tions on referendum ends tonight. Tomorrow some $30 laws become effective, although a few do not become operative until later. Tonight also will see the close of 20-cent automobile operators' licenses, the price advanced to $1 beginning tomorrow.

Convention in August

Four proposed constitutional amendments, one law and two questions, all referred to the electorate by the legislature and two referendum measures, placed on the ballot by petition, will be voted on at the special election. This in addition to the election of 116 delegates to a state constitutional convention to meet in August at the call of Governor Julius L. Meier.

Two other measures may appear on the ballot, but both appear improbable. One is the referendum on changes in the initiative and referendum laws for which petitions have been circulated. It was not expected completed petitions would be filed, however, by tonight, thus permitting the changes to become law.

Opinion Awaited

The other is the proposed initiative on the repeal of the prohibition amendments to the state constitution, which will depend upon a supreme court opinion expected to be handed down this week. The attorney general held the law calling for the special election, excluding initiative measures, a suit to compel the secretary of state to place the initiative measure on the ballot was argued in the supreme court. Completed petitions for the initiative measure were filed with the secretary of state.

Providing for two-thirds affirmative vote on all elections on questions involving the issuance of any bonds with the exception of refunding bonds.

Providing that no more cash bonuses shall be paid to war veterans and that no more World War veterans state aid loans shall be made after June 30, 1938.

Providing that persons accused of criminal offenses may be prosecuted upon information filed by district attorneys in lieu of grand jury indictments.

Manager Form Up

Authorizing legal voters of any county to adopt county manager form of government if approved by voters of that county.

The law referred by the legislature provided for a two percent sales tax, three percent of one per cent for wholesalers and publishers and exemption of personal property tax.

The two questions submitted by the legislature for approval by the people are:

Shall the general obligation five per cent bonds of the state be issued in any total amount of $100,000,000 for the purpose of providing money for the state power fund?

Instruction to delegates to the constitutional convention as to whether the electors of the respective counties in the state desire to retain the eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

VOX—Now playing, Buck Jones and Shirley Grey in "Treason."

PINE TREE—Now playing, "Be Mine Tonight."

PELICAN—Now playing, Joan Blondell and Chester Morris in "Blondie Johnson."

Buck Jones and Shirley Grey in "Treason"—A Columbia Picture

after the end of the Civil War in his latest Columbia starring picture, "Treason," now at the Vox theatre.

Actually Buck has seen service in the United States cavalry, serving in the Philippines, and participating in numerous stirring engagements against the insurgent Moros. This was during Buck's youth, when he yearned for adventure and new surroundings after spending years riding the range in his native Oklahoma, in Texas, Wyoming and Montana.

Shirley Grey, talented blonde actress formerly of the New York stage and recently seen in such films as "Virtue" and "Back Street," is Joan's leading woman. Other prominent actors in "Treason" are Robert Ellis, Frank Laetten, Ivar McFadden, Charles Hill, Walter Ed J. Le Saint, Edmund Stanley and Nick Cogley.

The picture was directed by George B. Seitz, who made "The Vanishing American," "Wild Horse Mesa" and "The Blood Ship."

PINE TREE

I commend to your attention one of the greatest talking pictures anyone of us is ever likely to see. In the past four years we have had a number of outstanding talking pictures, but none in the same class with "Be Mine Tonight," which opens today at the Pine Tree theatre.

In the first place, "Be Mine Tonight" is a film and not a photographed stage play. It has thrown off the shackles of the stage and escaped to the open air. It presents an evenly flowing continuity of swift motion against richly varied and really magnificent scenery. A picture should be a panorama. "Be Mine Tonight" is a panorama of Alpine settings of exquisite beauty perfectly photographed and flawlessly knit together in dramatic sequence.

Then the basis of this drama is joyful adventure, tender romance, great and glorious fun. And beyond all these delights, we have incomparable music. Klepura, who has a golden voice, and is the sensation of Europe, brings to this film a soaring ecstasy of song altogether without parallel in motion pictures.

PELICAN

In "Blondie Johnson," a First National picture opening today at the Pelican theatre, Joan Blondell, playing a rather startling character, proves that she is a master of emotional acting as well as of the lighter and more flippant character portrayals.

Playing the part of a cold, hard, ruthless leader of a band of law-breakers, Blondell is called upon in several sequences for the expression of tremendous feeling and a genuine outburst of emotions.

Chester Morris does a very good job, with his part of the Roman racketeer who lets success go to his head. The role calls for many qualifications and this popular star rings the bell.

AZANA GOVERNMENT RESIGNS IN SPAIN

MADRID, June 8 (AP)—The government headed by Premier Manuel Azana resigned today.

The resignation came after a cabinet session and resulted directly from the refusal of President Nicolo Alcala Zamora to make ministerial changes requested by Premier Azana. The Premier had asked that a new treasury minister be appointed and that the ministry of agriculture be split into two parts.

When the president informed him he would be unable to do this without consulting republican minority leaders, the Premier declared Senor Alcala Zamora no longer had confidence in the cabinet.
