

Palfreys Tennis History

Helen Willis Moody Predicts Youngster Will Eventually Become National Champion. Helen Jacobs Defeated.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 12.—Sarah Palfrey, the little girl who, according to Helen Willis Moody, will succeed her as the premier feminine tennis player of the United States, is just one of a big happy family of tennis players.

When she stumbled the sturdy Helen Jacobs of California from the throne as women's national singles champion at Seabright, and went on to win her first Wightman Cup singles match against Peggy Scriven, she added another lustrous chapter to the already glittering story of Palfrey tennis family.

Sarah is one of five sisters, each of whom has won national titles. There is her father, John G. Jr., a lad of 14, now attending school, who holds five state championships for boys, and shows promise of being a great player later on.

The Palfrey children inherited an aptitude for the game. John G. Palfrey, the father, a Boston attorney, played considerable tennis in his youth, and both he and his wife engaged in the same during their married life. At the Palfrey country home in Sharon, Mass., all the children were continually on the court.

Polly is the oldest of the Palfrey sisters. Playing with Fanny Curtis she won the Massachusetts doubles in 1924 at the age of 17, and the same year captured the national outdoor championship for girls at Philadelphia.

Elizabeth "Lee," 24, won the state doubles, playing with Miss Curtis the year after Polly grabbed the honors. In 1927 she won her first title for victory in the national indoor girls' tournament.

Mianne, 22, and Sarah, 20, are the two best players of the family. In the early days of their play Mianne, because of her age advantage, won most of her games with Sarah, but the latter has gradually forged to the front to be the more impressive of the two.

In 1925, when she was 18, Mianne won the national indoor junior singles, and in 1930 she captured the senior title. She and Sarah played the latter in the national indoor junior doubles in 1926, '28 and '29.

With all this it seems that the Palfrey tennis talent must be run out. But Joanna, youngest of the five, is coming along.

She first won her first notable success in 1930, at the age of 14. Then, pairing up with Sarah, she got into the U. S. doubles finals. The resulting win made her the fifth Palfrey girl to win a national title. Just how far along the championship she will go is hard to say. She's giving more time to golf now than to tennis.

Meanwhile, young Johnny is going merrily forward in the tennis world.

When he was 12, he got into the state doubles finals for boys and was beaten in three sets. But he came back and won the boys' singles and doubles last year and again this year.

None of the Palfrey tennis players is large. They are all nearly of the same size—five feet five inches—and exceedingly fast. All bear a strong resemblance.

Sarah, with her current victories, is the heroine of the family.

This girl whom Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman terms the "most fascinating and graceful player on the courts," is possessor of 24 national titles, junior and senior.

Her standing this year may be affected somewhat by her loss to Dorothy Round, Britain's No. 1 player, in the Wightman Cup play, taking into consideration the fact that her teammate, Helen Jacobs, the girl she defeated in the national women's singles, defeated Miss Round in the first round of singles.

But Sarah is not the seasoned player Miss Jacobs is. A few more years on her shoulders and she'll be ready to step into the shoes of Helen Willis Moody.

Sarazen, Goggin Meet for Crown

WAIWATOSA, Wis., Aug. 12. (UP)—Little Gene Sarazen, who has won every golf title of importance, and big Willie Goggin, who has won none of any consequence, battled their way into the finals of the national PGA championship today.

Sarazen, Miami, Fla., boasted he'd beat Johnny Farrell, Marmonette, N. Y., and then he made good his boast by eliminating the former national open champion in today's 36-hole semi-annual, 5 and 4.

Goggin, an instructor from a public links course at Saluda Beach, Cal., struggled through 36 holes to conquer Jimmy Hines, Great River, L. I., 1 up.

Sarazen, who has held the British and U. S. open and the PGA championship twice during his 12 years of campaigning over the fairways, and Goggin, crashing into big time golf circles for the first time, will meet in the 36-hole final tomorrow.

CORNERED LION DEFEATS THYE

Karasick Comes Up from Behind to Continue Victory Streak

Bad tempered Al Karasick was still the ranking heavyweight of Klamath Falls today. The Russian Lion, underdog from the start, defeated Ted Thye of Portland in the Legion hall main event Saturday night.

