OPponents of inflation in the senate put up a hard fight against the gold standard repeal bill, but LOSE.

MEANWHILE, under the stimulus of inflation, the stock market climbs to new high points, the Standard Statistics average, which is printed daily in this newspaper, having passed last week the highest point reached in 1932.

BUT DON'T pay TOO MUCH attention to the stock market as an index of returning prosperity. It is interesting as indicating what people are thinking about the future, but its recent rises have been influenced by speculation, and NOT by actually increased earnings on the part of the industries whose stocks are dealt in on the exchange.

Increased earning power on the part of business and industry will be the REAL sign of returning prosperity.

EARLY last spring, a young man of whom this writer knows bought an automobile, paying down on it the sum of $200 in cash. Now he is grieving. If he had (Continued on Page Four)

Will Rogers Says: BEVERLY HILLS, June 5.—Editor, The Klamath News: Well, I am glad to see the midgets get a break. In all my experience around show business they are a mighty fine little breed of folks.

We have had "bank relief," "big business relief," and now we get "midget relief." Mr. Morgan acted mighty human. He just picked up that little midget and played with it as though it was the Federal Reserve or the United States Chamber of Commerce.

I'll tell you how Mr. Morgan can square this whole thing and you will never hear another word against him. That's by putting everybody on the preferred list that wasn't on it already. I haven't heard a kick only by those that were overlooked. Yours, Will Rogers.

MATTER OVER SIBERIA OF OLD MARK

Flier Has Three Hours to Spare Over Post-Gatty Speed Record

Makes Forced Landing at Small Island, Then Resumes World Flight

MOSCOW, June 6 (Tuesday) (AP)—Jimmy Matters, American round-the-world flier, hopped off at 11:14 a. m. today (3:14 p. m., Eastern Standard time Monday) for Omsk, Siberia, on the fourth leg of his world-circling flight. The flier arrived here this afternoon with an almost three-hour advantage over Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, the record holders for the world flight. He slept only two hours and had hoped to take off immediately afterward until the delay developed. Omsk is 1,450 miles east of Moscow. He decided not to fly to Novo-Sibirsk as previously planned, because of the small landing field there.

OSLO, Norway, June 5 (AP)—Jimmy Matters, the grinning Texas airman the world had feared lost, who reached Moscow early today in his red-white-and-blue plane "Century of Progress" today made a surprise landing on a small island 70 miles southwest of Oslo.

Fighting storms and fogs, which forced him 200 kilometers off his course, the dauntless flier from San Angelo, Texas, fought his way through successfully to land safely on Jomfruland island, on Norway's south coast, at 4:15 a. m., eastern standard time, yesterday.

Private Plane Mustered The first news that Oslo heard of the landing came when the lighthouse keeper telephoned from his post on the island that Matters had landed on the beach there and was safe.

A private plane was sent there to give him any aid necessary and at 9 p. m., eastern standard time, yesterday, he hoped for Oslo, landing at the military aerodrome, he halted only briefly, and with his big tanks brimful with more than 700 gallons of gasoline, he was off toward the Russian metropolis. Man Arrested for Investigation As Result of Battle

William Harry Stanley, 40, resident of one of the acreage plots in the Ben Kerns ranch near Keno, was arrested by state police Monday evening and is held in the county jail for investigation in connection with an alleged brawl with Joe Salisbury, 38, of 219 McDonald street.

Salisbury and his wife are alleged to have gone to the Stanley place about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Shortly after, officers were called to investigate a reported fight in which Salisbury received a badly bruised head and a punctured ear.

Officers investigating the case were uncertain Monday evening whether or not, and to what extent a gun had been used in the scuffle. Salisbury's injuries were not believed to be serious.

After the fight Stanley is reported to have left the scene for his own protection from further trouble. He was found by the officers at the Jack Cruckshank cabin at Weyerhaeuser camp two, approximately 14 miles from his home.

Upon returning with officers he produced a .38 caliber gun which he allegedly left at the home of Claude Banks, a neighbor, following the fight. Officers believed he had used the gun as a club during the brawl in which Salisbury and his wife both participated.

Illinois Goes 10 to 1 Vote, Indiana Votes Today

CHICAGO GIVES REPEALISTS UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT CHICAGO, June 5. (UP)—Emerging victorious, apparently in landslide proportions, from today's state-wide election, a slate of 50 delegates pledged to repeal of federal prohibition, had been elected tonight to add Illinois to a list of eight other states which have voted to ratify repeal of the 18th amendment.

