

Playing Managers Take Lead

World Series Will Be Directed from the Field by Joe Cronin and Harold Terry. N. Y. Has Faith in New Manager. Griffith Chief Advisor to Washington Chief.

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Sept. 21, (AP)—For the first time since 1906, the American and National league rivals for the "world baseball championship" both will be directed on the field by player-managers.

There have been a number of player-managers since then, of course, on one side of the ball, the ground or the other, but William Harold Terry of the Giants and Joseph Cronin of the Senators will be the first pair to combine master-minding and personal exploits in the world series since Fielder Jones led the Chicago White Sox to triumph over Frank Chance's Cubs.

The Senators expect history to repeat itself. Cronin carries the Washington banner into the championship fray where "Bucky" Harris then the "boy wonder," left off as the pilot of the pennant-winning Senators of 1924-'25. They whipped the world champion Yankees. They expect to "take" the Giants.

Giant rooters have faith in Terry, as John McGraw's successor, for the reason that he has already achieved the supposedly "impossible" by bringing the club home in front this year after being picked to finish no better than sixth. "Memphis Bill" himself thought at the outset he would be lucky to land in the first division, and that place was the best he hoped for.

"But once we got the idea we could win, why, we simply couldn't lose," laughed Terry when I talked with him during the Giants' triumphant final tour of the West. "You can say we have won because we built up the greatest four-man pitching staff in either league and you would be correct. You can say we got a lot of breaks, and that's right, too. But the big thing to me is that every man on this club got out there, day after day, and played his head off. We forced a lot of those breaks because we refused to be licked."

Terry and Cronin both are great hitters. Defensively they are the class of their positions. In either big league. They have the knack of setting the pace or producing the hits that count the most. Otherwise they are radically different personalities. As ball players Joe Terry is a veteran, while Cronin is in his prime. Bill will be 35 in October and Joe is 27 the same month. Cronin was born in San Francisco, Terry in Atlanta.

Terry is in absolute charge of the Giants on the field. He takes orders from no one when it comes to tactics, choice of pitchers or shifts in the lineup. When he replaces McGraw, he determined to be the "boss," so that he could sink or swim on his own responsibility. His success has given him clearer right to command than ever. But he doesn't do much master-minding, except in the pinches. He assumes his players know the right thing to do under ordinary circumstances, until it is proved otherwise. He makes quick decisions, when necessary. Cronin, softer-spoken and less dynamic than his rival, has acquired a thorough knowledge of baseball and shown he can apply it. However, the Senators' field boss has behind him the advice and counsel of one of the game's shrewdest strategists, Clark Griffith. The president of the Washington club was a famous manager and pitcher in his day. He is still the "Old Fox" and the man behind the Senatorial runs. If there is any heavy thinking or weighty decisions to be made, "Griff" makes them.

Vines Eliminated In L. A. Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21. (AP)—Jack Tidball, rinky Los Angeles college student, eliminated Ellsworth Vines of the American Davis Cup team in a quarter-final match of the Pacific southwest tennis tournament. Vines easily won the first set, 6-1, and seemed on the way to victory when Tidball steadied himself to come from behind and win the next two sets and match, 6-4, 7-5. The former national champion afterward reiterated his announcement that he will take a long rest before resuming tournament play.

BOXING

SENATORS WIN LEAGUE FLAG

Joe Cronin's Boys Beat St. Louis Browns, 2 to 1

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (AP)—The Washington Senators won a ball game and the American league pennant today and henceforth are engaged to meet the New York Giants, come October. In the world series. The Senators defeated the St. Louis Browns 2 to 1 in a game today devoted almost to something just before baseball but occasionally an "antle over" and prisoners base. The victory made it mathematically impossible for the Senators to lose the pennant.

The game was calm until the seventh inning. Fireworks Start Schulte and Kugel had tangled off hadley in the second. Its scores on Boken's long fly to Reynolds in left field. That was the only score until the seventh. In the St. Louis half of the seventh, Campbell walk and scored when Melillo doubled. Gullie hit to Cronin who threw out Melillo at third. Shea singled Gullie to second, but Leyov hit into a double play retiring the side.

