's "dead" arm and the failure of Ossie Orwoll at first base have brought a shake-up in the Athletics' inner works. Jimmy Foxx has been moved from third base to first and Sammy Hale placed at third. Jimmy Dykes probably will start the season at shortstop, although young Joe Hassler's play has made a favorable impression.

Bucky Harris to Play

Dan Howley has given up hope of developing a rookie third baseman from Ed Grimes, Leonard Dondero and Ed Roetz and has shifted Frank O'Rourke from second back to third base. Oscar Melillo will be at second base. Tom Jenkins, a hard-hitting outfielder from Wichita Falls, will be used as a pinch hitter for Melillo when necessary and a rookie infielder used in Melillo's place after the latter leaves the lineup.

Heinie Schuble, the highly touted shortstop from Houston, has failed to impress Bucky Harris with the qualifications as a major leaguer and changes have been necessary in the Detroit lineup. Harris probably will start the season at second himself and shift Charley Gehringer to shortstop.

Penalties Cripple Sox

Charles Cissell, the $123,000 shortstop, may start the season on the White Sox bench as a result of his disregard for training rules. Bill Hunnefield or George Redfern will replace him. Bud Clancy will be at first base in place of Art Shires, the Texas play boy who attempted to incite mutiny against Lena Blackburne. Shires has been sent to his home at Italy, Texas, awaiting further orders.

The Brooklyn Robins are perhaps in the worst shape of any major league club. Del Bissonette at first base is the only fixture in the Robins' infield and the outfield is far from settled. It is still problematical whether Glenn Wright's arm will permit him to start the season at shortstop. Jake Flowers, second baseman, is still weak from a tonsilitis operation.

Pie Traynor's hip injury has upset Donie Bush's plans for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Early Sheely apparently has won the first base job and George Grantham has been moved in from the outfield to play second base. Sparky Adams probably will start the season at shortstop, but if Traynor is not able to play, Adams will move to third and Dick Bartell take over shortstop.

McGraw Dissatisfied

John J. McGraw is dissatisfied with the second base situation on the New York Giants and Melvin Ott, the kid outfielder with the trenchant bat may be moved in to the keystone sack, replacing Andy Reese.

Miller Huggins has definitely decided to start Leo Durocher at shortstop in place of Lyn Lary in the New York Yanks' lineup. Norman McMillan may start the season at third base for the Chicago Cubs in place of Clyde Beck. All other positions in the Cubs' lineup are filled by stars.

The injury to Tommy Thevenow has crippled the Philadelphia Phillies severely. Joe O'Rourke or Terry Lyons probably will be shoved into the breach at shortstop.

Bagshaw Offered Contract Money To Give Up Job

SEATTLE, April 6. (UP)—The "Battle of Bagshaw" tonight had declared an armed truce, with members of the opposition and defense absent from the city over the week-end, and further encounters were not expected until Monday.

The special faculty committee, acting for Dr. Lyle M. Spencer, president of University of Washington, refused to sanction the outright purchase of the contract of Enoch W. Bagshaw as football coach of the institution, as proposed by student opponents of the coach.

Smith Troy, president of the associated student board of control, said that if Bagshaw refused the direct offer of the students to take the money due him on his coaching contract, that has three years to run, and withdraw from the situation, he was at loss what step to take next.

BEAVERS SPLIT DOUBLE-HEADER

Angels Lead League By 10-6 Win Over Stars; Seals Victors

By United Press

Los Angeles led the race in the Coast League at the conclusion of today's games, after defeating Hollywood, 10 to 6. Four errors by the Stars helped King's Angels trounce Hollywood. Home runs by Tolson of Los Angeles and Heath and Rumler of Hollywood featured the contest.

Although outhitting their opponents, Portland bowed to Sacramento 4 to 1 in the first game of a double-header and then trounced the senators, 11 to 7, in the final game. Timely hitting on the part of the solons gave them their victory in the first contest. In the second game the Beavers cut loose and made a total of 15 hits.

San Francisco won its first game of the series with the Mission Bells, 4 to 2. Errors by the Bells proved costly and the Seals took advantage of them to bring in the victory.

The Seattle - Oakland series stood tied following a 7 to 6 victory by Oakland. Both teams received seven hits each, but a five-run rally in the second inning put the game on ice for the Oaks.

Derby Runners Drop Out of Race

FREDERICK, Md., April 6. (UP)—Finishing in a dead heat for second place today. John Salo, Passaic, N. J., policeman, retained the lead in the C. C. Pyle's transcontinental footrace with an elapsed time of 35:37:27.

Peter C. Gauzzi, sturdy Italian athlete, won today's lap from Baltimore in 6 hours, 52 minutes and 15 seconds.

About two miles behind Gauzzi came Salo and Ed Gardner, little Seattle negro who finished in a tie for second in 7:05:45. Gardner holds second place with the elapsed time of 36:48:15.

A sweltering sun played havoc with the runners and many dropped out of the race.
