CITY BAND TO APPEAR MONDAY AT LAKEVIEW

Since its first public appearance this summer, the Klamath Merchants' city band has become increasingly active in civic affairs.

Under the sponsorship of the junior chamber of commerce which obtained merchants' subscriptions to cover overhead costs of the band, three Friday evening public concerts were presented by the Klamath musicians on the court house grounds.

To show appreciation for the patronage given these concerts, members of the organization donated their services for a fourth public program, as well as co-operating with the American Legion to make the state convention a success. The Klamath Falls band marched in parades and also appeared in concert at the annual drum corps contest during the band's summer season.

Climaxing its summer season, the local band will represent the city at the big annual Lakeview roundup, appearing in various events on Labor day, which is known as Klamath Day at the roundup.

The band is donating its services again on Thursday evening, August 31, when it will furnish a free concert preceding the open air dance to be held under the auspices of all Klamath Falls service clubs on the tennis courts adjoining the Klamath Union high school. Proceeds from the dance will be used to pay expenses of band members to the Lakeview roundup.

Tickets for the dance are being sold by members of local service clubs, and citizens of Klamath Falls are planning to attend the outdoor dance en masse in order to boost the trip of the band to Lakeview.

Officers stated that the two had been involved in difficulties before. Salisbury was released to appear upon his own recognizance at 3:30 this afternoon, and Stanley at 4:30 a. m. for his appearance at 5 o'clock.

Sea Otter Found In Seattle Lake

SEATTLE, Aug. 29 (AP)—Tourists in British Columbia, just over the border, have reported annually the peregrinations of Ogo-pogo, a "sea-serpent with a head like a sheep," who, according to legend, takes a vacation in Washington lakes occasionally.

Citizens who reported him in Lake Washington here recently were accused of sighting the reptile through bottles of 2.2 beer. He was identified at a sea-otter, a species almost extinct in the Pacific Northwest now, but undoubtedly resembling a sea-serpent when swimming.

KLAMATH ICE PRICE SCALE CUT TUESDAY

A. M. Collier, proprietor of the Klamath Ice and Storage company, Tuesday announced a reduction in the entire scale of retail ice. Officers of the company believed the action in harmony with an expansion policy increasing volume of business and decreasing cost of production.

When the present management took over the ice business in 1919, the price of 500-pound ice coupon books was $6.25. This had been consistently reduced year by year until it now stands at $3.75 under the new price scale. Mr. Collier said that the cash price will now be 50 cents per hundred pounds on home deliveries. Retail platform and state deliveries will likewise be reduced. Deliveries will be made on purchases as low as 20 cents.

Mr. Collier believed the announcement was in keeping with the company's views to help the county grow and to grow with the county. He said unless inflation forced prices above the present level, the company hoped to make the reductions permanent.

About 15 per cent of the homes in Klamath Falls have mechanical refrigeration, and about 40 per cent of the homes use ice. This leaves a very large field for us to develop and we hope to secure another 20 per cent as ice customers before the end of next season.

These reductions give the poorer families a better break which is in line with President Roosevelt's idea of equalizing the comforts of life," he said.

CHIEF OF NRA SPEEDS DRIVE OF ACCEPTANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Confident the last major hurdles to his campaign to bring all industries under codes of fair competition was behind, Hugh S. Johnson today turned to speeding the national drive for popular cooperation with the recovery administration.

Calling into conference the chairmen of the NRA committees for 14 major cities he outlined aims of the movement to align every employer and to have consumers buy where the eagle is displayed.

Meantime a calm pervaded NRA headquarters after the tense negotiations of weeks past as Johnson and others worked out the industrial agreements, topped now by the bituminous coal code, which brought operators of the highly competitive Appalachian coal fields and spokesmen for mine workers together last night.

This accord is being translated into final form. Johnson expects it to reach President Roosevelt this week. The chief executive is familiar with its general terms and has expressed satisfaction.

With coal in the fold, the administrator expressed belief the last of the large controversial questions had been solved and that the path of the administration would be smoother from now on.

CHANGE IN RELIEF SYSTEM DISCUSSED

Arrangements for closing the state and county relief committee commissary on or before October 1, and the installation of a requisition system were discussed in a closed session this morning by Charles W. Reynolds, field representative of the state relief committee and County Commissioner W. F. B. Chase.

Reynolds was spending the afternoon contacting members of the retail grocers association concerning the form of requisitions and how they would be used. E. L. Cramblitt, secretary of the association, announced the organization had submitted a plan to the state relief committee of providing supplies for relief purposes at cost with 15 per cent commission. Reynolds said the state committee had not yet reached a decision concerning the adoption of the plan.

The requisition system will work differently in separate counties, Reynolds stated. "After making a survey here in Klamath county the cost will be slightly higher but will be more than equalized by giving trade to the local merchants," he said.

End Agony Of Neuritis

Newark Man Knows How and Loses 10 Pounds

"Gentlemen: I get rid of Neuritis from which I had suffered for one year in my left shoulder and arm. I took a little of the salts in the morning, sometimes in my coffee, other times in water at night before retiring. For 2 months I used the salts and while I lost 10 pounds in weight the pain in my shoulder HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED. During the time I was taking the salts I received no other medical treatment so I am fully convinced the Kruschen salts did the trick." C. E. Murray, Newark, N. J.

Take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of water every morning—a jar lasts 4 weeks—get it at Whitman Drug Co., Star Drug Co.—or any druggist in the world—costs but a trifle.