Schulte opened Washington's seventh with a fly to Sammy West in deep center. Kugel singled and Boken walked. Sewell smacked a double to right center and tore around first with long legged Bob Boken on lap in front headed for the plate. Boken is a head down runner after the manner of a fullback performing between guard and tackle. He reached third, looked up and recognized his colleague Kugel standing there, instead of being on his way from the plate to the dug-out as Boken evidently assumed he would be.

All Tangled Up With a man on second and two men on third the Washington club slide the best it could under the circumstances, which was to run in all directions. The ball by that time had been retrieved to the infield and was in the possession of one Shea, the Brown's catcher.

Boken started back for second. Sewell abandoned second for first and Shea whipped the ball to Melillo. Brown second baseman in or out of the ball yard, decided to let Boken have third if he wanted it and started home. Melillo whipped back to Shea and Kugel slid under the catcher's glove, safe with what turned out to be the winning run.

Boken was safe at third and Sewell at second. It was as simple as that, but left the fans wondering whether the Senators run bases like your grandmother and several clergymen or whether the Browns had fallen in a cunning attempt to get the Senators on one base for one of those unassisted triple plays. The decision finally was in favor of your grandmother and the clergymen for Stewart, the next hitter, sent a bounder to Leyev at shortstop. Boken was not to be caught again overtake a colleague and he surveyed home plate so carefully to make sure that it was unoccupied, before finally deciding to come in. that he was caught between home and third and tagged out. Sewell went to third and Stewart got to second on that play. Then Myer was called out on strike. Manager Joe Cronin thereupon recalled ace Bluzeg from his pre-world's series feat to replace Boken, lest he again get on base.

Hadley and Knott pitched for St. Louis, allowing six hits to seven by the Browns off Stewart. Tight Washington defensive play won the ball game.

STRONG W. S. C. TEAM SHAPES; COUGARS THREAT TO TROJANS

PULLMAN, Wash., Sept. 21. (AP)—Washington State's Cougars are out to win the Pacific coast conference football championship, and nobody, from Coach O. E. (Babe) Hollingbery down to Bobby, the mascot, is making any bones about it.

With 19 letters on hand, the 1938 squad appears to be the strongest and most exciting looking outfit Hollingbery has had in his seven years at Washington State. The faithful have little doubt but that the Cougars will finish at least in the first division, and many of them are predicting the championship will return to Pullman after an absence of two years.

Freshmen Were Unbeaten Sixteen lettermen from last year's powerful squad reported for the first practice, along with nearly every member of the undefeated 1932 freshman team and three veterans of former seasons.

The line promises to be mighty, with lettermen in every position except the two guards, where regular reserves will be posted. The forward wall will be built around Frank Ingram, a six-foot-two, 200-pound tackle, who missed only three minutes of play in Washington State's six major contests last year.

The giant George Theodoratos, who alternated at full last year will be given a permanent assignment at tackle. Theodoratos reported this fall in perfect trim, weighing more than 240 pounds.

Backfield Strong The backfield likewise is powerful and experienced. Stan Colburn, a 200-pound halfback and ball-toting powerhouse is the key man behind the forward wall. Phil Sarboe, a slight but mighty triple threat, will be regular quarterback. Henry Benedice is back at full, and Ollie Arbelbide for the other half.

Outstanding among last year's fresh is Ted Christoffersen, the big blond Norwegian halfback from Honolulu who was a sensation as a rookie. He will understudy Colburn and Arbelbide. Well grounded in fundamentals and primary plays as a result of a long spring practice, the Cougars were set to work immediately on formations and signal drill this fall. They are sighting their guns on the game with Southern California at Los Angeles October 7. The Trojans, 1932 champions, handed Washington State its only defeat last year, and are looked upon as the biggest threat in the championship drive this year.

Seven conference games are on the schedule, including one with Oregon State at Corvallis, Oct. 25.

