

Klamath Gets Darkhorse Rating

Ineffective Showing Against Weed Places Responsibility of Hard Work on Every Player. Pelicans Afflicted With Too Many Quarterbacks. Ernie Bailey May Meet Elmer Brown Here.

The Klamath Pelicans will be known this year in football as the dark horse of the Southern Oregon interscholastic conference. It is the proverbial term of description for a team of unknowns.

This, the responsibility of a successful season rests heavily upon each member of the high school squad. It means—as was a team isn't as strong as it was last year or the year before—there must be more long hours of training, more fight, more determination and more alertness to instruction and the mistakes of each contest.

On the strength of the Pelican exhibition against Weed, the rating won't be listed too high. There are an abundance of difficult teams on the schedule, and if the Klamath boys can progress through the season with 50 per cent in victories, then, judging from what material is available, they will be successful.

If they can win more than half their games, or go through the season undefeated, a miracle in athletics will have occurred.

It is too early in the season to pass final judgment on a football team. Right now, however, Klamath cannot have more than an even chance with Ashland and Grants Pass, and only a very slim underdog opportunity against such teams as Corvallis, Medford and Bend.

When Lewis McAninch, outstanding quarterback for two seasons, was graduated, Leslie Aritt, head coach, selected Eugene Barrows as his successor. Barrows, while not the best ball carrier or defender on the team, is the most capable field general and field captain.

Unfortunately, however, Barrows has competition from Ernie Bailey, another player on the Klamath squad. Guards, centers, tackles, ends and backs took over the job of running the team against Weed, and the inevitable result, the Klamath attack had as much consistency and steadiness as a machine running on one plug.

This is the character of an inexperienced team. It has to learn the quarterback is right. If he meets interference from other players at the peak of a game, he immediately loses his own confidence and the offensive power is reduced by misselected plays.

Red Barrows has the personality and intelligence of an outstanding quarterback, but many a team has been ruined by the size of ten other quarterbacks.

Klamath meets its second test next Saturday against Alturas on Modoc field. This second Northern California team has always been stronger than Weed, and this year it is one of the heaviest eleven in the district.

Klamath failed to score on Weed except through Weed's own mistakes. This week, the second period of practice, will be vital in preparation for the Alturas game and the coming games with major Oregon eleven.

Ernie Bailey, a pugilist from Washington, who fought here several times under Herb Owens, ex-matchmaker, may return in a main event against Elmer Brown. Brown has never been defeated in Klamath Falls and has two victories over Johnny Snell. Both came with knockouts in the first round. Bailey defeated Herb White of Medford here in a sensational semi-windup. The bout has been tentatively set for October 6.

Southern Cal Tramples Two Gridiron Foes

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25. (AP)—The University of Southern California football team, national intercollegiate champion for the past two years, scored its 21st and 22nd consecutive victories Saturday, defeating Occidental college 29 to 0 and Whittier college 51 to 0 in a double header.

The Trojans took advantage of the Tigers' passing attack in the first game, and scored four of their six touchdowns on interceptions.

Passes Look Good

The second game, in which the first and second teams were permitted to run at will, featured a particularly successful passing attack with Brick Bright and Ward Brown carrying the bulk of the work. Fumbles and interceptions also aided the Trojans in running up the large score.

Misled conversions appeared to be the Trojans' great failing. Only three of eight in the Whittier encounter, an average of less than 50 per cent.

Recollections of single point defeats by Notre Dame in the past will cause Coach Howard Jones to drill his kickers hard in anticipation of forthcoming encounters.

BOXING CARDS, UCLANS TOP GRID LIST

Stanford Prepares to Play Rugged Bruins of Southland

By Russell J. Newland (Associated Press Sports Writer) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Opening skirmishes leading toward the Pacific Coast conference championship will take place on far western gridirons next Saturday.

In the most important of the pugkin scrambles, Stanford's Indians will square off against the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins. For several reasons, Stanford has been in the football dumps, but the 1933 squad makes its first bid for conference recognition with high hopes installed by a new coach, Claude "Tiny" Thornhill, successor to Glenn Warner.

Indians Impressive

Under Thornhill's leadership, the Indians started the fall campaign last week end with a 27-0 win over San Jose State, despite continued Indian fumbling. Followers were impressed with the dash and zip displayed. The visiting Bruins will have the advantage in the matter of experienced players and probably will take the field as the favored eleven. U. C. L. A. chalked up an easy double victory Saturday, defeating San Diego State 13-0, and Los Angeles J. C. Reserves, 34-0.

Other conference clashes will pair off Montana against Oregon State and Idaho against Washington, with the coast teams in the roles of favorites. Washington beat Gonzaga 13-0 Saturday, while Oregon State won two games by scores of 21-0 from Southern Oregon Normal and Willamette, respectively. Neither Montana nor Idaho have seen action yet.

