Garden Finances
For some time there has been talk to the effect that Jimmy Johnston would be all through as matchmaker of Madison Square Garden when his contract expires in October.

Speculation reached almost the status of a cliché when the recent Carnera-Sharkey heavy-weight championship fight failed to reach $150,000. And the Garden directors still have a headache over the Mara-Dempsey promotion of the Schmeling-Baer fight right in Madison Square Garden's own back yard.

Not Bad, James
But over the whole period of Johnston's matchmaking, a time of depression, especially during the last two years, the Garden has managed to show a net profit, and in one of those years a dividend.

The Garden's total income during the year ending May 31, 1933, was $2,457,205, according to a financial report just made available. Expenses during that period were $2,289,199. That meant a net profit of $168,006 and no dividends. Against this, the year ending May 31, 1932, showed an income of $2,057,492, against expenses of $2,387,564. The net profit was $130,725 and the dividends amounted to $53,721.

Values
The decrease in profit between '32 and '33 thus was $112,353. Mr. Johnston probably is ready to tell you that a few thousands of dollars can make an awful amount of difference in a man's popularity with his employers.

This report is for New York's Madison Square Garden alone, and does not include the Boston Garden, a partly-owned subsidiary. How much is the New York Garden worth? Assets, including land, buildings, etc., were listed in the report at $4,622,142. Under liabilities, capital stock was listed at $3,175,517 and mortgages $1,200,000.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Eddie Gharitty, who used to catch that fast ball of Walter Johnson's when Walter was throwing it up there so it looked like a BB shot, has come back to the major leagues along with his old chief, at Cleveland. . . . Eddie still tells that story about his home run that went for Sweeney. . . . two were out. Frank Ellerbe was on first and Gharitty was at bat. . . . Eddie caught one on the nose and it sailed far up into the left field bleachers. . . . Ellerbe somehow got the notion the ball had been caught. . . . Reaching third he turned and jogged to his position in the infield. . . . Gharitty stomped right on around, naming Ellerbe but no there was nothing to do but call Eddie out.

Snake Wraps Self Around Man's Neck
LAKE CITY, Calif., July 24.—Visions of rattlers ward the mind of Ray L. Ward of this place recently while raking hay on his father's farm. A tooth of the rake which he was operating went through the body of a big blow snake. When he dumped his hay load the snake whipped through the air and wrapped itself around the young man's neck.

The snake, comparatively harmless, was one of the largest of its species seen here in many years.

Britain Halts American Bid to Recapture Davis Cup

AUTEUIL, France, July 24. (AP)—For the second time in three years, England's twin tennis stars, Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, have halted America's bid to regain the Davis cup in the interzone finals.

Just as they did in 1931, but under circumstances even more dramatic, Austin and Perry smashed through to victories in both of the final singles matches before a record crowd in Roland Garros stadium yesterday, gaining one by default through the collapse of the American champion, Ellsworth Vines, won the series four matches to one, and gained the right to battle France in the challenge round Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Austin Wins Series
To Austin went the honor of clinching the series and ending for another year America's hopes of recapturing the trophy France has held ever since the "Four Musketeers," Rene Lacoste, Henri Cochet, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, won it at Germantown in 1927.

Meeting Wilmer Allison in the first match of the day, with Great Britain holding a 2-1 lead, Austin polished off the Texan in four sets, 6-1, 7-5, 6-2, 6-4, but all the drama, oddly enough, was concentrated in the second duel between Perry and Vines.

Meaningless though it was after Austin's clinching triumph. Fighting to regain the prestige he lost through the terrific beating he took against Austin in the opening singles match Friday, Vines fought Perry point for point until he suddenly fainted from nervous exhaustion and the pain of an injured ankle with Perry at set-point in the fourteenth game of the fifth set.

The lanky American fell flat on his face, his long arms stretched full length in the red dust. Officials hurriedly applied wet towels to his face, then carried him to the clubhouse where he was quickly revived.

Perry was awarded the victory, 1-6, 6-0, 4-5, 7-5, 7-5 default.

