How many horses have been barred from fame by bumps? ... Might not some unsung steed today be the world's leading money-winner but for another nag's notion in the stretch?

DID YOU KNOW THAT— Nineteen years ago at this very time, my little cabbages, the Boston Braves, who had been spending the summer in the cellar, started upstairs.

the champion. The way was clear, and Equipoise saw and took it.

But, small detail and all, it must have called for everything the horse had to make up the distance lost in the crash.

Jockeys have a way of steering their animals into other entries, and if you need any reminder for this, read the story of the 1932 Kentucky Derby, won by Broke's Tip, one of the roughest races ever staged.

GUARDS FRUSTRATE BREAK AT SALEM

SALEM, Aug. 30. (AP)—Penitentiary guards last night frustrated the try for freedom of DuPree Post, sentenced to life for the murder of James Iretson.

Pos, whose cell is in the basement of the new prison building, had worked loose a sewage pipe connection with the utility corridor with the intent to escape when he was seen by guards at work. He had an improvised rope in his possession.

FUNERAL FOR COACH IS SET

Major Frank Cavanaugh's Gridiron Career Terminated.

MARSHFIELD, Mass., Aug. 30. (AP)—Funeral services for Major Frank W. Cavanaugh, noted football coach, will be held Friday amid the simple surroundings of his South Shore home.

A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Newton Center, at 10 a. m., and burial will be at Worcester, his birthplace.

Stroke Proves Fatal "Cav," one of the most beloved football coaches of a generation, died at his home here yesterday after a courageous battle.

Falling health and fast-diminishing weight, brought on in great part by world war wounds, forced him to give up football coaching for the quiet of his Marshfield chicken farm.

Last month, the Major, who was 57 years old, underwent an abdominal operation. He had partially recovered when, Sunday, he suffered a stroke.

Career Illustrations The Rev. Louis J. Gallagher Jr., president of Boston college, where, as head coach, "Cav" achieved much of his football fame, will celebrate the requiem mass at Newton Center, Cavanaugh's home before he came to Marshfield.

"Cav's" football career began back in 1897, when he was an all-American end at Dartmouth. In 1899, he became the "baby" of American football coaches by accepting a post with the University of Cincinnati. In 1911 he became head coach at Dartmouth, where he stayed until 1916, when his coaching days were interrupted by the world war. He enlisted as a private in the 102nd field artillery of the 27th division, Gallantry in action accounted for most of his promotion from private to major. He never fully recovered from wounds received when shrapnel tore his face away.

In 1919 he became coach at Boston college, and eight years later at Fordham. He retired last year.

WORLD'S BEST NET PLAYERS MEET FOR TITLE ON SATURDAY

By HENRY McLEMORE NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (UP)—A field of 90, including most of the world's top ranking players, will begin play in the men's national tennis singles championship at Forest Hills Saturday.

Following Perry in the foreign group were Jiro Satoh, Japan; Harold G. N. Lee, England; Ryooska Nunoi, Japan; Vivian McGrath, Australia; E. Hob, Japan; Adrian Quist, Australia; Don Turnbull, Australia, and Edward Avery, England. Following Shields in the American ranks came Wilmer Allison, Cliff Sutter, Frankie Parker, Sidney B. Wood, Jr., Lester Stoenen, Gregory Mangin, George Lott and Bryan Grant.

The draw, pulled out of a hat, couldn't have worked out more perfectly from a box office angle if the officials had handpicked it. Vines drew the top of the upper bracket with Perry at the bottom. Shields heads the lower half with Crawford on the lower rung. Thus, if Vines snaps out of his disastrous slump and Perry and Crawford play as expected, the American champion will meet the two men who humiliated him abroad, in the last two rounds. Vines against Perry in the semi-finals and Crawford in the championship round, would pack the ample west side stadium from turf to top tier.

National League Leaders Clash in Crucial 6-Game Series.

By ORLO ROBERTSON Associated Press Sports Writer

With the start of their crucial six-game series with the Boston Braves only one day away, the New York Giants still held a six-game lead, thanks to Carl Hubbell's pitching. But for another equally brilliant hurling feat on the part of a New York castoff, Bill Watter, the advantage of the league leaders probably would be still greater as they prepared to face the stubborn St. Louis Cardinals in the final game of the series.

Hubbell, hurling the Giants to their first victory in four games, blanked the Cardinals in the first game of a doubleheader Tuesday with five hits for a 3 to 0 decision. Walker, who had not won a game since May 23, turned the tables and, also pitching five-hit ball, shut out the Giants 2 to 0 to give the Cardinals the second game.

Hubbell's Record Good Hubbell boosted his total number of victories for the year to 19, his best record since joining the majors.

The Chicago Cubs remained in third place, a game back of the Braves, who were idle, by splitting a doubleheader with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Max Carey's men won the first on power, 13 to 5, but fell before Lon Warneke's pitching in the second, losing, 6 to 2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates advanced within one-half of the Cubs by trouncing the Phillies for the third straight time. The score was 4 to 1. Heinie Melnie pitched five-hit ball.

