National, Local Markets

NO WEAKNESS DISPLAYED ON OPEN MARKET

PORTLAND, July 29. (AP)—There was no weakness in the open market for butter here at the weekend aside from that created by outside interests, which was able to force a further reduction in the price of under-grades although unable to lower the price on top grades on the produce exchange here.

There was no change in butterfat buying prices.

At the weekend there was no change in the general status of the egg trade. Top grade was holding steady to firm but there were all sorts of values reported for off-grade and short held storage.

Somewhat better demand was showing in the live chicken trade; including practically all grades. Turkey were in excellent call for dressed stock but receipts were almost impossible on account of the heat.

STOCK MARKET SHUT THROUGH NEW RULINGS

NEW YORK, July 29. (AP)—With the New York stock exchange closed today for the first of a consecutive run of Saturday suspensions which will extend to September, brokers had more time for consideration of the possibility of a code for Wall street employees under the National Industrial Recovery act.

The association of stock exchange firms through its council, brokers were informed, has been in touch with the recovery administration authorities.

The matter of establishing maximum hours for clerical work has received particular attention. It was said, in view of the long hours which most stock exchange firms found it necessary to use employees because of the huge volume of business during the past few months. The special Saturday holidays and the shortened trading period of the past week were decreed by the exchange to ease this burden.

General opinion among stock brokers is that steps will be taken soon to establish minimum salaries and a maximum work week for Wall street employees.

CEREALS DROP SATURDAY TO PERMITTED LOW

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Excited efforts to get rid of speculative holdings of future delivery grain contracts whirled all the cereal market, down late today to the lowest prices permissible.

Breaks in quotations were in the face of crop news that would ordinarily have fostered values. For the time being, however, traders lost sight of hoisted market factor except that a huge selling flurry was in progress, and that there was need of haste if transactions were to be accomplished before emergency limits could be enforced.

This was the second day in succession that wheat lost the limit of 5c a bushel. The close in all the pits was demoralized at the day's bottom figures, wheat 5c down, and corn 4c, with oats off 3c and provisions showing 5c to 35c decline.

ALTURAS MEN SHIP LAMBS TO MIDWEST

ALTURAS, Cal. — Raymond Anchordoguy, sheepman of Red Bluff and Modoc county, has just finished making shipment of 6000 lambs to middle west markets. One of the biggest flockmasters in northern California, Anchordoguy has for years held the reputation of producing some of the finest lambs going to the Omaha or Chicago markets. His lambs are born in the upper Sacramento valley in February and finished on his summer range here. Until a year or two ago he was forced to drive ewes and lambs 40 to 50 miles through a dry sagebrush country to reach his shipping point. Now his range in northern Oregon is irrigated by two main line railroads, the Great Northern and Southern Pacific, and lambs are loaded right off the grass onto the cars.

This year his lambs averaged 56 pounds per head, slightly under last year's average. That the sheep business is getting on its feet again is evidenced by the fact that he received $6.50 per hundredweight for his lambs.

Last week Anchordoguy brought in a shipment of purebred bucks of the Suffolk breed from Canada.

E. V. Wing, manager for C. Fred Holmes, is engaged in shipping lambs to eastern markets, loading lambs on cars at this point. Formerly these lambs, ranged in California and Oregon, were driven 50 to 60 miles to the railroad shipping point at this place. This year the lambs are being shipped from the range to the railroad cars in double-decked trucks, with an average of almost 100 lambs per truck. Four hours from the time the lambs leave the range they are in cars for shipment as against six days formerly considered. Wing believes that requiring the shrinkage of lambs on the long, hit drive across country, shipment by motor truck is a paying proposition. Between 4000 and 5000 lambs will be shipped this season under Wing's supervision by this method.

Trees do not grow by stretching and lengthening their limbs; fence wires stabled to growing trees remain the same distance from the ground.

VALKENBURG MILL SALE COMPLETED

Negotiations for the completion of the sale of the H. H. Van Valkenburg sawmill, 35 miles from Klamath Falls near Johnson's prairie in the Green-springs mountain, were made this week.

Kirk Setzer, manager of the large Setzer Box company of Sacramento, Calif., is the new owner of the mill and plans to start operations immediately, according to reports.

The mill has been shut down for some time. It has a capacity employment for about 35 men including those in the woods.

