KLAMATH FALLS, ORE., SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1933

(Every Morning Except Monday)

Editorials - Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS THEY have steam up again out at the Langell Valley Oil company's well beyond Bonanza.

WHAT is the casing? do you ask?

It is the iron pipe that lines the well. The cable, with the tools at the end, works through this pipe.

WHY are they pulling the casing?

Well, this is the answer: They THINK they have an oil well.

Whether they have oil and gas in commercially paying quantities remains to be seen.

AS drilling goes on, the casing becomes worn by the friction of the cable and the tools. It is worn quite thin in places.

IT IS an interesting process. They let down a tool that expands and jams inside the pipe.

ATTACHED to the cable that works the tool is a sort of handle, and the driller stands with his hand on this.

PULLING the casing is a ticklish job, with plenty of possibilities of trouble.

LAKE WOMAN IS SUGGESTED FOR RELIEF OFFICE

Phyllis Hartzog's Name Presented to Board by State Field Executive

Requisition System of Provisions Adopted at Conference of Leaders

The county relief committee received the recommendation of C. W. Reynolds, field representative of the state relief board, for the appointment of Miss Phyllis Hartzog of Lakeview as executive secretary and trained social worker in charge of the local relief office at a special meeting here.

No action was taken on the recommendation of Reynolds. The appointment will be made jointly by the county committee and the state relief board.

Requisition Plan Favored. The committee passed a resolution favoring the adoption of the requisition system of relief and the appointment of a trained social worker recommended for Klamath county by the state board.

Miss Mary Annin, executive secretary of the Lane county relief organization, who will remain here to reorganize the local office, explained at the meeting how the work of a trained social worker as chief of the relief set-up would be carried out.

Further action on the appointment of an executive secretary and the recommendation of Reynolds is expected to be taken at the regular meeting of the relief committee Wednesday.

Bradbury to Continue. The executive secretary of the county relief will take over the administration September 15 when the commissary is closed.

With his recommendation of Miss Hartzog as executive secretary, Reynolds said he had attempted to find someone in Klamath Falls who had received enough training and experience in social activity to head the local office.

He suggested the appointment of Miss Hartzog, who he declared has had training and practice under Miss Annin, providing local workers with necessary qualifications is not found.

Suicide Attempt Theory Attacked By Sunday's Kin SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9 (AP)—The family of William A. (Billy) Sunday united today in attacking a theory received by George M. Sunday, the evangelist's son, were the result of an accident and not of a suicide attempt as police claimed.

Billy himself rushed down from his Hood River, Ore., ranch directly to the hospital room where George was confined with several fractures and internal injuries.

Mrs. Minnie (Ma) Sunday reached the bedside by airplane. All were unanimous in saying George fell from the fourth floor of his apartment house.

George himself, unable to speak because of jaw fractures, wrote a message saying the same thing. But police had a different version. They claimed Mrs. George Sunday former Hollywood model, told them her husband quarreled with her, ordered his mother to leave the house, and announced he was going "down to the bay to jump in."

Administration Speeds Action on Program to Dairy Industry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace announced today that the administration was speeding action on a new program for nation-wide stabilization of the dairy industry. Wallace signed, meantime, a marketing agreement for the national evaporated milk industry, intended to stabilize prices and to supervise distribution of evaporated milk.

Long term milk program would include a small processing tax on milk and other dairy products, but officials said they did not believe such a tax on milk, if levied, would be passed onto the consumer.

Wallace also confirmed that the agricultural adjustment administration had decided to proceed immediately with a 1934 cotton control program designed to reduce acreage to 25,000,000 acres.

The secretary estimated reduction to 25,000,000 would mean a 20 per cent cut in production as compared with the average for recent years.

He said next year's cotton program would follow the general lines of that put into effect this year, with lands being retired from production both by direct government rental and by allotment contracts with farmers.

Details regarding the amount of payment to be made to farmers are being worked out in conference with southern leaders and are expected to be completed next week.

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN TUESDAY Teachers Arrive for Institute Here Monday; Children Getting Ready

Virtually every teacher of the city grade schools, county unit schools and Klamath Union high school has returned to Klamath Falls and will be on deck Monday morning at the Fremont school for one full day of teachers' institute.

Tuesday morning students of every school in the city and county will trek the worn paths to their class rooms for the first official day of the new school year. Classes are expected to last the entire day Tuesday, according to the two superintendents of schools. Busses will start their regular runs on schedule time Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Pierce to Speak. Mrs. Walter M. Pierce, member of the state board of higher education and former state librarian, may speak at the teachers' institute meeting Monday.

Mr. Carleton, secretary of the Oregon State Teachers' association, also will be in Klamath Falls Monday to speak at the teachers' meeting.

The afternoon session of the institute will be turned over to committee meetings, and sessions of district teachers.