KLAMATH READY TO MEET WEED

Les Avrit's Team Has Perfect Record Over Californians.

The new Klamath Pelicans, light and fast, but uncertain in strength with inexperienced players, completed their major practice Thursday afternoon in preparation for the opening game of the season against Weed on Modoc field Saturday afternoon.

Les Avrit, head coach in his third season at the high school, has scored two victories over the Northern California school. He considered this, however, no definite promise another was assured Saturday.

The Pelicans will enter the game strong favorites, but Weed, while the Pelicans have lost some of their outstanding players from last season, has improved its lineup.

Norman Tabor, fullback from last season; Eugene Barrow, Wayne Perry and Bob Leslie may be the starting backfield combination.

Bill Horn and Lynn Propst appear as likely starters at ends; Nelo Giovantini and Bob Napier, tackle; Johnny Pastega and Homer Maxwell, guards, and Francis Hess, center.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 21. (AP)—Starting lineup for Oregon State college in its game with Southern Oregon Normal school Saturday afternoon probably will be: Woody Joslin and Vic Curdin, ends; Schwammel and Field, tackles; McClurg and Thomas, guards; Devine, center; Pangle, quarter; Blawie and Bowman, halves, and Hal Joslin, full. Another lineup will play Willamette university in the second game of the afternoon double-header immediately after.

PULLMAN, Wash., Sept. 21. (AP)—George Theodoratos, huge Washington State college tackle from Sacramento, was nursing a broken nose, sustained in scrimmage. It will not keep him out of games this year, however, physicians believe.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 21. (AP)—Injuries poked unwelcome heads into Gonzaga's training season, that was intensified for the opener against Washington at Seattle Saturday. Ed Clamen, promising California halfback, dislocated his shoulder and probably won't play. Bob Hellinger, ace tackle, strained his back, and Jim Van Sistine, first string end, had five stitches taken to close a wound in his right hand. Both were expected to open against the Huskies, however.

SEATTLE, Sept. 21. (AP)—Matt Mucynski may not start against Gonzaga, due to a shoulder injury, but Coach Jimmie Phelan probably will give the big triple-threat back a short workout to prime him for the Oregon game. Ted Isaacson, 265-pound

Little Change In Altamont Faculty ALTAMONT—The personnel of the teaching staff of the Altamont school has changed very little from last year. Most of the former teachers again received contracts this year, but a few of them accepted positions elsewhere and were replaced by new ones.

Mr. Olson again accepted the principalship; Mrs. Harriet Jones has the eighth grade; Mrs. Elsie Leming, seventh and eighth; Mrs. Maude Nelson, seventh; Carol Howe, sixth; Miss Bernice Phelps, fifth; Mrs. Ruth Oberchain, fifth and sixth; Mrs. Stella Bowne, fourth; Mrs. Marjorie Howe, third; Miss Dorothy Ballie, second; Miss Gladce Lytle, second; Mrs. Imogene Nye, first; Mrs. Alice Tomlin, first. Miss Ethel Fenwick is the music and physical education instructor.

There's only one GENUINE LEVI'S BE SURE YOU GET IT

KLAMATH READY TO MEET WEED

Les Avrit's Team Has Perfect Record Over Californians.

The new Klamath Pelicans, light and fast, but uncertain in strength with inexperienced players, completed their major practice Thursday afternoon in preparation for the opening game of the season against Weed on Modoc field Saturday afternoon.

Les Avrit, head coach in his third season at the high school, has scored two victories over the Northern California school. He considered this, however, no definite promise another was assured Saturday.

The Pelicans will enter the game strong favorites, but Weed, while the Pelicans have lost some of their outstanding players from last season, has improved its lineup.

Norman Tabor, fullback from last season; Eugene Barrow, Wayne Perry and Bob Leslie may be the starting backfield combination.

