Monday Evening
October 9th—7:15 p. m.

A gorgeous panorama of style and color, modeled by lovely local mannequins, will be the feature of the evening at the Pelican Theatre Monday, when we bring you our Annual Autumn Fashion Review....Coats of hearty woven stuff to remind you of many colored leaves and misty afternoons out-of-doors...rough, friendly as an oak tree's bark, fresh, vital as rain...touched, here deftly, there voluptuously, with luxurious fur. Gowns of dusky satin to cast back the yellow light of candles, glint for gleam, when goblets sparkle behind curtained windows. Close clinging fluid satin to wear with luminous eyes. Flimsy, faery underthings. Smart little boots to rustle through the windy whirlpools of autumn leaves. Hats, madly quaint, inviting eyes. Gloves, pertly military, commanding lips. Clothes to dream over and wear joyfully. Clothes to make vanity a lovely sin, life a sunny pleasure. all the lovely apparel shown on the stage is from our own stock, and will be on display, for sale, at our store Tuesday following the show.