Capt. Paul Koenig, Who Ran Blockade, Dies in Germany GANDAU, Germany, Sept. 9 (AP)—Captain Paul Koenig, who thrilled the world in 1916 when he ran the allied blockade and made two return trips to the United States in the merchant submarine Deutschland, died today at the age of 66.

His feat made him one of Germany's World War heroes and he was given high honors.

The Deutschland's achievement was one of the epic adventures of the war. The big submarine, carrying a cargo of dyestuffs, chemicals, etc., worth millions of dollars, reached Norfolk in July, 1916, from Bremerhaven.

It returned with a valuable cargo of commodities essential to blockaded Germany, and in the following October came back, landing at New London with another valuable cargo.

Rest Ordered for Governor Rolph SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9 (AP)—A "complete rest" of at least six weeks was prescribed by physicians today for Governor James Rolph, Jr., reported recovering from an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

Rolph's condition was "normal" today, Dr. John Galloway and Harold Fraser said at St. Francis hospital. The California executive was admitted to the hospital last Saturday.

The doctors advised the governor to remain in the hospital 10 days or two weeks more, then "to some quiet place for three weeks or a month."

Dynamite Maniac Sought By Police CHICO, Cal., Sept. 9 (AP)—Butte county authorities hunted a "dynamite maniac" today after separate explosions wrecked four cabins and a beer parlor near here.

Three laborers, asleep in the cabins, were injured in the latest blast. The beer parlor explosion, occurred two weeks ago, both blasts took place within 100 feet of each other.

2 BALLOONISTS SAFE IN SMALL CANADIAN TOWN

Missing Polish Airmen Ride into Village on Railroad Gas Speeder

Balloon Lands in Tree, Men Make 3-Day Hike Before Reaching Town

RIVIERE A PIERRE, Quebec, Sept. 9 (AP)—Two Polish balloonists, who set out from Chicago a week ago in the Gordon Bennett balloon race, rode into this Laurentian mountain village tonight on a gasoline-driven railroad handcar, unharmed despite a three day trek in the wilderness after their balloon came to rest in a tree 100 miles north of here.

The Polish aeronauts arrived carrying makeshift knapsacks containing the remains of their emergency rations and went to bed "to await instructions from Chicago."

Sail Four Days. First, however, they revealed their balloon had drifted north-easterly from Chicago and finally, after four days aloft, came to a gentle landing in a tree top in the Quebec wilderness.

The balloonists, Capt. Franck Hynsek and Lieut. Zolnaki Burzynski, took their emergency rations and headed for the tracks of the Canadian National railway they had seen nearby while still aloft.

They walked along the tracks and camped by the side of the roadbed at night. The second day of their trek they came upon an abandoned canoe containing food supplies. They appropriated the food and continued walking until this morning when they reached the village of Laurent.

There, they presented themselves to the section foreman of the railroad. The foreman had difficulty understanding the foreign airmen but they finally made their identity known.

The Poles were brought into Riviere A Pierre by the foreman.

Copco Hearing to Be Held Here in October, Report Formal hearing of the rates and services of the California Oregon Power company and an investigation into water rights of the Upper Klamath lake, will open in Klamath Falls about next month, according to Public Utilities Commissioner C. M. Thomas.

A press report from Salem stated the hearing would open here immediately after the Copco hearing in Medford, which opens October 18.

In a long-distance phone call with Mayor W. E. Mahoney Saturday morning, Thomas stated the Medford hearing would take about three days. The Medford hearing will cover the valuation set by the state utilities commission in 1913.

The probe of Upper Klamath lake waters will cover its effects as to the irrigation systems of the Klamath basin farming districts, Mahoney said.

U. S. Wars on Sleeping Sickness

Surgeon General Hays S. Cumming of the U. S. Public Health Service, center, rushed to St. Louis to confer with Dr. Joseph F. Bredeck, left, St. Louis health commissioner, and Dr. E. P. North, right, of the Missouri State Board of Health, on the epidemic of "sleeping sickness" in that city.

Measures for controlling the malady which has already claimed a number of lives were discussed.

Monkey Tests Aid Fight on Dread Malady ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9 (AP)—Apparent inoculation of six monkeys with encephalitis spurred medical scientists today in a determined effort to discover means of checking the rapidly mounting death toll of "sleeping sickness" here.

The finest of the nation's medical talent pushed forward in an uncharted field, groping their way toward possible discoveries of vital importance.

It is a fight against time, and a rapidly increasing toll of human life being extracted because virtually nothing is known of the cause, carrier, or treatment because virtually nothing is known of the cause, carrier, or treatment of the disease.

Inoculation of the monkeys was hailed as the first important discovery. The number of sleeping sickness deaths here since July 30 increased today to 106 among the 673 cases discovered and confined to hospital isolation wards.