P. S. Dainard of Dorris, Calif., has been employed as manager of the plant.

The deal was estimated to involve $10,000.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK

PORTLAND, Ore., July 29. (AP)—Cattle: 3299, calves $35 for week. Cattle were under severe pressure and substantial losses were forced all through the market sales were down 25c-50c from last week's final. There was no change in the calf situation during the week.

Hogs: 4445 for week. Trade showed little change during the period. Trade was generally around $5.65 to $5.75 for best light butchers. In the feeder alloys, pigs were in good call and generally within the price range.

Sheep and lambs: 4819 for week. Trades in lambs started with sales up to $4.50, but the market was weak from the start and on Wednesday dropped to an extreme of $4.00 for best lights. Much of the weakness appeared as a result of the direct purchases of killers at country points. There was practically no change in market values during the week, all quotations being listed on a nominal basis.

FT. KLAMATH

Fred Loosley ranch south of Fort Klamath was the scene of two dangerous runaways this week, when haying operations were commenced by Marsh L. Ferguson, who has the Loosley property leased. The first runaway occurred Monday morning, when Mr. Ferguson hitched the horses to a mowing machine preparatory to beginning the day's work of cutting hay. Upon Mr. Ferguson taking his seat on the mower, the team immediately bolted, striking one corner of the barn and breaking the steeple off the mower. Seeing that it was useless to stop the horses in time to avoid hitting the barn, Mr. Ferguson jumped to the ground before the team collided with the barn, thus escaping injury.

The second runaway took place late Wednesday afternoon in the hayfield where one of the horses, irritated by the numerous flies which had been bothering him, worked his bridle off. The team took off at once, ending up by running into a fence.

The Tuesday Bridge club was entertained by Mrs. Geneva Bratton at her home in Fort Klamath. Honors for high score went to Mrs. Sadya Page and second high to Mrs. Mildred Castel. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Nola McFarling, in two weeks.

Good news for huckleberry lovers—news that the juicy berries will be fully ripe in two weeks on Huckleberry mountain—was brought to Fort Klamath by a party of people who motored to the mountain.

Mrs. Jean Blake's pupils will appear in recital in the C. I. clubhouse on the evening of August 31.

Dr. E. R. Dorfinger, assistant state veterinarian, is spending a few days in Fort Klamath on business from his home in Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber McFarling were shopping in Klamath Falls Wednesday. Other visitors in the county seat were Alfred B. Castel and son, Junior.

Mrs. Martha Brewer has received word from her son, Rolley, to the effect that he is recovering from the injury received to his knee recently in the C. C. C. camp near Bly, which has confined him to the Veterans' hospital in Roseburg for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Briscoe and children, Misses Helen and Ruth, visited relatives in Fort Klamath Thursday and Friday from their home in Klamath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denton were Tuesday visitors in Klamath Falls.

James L. Gordon is able to get about without the aid of crutches now, and reports that his injured ankle is getting along nicely. Mr. Gordon suffered a severe cut on his ankle

LIGHTNING BOLT SETS HOUSE FIRE

BIERER, Calif., July 29.—A telephone wire got loose and dropped across the P. G. and E. "high line" in Fall River Mills, short-circuiting some 13,000 volts onto the electric service wire leading into Martin Fitzwater's residence. A power company crew working nearby observed the lightning bolt and on investigation found the back of the Fitzwater house afire. They cut it out. Damage was about $200.

Employees of the P. G. and E. are building a swimming pool at the company's Pit One power plant west of Fall River Mills, and expect to be diving into it about the middle of August. It will be cement-lined, 65 feet wide by 145 long, and 12 feet in greatest depth. It will have a plentiful supply of warmed water running off from the cooling system of the plant's great electrical transformers. Henry Berthel, as district manager for the company, said the pool would be open to the public. He also predicted that next winter there will be fine skating on it.

Sentinels of Man and Nature

Watchful and on guard, like sentinels at the northwestern corner of the United States, two of the great men-of-war of the West ride at anchor in Seattle harbor, with majestic Mount Rainier looking down upon them from the distance behind the city.

'Tree Troopers' Dynamite Trees

Members of the Citizens Conservation Corps at the Wind River, Wash. forestry station are being taught how to prepare a 1000-year-old tree for dynamiting. Photo shows forestry men teaching the youthful members of the corps the art of "blowing trees." This method has been found more economical than sawing. Holes are bored in the dead trees with an electric drill, and powder "planted" in them, and the dynamiting takes place. These dead trees are a fire menace to the live valuable timber.
