

LOCAL SOCIETY'S INTEREST CENTERS ABOUT LOVELY MID-SUMMER WEDDINGS

Society Is Diverted With Functions Complimenting Visiting Guests In City

INTERRUPTING the routine of casual summer sports, come a group of lovely July weddings, of which the marriage of Miss Doris Jones to Mr. Ronald La Forge, was one of the high lights of the past week.

Several delightful functions from San Francisco were enjoyed during the week, and future interest is centered in the late July wedding of Miss Dorothy Aiken Smith, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. David Groat, of Portland.

Meanwhile, summer sports continue, and sailing, swimming, boating, and picnicking divert society of Klamath Falls during leisure moments.

Much enthusiasm is being evidenced in the forthcoming sail regatta to be held on Upper Klamath Lake Sunday afternoon, and numerous parties are being organized to watch the graceful crafts both from the shore and on the waters of the lake.

Fraternal organizations continue their meetings and social activity during the mid-summer lull, and the American Legion auxiliary is busily formulating plans for the entertainment of out-of-town guests during the three day state convention to be held in this city on August tenth, eleventh and twelfth.

MRS. ROBINSON HONORED AT TUESDAY AFTERNOON TEA

Mrs. Howard Barnhisel was hostess at an informal tea Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Worden on Washington street, complimenting her sister, Mrs. Frank B. Robinson of Moscow, Idaho, who was her guest for a ten days' visit.

Mrs. Worden presided at the tea table, centered with sweet peas and cosmos in silver bouquets during afternoon.

About twenty friends of Mrs. Robinson's called between the hours of three-thirty and five-thirty o'clock.

VOYES HOSTS AT DANCING PARTY

The second of a series of summer entertainments was enjoyed by a group of about thirty members of the younger set at the Voyes home on High street, Friday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Voyes presiding as host and hostess.

Dancing was the order until midnight, when refreshments were served, followed by entertainment in cabaret style. The entertainers were Miss Bonnie Short, vocal number; Mrs. D. E. Van Vactor, piano selections; a reading by Mr. George Cunningham; Mr. Carl Klipple, a bass solo; and Miss Marie Obenchain presented several of her own piano compositions.

Mrs. Thomas Pearson Henderson, who has spent the past six months in Hollywood and Pasadena, California, will arrive Tuesday to spend several months visiting her mother, Mrs. William Weston, at her home, "Dolwig," on Lakeshore drive.

Mr. Henderson is sailing this week for Europe, where he has been engaged in business for the past two years.

The Lend-A-Hand circle enjoyed a delightful afternoon at Moore park on Thursday. Mrs. Harry Marsh, chairman, presided at the business meeting after which games were enjoyed by all.

Members present were Mesdames Harry Marsh, W. L. Maxwell, E. H. Coffey, M. W. Coshon, D. A. Kenyon, John Gardner, S. R. Jeter, W. J. Steinhilber, Howard Abbey, Kelsey, Leonard, Hendon, T. R. Skillington, Abner, Burchett, Gowen, Hough, Higginson, Webb, Umbaner, Ed Markham, Rev. and Mrs. Coan, Virginia, Mrs. E. B. Damm, Mrs. Fred Abbey, Mr. Abner, Mr. Henson, Eloise Marsh, Marjorie Conn, Eloise Hough and nine children.

At a regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Tuesday evening, the following delegates were elected to the state convention to be held here August tenth, eleventh and twelfth: Mrs. Lester Finley, Mrs. C. L. Sparks, and Mrs. Edna H. Russell. Alternates were Mrs. J. H. Reed, Mrs. E. B. Damm, Mrs. Fred Heilbronner. A joint meeting was held with the Legion later.

Neighbors of Woodcraft will meet for their regular session on Wednesday evening, July 19, at the I. O. O. F. hall at eight o'clock.

Those with birthdays in November will be in charge of entertainment and refreshments with Miss Margaret McDonough acting as chairman.

All officers and guards are requested to meet at the hall at seven-thirty o'clock for practice.

Tenth Anniversary Is Celebrated With Bridge Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Houston were honored on their tenth wedding anniversary Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Bert Igl entertained with four tables of bridge at their home on North Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston received a number of gifts appropriate to their "tin" wedding anniversary, and these gifts were presented to them in a large tin tub.

After bridge, refreshments were served, and Mrs. Houston cut the large wedding cake.

High score for the men was awarded to Dr. George Adler, and Mrs. Adler held high score for the women.

Guests of the evening were Dr. and Mrs. George H. Adler, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Thurl Green, Dr. and Mrs. Ray W. Oldenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Murray, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. West, Mrs. Anna M. Haas, mother of Mrs. Igl and Mrs. Houston, who is visiting in Klamath Falls from her home in San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Houston, the honor guests.

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church entertained the Altamont society at a swimming party at Crystal Springs Wednesday afternoon. Thirty-five young people enjoyed the picnic with Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Olson, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Earl Gilbert, and Miss Dorothy Smith as special guests.

