

All-American Turns To Wrestling

George Wilson, Great Washington Ball Carrier, Comes to Klamath Falls. Story of Husky Triumph Over Stanford and Oregon Recalled. Karasick May Be Foo.

George Wilson, who comes here Friday as a wrestler, stimulates the memory of a great day in Pacific coast football. He relives the story of the University of Washington's big season in 1925, and the brilliant battle with Stanford for the conference championship.

That was the last year Washington "showed" in the conference race, and this man Wilson, all-American ball-carrier, shifted over to halfback from fullback only to make room for Ernie Nevers, the finest man "Pop" Warner says he ever coached, was chiefly responsible for the Husky triumph.

It was the last contender coached by the late Enoch Bagshaw, and when Wilson and those players who supported him at Washington departed, Bagshaw's football was never the same. The calibre of the Washington team dropped down for the next few seasons; Bagshaw was in discredit with alumni. He eventually resigned and was succeeded by the present Washington coach, Jimmy Phelan from Notre Dame and Perdue.

Washington met Stanford in 1925 at Seattle. It was near the end of the season, and both teams had come up undefeated.

The game was considered an individual duel between Ernie Nevers and George Wilson, both in their final years of competition. Wilson and Washington won 10 to 0, and gained the privilege of upholding the conference prestige at the annual Rose Bowl game in Pasadena.

That better struggle with Stanford almost wrecked Washington for the remainder of the season. The Huskies, resting after defeating their strongest rival, coasted through to the championship game with Oregon. Oregon, coached that year by Dick Smith, who was filling the interim between the departure of Joe Maddox and the arrival of Captain John J. Egan, sensibly gave the Huskies one of their most severe punishments of the year.

The score, if memory serves correctly, ended up 15 to 13. George Gattormuson, the Huskies' star quarterback, and one of the coast best place kickers, was for Washington in the last period when he sent the ball through the uprights from the 50-yard line. The ball struck the cross bar, wobbled for a moment and then dropped over to score Washington's 15th championship.

Wilson, who for several seasons, turned to the wrestling game not long ago. Like many former all-Americans, he immediately achieved great success, and became one of the outstanding drawing cards on the coast.

His football reputation, of course, served him well, but soon spectators began turning out to see him for his wrestling ability alone. He is big, strong and fast, and has adapted his football ability to the art of wrestling.

Wilson comes here probably to meet Al Karasick, the Russian Lion. Karasick's disposition—so disliked people back the Legion hall in hopes of seeing him defeated—and Wilson's reputation should dovetail to make one of the best matches of the year. Wilson already has defeated the Lion, and may do it again.

A granite defense was displayed by both squads, but they lacked offensive drive needed for a score. Arrington, left half, starred for Whittier, while Bailey and Mosell played outstandingly for San Diego.

MALIN CRUSHES TULELAKE HIGH

Klamath County Eleven Rolls Up 46 to 0 Victory

The Klamath Wildcats swept to their first victory of the season on Modoc field Saturday morning over Henley, 24 to 0. This is Henley's first year in football competition and the squad showed promise of future success.

The Wildcats play Malin here next Friday.

Holland Parks' strong Malin high school smashed its way to a 46 to 9 victory over Tulelake high school Friday afternoon at Malin. Tulelake, in its first year of organization, was no match for the Klamath county squad.

Malin rolled up two touchdowns in the first three minutes of play and was out in front 15 to 0 at the end of the first half.

The attack was led by Reber, Spolek, Holbrook and Kandra in the backfield and Stasney, Long, Woodin and Decker in the line.

Coach Parks used two complete teams and the substitutes held up almost as powerfully as the regulars.

Malin will meet the Klamath Wildcats on Modoc field next Friday afternoon.

OREGON NARROWLY DEFEATS COLUMBIA

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 7 (AP)—Little Columbia university of Portland displayed a brilliant stubborn defense here today and was defeated by Oregon by only a 14 to 7 score.

Columbia's lone touchdown was made in the fourth period after a scintillating passing attack had taken the ball from Oregon's 46 yard line.

Oregon's superior line strength made it master most of the time. The first score was made on the third play after the kickoff when Van Vliet ran 56 yards for a touchdown. The second touchdown came in the third period with Van Vliet carrying the ball from the 19-yard line.

Oregon made 12 first downs. Columbia four. Oregon lost 35 yards on penalties.

Stanford Wins Thrilling Game Against Santa Clara

STANFORD STADIUM, Palo Alto, Calif., Oct. 7. (AP)—An alert and versatile Stanford team stopped every threat of those excellent passers from Santa Clara university today and won a thrill-packed football game 7 to 0.

Stanford revealed a powerful line that forced the Santa Clara team to resort to an aerial game in the second quarter and keep at it throughout the remainder of the contest.

