

Interesting Pictorial Highlights from Here and There

Richest Heiress Shops for Trousseau

A wedding gown and a hundred costumes from Paris' most famous couturiers were on the shopping list of Miss Barbara Hutton (left), "America's richest heiress," when this picture caught her hurrying on her buying excursion in Paris with a friend. Heiress to the Woolworth millions, Miss Hutton will wed Prince Alexis of Greece in Paris June 20.

America's Conference Envoys Land for Job

Presenting the American delegation to the world economic conference, as it arrived in Plymouth, England. Picture, by steamer to New York, and by telephoto to San Francisco, shows, left to right: Key Pittman, Nevada, chairman Senate foreign affairs committee; Cordell Hull, secretary of state; Sam D. Reynolds, Tennessee, chairman House foreign affairs committee; Ralph Morrison, Texas.

Carries on U. S. Money Inquiry

A summer of work is ahead of Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, chairman of the committee that inquired into J. P. Morgan's activities. Although hearings have ended, the Florida senator, shown here in an excellent character study, will map further inquiries for the fall session.

Claims Fortune of Slain Recluse

Mrs. Elizabeth Day (above), 83-year-old widow of London, England, is laying claim to the fortune of several million dollars left by Edward Albert Ridley, aged recluse recently slain with his secretary in his aquid New York cellar office. Mrs. Day was Elizabeth Kate Hunt Ridley and she believes the slain eccentric was her cousin.

Viking Bantie

Pete Saniol, tiny Norwegian bantamweight, who has been signed by George Blane, who piloted Fidel La Barbe to a world title, wins a cheap win in Saniol.

Hot?—No! Happy?—Yes!

Bothered by hot weather? Not Carl Muma, who obeys his impulses and gets in the splash of Lake Erie at Cleveland. Ninety-in-the-shade days are happy days for him.

Fair Shows "Tomorrow's Houses"

Four of eleven "tomorrow's houses" built of steel and other fabricated materials, that grace Chicago's Century of Progress are shown here, two on each side of the street. They are magnets for many visitors to the fair.

Broker Inherits New Commerce Ridley Million Commissioner

Robert M. Ridley, above, San Francisco broker, is the heir to more than $1,000,000 of the fortune of his grand-uncle, Edward A. Ridley, mysteriously murdered in his New York office.

Here is the newest member of the Interstate Commerce Commission—Gastrell Miller of Pittsburgh, Pa., shown as he appeared before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee in Washington.

Talking Over a High Ball

Making detailed plans for their flight into the stratosphere from Chicago, Commander T. G. W. Settle, left, and Dr. Jean Piccard are shown here as they met at Midland, Mich., to inspect the metal gondola in which they hope to reach a record height. Their picture is inset into one of the big gondola, on which they are putting finishing touches.

White Rajah's Daughter Weds Peer

Miss Leonore Margaret Brooke, eldest daughter of Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, the white Rajah of Sarawak, and the Earl of Inchcape, famous ship-owner peer, are shown leaving St. George's Church in London, England, after their recent wedding. The 23-year-old bride is known as Princess Gold in Sarawak where her father rules over some of the most savage peoples on the earth.

Miss Morgan Goes Abroad

Miss Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan, the banker, is shown here as she ascended the gangplank of a ship bound for Europe, where she spends much of her time.

Gov. Murphy Goes Native

Acclimatizing himself for his stay in the Philippines, Gov. Gen. Frank Murphy stopped off in Hawaii to sample Waikiki's famed beach. Here is the former mayor of Detroit in native South Sea garb.

West's Greeter

Harry Troupe, San Francisco hotelman, western candidate for international president of the Hotel Greeters of America at the Louisville, Ky., convention. He has long been secretary of the San Francisco Greeters and an officer of the California organization.

Army Aviators Beaten by Gang

A new sore spot in Hawaiian-American relations has arisen through the beating by native gangs of Lieut. Leroy Hudson and Walter Lee of the U. S. Army Air Corps at Honolulu.

Well Backed for Perfect Contest

A "perfect back" contest will be a feature of the California Health Show and Trades Exposition at Los Angeles late this month. Judith Allen being examined by Dr. Lester V. Donovan proves you're glad to see her back, even though she has a pretty face.