LIBRARY CLASS ENROLLMENT SET

Men and women of Klamath Falls interested in the non-credit study classes sponsored by the Women's Library club will register for the six classes, as proposed thus far, on Friday and Saturday, October 20 and 21. It was announced today by Mrs. Rollo C. Grossbeck, president of the group.

Registration will take place in the library clubrooms from 3 o'clock until 5 o'clock each afternoon, and from 7 o'clock until 9 o'clock each evening. The fee for the non-credit classes will be only $1. It was announced, payable upon registration.

There will be a committee from the library club in the clubrooms to take care of registration and to answer questions.

In regard to the credit classes, Mrs. Grossbeck announced that a correspondence course in short-story writing is being organized and those interested are asked to call Mrs. E. K. Loosley, telephone number 1724. There is a $3 fee for this class.

Plans for a credit class in sociology are not yet completed, but are rapidly being formulated. There is considerable interest shown in this class.

W. G. Beattie, who paid Klamath Falls a visit on Tuesday in the interest of the extension department of the University of Oregon, stated during his stay here that nowhere in the state of Oregon had so much interest been shown in non-credit class study.

Klamath Falls has set an exceptionally high standard for teachers of the non-credit classes and an exceedingly fine school is anticipated for the winter months.

AMUSEMENTS

Pelican—Now playing, "Moonlight and Pretzels."

Pine Tree—Now playing, "The Age of Consent," with Dorothy Wilson and Richard Cromwell.

Rainbow—Now playing, "Diplomaniacs," with Wheeler and Woolsey.

Vox—Now playing, "When Ladies Meet," with Ann Harding, Myrna Loy and Robert Montgomery.

AT THE PELICAN

One of the many dancing beauties appearing in "Moonlight and Pretzels," at the Pelican theatre.

"Back to Happiness and Prosperity" is the slogan this week at the Pelican theatre. To justify it, the theatre offers "Moonlight and Pretzels," the frothiest, griliest, most tuneful musical romance of the season, which opens today for three great days.

Fifty of New York's most beautiful girls chosen by America's leading illustrators, a splendid cast headed by Leo Carrillo, Mary Brian, Roger Pryor, Herbert Rawlinson, Alexander Gray, Jack Denny, Lillian Miles, Bernice Claire, The Four Elton Boys, and a dozen others, jolly, taking new songs from America's leading tunesmiths. Dances by Bobby Connelly, and a sumptuous production make a wonderful mid-summer offering.

AT THE PINE TREE
Contrary to widespread belief, genuine college life of today is not one round of exuberant drinking, conspicuous "necking," roaster-tuls of pretty co-eds, slick college sheikhs and a generous load of care-free students whose only reason for attending college is to waste time, spend money and acquire "prestige."

Although these elements are present in the higher institutions
