CALIFORNIA WATER BILLS INTRODUCED

California Proposes Help For Mountain Counties Against Diversion

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 20, (UP)—First indication of the expected fight by the mountain counties against diversion of their water supply by other parts of the state was seen in the legislature today. Assemblyman H. E. Dillinger of Placerville introduced a measure making use of water in mountain areas superior to its use by outside agencies.

Under provisions of the proposed law, power of condemnation for general public use by right of eminent domain is not impaired. This portion of Dillinger's plan guarantees that the bill will not interfere with any coordinated water program which may be worked out for California.

But it does give the mountain counties control over attempted promiscuous diversion of their water, according to Dillinger. State officials should attend to state business while political campaigns are in progress and not spend their time campaigning for their favorite candidates, in opinion of Assemblyman Jerrold Seawell of Roseville.

He introduced a bill prohibiting state officials from taking part in partisan campaigns. According to Seawell, the plan is an aftermath of the recent gubernatorial primaries in which he claims several officials devoted most of their time to Young's campaign.

Employees of electric street railways in California would be required to work but eight hours daily under a bill proposed by Assemblyman Harry Morrison of San Francisco. Contributors and donors to radio stations would have their names filed with county clerks, under terms of a measure by Senator George Rochester of Los Angeles. The bill is designed to bring out into the open backers of radio stations whose operators refuse to reveal source of their support. Commercial contracts or legitimate business transactions would not be affected.

Exhibition of scenes in motion pictures depicting commission of a crime or taking of human life would be prohibited in a measure introduced by Assemblyman Charles W. Dempster. Dempster said he believed many children are led into commission of crimes by examples set in motion pictures.

Although I expect some opposition from the motion picture industry," Dempster said, "I am certain that sooner or later they will come to the point of view expressed by this measure."

Voter May Sign Petitions, Take Name Off Again

SALEM, Jan. 20, (UP)—A decision by the state supreme court here today declared that a voter may change his mind as often as he wishes and may sign petitions and withdraw his name therefrom at pleasure, only to a certain point.

The court held that after a voter has signed a petition calling for an election, he may not withdraw his signature after notices have been posted announcing the election. The decision was handed down in the case of K. W. Dehlieta and F. Shields, who signed a petition calling for an election on the proposed Union school district in Washington county, and then later changed their minds and desired to have their names withdrawn. The notices that the election could be forthwith called, however, were posted before the two men decided to withdraw their names.

Fireman Killed, Others Overcome In Boston Fire

BOSTON, Jan. 20 (UP)—One fireman was killed and several others were injured or overcome by smoke while battling a fire that swept a six-story building in the wholesale hardware district here late tonight.

Michael Riley was killed when one of the floors of the building collapsed. Other fire lighters were injured when explosions occurred in the building, showering them with glass. Three alarms were sounded calling virtually every piece of apparatus in the city to the scene. The cause of the fire had not been determined. Damage, according to officials, was estimated in excess of $125,000.

The decision was written by Justice Campbell.