Two New York Clubs Back in Leadership; Yanks Trim Indians
By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. Associated Press Sports Writer
The two New York clubs, again bracketed together as leaders of the major league, once more were the centers of baseball interest today as the Yankees forged ahead in their duel with Washington for first place in the American league and the Giants found their lead in the National League dwindling before the onslaughts of the Chicago Cubs in spite of a remarkable effort to hold their own.

The Yanks picked just the right time yesterday to hand a pair of 3 to 1 laces to the Cleveland Indians. Washington's Senator's cracked up at the same time and dropped a 13 to 8 decision to the Detroit Tigers. And as a result the Yanks took the lead by a half game.

The Giants put on a sensational ninth inning rally, scoring seven runs off three pitchers in the final frame to beat their neighbors, the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 3. But the second place Cubs came through with a double victory over the Phillies, winning the opener 9 to 5 when Harvey Hendrick smashed a pinch home run with the bases full in the tenth, and the second game 3 to 1 on Pat Malone's five hit pitching. Thus New York's lead was cut to two games.

The Yankees got fine pitching from Johnny Allen and Danny MacFayden for their double triumph and Lou Gehrig aided the cause in the first game with his 19th homer of the season. The Senators also were doing well until Al Thomas skyrocketed in the eighth.

Standings Shifted
The Tigers' triumph brought further changes in the standing of the junior circuit. Detroit moved from sixth place to fourth while Chicago's White Sox dropped a pair to Boston and went to fifth and Cleveland continued downward to sixth. The Red Sox beat the Pale Hose 6 to 2 and 7 to 1, collecting 11 blows in each game behind the steady pitching of Henry Johnson and George Piggas and swept their five game series.

The Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns had an off day. The Cincinnati Reds checked Pittsburgh's threat to the National League leaders and moved up a notch to sixth place by defeating the Pirates twice, 6 to 1 and 6 to 4 when the veteran Ringers, Red Lucas and Eppa Rixey displayed some expert old-time ball and Chick Hafey led a 23-hit attack with five doubles.

The Boston Braves and St. Louis Cardinals exchanged places twice in the course of splitting a doubleheader and finished with Boston holding fourth place, which it captured Saturday. In seven hit ball and the Cards slammed out a 12-0 victory. Rain halted the second game after six innings when the Braves held a 2-1 margin.

WRESTLER FROM JAPAN WILL MEET DAWKINS; THYE, KOVERLY SIGNED

Ptolemy, in 150 A. D., made the first wrestler, but his work was lost until the fifteenth century.

Missions Smothered in Week-End Contests; Hitter Goes On
By Associated Press
With a mark of 60 games, Joe De Maggio was the Coast league's lone candidate today to equal or surpass the all-league 69-game consecutive hitting record established by Joe Wilhoit of Wichita in 1919.

Jim Ogilby, Los Angeles, was stopped Sunday by Roy Joiner of Oakland after having hit safely in 44 games in a row. De Maggio made it 60 straight with an infield single in each of the three week-end games at Sacramento. The Senators took the Saturday game from San Francisco, 8-7, and the last half of Sunday's double-header, 3-2. The Seals won the morning game at Stockton, 7-4. Sacramento fans booed the scorekeeper who credited Joe with a hit in the night-cap. The Seal rookie-punched a grounder to deep short which French could not handle. Police escorted the scorer from the field. Sacramento captured the series, 5-2.

Portland gained ground on the Solons by upsetting the Missions with three week-end victories, 15-8 Saturday, and 3-1 and 3-2 Sunday. Magnus Purgas, Red catcher, heaved the ball to right field in the opener to give the Beavers 2 unearned runs and the game. Lou Kouppal's 5-hit pitching and Charley Wallgren's lacy double with two men on base decided the nightcap for Portland.

Los Angeles trounced Oakland 11-1 Saturday behind Dick Wards 7-hit toiling, and again in yesterday's nightcap, 7-2, with Buck Newsom on the mound. Although outbit 11-5, the Oaks won the opener in the 12th inning, 4-1. Los Angeles took the series, 2-3. After being stopped 3-2 by Herman Pilleto Saturday, Hollywood came back yesterday to beat Seattle, 9-5 and 7-2, and walk off with the series, 3-2.

Sales approximated 3,420,000 shares.
