

Can The Beavers Do It?

Oregon State Has Habit Of Making Things Uncomfortable For Southern California. Norman Franklin Must Be Stopped. Carnera Defends Heavyweight Title Against Uscundun at Rome Sunday.

The University of California Trojans can't go on forever without a defeat. The strength of their 1933 team and the amazing record of 25 successive victories comes very near establishing a precedence in the world of football.

The strain of maintaining a magnificent record, unblemished, the fear of an off Saturday and the rising power of other members of the Pacific coast conference leaves the Trojans in a different mental frame. Their difficulties are almost as great as their opponents' who must overcome the tremendous psychological handicap developing when an underdog squad moves against an eleven listed as the most powerful in the nation and undefeated in almost three years.

Oregon State college has built up a habit of making the Trojans shiver. The Beavers, never winning from the Southern California combination for many years, have, however, been moderately successful in holding the score to the minimum.

In 1932 the Orangemen came pretty close to putting an end to the Trojan success. Southern Cal scored but one touchdown through the Beaver line and added the remainder of its 10 points through a field goal. Little Loyola of Los Angeles held Troy to a single touchdown last season just to prove that it isn't absolutely impossible to destroy the effectiveness of Howard Jones' offense.

There will be some distinct advantages in favor of the Beavers on Multnomah field at Portland Saturday. Lonnie Stine, at first described as a conservative coach, will start tossing passes in the first period. He will throw all he has against Troy in the early part of the game hoping to score and then fight to maintain the advantage through the remainder of the game.

Norman Franklin, the Beavers' backfield candidate for the all-coast, is an excellent man to fit into this style of attack. Franklin has the habit of running back kickoffs to touchdowns—he did it when he was a Rock playing against the Oregon Frosh and he did it again last Saturday against San Francisco University.

Franklin is never idle for a moment. He must be stopped on every play and watched carefully as long as he is in the game. This young man from Long Beach, Calif., may be the lad to upset Troy.

No harm in hoping.

Observing the very worn-out tradition of selecting winners before the weekly Saturday football rush.

Southern California to defeat Oregon State at Portland. Oregon to defeat Idaho at Eugene Friday night.

Washington State to defeat California at Pullman.

Stanford to defeat San Francisco University at Palo Alto.

Washington to defeat Puget Sound at Tacoma.

U. C. L. A. to defeat Loyola at Los Angeles.

Montana to defeat Montana State at Butte.

Perhaps you didn't know it but there is a world's heavyweight bout coming off at Rome on Sunday afternoon.

Primo Carnera, victor over the much shaken Jack Sharkey for the title, meets Paulino Uscundun of Spain for the delight of his home folks. Paulino isn't given the slightest chance to defeat the giant. Paulino and his handlers insist that Uscundun is a good financial risk and state their opinion that the veteran will wear down Primo in the first ten rounds and then beat him in the last five—even knock him out.

Carnera, however, faces the issue rather confidently and it appears as though he was going to have to come back to America to get some real competition—plus some real money.

TOWNIES PLAY PELICAN SQUAD

High School Team Meets Independents Saturday At 2:00.

The Klamath Townies have come to the rescue of a battered high school schedule, and will move onto Modoc field Saturday to meet the Pelicans. The game will start at 2:00 o'clock.

The Pelicans, without a game since playing them at Corvallis, will enter their final competition before meeting Medford here next Friday. Saturday's game will give the team an excellent workout against a squad far stronger than the normal high school opponent.

Lynn Rorcroft, coach of the town team, was uncertain as to the strength of his squad. The Townies have practiced each Sunday for a month, but the absence of a schedule has prevented them arriving at their full power.

Many of the Townies are former Pelicans. The remainder of the lineup will be filled by men who have had either intercollegiate or interscholastic experience.

Lee Avritt, Pelican coach, probably will start his regulars and then give the reserves an opportunity to prepare themselves for the Medford contest.

Along the Sidelines

(By United Press)

PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 20.—Over-confidence that almost gave Montana a victory last Saturday over Washington State college was absent when Coach Babe Hollingbery sent his Cougars through long passing and fundamental drills. The passing combination of Sarboe and Christensen worked well in practice, but line play was ragged. California will work out here Friday.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—The University of California Bears worked out Thursday at Multnomah stadium while en route to play Washington State at Pullman Saturday. A light rain fell throughout the day. Coach "Navy Bill" Ingram warned his players the Cougars have never been defeated on their home field since Hollingbery started coaching there.

