

CITY BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Mahaffey were registered at the Willard, Wednesday evening, from Bend. Mr. Mahaffey is head of the Central Oregon bank and is well known by Klamath Falls business men.

W. Lair Thompson of Portland spent Wednesday here conferring with timber owners relative to the local tax situation. Mr. Thompson was for many years a practicing attorney at Lakeview and his acquaintances in the city are many.

C. S. Chapman, head of the reforestation department of the Weyerhaeuser Timber company, with headquarters in Tacoma, is in the city for a few days conferring with Ralph Macarthy, manager of the local Weyerhaeuser mill and Jack Kimball of the Klamath Forest Protective association.

Joseph Kent, who is in the lumber brokerage business in San Francisco, is paying a visit of several days to Klamath Falls and is registered at the Willard.

About 20 members of the Methodist lodge of Neighbors of Woodcraft, and also a number of the Ashland members arrived in the city yesterday afternoon to attend a banquet and initiation.

which has been purchased by the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home.

D. Warren of Redwood City, Calif., was issued a non-resident permit for three months at the chamber of commerce yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Larsen recently arrived by motor from Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, and will make their home at Alzona.

Henry H. Duran is here from Corona, Calif., and will remain indefinitely.

J. Y. Lambeth of the H. & O. railway with headquarters in San Francisco, was among the railroad men in Klamath Falls yesterday.

Mrs. Otto Nichols has accepted a position in the Barnhill Realty company. She took over her new duties Monday.

Mrs. Tom Young has returned to her home in this city after a visit in Grants Pass with relatives and friends.

Mrs. William Hangelstap of Harris recently returned from Grants Pass and other valley points, where she has spent the past three weeks visiting.

A special meeting of the Royal Neighbors has been called for this afternoon, April 18, at 2 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the Odd Fellows hall. Every member is urged to be present.

Mrs. Galloway has arrived from her home in Marshfield for a visit with her parents, who reside at Delry. She will be remembered as Miss Mabel Anderson of Delry.

The parents of the Daughters of Job are invited to be present at the meeting which opens at 7:30 at the Masonic hall, when Parents' Night will be observed.

Miss Georgia Coffee enjoyed the past week-end in Klamath Falls visiting friends—Ashland Tidings.

Mr. and Mrs. James Polton have returned home from an extended visit in southern California. They were visitors in Klamath Falls Tuesday.

Mrs. Walter Derrick and son left Monday for Portland, where they will join Mr. Derrick and will leave immediately from there for Kansas City to spend about a month with relatives, after which they will go to Canada to make their home.

J. T. Kincaid of this city was a business visitor in Medford Monday.

Walter Dunlap, deputy revenue collector who has his headquarters in this city, was a recent business visitor in Medford.

Rev. and Mrs. D. V. Haigh spent a few days in Ashland, where they visited relatives and friends.

Mrs. Jesse Lilly motored over from Klamath Falls the first of the week for a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Dorey Huffman, of Ashland Tidings.

The second day of the trout season found the Rogue and other valley streams too high for fly fishing. The Rogue did not even offer opportunity for bait fishing and it showed little drop during the night. The warm weather of yesterday and during the night resulted in cutting the snow from the lower mountains.

Russell Bond has resigned his position at the First National bank and expects to leave in a short time for southern California, where he will join Mrs. Bond, who left for the south sometime ago.

C. C. Low, father of Sheriff Lloyd L. Low, yesterday went to Jackson hot springs where he will remain for a rest.

Dave and Zelma Riddle arrived in the city last night enroute to Beatty, where they will attend the funeral services for their sister, Zimereen Riddle.

Mrs. L. A. Towes spent Wednesday afternoon in Beatty on professional business.

Plan to Settle Boxer's Manager

NEW YORK, APR. 17. (UP)—Progress toward the solution of the managerial controversy over Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, is expected to be made at Friday's meeting of the New York state athletic commission. All involved in the tangle have been ordered to attend the meeting.

Schmeling is in Germany awaiting the outcome of the controversy. He has announced he will not return to the United States until he is freed from his contract with Arthur Bulow.

Babe Ruth Wedded In Early Morning

are all off now." He wasn't out of the church yet when he said it. The new Mrs. Ruth, who was Mrs. Claire Hodgson, 28, former fofies beauty, clung to his left arm and peered up at his honest face—tinted by weather and embarrassment to the color of the tall light on the Twentieth Century Limited—with understandable admiration. She is a little girl with very dark, curly haired hair and she has to tilt her chin to see any object as far from the ground as Mr. Ruth's front collar button.

Halfhearted Honeymoon "We're not going on a honeymoon," the bride announced. "We're going to work now and win another pennant."

The Babe made it official. "That's right," he bellowed genially. "We'll have our honeymoon right on the ball field."

They might as well have had their wedding up there, insofar as privacy and noise were concerned. The big boy was one bridegroom who came early, but even so he had as much chance of getting himself sealed unbeknownst as a circus has of slipping unnoticed into Million, West Virginia.

The Babe appeared 40 minutes early, and at an odd hour for a wedding anyway you look at it, wearing a brown Packard limousine. He divested himself of the limousine at the portals of the church of St. Gregory the Great and a cheer went up from a couple of dozen small boys.

The bridegroom was attired in a double-breasted blue suit, and light tan sneakers of generous but demure design. His tie was an impulsive masterpiece and his slicked-down hair was dazzling.

Babe Panicked Stricken

Pausing only to give one panicked look at the assemblage, which numbered about 75 by this time, the Babe reached into the discarded limousine and drew forth the bride. She wore an ensemble of purple trimmed with grey fox fur and embellished with steel beads. Her curls were tucked into a small purple hat.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lovell, identified only as residents of Seaside, next appeared, with Christy Walsh, the Bambino's manager. The two former were the best man and matron of honor.

The Rev. Father William F. Hughes greeted the wedding