Senators Divide Two The Washington Senators' lead in the American League was trimmed to eight games as the Yankees defeated the Detroit Tigers 11 to 9 and the league leaders divided a twin bill with the Cleveland Indians. The Senators won the first 2 to 1 in ten innings but dropped the second, 7 to 2.

Treating four Athletic pitchers roughly, the White Sox pounded Philadelphia. The Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns split a twin bill. The six-hit pitching of Bob Weiland gave the Sox the second game 9 to 4 after the Browns had taken the opener 10 to 5.

Roseburg Gas Thieves Found Very Obliging

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 30. (AP)—Gasoline thieves who visited the town of Drain showed a great deal of consideration and very probably aren't such bad fellows at heart, police said today. MINERS DISCOVER INCREASED PROFIT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. (AP)—New gold may now be shipped freely from the United States under the provisions of President Roosevelt's decree, but hoarders remain in just as much discredit as ever with the administration.

Thus gold miners, ranging from those who have panned Rocky mountain creeks with kitchen sieves to the great corporations with elaborate chemical processes, find that they can make 30 per cent more dollars today than they could yesterday.

New Profits Stimulated. But gold in the form of money or gold that was bullion at the time the embargo was declared still must remain in the United States and no person, excepting collectors or those specially licensed, may hold more than $100 gold.

The miners who now may ship pure new gold abroad hitherto were forced to sell their gold in the United States for $20.67 an ounce, or more recently, to ship it in the form of amalgam with consequent loss to American refiners and the added expense of shipping such unrefined metal.

This means a profit of at least $15,000,000, and perhaps much more if gold mining is as stimulated as mining experts anticipate. Gold mining has been exceedingly profitable during the depression because while costs of labor and other expenses were going down the price of gold was fixed by the government at $20.67 an ounce. When the United States left the gold standard miners feared those profits might no longer exist.

But gold prices still kept fixed at $20.67.

Massera, Hamas Fight to Draw in Gotham Bout

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. (UP)—Charley Massera of Pittsburgh spotted Steve Hamas ten pounds last night at Pugazay Bowl and earned a draw with the erratic Passaic heavyweight in one of the most unusual finishes of the local season.

For the full three minutes of the 10th round Massera pinned Hamas against the ropes and kept both hands pumping to the stomach. Hamas tried desperately to escape the flailing fists but Massera, blood spurting from a deep gash over the left eye, drove him back each time to the original position.

When the final bell sounded Hamas flung both arms around his young opponent's neck and rested for a moment then wobbled to his corner.

Massera was equally exhausted. Hamas weighed 187½; Massera 177½.

In a preliminary six rounder Frankie Kliek, 135½, California, and Al Giulio, 132, Brooklyn, fought a draw.

STARS SLASH ANGELS' LEAD

Hollies Defeat Solons; Portland, L. A. Game Delayed.

By The Associated Press

Rain at Portland and a home run by Daniel Patrick Michael Crowley have moved Hollywood to within half a game of the league leading Los Angeles Angels.

With rain forcing postponement of the Portland-Los Angeles tussle, Hollywood's Crowley, leading at first base for the injury-ed Ray Jacob, belted a ninty ninth homer Tuesday night to give the Stars a 3-2 win over Sacramento and tighten the Coast League pennant race.

Oaks Win in Tenth The Senators hit Vance Pas and Archie Campbell freely but could not convert their 13 hits into a winning run total. The Stars picked Tom Flynn for a sacrifice.

Oakland combined a Misch error with two singles and a pair of sacrifice hits to score three runs in the tenth inning and take the series opener from the Red Sox. Wes Willis Lindolph held the Missions to scattered blows, one of them Oscar Eckhardt's lucky drive over the center field fence, the longest ever hit in Seals' stadium.

Joe Dimaggio swung his bat Tuesday night with the same error that carried him to a new Coast League consecutive game hitting record earlier this season and led San Francisco to a 10-2 victory over Seattle. Joe slashed out three singles, scored two runs and drove in four more. Jimmy Zinn checked the Indians with 8 hits.

Gonzaga First Major Opponent For Webfooters

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 30.—The University of Oregon football team will have only two weeks of practice before its first big game—against Gonzaga at Spokane Sept. 30. For that reason, Frank Callison, Webfoot coach, plans to make hay while the sun shines and has mapped out a program of intensive work from the very first day when his proteges turn out on the morning of Sept. 16.

Callison still has nightmares when he thinks of last season's game with Gonzaga. True, the Webfoot won, 13 to 6, but what a struggle it was with the Bulldogs tossing that pigskin part of the afternoon within the shadow of Oregon's goal line. It took the combined efforts of the injured Mike, who had been out of the lineup for some time, to finally check the Bulldog assault. These hurdles were rushed into the contest in the last few minutes and it was their sterling defense play that checkmated the Bulldog drive on Oregon's eight-yard line.

Callison's chief problem will be to get his lads into shape in so short a time. Then, too, he must find a quarterback to replace the dependable Bowerman who did fine blocking for three years.

Oregon will attempt something new this fall—at least something new at Oregon—that of having two field leaders—Bernie Hughes at center, and Mark Temple at halfback. It was the wish of the Oregon lettermen in the Lava Beds, will tell of his investigations, and also of other Indian lore.