Approximately 25 deaths have been reported from other sections of the country.

3800 Households in Klamath Falls Flying Blue Eagle National recovery consumers' agreements signed in Klamath Falls with the maintenance of four booths in business houses Saturday drove the total number of households flying blue eagle colors to 3809.

The number shows that consumers and heads of households in the city have signed up nearly 100 per cent, Henry Perkins, general in charge of the program, stated after making a check with the Pacific Telephone company and the California Oregon Power company as to the number of homes maintained in the city.

Alturas-Klamath Trip To Be Made Shorter by Project ALTURAS, Cal.—This community is jubilant over the fact that bids are out for 11.6 miles of forest highway from Perez to Cornell in the northwestern part of the county, a job which will involve a contract in the neighborhood of $150,000.

This new stretch of highway extends from the end of 2 1/2 miles between Canby and Perez which is now being oiled under the supervision of the bureau of public roads, surfacing of the stretch having been completed a couple of weeks ago. This new contract will take the road to the north boundary of the Modoc national forest, replacing an equal distance of county road.

The project, when completed, will make the distance between Klamath Falls and Alturas very easy three hours drive, practically the entire distance over wide, macadamized, oiled highways, in both Oregon and California. The project in its entirety is the connecting link between the Hedding-Alturas highway and the Oregon highway system.

Funds Allotted For Land Surveys WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Public Works Administration ticks today allotted $1,000,000 in the general land office to continue surveys of public lands in 11 states and Alaska.

An allotment of $400,000 was made to the national recovery administration for administrative expenses; $70,000 to Howard university, Washington, D. C., for a chemistry building, and $50,000 to the governor of the Virgin Islands for the construction of a tourist hotel at St. Thomas.

ACCIDENT VICTIM ROSEBURG, Ore., Sept. 9 (AP)—Jerry Weaver, 39, of Red Lodge, Montana, was brought to the local hospital last night in a critical condition as the result of an automobile accident about three miles north of Roseburg. The car driven by Frank C. McGon, also of Red Lodge, plunged over a 100 foot embankment at a culvert.

NOTED SHIPPING MAN MURDERED BY FIRED NURSE

Woman Shoots Victim As He Sits with Her Successor in Garden

Texas Lumberman Shot To Death in His Cabin; Woman Critically Hurt

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Sept. 9 (AP)—Joseph Morgan Grace, Sr., 57, one of the most prominent shipping men in the United States, was shot and killed tonight by a discharged nurse at his palatial showplace residence on Beach Hill here.

Police said a woman known as Miss Frieda Wilhelmina Weitz, 40, San Francisco, shot Grace as he sat with her successor in the beautiful gardens attached to his mansion.

The woman was disarmed and taken to the Santa Cruz county jail, where officials said she was "in a stupor."

Drugged or Poisoned? They believed she had taken either a drug or poison. She failed to respond to efforts of the officers to question her.

Miss Weitz aroused momentarily from her coma and gave the authorities her correct name. "I am sane," she cried, according to Sheriff A. T. Dresser. "Why did you do it?" he asked.

"I had a good reason for shooting Mr. Grace," the woman asserted, replied. "Why?" queried the sheriff. "You wouldn't understand if I did tell you," she answered.

Lapses Once More. Then she lapsed back into the mysterious stupor which developed as she sat in the automobile in which she was brought to the jail. Doctors thought she had taken a sleeping potion.

According to police, Miss Weitz entered the garden of the Grace residence and found the former head of the Grace lines and a new nurse sitting together on a bench. She walked up to Grace.

Without warning the San Francisco woman displayed a gun and fired a shot into Grace's left side, the police said.

The shipping magnate arose and staggered toward his home. He collapsed at the doorway.

Nurse Gets Gun. The new nurse and a cook wrestled the 32 calibre revolver from the angered woman. Police arrived quickly and took her to the county jail.

The woman worked for the Grace family until 18 months ago. Nurses were required to attend Mrs. Grace, an invalid confined to a wheel chair for many years. She is a descendant of several of California's most famous families, including those of Mark Hopkins and Leland Stanford, railroad builders.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 9 (AP)—Harbert B. Oxford, 48, prominent Beaumont lumberman, was shot to death and Mrs. Will Keith, 50, widow of a wholesale druggist at Beaumont, was critically wounded tonight at Oxford's cabin at Caplen, fashionable beach resort of the Gulf coast 60 miles from here.

A Beaumont man, for 15 years a friend of Oxford, was arrested in connection with the shooting and was immediately taken to jail at Galveston.

Oxford is married, but his wife was not present at the cabin when he and Mrs. Keith were shot.

Dead Mountaineers Taken Back Home PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 9 (AP)—The bodies of three young mountaineers arrived here tonight, after being discovered late yesterday in an icy crevasse on the dangerous slopes of Mount Jefferson.
