

POST OFFICE HAS SHORTAGE

Astoria Postal Clerk Is Missing; Inspectors Audit Books

ASTORIA, Ore., March 20 (UP)—A preliminary audit of the accounts of the post office here late today indicated a shortage, it was revealed by Postmaster C. W. Halderman and Postal Inspectors C. W. Linbaugh and George Freeman.

Henry F. Peacock, assistant postmaster, who has been missing from his home here since early yesterday, handled the accounts. Peacock's absence was not revealed until today, when the apparent shortage in his accounts were discovered.

The postal inspectors are awaiting additional information from Washington, D. C., and consequently, would not discuss the shortage. They indicated, however, that figures show the shortage may reach large proportions.

Peacock's disappearance early yesterday—the day before the postal inspectors arrived—cause much speculation here as to his whereabouts. He could not be known of the inspectors' visit, it was explained, as such matters are kept secret under laws of the post office department.

Tallman Clue In Guatemala Turns Out False

GUATEMALA CITY, March 20. (UP)—Los Angeles authorities who came here in a search for William Loren Tallman, accused of being the missing bricky slayer of Mrs. Virginia Pritch, admitted tonight that their trip was a failure.

Interviewed by a United Press correspondent, Deputy District Attorney Robert P. Stewart and Detective James Starritt of the California city said they will leave for home on the first boat.

Accompanied by a Los Angeles newspaper reporter, the two officials came here from the United States on a "tip" that a radio operator believed to be Tallman was working here.

They said tonight that while the man was a double for Tallman the "tip" had proved false. Tallman has been sought for two years since the slaying in Los Angeles of Mrs. Pritch, his paramour. He was a ship's radio operator and the day after the murder was interviewed by newspapermen on board a boat in Los Angeles harbor while police tried futilely to find him. After the ship sailed for San Francisco, he was