SEATTLE, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—A shake-up in the Washington lineup that faces College of Puget Sound Saturday appeared certain as Paul Sullosky, who played half against Oregon, replaced Ralph Smalling at fullback, his old position. The right side of the Husky line is due for some changes too, with Wiatrak, Isaacson and Markov possibly being benched for substitutes.

PALO ALTO, Calif., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Coach Tiny Thornhill worked his Stanford squad on tackling and signals after giving them an intensive drill in blocking, noticeably weak at Chicago. "Bill Sim, Bob O'Connor and Bill Corbus were not blocking the ends in Chicago," said Thornhill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Coach Spud Lewis will send his U. S. F. Glidders against Stanford here Saturday without a shift. He said he had been unable to install the variety of offensive plays he had hoped, and thought abandonment of the shift might speed up the attack.

Gate Receipts Take Big Leap

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Football attendance in the midwest is skyrocketing back to those capacity crowds of the boom days of a few years ago.

The six games in the midwest Saturday, involving Big Ten teams, promise to draw more than 275,000 spectators, the biggest aggregate on a single day in three years.

The demand for tickets to the Michigan-Ohio State game at Ann Arbor is the greatest in four years. A crowd of 57,000, the biggest football gathering in the country in 1933, probably will see the two unbeaten Big Ten teams battle.

More than 30,000 tickets have been sold for Iowa's homecoming game with Wisconsin at Iowa City, and Iowa officials expect a capacity crowd of 42,500 to see the Hawkeyes battle a team beaten, 21-0, a week ago.

Hard Work Order For Frosh As Klamath Game Draws Near

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 20.—(Special)—With a little more than a week left to make ready for their next normal event, the strong Ashland team eleven at Klamath Falls, Saturday, October 28, the University of Oregon freshmen football squad is getting more than its usual share of work this week.

Lack of offensive punch in one territory, which seemed to be the main defect of the yearlings in their opening game with the Oregon State Frosh last week, is getting the lion's share of attention from Coaches Bill Reinhardt and Irv Schulz. While the Ducklings took a 7 to 3 decision from their first year rivals, it was through a fumbled punt on the rocks 10-yard line that they got in a scoring position.

The frosh are getting plenty of tough competition, as Frank Callison, varsity coach, is having things his own way at center. Dale Hardisty and Del Burchard, first string guards, are receiving stiff competition from Bill Estes, ex-Klamath Falls star, and John Augustus, who comes from New Jersey. Alan Davis, ex-Grant star from Portland, is another likely prospect.

Pat Furry, brother of Con Furry, varsity guard, is paired with Del Bjork, late of Astoria high school fame, at the tackle posts. McAdams and Vanderzanden are second string tackles.

The end posts are very capably filled by Joe Murray, Seattle, and Alan Wilson, Spokane. Murray, who was outstanding player in Seattle grid circles last year, is regarded as a great varsity prospect. Wilson, although a bit light, is a great pass catcher, and is turning into a fine defensive wingman. He is a brother of Billy Wilson, captain and all-coast end for Gonzaga last year.

Oregon Meets Vandal Squad In Night Game

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 20. (AP)—With the University of Oregon favored to defeat the University of Idaho in their coast conference contest here tonight, the Webfoots and the Vandals rest today as they awaited the opening gun under the arc lights of Hayward field.

The Webfoots have been ruled the favorites by reason of their 6 to 0 victory last Saturday over the University of Washington Huskies, who had previously defeated the Vandals, 32 to 6.

The games between the Vandals and the Webfoots, however, always have been hard fought, and Coach Prink Callison devoted a great deal of his efforts this week to keeping the Oregon men from acquiring any over-confidence. Idaho is reported to have one of its most powerful teams in years.

Cards' Hurler Asking $20,000 For Next Year

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, modest pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, wants a $20,000 salary next year.

"The New York Giants offered to give $25,000 for me last year, and the Cards held out for $20,000," he said here today.

"If I'm worth that much to them, then I'm worth $20,000 a year."

Dizzy's salary last year was reported at $10,000.

In support of the $20,000 ambition, Dean said that with himself and his younger brother, Paul, in the lineup the Cardinals have a "chance" to win the National league pennant.

Ira Dern Takes Salt Lake Match

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Ira Dern, 210, Salt Lake City, defeated Sam Leatherson, 212, Philadelphia, here last night. Dern won the first fall in 18 minutes with a flying headlock. Leatherson took the second fall in 16 minutes, using a hand hook scissors. The Utahns brought a body press into play to take the concluding fall in seven minutes.