Based on returns from slightly more than one-fourth of a state total of 7244 precincts, repealists were leading four to one, but most of the available returns were from Chicago, which appears to have gone 10 to 1 for repeal. Indications were that repealists will probably elect their slate of delegates by a vote of three to one, down-state being counted on to lower the size of the repeal victory.

At 7:30 p. m., United Press returns from 2138 precincts, 1354 of which were from Chicago and Cook county, gave: For repeal, 393,565. Against, 96,528.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5. (UP)—The proposal to wipe prohibition from the national statutes faces its first real test tomorrow when citizens of Indiana vote on whether to ratify the 21st amendment to the constitution.

Rev. E. W. Lee to Leave Klamath for California Church

Rev. Eugene W. Lee, pastor of the English Lutheran church of Klamath Falls for the last two and a half years, has accepted a call to Our Savior's Lutheran church at Patterson, Calif.

Mr. Lee's resignation here and his acceptance of the California post was announced at the church Sunday. It was also made known before the Ministerial association at its regular monthly meeting Monday at the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Lee, who came here from St. Mary's, Idaho, probably will leave for the south on June 15. "We cannot express too highly our appreciation of Brother Lee. He is a man of fine brotherly spirit with a true sense of Christian unity and cooperation utterly alien to the anachrona variety that proclaims unity and practices it by swallowing the other fellow." Mr. Lee is a graduate of Princeton where he also received his master's degree. At Princeton and at Columbia university, he had nearly completed work for the degree of doctor of philosophy when the war opened and he entered the service. Locally, not only (Continued on Page Three)

CHINESE LOAN WILL FOSTER OREGON TRADE

China May Place Huge Wheat Order If U. S. Will Lend the Money

Lumber Industry to Benefit Indirectly Through Shipbuilding Program

PORTLAND, June 5. (AP)—A deal through which China may take 12,500,000 bushels of wheat from the United States was regarded here today as one of the most significant developments tending to benefit the Pacific Northwest that has been noted in months.

The deal, it is said, will restore a now comparatively stagnant market to new life, will serve to greatly reduce the wheat surplus in the western states, and will give new impetus to the already accelerated shipping business out of Columbia river and Puget Sound ports.

Millers Optimistic Of the $50,000,000 credit which the reconstruction corporation has arranged for China, $10,000,000 will go to buy wheat and flour. With current export prices around 60 cents a bushel, that money would purchase nearly half the present Northwest surplus of approximately 30,000,000 bushels.

Inasmuch as the bulk of the wheat will be processed before shipment, millers in the Pacific Northwest are expected to benefit materially.

The other $40,000,000 credit will be used to take cotton, all of which is to go to China unprocessed.

Markets Eliminated The United States in the past several months has been virtually cut out of the oriental markets by Australia, Argentina and Canada, because of the difference in (Continued on Page Three)

Camp "Deserters" Return to Homes; No Action Planned

Ten Klamath Falls boys who walked out of the Silver Creek reforestation camp after tiring of the camp routine were at their homes last night and according to reports they left their posts Sunday and caught rides home.

Army officers and forest officials will take no action against their service oath, as it is the policy of the camp management not to force unwilling hands to serve. R. E. Bradbury announced.

"It is regrettable," Bradbury said, "that the boys left without reporting and waiting for their transportation back to Klamath Falls. The captain in charge told the boys they might leave, but expected to give them transportation. The army feels it is responsible for the welfare of the boys in camp and doesn't like to see them run away."

Mr. Bradbury expressed the opinion that the boys probably would have stayed had the camp management had time to get the camp in routine working order. The brief period of time has not permitted this. Later on the camp will be in better order.

Duncan Returns, Arraigns 2 Men

Circuit Judge William M. Duncan returned to Klamath Falls Sunday from Portland where he has spent the past several weeks on cases to which he was appointed by the supreme court.

Meier Urges Banks Probe

Attorney General Asked TO CHECK PERJURY ALLEGATIONS

SALEM, June 5 (AP)—Investigation of alleged perjury in the L. A. Banks' trial at Eugene recently was asked in a letter today from Governor Julius L. Meier to Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle.