Swimming was followed by a wicker roast and watermelon feed.

Those attending from both societies were Conrad Carman, Betty Stephens, Carolyn Collier, Mary Mesereau, Margy Johnson, Gladys Parks, Florence Parks, Virginia Lee Gilbert, Nancy Gilbert, Eleanor Collier and her two sons, Amy Williams, Leon Abbott, Velma Warner, Ray Warner, Carl Williams, Bill Mifield, Bob Hall, Bud Mifield, Ray Jones and six or seven other boys and girls from Altamont.

The East Klamath Improvement club and auxiliary will meet Wednesday evening for a short business session, after which a social evening will be enjoyed.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Mrs. E. L. French and Mrs. Z. W. Dixon. All those interested in the work of these organizations are cordially invited to attend the Wednesday meeting.

The Royal Neighbors' Three R club will hold a hostess card party on Tuesday, July 18, from two until four o'clock at the I. O. O. F. hall. The public is cordially invited, and reservations may be made by calling 1774.

Group of Old Friends Entertained With Friday Luncheon.

Mrs. C. F. Cole, (Kitty Wells) of San Francisco, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Ackley, and of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Percy Wells, for the past week, was hostess at a Friday noon luncheon at the Willard hotel. Her guests were ten prominent matrons of this city and San Francisco, who have been friends for nearly twenty-five years.

Mrs. George Watt, formerly of Klamath Falls, and now of San Francisco, was one of the honor guests. Mrs. Watt is spending a fortnight as the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Lamm at her home at Modoc Point.

Guests of Mrs. Cole at the Friday luncheon were Mrs. Lotie Curran, Mrs. Harry W. Poole, Mrs. A. J. Voyes, Mrs. Fred Schlosok, Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Lamm, Mrs. J. Percy Wells, Mrs. Harry Ackley and Mrs. T. B. Walters.

Mrs. Cole is returning to San Francisco this week-end.

PIRATE PARTY SEEKS TREASURE ON SUNDAY

A pirate party was enjoyed by a group Sunday afternoon at Sunset beach on Klamath lake when the guests were led "over hill and down dale" in quest of the treasure which was found by Miss Betty Zimmerman and Mr. Phil Brixner.

Later in the afternoon pitching horseshoes and sailing provided the diversion and supper was served around the outdoor fire.

Mrs. A. D. Lambert and Mrs. Phil Brixner were in charge of arrangements.

The pirates in the hunt were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sha, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brixner, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Browning, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baxton, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barker, Miss Ethelwynn O'Flaherty, Miss Anne Avery, Miss Betty Zimmerman and Mr. William Mathers.

Miss Laura Goldsmith of Klamath Falls won first prize, and Jay Wilson of Salem second prize, in a recent All-University reviewing contest in connection with The Students' Guide to Good Reading, sponsored by a national committee of English teachers headed by Professor Atwood H. Townsend of New York University. The judges for the U. of O. contest were Marion McClain of the University Co-operative Store, J. E. Tarabell of Shelton, Turnbull and Fuller Printing Co., and Professor S. Stephenson Smith of the English department.

The winners will receive books which they are at liberty to choose from among six hundred dollar titles of the publishers who are collaborating in the contest: Modern Library, E. P. Dutton and Co., Grosset and Dunlap, and Scribner's.

Miss Goldsmith's prize-winning review dealt with Emily Bronte's "Wuthering Heights." Norman Douglas' "South Wind," and Goethe's "Faust," while Mr. Wilcox's review for his review "Green Mansions" and "Washington Merry-Go-Round."

Members and friends of St. Paul's Episcopal church will enjoy a picnic at Moore park on Wednesday evening, July 19.

Supper will be served at six-thirty o'clock, and coffee and lemonade will be provided by the church.

Those desiring transportation to the park are asked to meet at the parish house, where automobiles will leave at two-thirty, three, five and six o'clock.

Mrs. Anna M. Haas of San Francisco is spending several weeks in Klamath Falls visiting her daughters, Mrs. Bert Igl and Mrs. John H. Houston. Mrs. Haas brought little Richard Igl back to Klamath Falls with her. The little boy had been spending several weeks with his grandmother in the south.

Miss Annette Tillman of Bend has been the house guest of Mrs. Dixon. All those interested in the work of these organizations are cordially invited to attend the Wednesday meeting.

The Royal Neighbors' Three R club will hold a hostess card party on Tuesday, July 18, from two until four o'clock at the I. O. O. F. hall. The public is cordially invited, and reservations may be made by calling 1774.

Pretty Doggy

(From Sports Crafts, Inc., N. Y.) You can look "doggy" as you like in one of this summer's sport frocks, of Colony cord, a new supple twill made of Accele. This one has a neat hip yoke, with box pleats for fullness in the skirt; and then sports a trim little shoulder cape, with pointed edges and becoming bow tie.