Freight Loadings Show Increases

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—The American Railway Association announced today that loadings of revenue freight for the week ended October 14 were 664,058 cars, a increase of 9,430 over the preceding week and 14,568 over the 1932 week.

ive player. He does a large share of the team's punting and can pass accurately when called on.

Elton Owen, another Eugene high graduate, is having a merry fight with Phil Penn, all-star from Jefferson high in Portland, for the quarterback berth. Penn has been on the injured list for the past few weeks, but upon returning to practice has been showing some of his prep school ability.

The outstanding halfback candidates are Elmore Borden, former Olympia, Wash., star, and Bill Nye, who, along with John Kitzmiller from Harrisburg, Pa. Borden shared honors with Bishop in the rock contest. Rex Hamer, former Klamath Falls star, is pressing both men, and may get a regular berth.

John Farrar, a former San Francisco all-star, is having things his own way at center. Dale Hardisty and Del Burchard, first string guards, are receiving stiff competition from Bill Estes, ex-Klamath Falls star, and John Augustus, who comes from New Jersey. Alan Davis, ex-Grant star from Portland, is another likely prospect.

WHEAT PURCHASING PROGRAM REPORTED

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Unconfirmed but unrefuted reports that the North Pacific Emergency Export association has entered inland empire markets to purchase wheat for export were current in the trade here today.

The association is the vehicle set up by Secretary Wallace for the expedited movement of about 35,000,000 bushels of Pacific northwest surplus wheat.

While no announcement has come from the executive committee of the association at Portland, dealers indicated the association came into this market yesterday, and it was estimated buying orders for $50,000 to 600,000 bushels were placed at market prices.

Brooklyn Youth Wins Main Event From Kid Berg

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Tony Falco of Brooklyn last night registered a major boxing upset by winning a 10-round decision over Jackie "Kid" Berg, famous English lightweight, before 6000 fans at Broadway arena.

Falco beat Berg at his own game—fighting. Berg, considered one of the outstanding contenders for Barney Ross' lightweight crown, started off brilliantly, winning the first and second rounds with his buzz-saw attack.

Falco's body punches slowed him up in the third, which was even. Then the Brooklyn mauler went on to take the next five sessions. Berg rallied in the ninth, winning that and the 10th rounds. Each weighed 140 1/2 pounds.

Low Feldman, 130, Brooklyn, took the decision over Jerry Mazza, 127, Brooklyn, in the eight round semi-final. Varian Milling, 127, Philippines, took an eight-round verdict over Pete Hayes, 125 1/2, New York.

The Westfalen, a German steamer which is to serve as a landing station for the German transatlantic plane route to South America, is on its way to its station in the South Atlantic. Service on this route is expected to start before the end of the year.

The compromise was drawn in anticipation of remedial legislation action next month.

GREEK BEATEN BY KARASICK

Jack Kugat Defeats Pat Reilly on Foul In Semi-Windup

One convincing fall and Harry Demetral, the Greek, joined the ranks of those wrestlers defeated at the Legion hall by Al Karasick. The Russian Lion, turning Demetral's mistakes to his own profit, won the single fall in 20 minutes and 30 seconds.

The Greek, his back bent by a Boston crab hold, was carried from the ring. Karasick refused his petition for an extra five-minute rest period.

Referee Wins Favor

Dr. Napoleon Devore, the referee and wrestler from Paris, was generous to Pat Reilly, who was out of action throughout both matches.

The French heavyweight managed to squeeze in a considerable amount of wrestling, losing his shirt and win the admiration of the spectators. Devore kept the bouts free from unnecessary fouling and a disordered action throughout both matches.

Karasick won from Demetral through airiness. The stockily built Greek, pounding Al on the head, failed to recall the Russian's reputation for handling the Boston crab hold. The Lion came up from the mat, flipped the Greek off his feet and applied the fatal hold.

Canadian Wins

The semi-windup bout was probably the most interesting of the two.

Kugat, champion of Canada from Toronto, defeated Pat Reilly of Boston on a foul.

The Canadian won the first fall with a series of vicious shoulder butts that sent Reilly flying across the ring. Reilly, bewildered and shaken, fell an easy victim to a body press in 15 minutes.

The Boston athlete captured the second fall in a similar manner after slightly more than five minutes of wrestling.

Devore, constantly warning Reilly for roughness and aroused by his punching in the second fall, awarded the bout to Kugat after Reilly had knocked him out with a right to the jaw. Kugat had to be dragged to his feet as the referee raised his hand.

OKLAHOMA BANDIT SOUGHT ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, taunting and elusive Oklahoma desperado, was sought in northern California today on reports he was in this vicinity.

