Editorials on the Day's News

BY FRANK JENKINS
BIG NEWS: The big city banks are fighting guarantee of deposits, which will make the smallest country bank as strong as the biggest city banks.

COUNTRY DISTRICTS, such as this, which need money and credit and don't like to see them drained away to the big centers, are hoping the big city banks lose their fight.

BUT, you say, guarantee of deposits, or rather insurance of deposits, is included in the new banking bill, which is now law.

True enough. But congress meets again about the time the new banking bill becomes effective. Congress MIGHT repeal the deposit insurance provision. It might, that is, unless enough of its members hear from their constituents to the contrary in the meantime.

LITTLE NEWS:

A prohibition agent, driving along a California road, saw a pig come out of the brush, staggering visibly, and attack an automobile tire lying beside the highway. Then another pig emerged and tried woefully to climb a fence.

He investigated and found the animals had been eating manna from a nearby still.

MEN act the hog often enough, but it isn't so often that hogs try to act like men.

MORE LITTLE NEWS:

President Roosevelt, vacationing briefly on board a small boat, is held for three days in a fog off the coast of Maine. During these three days, he doesn't shave.

City men who like to get out in the hills will understand his reasons for letting his whiskers grow. Forgetting conventions for a short time means relaxation.

The President of the United States, upon whose shoulders rests a tremendous burden of responsibility, needs all the relaxation he can get.

CALIFORNIA voters adopt the Riley-Stewart tax plan which includes, among other things, putting the property of public service corporations back on the general tax rolls. In the past, public service properties have been assessed separately by the state.

It is argued that the new plan will reduce the burden on property. Perhaps. At least, it will be a change, and in times (Continued on Page Four)

P. O. OPEN MONDAY

The postoffice will be open Monday and regular service will be maintained, according to Postmaster John McCall. The office will close Tuesday.

Will Rogers Says:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 1. Editor The Klamath News: That economic conference ought to be starting now over in London. The American delegation arrived there Wednesday. There has been millions of dollars made out of wheat in the last month, but not a cent made by anybody that ever raised any, or anybody that ever really owned any. No wonder the people in so many states voted for legal betting on horse racing. The states does get a per cent of that.

Those who demanded their pound of flesh finally received their satisfaction. "Fatty" Arbuckle accommodated 'em by dying, and from a broken heart. He brought much happiness to many, and never knowingly wronged a soul. The Lord will pass on his innocence or guilt now and not the reformers. Yours, Will Rogers.

KIDNAPERS GET "BARBER JAKE"

Millionaire Abducted and Held for $150,000 Ransom; Son in Search

CHICAGO, July 1. (AP)—Reports that kidnapers, who ambushed John "Jake" Barber, a millionaire promoter, today asked $150,000 to $150,000 for his safe return were prevalent as friends directed the search for him from headquarters in a loop hotel.

All inquiries, however, were met with smiling silence, except for the comment, "Please do not hinder our work."

CHICAGO, July 1. (AP)—Kidnapers ambushed John Factor on a north side thoroughfare early today, abducted the millionaire who was once a barber for his automobile while Mrs. Factor and their son looked on, and sped away with their captive.

They dragged Factor and his friend, Al Epstein, an attorney from the rear seat, harked a curt "Go ahead, kid, we don't want you," to Jerome Factor, the son, and ignored a following car which carried Mrs. Factor, Mrs. Epstein and a chauffeur.

Epstein, a friend of the stock broker and frequenter of night clubs with him, told the story.

STABILIZATION PLAN PROPOSED BY PRESIDENT

Bloc Countries to Hold Tight, Try to Force United States In

Secretary of State to Announce American Stand to Parley Monday

LONDON, July 1. (AP)—President Roosevelt rejected the joint currency proposal for solving the stabilization problem in the world economic conference in its present form.

American headquarters made the brief announcement today that elaboration of American policy regarding stabilization would be made Monday morning.

The announcement for which the world was waiting was made orally by a spokesman of the delegation who said:

"The secretary of state has notified the secretary of state that he has rejected the proposal in its present form.

"The secretary of state will on Monday morning make a statement elaborating upon American policy as it applies to this subject."

It was immediately noted at the delegation headquarters that President Roosevelt apparently had left the door open for approval of the proposal with alterations, in view of the expression "present form."

Gold Return Policy The text of the joint statement, which was drawn up here and to sign which the representatives of Great Britain and the gold countries prematurely assembled twice in Downing street yesterday, was not made public.

The statement was known, however, to have set forth the determination of the gold bloc countries to stay on the gold standard and to play a role in the return of non-gold countries to the yellow metal eventually.

Plan Left Open It was believed that all reference to stabilization had been removed from the statement before it was submitted to the American executive. This would leave him free to express a permissive attitude toward the plan, which calls for the federal reserve bank of New York to join other central banks in smoothing (Continued on Page Three)

Mayor of Bonanza Calls for Work on Highway to Dairy

J. O. Hamaker, mayor of Bonanza, was a visitor in the city Saturday and stated that residents of his section of the county were enthusiastic over the proposed state highway program which was announced Friday.

