BY FRANK JENKINS SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR... defends himself at Chicago against the charge that the public works program is all wound around with red tape and so is failing to function at the time it is needed.

TO THIS writer, it seems that the public works program is going to be too much delayed to do much good. But let's give even the devil his due.

Spending three and a third billion dollars is a tremendous job—a job so vast that it staggers the imagination. If you and I were doing it, with the responsibility for a good honest job resting squarely on our shoulders, and with the certain knowledge that if we DIDN'T do a good job we'd have our hides taken off and hung on the fence, we'd take a lot of time, too.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, we read, is determined to push his program for expansion of credit. Expansion of credit, as of course you know, is a fine, sounding term meaning, when reduced to simple plain words, such as ordinary people use, making it easier to borrow money.

BUT again let's look the situation in the face and give the devil his due—even if the devil, in his case, happens to be a banker, and therefore without friends in the present emergency.

LET'S be fair about this thing. Suppose you or I had a hundred dollars that we didn't need just at the moment. If before we made the loan, we'd want to be pretty sure we were going to get our money back.

HERE by the way, is a thought: A lot of the financial troubles that are plaguing us NOW are due to the fact that in the big years before 1929 credit was TOO LIBERAL—that is to say, money was too easy to borrow.

A. are to work in conjunction with the NRA which will help the R. F. C., who will pay the C. O. D.'s of the C. C. C.