One report, purporting to come from the notorious killer himself, was that he was in San Francisco taking a look at Alcatraz Island prison which is to be converted within 90 days into the United States "Devils Island" for desperate criminals.

Ohio Protests New Ball Used By Michigan

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Michigan's attempts to introduce a new football, supposed to aid forward passing and general handling of the ball, into the Michigan-Ohio state game Saturday at Ann Arbor was protested Thursday by Coach Sam Williamson and Athletic Director L. W. St. John of Ohio State.

The ball has a rough mesh marking stamped on the cover and the surface is treated with a semi-adhesive substance. After trying the ball in practice, the Ohio State players and coaches rejected it.

Williamson and St. John, in a letter today to Coach Harry Kipke, said they did not want to use the new ball, and said it would be poor sportsmanship to try out the new ball in this important game before its use becomes more general. Kipke had informed the Ohio coaches that he planned to use the new ball.

FOOTBALL

Southern Calif. Heavy Favorite Against Oregon State Beavers

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Their last heavy practice of the week behind them, the Orangemen of Oregon State college made ready to leave at noon today for Portland, where they will meet the University of Southern California Trojans Saturday in a coast conference game.

Overcast skies today gave threat that a repetition of yesterday's heavy rain might result in a wet field Saturday, but the Orangemen appeared little troubled at the prospect, although Coach Lon Stiner admitted that considering his backfield is much lighter than that of the Trojans, a fast, dry field would be much more to his liking.

With virtually no injuries to subtract from their strength, the squad of 36 players will go through a light workout at Portland this afternoon before retiring to seclusion until game time.

The Trojans, scheduled to arrive in Portland today, are rated heavy favorites, and the general prediction among followers of the game at Portland is that they will defeat the Orangemen by 28 points. Fans here, however, have remarked that there is no evidence of a merely "hold em" attitude on the part of the Orangemen. In fact, little attempt has been made to conceal the desire of the Staters to get the full end of the score to put over one of the major upsets of the season in the coast conference.

Ashland Back On Pelicans' Grid Schedule

Resumption of athletic relations with Ashland high school was announced Friday by Dwight French, director of Pelican athletics. The November 18 game with the Grizzlies from the valley was rescheduled and will be played on Modoc field.

Ashland and Klamath encountered schedule difficulties this season through a misunderstanding. Klamath prepared to meet the Grizzlies here on October 14 but three days before the game Ashland announced it had a contest with Lakeview.

Because of the difficulty the second game was cancelled along with the first.

Bringing Ashland to Klamath falls next month will give the Pelicans two more home games before the season closes. Medford will meet Klamath on Modoc field next Friday. The Pelicans play Grants Pass in the valley this season and the Lava Bears at Bend.

Pacific Eleven Meets Whitman At Walla Walla

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Anso Cornell has a chance to play the "big, bad" role when his Pacific University Badgers meet Whitman college at Walla Walla Saturday.

Whitman, chief contender for the northwest conference crown held by College of Puget Sound, can tie the Loggers by a victory over Pacific. A win would put Pacific in a tie for second spot. Nig Borlesko's Missionaries took a conference game from Linfield 7-6, while last Saturday Linfield blanked Pacific in a surprise upset, 15-0.

Although the Pacific-Whitman game is the lone northwest conference clash, several member teams have bitten off large chunks for Saturday's play.

BONANZA BOYS BEAT WILDCATS

Two Touchdowns in Final Period Bring Win, 14 to 0.

Bonanza's sturdy football team rode to victory over the Klamath Wildcats in the last quarter of a ruggedly fought football game Thursday afternoon. The Bonanza boys, contenders for the county championship, scored two touchdowns and converted two goals to blank the Klamath youths, 14-0.

The contest was played in a strong wind at Bonanza. The breeze alternately handicapped both punters but the Wildcat squad was fighting against the wind in the fourth period when both scores were made.

Bonanza's first touchdown came from a forward pass advancing the ball to the Klamath four-yard line. Two smashes over the right side of the Wildcat forward wall brought the score.

A Bonanza punt carried deep into Klamath territory by the wind led the way for the second score. The Wildcats, in attempting to kick out to midfield saw the ball swirl almost straight into the air and fall on the 15-yard line.

The Bonanza backs carried the ball over on straight bucks through the line.

Gerald Musselman, Wildcat center, was removed from the game with a pulled ligament in his leg. It was the second casualty of the season at center. Last week Arthur Brooks, regular pivot man, dislocated his shoulder.
