

EX-GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN ESCAPES PLOT

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP)—Detective Chief William Spornaker late today said he had contacted the missing wife of George M. Cox, believed by her husband to have been kidnaped, and quoted her as saying she left her New Orleans home with other members of her family of her own volition.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 30. (AP)—Philip F. La Follette, former progressive republican governor of Wisconsin, revealed today that an attempt either to ambush or kidnap him was made by two unidentified men late last night at a cottage in a lonely spot on Lake Geneva in southern Wisconsin.

La Follette said he had secretly planned to spend last night with former congressman Thomas R. Amlic, of Elkhorn, Wis., following a meeting which he addressed at Kenosha. He said that before he and Amlic arrived at the latter's lake cottage about 2:30 a. m., two mysterious men had twice called for him at the cottage and badly frightened Mrs. Amlic, who was alone there with her children.

La Follette said that his intention to stay with Amlic was not generally known and that inasmuch as the lake cottage is in a secluded spot, accessible only by a small road it appeared an organized plot had been made to harm him.

The former governor said he was inclined to believe the strangers were men who disagreed with his political philosophy and intended to "bump him off" for that reason.

Kidnaping also was a possibility but he said that neither he nor any members of his family had any money and that anyone who took the trouble to find out his plans last night must also have known his financial status.

FAMILY IN DANGER

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP)—A man who identified himself as William Davis, Jr., 27, of Louisiana, was taken into custody by police today when they said New Orleans authorities had informed them that the family of George M. Cox, wealthy ship owner, was believed to have been kidnaped for $25,000 ransom.

The family, consisting of Cox's wife, 27, their two-year-old son, George, Jr., and Mrs. Cox's parents, who reported missing yesterday by Cox when he returned to New Orleans following a visit of five weeks at Cooperstown, Ill.

Chicago police said the first they were called in on the case was when the chief of police of New Orleans telegraphed them that Cox had received a telephone call from a man who gave his name as George Wendt, in Chicago, and who told Cox to get together $25,000 for the return of his family.

Previously, Cox had offered a $25,000 reward for their safe return when he discovered them missing.

INDICTMENT RETURNED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 30. (AP)—A secret indictment was returned by the federal grand jury today in the $234,000 mail robbery here last February. The indictment was said to have named six persons.

The grand jury reported to Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure, who came here from San Francisco to receive his findings, the foreman told the court that it had considered 11 cases and that two of the indictments were secret.

Postal inspectors, U. S. Attorney H. H. McKee of San Francisco, and a man believed to have been William Barry, who is under arrest in connection with the robbery, appeared before the grand jury.

It was thought the secret indictment charges "Gloomy Gus" Schaefer and Roger Touhy, both held in St. Paul on a charge of kidnaping William Hamm; Barry, who was arrested in Salt Lake City three weeks ago; George Kerr; Mrs. Schaefer and a John Doe with having had a part in the mail robbery.

High-Toned Bells of St. Mary's

Here are three of the reasons "Bill" Madigan looks to see his St. Mary's College go places this year. Kicking is Dutch Bader, a walk who drops back for punting and place kicks. With him is Walt Harris, a brainy, daring quarterback. Inset is Malcolm Fiese, sophomore halfback, whose kicking and speed make him dangerous.

The singer's outburst was occasioned by the prince's charge that she was too friendly with Samuel Leitch, saloon utilities magnate.

times stopped the Big Green team inside their own 10-yard line.

In the third period, however, the weight of the Webfoot told and the Oregonians marched steadily from midfield to scoring position. Big Mike Miklak crashed through for the first Oregon marker.

Bobbit Battles
Again in the final period the Oregonians marched to scoring territory and Howard Bobbit, who replaced Miklak, bucked through from the four-yard line.

The vaunted passing attacks of both teams failed before excellent pass defense. Gonzaga attempted eight passes without success. Four of the Bulldog passes were intercepted. Oregon tried the aerial route ten times but only completed passes twice for 25 yards. Two Oregon passes were intercepted.

Gonzaga made only one scoring threat. Late in the final period, Brian, Gonzaga right tackle, blocked Milligan's punt on Oregon's eight-yard line and Cain, Bulldog lineman, recovered. Oregon held for two downs and the final goal sounded before another play could be started. Oregon made 17 first downs, Gonzaga only 2.

