

The Unsung Coach From Hood River

Tom Johnson's Columbia River District Champions Series Without Advance Notice. Coach With Prizes for Work With Tompkins.

Mr. Tom Johnson, state chairman of the American Legion Junior League committee, visited in Hood River, Ore., last week, and followed the Legion's annual activities more closely than any other man, simply because he is the coach of the Hood River champions.

As coach of the Hood River team, Johnson is a champion in his own right. He has coached the team for several years, and his success is a credit to his coaching ability. The team has won several championships, and Johnson is well known in the state.

Johnson's success is due to his coaching ability and his ability to inspire his players. He has coached the team for several years, and his success is a credit to his coaching ability. The team has won several championships, and Johnson is well known in the state.