The attorney general said he would probably appoint Ralph W. Moody, Medford attorney, to investigate and make any prosecutions regarding alleged perjury of witnesses at the trial of ex-Editor Banks and his wife.

Moody was in charge of the prosecution at the Eugene trial where Banks was found guilty of second degree murder of Constable George Prescott of Medford. Mrs. Banks was acquitted.

At present Moody is in charge of prosecution of alleged ballot thefts in Jackson county.

Canton, commander of the local post. Canton, along with three other prominent Klamath Falls Legion men, returned from Salem Sunday, where they attended a celebration honoring Johnson.

Canton estimated there were approximately 1500 Legion members from all parts of the state at Salem to hear the commander from West Virginia. It was believed that about 50 of the 96 Oregon posts were represented.

Johnson, Canton said, may make another coast tour this summer. If he does, he has promised to attend the Oregon convention.

Legion men from Klamath Falls who accompanied Canton were O. D. Matthews, Dewey Powell and Fred Hellbroner.

County Judge Looks At Northern Roads

County Judge George D. Grizzle returned Sunday evening from a trip to the northern part of the county where he inspected roads in the vicinity of Odell and Crescent lake.

Several complaints had come to the county court on the condition of the Willamette highway along the edge of Crescent lake. Judge Grizzle declared it nearly impassable because of being torn up by traffic from heavy highway construction trucks.

The foreman of the construction crew working on the Willamette highway has agreed to grade the road and reconstruct it, the judge stated.

BRAVE WOMAN CATCHES 'CON'

Kansas Penitentiary Convict Arrested After Girl's Act of Bravery

CHICKASHA, Okla., June 5 (AP)—The courage of an Oklahoma A. & M. college co-ed was credited today with a large share in stopping the frenzied cross-state dash of Frank Sawyer, fleeing Kansas convict near Blinger, Caddo county, Sunday.

Sawyer, one of the 11 desperadoes who escaped the Kansas state penitentiary at Lansing Memorial day, left a trail of kidnappings and stolen automobiles in his frantic attempt to escape the cordon of officers thrown about northeastern Oklahoma.

Gian Battle staged Lewis Bechtel, recaptured near Dripping Springs, Okla., is the only other one of the Kansas fugitives who has been retaken. The Oklahoma convicts who escaped Wednesday were recaptured Thursday night about 20 miles from the McAlester prison.

Sawyer, also a fugitive from the Oklahoma prison, was captured in a gun battle and freed for all fight after he had kidnaped Bob Goodfellow, Caddo county clerk, and his 20-year-old sister, Luis Goodfellow.

Goodfellow, wounded in the groin by a posseman's bullet when Sawyer used him as a shield, was taken to an Anadarko hospital, where his condition was described as serious but not critical.

ADMINISTRATION BEATS RETREAT UNDER ATTACK

Leaders Postpone Test Against Rebellious Solons; Howe Assailed

President's Pet Measure Beaten; Roosevelt May Appeal to People

By HARRY FERGUSON United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, June 5. (UP)—The Roosevelt administration cautiously retreated today as rebellion in congress threatened to wreck the White House program.

A test of strength against rebellious congressmen was postponed until late this week when house leaders decided to delay consideration of senate amendments to the independent offices appropriation bill. That measure carries the appropriation for veterans' compensation which has raised the controversy that may keep congress in session far into July.

Leaders Afraid Speaker Rainey frankly said he feared the Roosevelt program would be cut to ribbons if brought to a vote today. Pending the real test of strength, congress spent the time sniping at the administration. Louis McHenry Howe, Mr. Roosevelt's secretary, who made a speech last night saying taxes would be raised $1.25 for each person in the United States, if the economic program is scrapped, came for bitter denunciation.

The admiralty won a victory late today when the licensing provision—removed from the industrial recovery bill Friday night—was restored by the senate finance committee. That section makes it possible for the federal government to force reluctant industries to accept maximum working hours, minimum wages and trade agreements.

Conservation Corps Has First Casualty

PORTLAND, June 5. (UP)—The first casualty of the civilian conservation corps in the Oregon area was feared tonight after researchers had failed to find the body of Howard Chase, Chicago youth, after dragging the swift Santiam river.

Chase, with John Perker, a skilled woodsman but not a reforestation worker, attempted to cross the river in a rowboat. They lost one oar and the boat was swept around a bend.

The overturned boat was found later, but no traces of the men were discovered.