However, Hamaker said, it is the belief that one of the most needed sections of highway where work is badly needed has been neglected, the seven-mile stretch from Dairy to Bonanza, which was built in 1923 and was resurfaced and oiled. The highway commission and county court will be petitioned to have this stretch of road improved.

This road taps two of the second largest irrigation districts in Klamath county, the Langell Valley and Horsely districts, and it is reported that this section has the deepest oil well, 3050 feet. According to Hamaker, valley residents have been informed that it is their duty to pay the bonds, according to an announcement from Mrs. Ruth Olds Bathiany, city treasurer.

The funds were sent east early last week by the treasurer, who received a telegram of congratulation from the bonding company.

Durfee declared that he wished to congratulate the city treasurer and other city officers for the businesslike management of the Klamath Falls bonds, and urged that the money was on hand to pay the bond issue at maturity in spite of slow collections, bank holidays, etc.

The plaintiffs filed their declarations of candidacy on May 31, but on June 6, a referendum petition was presented which suspended temporarily the operation of the entire power law.

Subsequent to the filing of the referendum petition the state, upon relation of Attorney General Van Winkle, launched a suit in circuit court here to enjoin operation of the referendum. The attorney general alleged that a large number of names on the (Continued on Page Three)

Funds to redeem the $76,000 city refunding bond issue voted in 1913, and due July 1, 1933, are in a New York bank for R. L. Durfee & Company of Toledo, who issued the bonds, according to an announcement from Mrs. Ruth Olds Bathiany, city treasurer.

LUMBER WAGES RECOMMENDED BY DIRECTORS

Company Representatives Call for Scale Used During Season of 1926

Roosevelt's Approval to Be Sought; Plan to Be Rushed Into Action

CHICAGO, July 1. (AP)—Restoration of the wage scale prevalent in the lumber industry during 1926 adjusted in proportion to changed living costs, was recommended today in a code adopted for the trade by the directors of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association.

The code was submitted to the industry by John D. Tennant, chairman of a committee instructed to draft rules conforming with the Industrial Recovery act. Tennant is head of the Long-Bell Lumber company of Longview, Wash.

Restoration Asked The year 1926 was taken as one of the more prosperous periods of the forest products industry. At that time the unskilled laborer in the northern timberlands was paid 40 to 50 cents an hour on an eight-hour day. The committee proposed that wages in line with those of 1926 be restored soon "as may be practical."

The code was read to the various lumber associations convened here in a joint session this morning. The convention itself, however, took no action, the directors having given the code their approval.

Wages will be dealt with more specifically by regional associations in nine territories into which the country was divided.

The section of the code pertaining to wage rates reads: "It is the declared purpose of the lumber and timber products industries and of the adherents (Continued on Page Three)

California Turns To Sales, Income Taxes for Funds

By THOMAS H. MALABREY United Press Staff Correspondent SACRAMENTO, July 1. (UP) Virtual certainty of a sales tax and possibility of a personal income tax faced California today as legislators prepared to return to Sacramento July 17 and raise the vast sum of $121,000,000. That much new revenue must be raised for two purposes:

1. Assumption by the state of the counties' fixed school charges for the next two years, $76,660,000.

2. General fund deficit, approximately $45,000,000.

One thing is reasonably certain: the legislature will enact a sales tax. If a 2 per cent sales tax is approved, $50,000,000 will be raised during the next two years, according to estimates of the state finance department. That leaves a $61,000,000 gap to fill, and that gap represents the big question mark of the July legislative session.

LAW MAY HIT TAX EVADERS

Chairman of Banking Committee Predicts Legislation After Probes

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, July 1. (UP) Legislation to close income tax loopholes which have enabled great bankers, including members of the J. P. Morgan and Kuhn, Loeb firms to avoid payments was predicted tonight by Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking and currency committee.

He said that as a result of disclosures in the senate investigation he felt certain his committee would make such recommendations, particularly dealing with losses through sales to relatives.

Losses to Be Cut "I believe this legislation should be drawn so as to limit losses deductible for income tax purposes to bona fide sales of securities for cash not to members of one's family," Fletcher said.

Police Mystified By Death of Wife Of Legs Diamond

NEW YORK, July 1. (AP)—Two questions marks danced before detectives today after an all-night inquiry into the murder of Mrs. Jack Diamond, 33-year-old widow of the notorious "Legs,"

1. Why did the dark-haired widow practice marksmanship so intently for several weeks before a killer fired a bullet into her temple after a struggle in her Brooklyn flat?

2. Who sent large sums of money—sometimes as high as $1,000 a week—to Mrs. Diamond, who nevertheless lived in comparatively penury in her $45-a-month home?

Strange disclosures followed in quick succession after the widow's body was found last night, sprawled before a little table on which stood three coffee cups, drained to the dregs.

Injunction Halts Bus License Law

SALEM, July 1. (AP)—Circuit Judge L. H. McMahon late yesterday granted a temporary injunction to the Truck Owners' and Farmers' Protective association restraining the state utilities commissioner from enforcing the new truck and bus law. This injunction, the second issued by the truck association, will permit truck owners to operate without complying with the new law until its validity has been determined. It is understood.

Coincident with a warning issued from the capitol yesterday, A. A. Anderson, president of the truck association, advised truck owners to purchase new license plates for their machines, since the injunction does not apply to the regular license law.
