

American Horses Fastest

Europe fails to give credit to American sportsmen. Records on this country show superiority.

Europeans—especially the turf-minded sort—seldom are willing to give Americans credit where it is due in racing horses, but they are perfectly willing to give us all the credit for the infamous practice of doping thoroughbreds. And credit rightfully belongs to this country.

Doping race horses, however, is no recent innovation, the reason Arlington Park arrests to the contrary notwithstanding. Nor is it indulged in now as frequently as in past years. A horse may be doped to win or to lose. Heroin is the commonest form of narcotic used in the former case, and laudanum in the latter. But the laudanum method is seldom used, except when racketeers get set to make a betting coup, since race tracks do not pay off on losing horses.

It is generally the man with the one-horse stable that resorts to the use of narcotics to make his horse run. This man has the erroneous idea that a shot of "hop" will make his plater run like a Twenty Grand. He doesn't seem to realize that nothing short of the supernatural will get his horse to going faster than his particular set of muscles will permit him to run. And a dozen failures will not teach him to keep his horse away from the "doctor." Doping is a peculiarly unreliable method of trying to make a horse win. It works over a very short period of time and must be administered expertly and with the time element considered. If the horses are slow in getting away the dope may have worked off. If there is no delay at the post it may work after the race is over.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—Jimmy Fox thinks it's possible, "but not hardly probable" for him to break Babe Ruth's homer mark this year. . . . and says those few days he was laid up by injuries threw him off his stride. . . . Joe Cronin is a religious young fellow. . . . makes the sign of the cross in the dirt with his bat every time he comes up. . . . Jack Sharkey, since his defeat by Carnera, is spending his every moment fishing. . . . and it's said he could lick Ike Walden any day he buried a fly.

And then, too, track officials are always able to spot the doped horses. Dope makes the cells expand, and the horse sweats profusely, and if he hasn't warmed up for the race the judges know the correct answer.

The big stables seldom use dope on horses, and then only in the case of the dishonest ones. If a horse starts to sulk just about post time, a shot of hop will bring him out of it and make him feel his real self. He will then give an "honest" account of himself.

There have been many notorious "hop horses," and for the most part that career has been short, though not necessarily inglorious. Dope does not seem to injure their career in the breeding paddocks. No mare in America has so enviable a record as Lady Sterling. She foaled the mighty horse Sir Barton. St. Henry and Sir Martin, and her daughter, Lady Doreen, was the mother of the great Princess Doreen. Yet Lady Sterling was a notorious "hop horse."

But by any code doping the "bang-tails" is an inhuman practice, and many states now have laws to curb it.

PORTLAND AND WOODBURN WIN

Hood River, Eugene Lose In Semi-Finals of State Tourney

Grant Hi Pharmacy of Portland and Woodburn won their way into the final round of the American Legion Junior baseball championship Thursday.

Woodburn put down a stubborn Eugene nine in the first game, 5 to 3, and the Oakland youths came from behind to smother Hood River, 21 to 11, in a three-hour second game.

Bob Millard, broad-shouldered southpaw for Portland, pulled his team out of a difficult hole in the fifth inning, poked out a homer in the sixth to put the team in front and then finished the game without yielding either a hit or a run.

Hood River moved into an early lead with one run in the second. In the fourth, Portland's batters went to work and brought in six. Hood River, game to the end, scored a total of 10 runs in the third, fourth and fifth, and then were silenced by Millard's curves.

Millard leading the way, Portland scored runs in each of the seventh, eighth and ninth innings to assure victory.

More than 800 spectators saw the two contests. Eugene and Hood River will meet after the title game to determine the consolation winner.

Woodburn's American Legion Juniors were half way to the Oregon championship today after a victory over Eugene, 5 to 3, in the opening game of the state titles.

Osland Schwab, diminutive right hander, dropped the Eugene lads with four scratch hits.

Woodburn, a favorite to win the tournament and move on to the Peacetto, Idaho, regional finals, jumped into the lead in the third inning when Jimmy Nicholson, outfielder, knocked a home run to deep center, scoring Phil Sahstrom, shortstop.