Miniature 1903 Olds Exhibited at Chicago

Charles A. Freund, 20-year-old Chicago craftsman, required 1,218 hours of painstaking work to complete this model which recently was placed in the General Motors Exhibit Building at the Chicago Fair. Although only 15 inches long, the model is perfect in every detail, being an exact miniature copy of "Old Scout," the Oldsmobile which won the first coast-to-coast race held in America.

BEARS ROMP ON GRID

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 30. (UP)—California won both ends of a football doubleheader here this afternoon when the Bears added a 34-0 victory over the University of Nevada Wolf pack to their earlier 39-0 win from the California Aggies.

The two games gave Coach "Navy Bill" Ingram of California an opportunity to test the full strength of his entire pigskin roster. More than five Bear eleven saw service in the two contests.

Trojans Beat Loyola

COLISEUM, LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30. (UP)—Southern California ran its string of consecutive football victories to 23 today by defeating little Loyola of Los Angeles, 18 to 0, before 45,000 fans.

The vaunted Trojan attack was smothered during the first half, which was scoreless, but in the third period the Trojans turned in two touchdowns, adding one in the final quarter.

BADGERS WIN

MULTNOMAH STADIUM, PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 30. (UP)—A goal kick by Ray Critchfield, fullback, following Captain Lemke's last quarter touchdown gave Pacific university a 7-6 victory today over the Irish of Columbia university, Portland.

The Clifftowers capitalized on a poor punt by Pacific in the first quarter to hammer over their touchdown. John Thomas ran 10 yards around left end untouched for the six points. Corcoran's goal try was blocked, a margin that later cost Columbia the game.

Pacific trailed for three quarters but two plays after the fourth quarter opened Lempe took the ball over on a fake spinner from five yards out.

State Politics Buzz After Big Fellows Let Themselves Go

resolution calling on Pierce and Carl G. Donaghy to resign from either their public jobs or their party jobs. Pierce is national committeeman and Donaghy is state committeeman.
Meantime Mayor Joseph K. Carson, Jr. opened a recrudescence sore when he applied directly to the public works board at Washington for a reallocation of the federal highway funds to give Portland a greater share. That should not be much of a boost for an incipient "Carson-for-governor" movement.

However, the unemployment situation in Portland is causing gray hairs for others than the mayor. The governor, it is said, is none too pleased about it. He was still hesitating to call the special session of the legislature Saturday.

Meier on Spot
Governor Meier finds himself in the unenviable position where he is going to be damned if he does and be damned if he doesn't no matter which way he turns and probably both.

The tenor of some 1,000 unemployed who batted a meeting of the governor's committee of 22 this week was ominous. It is likely that the unemployed are going to be dissatisfied at the amount of relief which will be given.

None the less will those who have to foot the bill be dissatisfied when their auto licenses are raised and when their taxes are raised to finance unemployment. Both sides will take it out on somebody and the governor's chin is out.

Old Sore Opened
The higher education situation which a week ago seemed more settled than for some time was blasted open again when W. G. Hare, guided by statement that his appointment to the board of higher education was for political purposes, washed his hands of the whole mess and refused to serve. The appointment of Willard L. Marks to the vacancy probably helped. If anyone can soothe the board into quietude, Marks has the right disposition to do it.

The political air is surcharged with electrical possibilities and the forthcoming weeks will probably see the start of some grand fights.

Kerr has been working here the past week inspecting dairies with Dr. Hartman and expects to complete the survey about Wednesday.
"People of the county and city should know which dairies are attempting to produce first class milk as it requires special care," Kerr said.

AT THE PELICAN

Good news for Klamath Falls theatre goers!
Slim Summerville and ZaSu Pitts, the screen's funniest comedy team, return to the Pelican theatre Sunday in the starring roles of "Her First Mate," most hilarious of their Universal pictures. As husband and wife, they are the centre of a side-splitting tale which is filled with laughable incidents, and complications which will keep you in a continual roar of laughter.

When he sees the capsize little ferry boat blow up at the dock of their little town on Long Island Sound—but he doesn't know that the agitated ZaSu has bought it with her life savings as a present for him! The plot is taken from a Broadway play in which Frank Craven and Una Merkel were featured.