Near Goal Line
Twice Santa Clara penetrated beyond the Stanford 10-yard line. In the second quarter they reached the one-yard line, but made the error of attempting to break through the formidable Stanford wall. In the fourth quarter the Broncos passed down to the seven-yard line, but a fourth down pass into the end zone was incomplete.

Stanford was led to the only touchdown of the game by Bobby Grayson, sophomore fullback who carried the ball over in the first period after he and Bob Maents had punched the Santa Clara line into reluctant submission.

Ambition Fails
The hard-rushing Stanford line gave "Diamond Joe" Paglia, Bronco stellar punter, little opportunity to place his kick in coffin corner. Alustiza, sophomore fullback for the Cardinals, rivalled Paglia's kicking for distance in the second half.

Stanford again today prevented Santa Clara from realizing an old ambition—to beat both California and Stanford in the same season.

Thirty-five thousand persons watched the game.

Santa Clara gave the fans the first of the series of thrills on the opening kickoff. Paglia took Corbin's boot and quick-kicked it with a single step. The strategy failed when Maents returned the ball to the Santa Clara 40.

Gonzaga Staves Off Five Oregon State Goal Thrusts

MULTNOMAH STADIUM, PORTLAND, Oct. 7. (AP)—Staving off five goal line thrusts within their 15-yard stripe, Gonzaga university of Spokane held the vaunted Oregon State college eleven to a scoreless tie here today.

The crowd, with ladies here, was estimated at about 25,000. It was the first severe test for O. S. C., and the Beavers looked decidedly spotty when in scoring territory.

On Four-Yard Line
Gonzaga was unable to do anything offensively in the first half, threatened twice in the third quarter, but the 34-yard line was as close as they could get.

The last Beaver threat was the strongest, and looked like a touchdown for a score. After McIntosh had made a first down to Gonzaga's 14, a pass—Pangle to Woody Joslin—placed the ball on the Gonzaga four-yard line.

Puget Sound Gridders Win From Albany

ALBANY, Ore., Oct. 7. (AP)—In the first northwest conference game of the season for both teams, College of Puget Sound, title holders, defeated Albany College 18 to 0 here yesterday.

The Loggers from Tacoma scored twice in the first period, once on a blocked punt and again by the aerial route. Their third touchdown came in the third period on a sustained drive featuring straight football.

With Willamette University Scouts on the sidelines, Coach Roy Sandberg of the Loggers limited his team's attack largely to power plays to avoid uncovering anything to the advantage of the Beavers whom they play next Friday at Tacoma.

The Albany team under Clyde J. "Red" Rupert's coaching, showed much promise for later season strength.

Jones Outpoints San Diego Boxer

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 7. (AP)—Gorilla Jones, 159, of Alton, O., outpointed Mike Payan, 151, of San Diego in a fast 10-round fight here. Jones took every round but the seventh when Payan rallied briefly.

HUNTING

U. S. C. TRAMPS W. S. C. 33 TO 0

COLISEUM, Los Angeles, Oct. 7. (AP)—Little Irvine Warburton, known as "Cotton" because of his thick white hair, today sparked the powerful University of Southern California team to its 24th consecutive victory, a 33 to 0 slaughter of Washington State.

The 150-pound quarterback turned in two magnificent runs for touchdowns—the first 50 yards and the second 75 yards—to start the Trojan machine and turn to a rout what had been a good football contest.

Cotton's first dash came with his initial handling of the ball as he entered the game in the second quarter.

Until that moment the eleven were battling on fairly even terms and neither had scored. With the 50-yard run to touchdown the tide immediately turned to favor Southern California and Warburton's second excursion through the Staters completely broke the Cougars' resistance.

Although Warburton was the main show for Southern California, Haskell Workins, Bill Howard and Homer Griffith did a lot of effective ball carrying. Griffith, first string quarter, once ran 50 yards to the goal line but he was called back when officials detected a Trojan in the act of clipping.

In the line Aaron Rosenber, running guard, did best for Southern California in smearing prospective Washington State advances.

Phil Sarnoe, Boyce Magness, and Ted Christoffersen played well in the backfield for the northerners. Especially effective was the passing combination of Sarnoe throwing and Christoffersen receiving. This threat was broken up when Christoffersen was forced out by injuries.

Ingram, Stojack and Theodoratus stopped most of the Trojan plays that failed.

The conference rivals battled scoreless through the first quarter. Play was most in Southern California's territory, but the Trojans managed to strengthen their hold on the one time Washington State threatened seriously.

Both sides took to the air frequently but excepting the time Sarnoe and Christoffersen connected, the passing was not very effective. The Trojans completed two out of nine passes for a total of 40 yards. Cougars made 46 yards in completing four out of 19 throws.

By its victory Southern California turned back the first Pacific coast conference championship challenge. Southern California has finished at the top of the conference as well as the national football heap for the past two years.