Trojans Meet Loyola

Southern California's championship defending Trojans will take on Tom Lieb's strong Loyola of Los Angeles Squad in a non-conference tilt. Followers hope the game's outcome will be more impressively in favor of their team than was the case a year ago. At that time Coach Howard Jones' eleven eked out a 6-0 win over the Loyolans.

As a seasonal starter, Southern California whalloped Occidental, 29-0, and Whittier, 51-0, Saturday, while the night before Loyola crushed the Trojans to a 12-0 win over California Tech.

California's Bears, victims of the season's first major upset when they lost to Santa Clara, 7-0, Saturday, will continue in the non-conference game class next week end. The Bears will play a double-header against California Aggies and the University of Nevada.

Washington State and Oregon list non-conference gridiron seasons, the former meeting College of Puget Sound and Oregon playing Gonzaga. Washington State ran up a 48-0 score on Whitman last Saturday.

Chicago Bears Score Victory Over Green Bay

CHICAGO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Professional football commanded its share of interest in the sports world today following games in which the champion Chicago Bears inaugurated the season with a 14 to 7 win over the Green Bay Packers, and the Portsmouth Spartans beat the New York Giants, 17 to 7.

The Bears were beaten until the last five minutes of play, but Left End Bill Hewitt, who learned his football at Michigan, saved the day by blocking two kicks.

Hewitt blocked Grove's attempted field goal on the Bears' 27-yard line. Later, with the ball on the Packers' 25-yard line, he passed to Luke Johnson for a touchdown. With just a minute to play, Hewitt blocked Arnold Tibert's kick on the 10-yard line and dashed for a touchdown. Under again added both extra points. Buckets Goldenberg accounted for the Packers' score in the third period and Monnett added the one point.

The Spartans scored seven points through an intercepted pass in the second quarter and in the next frame added 16 more. Left End Hadgro gave the Giants a touchdown in the last period when he picked up a fumble and ran 20 yards.

LOW TEMPERATURE CHILLS KLAMATH

Klamath Falls remained in the heart of the calm weather belt Monday, while storms raged up and down the Pacific coast.

The local weatherman reported low barometric pressure, but stated that a gradual rise had begun, and that little change from present weather conditions would occur during the next 24 hours.

While other portions of Oregon and Washington shivered in temperatures too low for comfort, Klamath Falls enjoyed fairly moderate weather, with the minimum reading at 34, and the high point 56 on Monday.

Showers of Saturday night and early Sunday morning netted .02 of an inch precipitation, according to the U. S. weather bureau.

PORTLAND, Sept. 25. (AP)—Winter held a pre-view Sunday and last night over much of the Pacific Northwest, sending temperatures lower than had been recorded in more than six months. Many sections of Portland and the thermometer reached a low of 40 degrees, the coldest since April 19.

At Adessa, Wash., in the wheat country, the low was 20 degrees. Candon had 30; it was 32 at Pendleton, Baker and Heppner; Wenatchee had 30 degrees. Yakima 24, Wasco 30, Spokane 30, and Walla Walla, 42 degrees.

Coast Outboard Events Started

SEATTLE, Sept. 25. (AP)—The "big boys" runabouts with a power rating as high as 54 horsepower, thunder into action today on Lake Washington and Green lake for national titles, as the two-day Pacific coast outboard championship meet comes to a close.

With no less than 14 coast titles decided yesterday, 10 of them going south to California, the final racing of the two-day meet today takes on a national angle. In the three classes of C, E and F, of 21 horsepower, 32 horsepower and 54 horsepower respectively, titles will be decided in both divisions.

A crowd estimated at between 40,000 and 50,000 lined the several miles of shore line of Green lake yesterday to see the tiny craft flash over the mile course, with the waters roughened by a stiff southerly breeze which made record titles impossible. Two spectacular spills occurred, but the drivers were unhurt.

TIGER HURLER LOSES CHANCE

Tommy Bridges Misses Opportunity for Baseball Fame

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer) Final returns on the major league baseball season won't be in for another week, but young Tommy Bridges of the Detroit Tigers has clinched the crown as the year's "hard luck guy" without further argument.

Bridges, one of the bright spots in an otherwise discouraging season which finally impelled Bucky Harris to resign his post as Tiger Manager Saturday, has made four gallant efforts to add his name to the list of no-hit pitching notable, and each time has failed by the slimmest of margins.