Supporting Summerville and Miss Pitts are Una Merkel, Bertton Churchill, Warren Hymer, Henry Armetta, George Marion and many other screen favorites, all of whom add to the hilarious fun of the picture.

"Don't miss 'Her First Mate.' It is as fresh as the tang of the sea—and a lot funnier.

AT THE PINE TREE
Randolph Scott, Harry Carey, Noah Berry, Verna Hillie and Buster Crabbe play the leading roles in Zane Grey's "Man of the Forest," at the Pine Tree theatre Sunday. Henry Hathaway, who has directed the past six picturizations of Grey's novels, also wielded the megaphone on this production.

There is action from start to finish in "Man of the Forest"—two-fisted, red-blooded action of the type that Zane Grey fans have come to accept as a matter of course in his stories.

"Man of the Forest" was filmed in the country in which Grey originally set his story. The cast, all favorites of previous Westerns, spent many weeks on the location.

AT THE RAINBOW
"If I Had a Million," fifteen-star drama which is regarded as the most ambitious undertaking ever to come out of Hollywood, opens its return engagement at the Rainbow theatre Sunday.

Gary Cooper, George Raft, Wynne Gibson, Charles Laughlin, Jack Oakie, Frances Dee, Charlie Ruggles, Alison Skipworth, W. C. Fields, Mary Boland, Roscoe Karns, May Robson, Gene Raymond, Lucien Littlefield and Richard Bennett—these stars, the largest group ever assembled for a single picture, play the leading roles in "If I Had a Million."

Comedy, tragedy, irony, romance are combined in the story, which centers around Bennett, an eccentric millionaire who distributes his fortune among nine persons whose names he has chosen at random from a city directory.

KLAMATH CASES IN U. S. COURT

W. P. Myers, local attorney, will leave for Medford this week-end where he will appear as defense attorney for Benjamin Tupper, Klamath Indian charged with second degree murder in federal court.

Tupper's trial will start Tuesday afternoon, according to Myers. The Klamath Indian is charged with murdering Eben Murdock, a California Indian, at Williamson River this summer.

About 19 other Klamath county federal cases, mostly liquor violations involving both whites and Indians, will be tried in the Medford federal court following the Tupper case.

ELMER BROWN TO FIGHT BAILEY HERE

Elmer Brown, featherweight king of Oregon, will defend his pugilistic reputation against Ernie Bailey of Aberdeen Friday night. The two athletes will top Mack Lillard's program in a 10-round main event.

Bailey, who has been seen here in several successful bouts, has agreed to make the 116-pound featherweight limit. He will arrive here Thursday for his final workouts.

Brown, a St. Paul youth, has not been defeated since he came to Oregon. He has fought and won three main events in the Legion hall ring and several more at Portland. His most recent victories were scored over Johnny Snell. Snell was knocked out in the first round on two different occasions.

worked smoothly against the California team.

Leslie carried the ball a few yards from scrimmage in the first quarter to the first score. Before the quarter ended he again crossed the goal line after Billy Horn, end, blocked an Alturas punt and recovered the ball for the Pelicans on the Alturas 30-yard line.

The first team was completely replaced with the exception of its pilot, Red Barrows, about the middle of the second quarter. The half ended with the Pelicans' score of 13.

In the third quarter the ball was taken to the Alturas 5-yard line by a pass from Leslie to Propst. Leslie then ran it across for the third score.

The Pelican team was penalized heavily throughout the game for holding and being off side. Alturas chalked up more errors and lost the ball several times throughout the game by incomplete passes.

Although the Pelican machine is still far from perfection, considerable improvement was shown over the previous game with Weed.

POWER-DRIVE

POTATO DIGGERS

It is a real pleasure to a potato grower to see a FARMALL 1 or 2-row power-drive digger at work. The steady, tireless travel of the FARMALL and the even flow of ample power from the Farmall engine through the power take-off to the elevating mechanism is a real eye-opener to the man who has thought of potato digging in terms of hard work.

Under some conditions it is desirable to vary the speed of the elevator. A transmission attachment can be supplied which gives three elevator speeds without changing the speed of the tractor. It also has one reverse speed which is very handy, as it permits running the elevator backward to dislodge a stone.

The potato grower who is still using horses owes it to himself to acquaint himself with the possibilities of Farmall farming.