Nine hundred Klamath mat followers, sweating in the heat of the auditorium, saw this wild man of the wrestling profession come up from almost certain defeat and drop the veteran Portlander in two out of three falls. Karasick took the first fall, Thye the second and then the Lion collected his $200 guarantee with the winning third fall.

Al Palla, Surprise Thye, ex-light-heavyweight champion of the world, working powerfully with a shoulder butt, had Karasick, another ex-light-heavyweight titleholder, nearly down and out for the third fall. Karasick, angered by Thye's aggressiveness, climbed into the corner ropes, flipped his feet into the Portlander's face, and then put him down with a combination head lock and body press. It all happened in less than five minutes.

Karasick was behind from the start, but he managed to attack Thye unawares for the first fall. In 14 minutes the Lion had his opponent down with a dangerous Boston crab hold.

Thye slipped into the ring quickly for the second fall, moved in against Karasick with shoulder butts and then put him out with a body slam and press. Not more than four minutes were consumed.

Both wrestlers, veterans of the northwest, have met each other almost countless in the past decade and a half. And now, middle-aged and half-blind by years of competition on dirty canvas, they were little nearer establishing individual supremacy than they were 15 years ago. If Friday's match was counted in the score, Karasick probably established an advantage.

Wolfe Wins Two younger brothers, handsome and popular Lee Wolfe of Texas, and ugly Billy Newman of Denver, nearly wrecked themselves in a sensational semi-final in the Klamath arena, took two straight falls with deadly rolling body scissors. The first came in 22 minutes and the second in less than one.

Newman, relying almost entirely on roughness, came back for the second fall weakened by Wolfe's scissors. The Texas man was an artist and he smothered the Colorado athlete with science and cleverness.

Londos Retains Wrestling Title

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12. (UP)—Jim Londos, recognized as heavy weight wrestling champion of the world in this state, retained his title tonight when the contender, Everett Marshall of Colorado, missed a flying tackle and could not continue. The end came after 26 minutes and 12 seconds.

Sarah, with her current victories, is the heroine of the family.

This girl whom Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman terms the "most fascinating and graceful player on the courts," is possessor of 24 national titles, junior and senior.

Her standing this year may be affected somewhat by her loss to Dorothy Round, Britain's No. 1 player, in the Wightman Cup play, taking into consideration the fact that her teammate, Helen Jacobs, the girl she defeated in the national women's singles, defeated Miss Round in the first round of singles.

WOODBURN GREET NEW CHAMPIONS

WOODBURN, Aug. 12. (AP)—A celebration which rivalled the one following the armistice was in progress here today as local residents turned out en masse to honor members of the victorious American Legion junior baseball club, winners of the state championship at Klamath Falls yesterday.

Although the youngsters reached the city via Southern Pacific trains at 7:20 in the morning, a number of fans were on hand to greet the club. Practically the entire population of Woodburn was present to greet the boys' arrival.

The bout between McLarnin and Brouillard would be a non-title affair, with the middleweight champion entering the ring over the weight limit.

TREE TROOPERS ENJOYING WORK

PORTLAND, Aug. 12. (AP)—The young "tree troopers" who occupy 85 civilian conservation corps camps in Oregon and Washington have had a lot of fun and have done a lot of work in the few weeks since they were recruited from large eastern industrial cities, mid-western regions and the cities and farms in the west.

This is the report of C. J. Burk, regional forester in charge of the Pacific northwest, to President Roosevelt.

Since the camps were organized some of the more important work that has been accomplished includes construction of 343 miles of new truck trails or mountain roads, improvement of 2,617 miles of existing truck trails, building 87 miles of horse or foot trails, and improvement of 2,469 miles of such trails.

Construction of 435 miles of woods telephone lines, and improvement of 1,742 miles; construction of 12 bridges.

Vince Dundee Trims Devlin

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 12. (UP)—Vince Dundee, 160, Belleville, N. J., last night scored a technical knockout over Irish Danny Devlin, 154, Allentown, Pa., in the fifth session of their scheduled 10-round main event.