Eugene pushed into a lead in the first inning with two runs scored by V. B. Brown, right field, and Thomas Cox, second base. They were first men up in the inning. Eugene's only other score came in the seventh. Brown again brought home the tally.

Woodburn, its bats sharpened to Ford Danner's pitching, scored two runs in the second to tie Eugene, two more in the third to take the lead, one in the sixth, two in the seventh and one more in the eighth.

YOUNG PITCHER DEFEATS PHILS

Parmelee Comes Near Perfect Game in Shut-Out

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. Associated Press Sports Writer The name of Leroy (Bud) Parmelee, the big "trapezoid" pitcher already has been placed near the top of the list of reasons why the New York Giants are leading the National league. But the young right hander who led the American association with Columbus last season still is seeking the no-hit game he has approached at least twice this season.

In his first start, Parmelee allowed the Phillies only one hit for a 2 to 1 victory. Thursday he came just about as close to his perfect game as he blanked the same team with two safeties to win 4 to 0.

For seven innings Thursday, Parmelee didn't give a hit, allowed only one walk and hit one batsman as he burned in his fast ball where the batters couldn't see it under the gray sky and tricked them with effective curves and change of pace.

The Giants got two of their runs on George Davis' homer in the fifth and the other pair on timely swats against Salpe Hansen. The victory increased New York's lead to 3 1/2 games over Pittsburgh as the Pirates opened battle with the Chicago Cubs, the only other game on the National league schedule was rained out.

The Washington Senators made the same improvement in their position in the American league standing, boosting their lead over the Boston Red Sox. Rain halted the Yankees' game with Philadelphia's Athletics after the pitcher had warmed up to start.

The Senators, as usual, found the red hose tough customers, but after trailing 3-0 in the fourth, they came back to get the customary victory as Al Crowder and Jack Russell prevented any serious hitting.

The Chicago White Sox advanced to threaten the fourth place rivals, Detroit and Cleveland, by beating the Tigers 6 to 3 in the other game on the program. Sam Jones gave the Tigers only eight hits while the Sox poked out 12 off Carl Fischer and Eldon Anker.

Oregon Amateur Stars At Annual Trap Tournament

YORKLYN, Del., Aug. 11. (AP)—It took a toss-up to decide that Earl Maus, of Detroit, won the Brandywine, closest event thus far in the annual T. Clarence Marshall trapshooting classic. Five men missed only eight out of 875 targets.

Maus and Frank M. Troeh, Oregon amateur champion, each broke 174 out of 175. Maus missed his sixth target and then had an unfinished run of 169 in the rain, while Troeh, loser of the toss, broke all but sixty-third.

DUCKS DEFEAT SAN FRANCISCO

Prince Oana's Pitching Keeps Portland on Top of Coast

By The Associated Press Every time Henry "Prince" Oana returns to San Francisco he demonstrates he is very much of a class AA baseball player. He did it again Thursday, accounting for the two runs that kept San Francisco, 6-4, and kept Portland at the head of the Coast league pennant race.

The big Hawaiian outfielder, signed by Portland after his release by the Seals at the start of the season, drove in the Beaver's fifth run with a resounding ninth inning double and scored the sixth on Palmisano's double.

Until the ninth Bruce Cunningham had the better of the pitching argument with Joe Bowman, Portland ace. Leading 4-3 as the last frame began, Cunningham walked Sankey and was touched for a single by Monroe. Blackerby's long fly scored Sankey with the tying run, and Oana and Palmisano did the rest.

Apparently completely recovered from their 5-3 series trouncing by the Seals last week, Sacramento made it three straight over Hollywood, 9-7. The Senators jumped on Frank Shellenback and Archie Campbell in the seventh inning for 5 runs and the victory. Ray Jacobs, Hollywood first sacker, hit his 20th home run of the season.

Los Angeles stayed close to the Senators with a 4-1 win over Seattle. The Angels bombarded Ulrich for 4 hits and 4 runs in the opening inning to clinch the game. Wynn Ballou coasted in to win. After relieving Ulrich in the first inning, Jack Walters gave the Angels only 5 hits and no runs during the remainder of the game.