His troubles started last year when a pinch hit by Dave Harris in the sixth inning cost him a no-hit game against Washington. Early this season he hurled one against St. Louis, and the Senators, and Saturday he blanked the Browns again without a blow for 5 1/2 innings before Sam West, the "wildcat" on a previous occasion, and Al Schorsch found him for singles. Tommy's two-hit hurling brought the Tigers a 2-1 victory in the first game of a double-header, and they went on to clean up with a 5-2 triumph in the afterpiece as Carl Fischer allowed only five bloopers.

The Philadelphia Athletics had a romp at the expense of Al Crowder and two successors and batted out an 11 to 4 victory over Washington's American league champions. The Boston Red Sox beat the second place New York Yankees 108, in a game which produced 18 hits, nine errors and 15 walks.

The Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians divided a twin bill collecting a total of 30 hits. The Sox won the opener, 8-7, on a ninth inning run, and the Indians came back to hammer out a 12-6 triumph, scoring half their runs in the fifth. Earl Averill hit a homer in each game.

Chicago and Cincinnati let the pitchers have their say for the National league as they divided a pair of games. Charlie Root's five-hit fling led the Cubs to a 7 to 1 triumph in the opener, and Cincinnati won 1 to 0.

New York Giants won their first game since they clinched the National league title by scoring four runs in the tenth inning of the first game with Boston to beat a three-run rally and win 6 to 5. The Braves had the last laugh collecting a total of 30 hits. The Sox won the opener, 8-7, on a ninth inning run, and the Indians came back to hammer out a 12-6 triumph, scoring half their runs in the fifth. Earl Averill hit a homer in each game.

Norman Taber, Klamath Union high school fullback, was a guest at the 20-30 club meeting, and told of the season's football prospects.

Arthur Schupp, local attorney, was the principal speaker and told of his recent trip to the Chicago world's fair. Jack Murphy was chairman of the meeting.

ECCENTRIC SENATOR BASEBALL SCOUT ALREADY SERIES HERO

By Cecil M. Jones (A. P. Staff Writer) CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 25. (AP)—The pennant winning march of the Washington Senators has pushed Joseph W. Engel into the limelight again although Dr. Engel is the type of fellow who doesn't need much pushing.

In fact there is no limelight around when Mr. Engel is serving as president of the Chattanooga lookouts of the Southern association he will make some and push himself in.

Serious Senator Scout.

He's the man who hung canary birds in the Chattanooga stands, stoned a girl pitcher, made his players greet him with a military salute and swapped a shortstop to Charlotte for a Thanksgiving turkey.

But he takes his job as scout for the Senators seriously and enjoys the confidence of his boss, Clark Griffith.

Engel once bought a minor league shortstop who was hitting .210.

"What do you want with a fellow who hits like that?" Griffith asked.

"I just like him," Engel replied and Griffith left him on the payroll.

His name was Joe Cronin and he's now hitting about .300, is about the best all-around shortstop in the major leagues and

Cats Discovered Very Poor Racers

BYRON, Calif., Sept. 25. (AP)—The "kitties" which Charlie Hobman trained for his proposed cat race track certainly ran, but it was a scatteration rather than a race.

The wheels of Turner's ship touched the flying field at 11:43 a. m. eastern standard time. The previous record of ten hours and nineteen minutes was set by James Hatalp.

Return Abandoned

A severe headache, coupled with rough and windy weather and fog, caused Turner to abandon his previously announced plan to attempt a return flight to the coast today.

Turner said he averaged 27 miles an hour and that he might have done better if he had not been compelled to alter his course several times because of storms and low ceilings.

Angels Assured Coast Pennant; Hollywood Sink

By The Associated Press LOS ANGELES—As virtually all Coast league's only pennant contender after two week-end victories that showed Hollywood down into a second-place tie with Portland, seven games behind the Angels.

Hollywood must win all seven of its remaining games to gain a tie with the Lowell men of Portland, with seven more games to play than either the Angels or Stars, still has a chance for the championship but a slim one.

Seattle Wins Series

Combined pitching efforts of Fay Thomas, Dick Ward and Buck Newsum gave the Angel-Sunday's opener, 5-7. Tom Shea has limited the leaders to four hits to give Hollywood the nightcap, 4-2, for its second win of the seven-game series.

Oakland divided its Sunday doubleheader with Seattle to capture the series, 4-1. Joe Coe-care's lusty four-bagger with two men on spoiled a nice hurling job by Glenn Gabler and gave the Indians the opener, 3-1. Ed Walsh, Jr., replied with three-hit fling as the Oaks walked off with the five-inning second game, 4-0.

Breaking even in Sunday's twin bill, San Francisco took its city series with the Missions by a 4-3 margin. Johnny Babich's steady tossing made it two straight for the Missions as they triumphed 8-4 in Sunday's opener. The Seals came from behind to finish ahead 5-4 in the nightcap.

Sacramento's three week-end games in Portland were rained out.