Bill Horn and Lynn Propst appear as likely starters at ends; Nelo Giovantini and Bob Napier, tackle; Johnny Pastega and Homer Maxwell, guards, and Francis Hess, center.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 21. (AP)—Starting lineup for Oregon State college in its game with Southern Oregon Normal school Saturday afternoon probably will be: Woody Joslin and Vic Curdin, ends; Schwammel and Field, tackles; McClurg and Thomas, guards; Devine, center; Pangle, quarter; Blawie and Bowman, halves, and Hal Joslin, full. Another lineup will play Willamette university in the second game of the afternoon double-header immediately after.

PULLMAN, Wash., Sept. 21. (AP)—George Theodoratos, huge Washington State college tackle from Sacramento, was nursing a broken nose, sustained in scrimmage. It will not keep him out of games this year, however, physicians believe.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 21. (AP)—Injuries poked unwelcome heads into Gonzaga's training season, that was intensified for the opener against Washington at Seattle Saturday. Ed Clamen, promising California halfback, dislocated his shoulder and probably won't play. Bob Hellinger, ace tackle, strained his back, and Jim Van Sistine, first string end, had five stitches taken to close a wound in his right hand. Both were expected to open against the Huskies, however.

SEATTLE, Sept. 21. (AP)—Matt Mucynski may not start against Gonzaga, due to a shoulder injury, but Coach Jimmie Phelan probably will give the big triple-threat back a short workout to prime him for the Oregon game. Ted Isaacson, 265-pound

Little Change In Altamont Faculty ALTAMONT—The personnel of the teaching staff of the Altamont school has changed very little from last year. Most of the former teachers again received contracts this year, but a few of them accepted positions elsewhere and were replaced by new ones.

KLAMATH READY TO MEET WEED

Les Avrit's Team Has Perfect Record Over Californians.

The new Klamath Pelicans, light and fast, but uncertain in strength with inexperienced players, completed their major practice Thursday afternoon in preparation for the opening game of the season against Weed on Modoc field Saturday afternoon.

Les Avrit, head coach in his third season at the high school, has scored two victories over the Northern California school. He considered this, however, no definite promise another was assured Saturday.

The Pelicans will enter the game strong favorites, but Weed, while the Pelicans have lost some of their outstanding players from last season, has improved its lineup.

Norman Tabor, fullback from last season; Eugene Barrow, Wayne Perry and Bob Leslie may be the starting backfield combination.

Bill Horn and Lynn Propst appear as likely starters at ends; Nelo Giovantini and Bob Napier, tackle; Johnny Pastega and Homer Maxwell, guards, and Francis Hess, center.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 21. (AP)—Starting lineup for Oregon State college in its game with Southern Oregon Normal school Saturday afternoon probably will be: Woody Joslin and Vic Curdin, ends; Schwammel and Field, tackles; McClurg and Thomas, guards; Devine, center; Pangle, quarter; Blawie and Bowman, halves, and Hal Joslin, full. Another lineup will play Willamette university in the second game of the afternoon double-header immediately after.

PULLMAN, Wash., Sept. 21. (AP)—George Theodoratos, huge Washington State college tackle from Sacramento, was nursing a broken nose, sustained in scrimmage. It will not keep him out of games this year, however, physicians believe.

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 21. (AP)—Injuries poked unwelcome heads into Gonzaga's training season, that was intensified for the opener against Washington at Seattle Saturday. Ed Clamen, promising California halfback, dislocated his shoulder and probably won't play. Bob Hellinger, ace tackle, strained his back, and Jim Van Sistine, first string end, had five stitches taken to close a wound in his right hand. Both were expected to open against the Huskies, however.

SEATTLE, Sept. 21. (AP)—Matt Mucynski may not start against Gonzaga, due to a shoulder injury, but Coach Jimmie Phelan probably will give the big triple-threat back a short workout to prime him for the Oregon game. Ted Isaacson, 265-pound

Little Change In Altamont Faculty ALTAMONT—The personnel of the teaching staff of the Altamont school has changed very little from last year. Most of the former teachers again received contracts this year, but a few of them accepted positions elsewhere and were replaced by new ones.