CLASS TEACHER HONORED AT SURPRISE EVENING

Mrs. Charles Thomas was honored with a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Blankenship at their home on Owen and Orchard avenues Friday evening, when the intermediate class of the B. Y. F. U. of the First Baptist church acted as hosts and hostesses to Mrs. Thomas, newly elected sponsor of the class.

Games were the diversion of the evening, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Blankenship, assisted by her daughter, Florence, who is a member of Mrs. Thomas' class.

Those present at the party were Misses Lucy Mae Williams, Jean Phillips, Hazel Stiles, Dorothy Howell, Dot Andrews, Dorothy DeLap, Hazel Sanders and Edna May Thomas; Messrs. Albert, Tommy and Alfred Hatfield, Kingsley Ginsbaugh, Rex DeLap, Vernon Michelson, Rex Vowell and William Stiles.

On June 30, in the presence of Mrs. Grace Foster and Mr. Keene Foster, Mr. Robert Ewever Bailey of San Francisco, California and Miss Genevieve Cole Smiley of the same city were married by the Rev. A. Theodore Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at the latter's home, 435 North Second street.

Mrs. Anna M. Haas of San Francisco is spending several weeks in Klamath Falls visiting her daughters, Mrs. Bert Igl and Mrs. John H. Houston. Mrs. Haas brought little Richard Igl back to Klamath Falls with her. The little boy had been spending several weeks with his grandmother in the south.

Hostesses for this occasion will be Mesdames Burt Hawkins, E. L. Mitchell, R. V. Constable, Winifred Benton and L. E. Henry.

Interesting Chit-Chat Of New York Celebrities

By Julia Blanchard NEW YORK, July 15.—As a rather humorous commentary on modern husbands; George Palmer Putnam, busy in New York while his wife, Amelia Earhart, was flying to the coast and back in connection with the National Air Races, was mistaken about the particular midnight on which she was to take off on her return trip.

The minute he picked up the bedside phone and called the United Press to see if they could tell him how she had made out and where she was at the time he was speaking. They told him she would take off the next night at midnight. . . . Downstairs he found a wire from her, corroborating the newspaper information.

A month ago Miss Earhart made an unofficial flight which was important to her, however. A cousin of hers in Cleveland raised blooded Irish setters and offered her one if she would come and collect. So Amelia stepped into the family "bus," flew out and brought him back. They christened him "Derry," after Londonderry, Ireland, where she landed on her solo flight across the Atlantic.

They have one other pet, a canary, "Warren." When Putnam left the publishing firm of Brewer and Warren, the partners gave him and Miss Earhart a pair of canaries for a wedding present. They named the canaries for their donors. In time, however, "Brewer" laid an egg, and thus became "Mrs. Brewer." The egg was a dud and finally "Mrs. Brewer" went to her eternal reward.

Editor Turns Artist Ray Long, noted editor and publisher, out in Tahiti since last summer, is emulating Gauguin and taking up oil painting in a big way. Last week Leon Gondal, distinguished artist who did the series of paintings of the "twelve greatest American women," and who is an old friend of Long's, shipped a huge box of supplies to the editor-artist in Tahiti.

Dinner-Shopping Count Ferdinand Kabus, popular Polish member of New York's society, is one famous gourmet who never lowers himself to ordinary food. He "shops around," before giving a dinner. Not for price, however. He shops for "imagination in food." He sits down, writes a note to all the maitre-d-hotels of the places he likes best, stating how many guests he will have and how much he will pay for the dinner. They all submit their ideas of the best menu he could have. He goes over all the answers carefully and picks his place.

Rene Black, of the Waldorf-Astoria roof garden, planned a menu for the count's dinner last week. He served Bignones (an appetizer concocted from caviar and crabmeat); Eggs Mousseline Lavilliere; Breast of Guinea Hen, Divorcee; Field Salad (made of fetusia, which looks exactly like clover leaves but has a taste all its own) with Laurentine dressing. For dessert there were Pancakes, a la mode Du Continent, and then Arabian Coffee, Angustura.

All-embracing Names In the New York telephone directory, there is one Huggar (how a doctor!); one Petter (leader, furs); and four Neckers (two are undertakers and two are builders and decorators for churches).

The third in a series of vanishing card parties sponsored by the R. R. K. club of the Royal Neighbors of America was held Friday evening, July seventh, at the home of Mrs. Maude Shuey on North Second street.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Josephine Robinson, Mrs. Lola Meyers, Mrs. Maud Bartlett and Mrs. Shuey. Guests were Mesdames Takus, Akia, Nickack, Hefler, Hammel, Pauley, Hales, Fuller, Close and Stroud. Mrs. Pauley and Mrs. Takus tied for high score, and Mrs. Akia held low score.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cory and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O'Brien will leave Sunday for an extended trip into British Columbia, Canada. They plan to be gone several months, and part of the trip will be made by boat on a chain of lakes in Western B. C.