Olympic Club Defeats Nevada University Team

RENO, Nev., Oct. 7. (AP)—The San Francisco Olympic club football team was too heavy and powerful for Nevada university today and the Winged O's downed the Nevadans 14 to 0 in a one-sided game.

Olympic club was held scoreless in the first quarter but they put over two quick touchdowns in the second to draw first blood. The former collegiate stars worked the ball to Nevada's 20 yard line from where Lange and Baird worked it over for the first touchdown.

A series of bullet passes, plus smashing line plays, paved the way for the second which resulted from a pass, Baird to Hodd. Ryan made both conversions.

Ashland will be the only team Klamath will play twice this season. The second game will be in the valley, November 18.

Warburton Makes Great Runs for Southern Champions

FOOTBALL

BRUINS DEFEAT UTAH'S ELEVEN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7. (AP)—A successful invasion of the Pacific Coast conference by the Rocky Mountain champions of Utah will have to wait yet a little longer.

Coach Ike Armstrong's Utes found this to be a sad truth last night when the baby member of the coast group, the University of California at Los Angeles, tamed the Redskins 21 to 0 in a comedy of errors. Fifteen thousand persons witnessed the contest.

The Bruins came to life in the second quarter, terminating a 60-yard drive with an 18-yard pass, Mike Frankovich to Julian Smith for a touchdown.

Frankovich opened the final period with a 17-yard dropkick from near the sidelines to pick up three points, after which Coach Spaulding sent in the reserves.

It was a 177-pound sophomore halfback, Floyd Blower of Santa Ana, Calif., who turned apparent defeat into victory in the closing minutes of the savage game.

St. Mary's held a 13-7 lead late in the final quarter. An exchange of punts pushed St. Mary's back to its own 16.

Blower dropped back to punt out of danger. Lutz and C. Williams broke through and blocked the kick. The ball bounced crazily out of bounds on St. Mary's 15-yard line.

An end-around play gained only two. Blower took the ball on a reverse from Kiefer. He fought and warned his way up to and across the goal, and fell across the line with the arms of a St. Mary's defender around him. That tied the score.

Then Floyd sent a kick from placement straight through the goal posts for the added point that meant victory.

Blower made his victory good when he intercepted a Gael pass a few moments later to end definitely any St. Mary's scoring threat. After George Wilson was spilt for a 10-yard loss, he threw a pass on the next play. Blower intercepted it and the Bears still had the ball when the game ended.

St. Mary's, tied by California last year, opened today's game with an amazing drive. California lost the ball soon after the opening kickoff and St. Mary's took the ball on their own 42.

Wilson made 12 through right tackle. Al Nichelini dashed 38 yards to the next play. Carl Jorgensen's conversion was good.

The second St. Mary's touchdown came on a break. Williams' attempt to punt was blocked by Ed Gilbert. Fred Carrigan picked up the bounding ball and ran 15 yards to score a touchdown. Jorgensen's try for point failed.

California's first touchdown came in the second quarter. Slip Madigan, Gael's coach, had sent in his entire second team.

Grove City's Rat Training For New Fight

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 7. (AP)—Now awesomely dubbed "Primo Carnera" because of the whiplow he packs, Grove City's snake-conquering white rat is in training for a return bout.

In the rat cage in the biology department of Grove City college, "Primo," fat and saucy since he killed seven young rattlesnakes and kayped two heavy-weight rattlers two weeks ago, is getting in shape through almost daily battles with rodent "sparring partners."

For "Primo" rules the rat cage with a snarl, and students figure he will be in the pink when he is called upon to face the snakes again—in about a fortnight.

They're not so sure about the badly-beaten rattlers, but Prof. A. G. Wood, head of the department, points out that everything depends upon the snakes' appetite.

The fight that brought fistic fame to "Primo" started after Prof. Wood offered the rat to the snakes as an evening meal, not meaning to belittle "Primo," the professor reveals that the victory may have been a trifle fluky. It seems the two big rattlers weren't hungry.

Bufkin Returns To Washington For Grid Play

SEATTLE, Oct. 7. (AP)—Burt Bufkin, sensational Washington halfback last fall, returned today to re-enter University of Washington after finding himself "unprepared" for courses taught at West Point.

Although under prompting of Coach Jimmie Phelan, was abrupt with reporters and photographers when he stepped out of the plane that brought him here.

When asked pertinent questions on why he returned to Washington he refused to talk. Although under conference rules, Bufkin could not play for Washington until a year from the day he enters school, Washington athletic authorities are trying to get him eligible to play this year.

Townies Hold Field Practice Sunday Morning

The Klamath Townies will hold their second field practice of the season on Modoc field Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock. Lynn Roycroft, head coach, said a vigorous two-hour period of signal and scrimmaging would compose the bulk of the work.

The men are rugged and fast and Roycroft expects a successful season.
