

BUSINESS OVER NATION SHOWS GAIN IN WEEK

NEW YORK, July 7. (AP)—The past week was marked by further sharp gains in many lines of industry and trade, said the Dun and Bradstreet Review today. "It is no longer an opinion," asserted the agency, "that business is on the upgrade; it is a fact. The complete reversal of trade trends during the first six months of the current year, with the precipitous and unprecedented climb of productive and distributive totals, has left even leaders of industry mystified."

Orders Flow In
"In addition orders are being received from unexpected sources, and many for amounts unequalled in years, while unemployment is being reduced each week and is accompanied by the encouraging announcements of more firms granting pay increase."

"The buying wave has now reached such proportions that it has swept aside all the suspicion and lack of confidence so prevalent three months ago, and the weekly increase in the backlog of unfilled orders is considered unquestioned proof of the permanency of the general improvement."

"While speculative buying is not absent in current operations, wholesalers as well as retailers are placing their orders with conservatism and are reluctant to stake too much on future developments. Early returns on June retail sales show volume well in excess of last year's figures with the exception of some of the large cities in the east, where the margin of decline from the 1932 comparative record will be slightly wider than it was in May."