TREE TROOPERS FIGHT FRIDAY

Youths From CCC Camps Clash in Legion Hall Bouts

Young men hardened by six months of work and training in the woods completed training in their respective civilian conservation corps camps Thursday and were ready to trek to Klamath Falls for their pugilistic tournament. The huge amateur event will take place at the Legion hall Friday night.

The eight three-round bouts will bring together men particularly from the middle west. But on the card will be two men from Oregon to uphold the athletic prestige of the Pacific coast.

These boys, Young Stevenson, feather weight from Medford, and Sluggo Smith of Eugene and the University of Oregon, will be among the chief contenders for championships in their respective divisions. Smith will fight at 150 pounds. The Medford man will meet Battling Dunlap of Illinois and Smith will clash with Tiger Bowman of Illinois.

The tree troopers have been in training all summer under the direction of Lt. Glenn J. McGowan, athletic officer at the Lake of the Woods camp. All the youths, if they had no previous ring experience, were conditioned in camp contests.

The bouts will be presented under the auspices of Mack Lillard, promoter, and the Klamath Falls boxing commission. The C. C. O. band from Lake of the Woods and Jack DePasquale, tree trooper musician, will play between bouts.

Baseball Title Series Deadlocked BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 21. (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons crushed Rochester, 15 to 4, deadlocking their international league final playoff series at two games each.

FIGHTER ARRIVES NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—Don McCormick, South African heavyweight champion, arrived aboard the Aquitania for a fight October 9 at Madison Square Garden with Patsy Perout of Cleveland.

4-H Club Fair, 22-24.

Stagg's Eleven Invades Oregon Friday Night

MONMOUTH, Sept. 21. (AP)—Coach Larry Wolfe today named six lettermen from last year on the Oregon Normal school lineup which will start against Coach Alonso Stagg's College of Pacific eleven at Multnomah stadium in Portland tomorrow night.

Only two of these players were regulars last year, Wolfe said. "We are pretty green to go against a team like Pacific, but we'll let them know they had a ball game."

Has New Tricks Had he any new tricks to spring in addition to the numerous old ones? "Well I hope I have a new one, at least I better have," Wolfe said. "There are only nine lettermen on my squad and I understand Stagg has 27. My team is light and my reserves green." They'll make some mistakes, but they'll play hard, alert football.

The game will introduce Coach Stagg's football on the Pacific coast. For the starting lineup Wolfe named Johnson and Benjamin eds, Allen and Murphy tackles, Carey and Arenz guards, New-guard center, Mahan quarter, Edwards and Graham halfbacks, and Don Goode fullback. Graham will be the blocking halfback.

Ruth Will Pitch For Yankee Club

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—Babe Ruth, who changed over from a pitcher to an outfielder some years ago when his legs were more limber and his bat more effective, is going back to pitching again—but just for one day. The Babe has asked and received permission from Manager Joe McCarthy to pitch the Yankees final game of the season against the Boston Red Sox. He says he will be in there the full nine innings.

Stapleton Wins Football Battle

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (AP)—The Stapleton Stapes last night defeated the Paterson Giants, 20 to 0, in a professional football game at Thompson stadium, Staten Island. Nearly 5000 fans attended.

The longest flight reported for a banded bird was made by a fledgling Arctic tern, which flew from Turnevik Bay, Labrador, to Margate, Natal, in South Africa.

HEADWEAR FOR THE STYLE-WISE

New Dips and Dyes in the FALL HATS

Outstanding features of newness and smartness are plentiful in our new fall felts for men . . . decidedly new brims and shadings from a real light chalk gray to dark blue, brown and green . . . A new feature in this group is the stitching of crown and brim.

PABCO Improved INTERIOR FINISH advertisement with images of PABCO paint cans and a list of agents including W. L. Perout, Philadelphia, and J. Sugarman, Baltimore.

Fights Tonight LEGION ARENA advertisement listing bouts and ticket information for The Smoke, Wagoner's Drug, and The Waldorf.

LEVI STRAUSS WAIST OVERALLS advertisement featuring the image of a man in overalls and a list of agents including NEA and various locations like San Francisco and Los Angeles.