Devlin failed to answer the bell for the sixth after taking a severe battering in the fifth round during which he was felled for the count of nine. His opponent's body punishment had weakened Devlin, paving the way for the knockdown and defeat.

In the 6-round semi-final, Carl Duvy, 145, Paterson, defeated Johnny Ferriol, 150, Newark.

CHICAGO CUBS DEFEATS BUGS

Pittsburgh Replaced As Section Team In National

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. Associated Press Sports Writer

It may or may not mean anything, but just about a year after the Chicago Cubs went out in front to stay in last year's National league pennant race, they have begun a new bid that has taken them into second place.

The Cubs forced ahead of the Pittsburgh Pirates by a half game Friday as Gay Bush, the "Mississippi Mudcat" whose pitching was an important factor in their 1932 triumph, wrapped up the Buccaners batmen in a neat package and delivered them to his teammates, who knocked out an 8 to 3 victory. As the pace setting New York Giants had a day off, the victory put the Cubs only 3 1/2 games behind.

Cardinals Win The St. Louis Cardinals, down in fifth place, won the other National league game by hammering out an 8 to 5 victory over the tall-end Cincinnati club as Pepper Martin and Ernie Ott set a brisk hitting pace. The other four clubs were un-scheduled.

Washington's Senators continued to be the big noise of the American league, as they beat the Boston Red Sox 4 to 1 after a narrow squeak in a game that started the stellar "I bugs" scratching among the records.

The Senators used six pitchers, starting with Al "Lefty" Riddle and winding up with Earl Whitehill, and the Sox needed five, ranging from Henry Johnson to Welch, for a total of 11 and apparently a new league record.

The National league also had an 11-pitcher game September 6, 1924, when the Giants staged the parade.

Detroit Loses Another The Chicago White Sox made it two straight over the Detroit Tigers by a 3-0 count as Ted Lyons bested Fred Maury on the mound despite a great hit defense. Each gave seven hits but the first inning only one Detroit runner reached second.

The Yanks and Athletics were rained out for the second straight day. Cleveland and St. Louis had an open date.

Eugene Defeats Hood River Nine

Eugene American Legion Junior baseball team won the state consolation championship when it defeated Hood River 9 to 5 in the second half of a double header to determine the Oregon titleholder.

Eugene was eliminated from the finals by Woodburn, new state champions, and Hood River lost to Grant High Pharmacy.

Seals Topple Beavers From Leadership In Coast League

(By the Associated Press) Los Angeles occupied the coast League's shaky first place throne after beating Seattle twice Friday night while Portland and Sacramento were taking trimmings from San Francisco and Hollywood.

With 14,000 hometown fans looking on, the Angels thumped Seattle 15-0 and 3-2. Buck Newsum provided 5-hit pitching in the opener as his mates banged Phil Page and Ulrich for 15 blows, including four batters by Cliff O'Grain and Jim Olesby and a triple and three singles by T. Stainback. Dick Ward gave the cellar Indians only 5 hits in the eight inning nightcap and singled to drive in the winning tally. Junk Walters, Seattle outfielder, hit a homer in the second game.

San Francisco knocked Portland out of first place with a 4-3 win that evened the series. After Curt Davis of the Seals and Rudy Kallio had battled on even terms for nine innings, Joe De Maggio doubled in the tenth and came home on Ernie Suik's two-bagger. In addition to the double, De Maggio hit a pair of singles and a triple and prevented a Portland score in the eighth with a great catch of Fred Berger's line drive.

Beaten three in a row, Hollywood recovered Friday night behind Archie Campbell's 4-hit flinging to shut out Sacramento, 5-0. The Stars scored all their runs in the first three innings off Larry Gillick and after that were kept in check by Saunders and Joe Noonan.

Oakland made it four straight over the Missions, 5-2. Ed Walsh, Jr., was hit freely by the Reds but proved strong in the pinches. Cookie Lavagetto, with a double and two singles, and Bill Bak mound, with a pair of singles, drove in four of the Oak runs.
