

WCTU FORCES MOBILIZE TO FIGHT LIQUOR

PORTLAND, Oct. 20. (AP)—Education of children and adults to the value of total abstinence will be re-emphasized by the Women's Temperance Union of Oregon as one of the major moves in dealing with the return of liquor after more than 15 years of prohibition.

This work of the W. C. T. U. was re-assured here Thursday and today, the closing day of the 26th annual convention of the temperance organization.

Mrs. Jolley Elected

Mrs. Ada Jolley was re-elected president of the state union at yesterday's session. The only change in the list of officers was substitution of Mrs. Etsa White of Portland for Mrs. M. Frances Swope as corresponding secretary. Mrs. Swope had served for more than 29 years and retired this year.

Miss Maude M. Aldrich of Gresham, national director of the motion picture department of the W. C. T. U., made one of the principal addresses of the day. "It has been found," she said, "that normal offspring become practically extinct when the father and mother had been users of alcohol for five generations. As long as alcohol exists or is used as a form of beverage the children of the land will not have a fair opportunity to be well reared."

"We must educate children and adults to the value of total abstinence, including in our education the scientific fact that an average drink of alcoholic liquor narrows the vision and slows down the cooperation between mind and muscle on a hand."

Resuming the Disarmament Discussion

around Merrill. Many are storing, as the price at present doesn't justify selling, but it is thought the price will be better as soon as there is no doubt that there is a great shortage in the county. People are here from every place looking for work, many with families, hoping they can get a little work. They have picked berries around Portland, hops at Independence, fruit on the Rouge river and spuds in Klamath. There seems to be no set price for picking.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinette, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Lewis and family, Miss Mary Tolle and Mrs. Peyton of Klamath Falls spent Sunday afternoon on a picnic at the Stronghold.

Mrs. Calvin Peyton and children spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Tolle.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hodges have returned from a trip east, visiting the fair in Chicago.

To Pick Winner

Some charitable organization will be $1,000.00 richer when the people of the Pacific coast tell Earl B. Gilmore, president of the Gilmore Oil company, and donor of the gift, just which philanthropy they consider the most deserving. To be sure that the organization or movement that receives the award is the most popular, the selection will be made by means of a coast-wide ballot.

To offset the possibility of the largest centers of population dominating the vote, it has been arranged so that the final decision will be based on the largest vote in proportion to the population of the communities in which the favorite charities are located. Thus the smallest towns will have an even chance with the larger cities.

Everyone is entitled to one vote and heads of charitable organizations are marshalling their supporters and well-wishers to register as large a vote as possible. The only requirement necessary is a regulation ballot which can be obtained from any Gilmore dealer. All votes must be in by November 17 when the ballots will be counted. This final count will be judged by Spencer Tracy, popular motion picture star.

Mr. Gilmore originally offered to pay $1,000.00 to charity for any brand of gasoline that was proved to be better than Fortified Gilmore Red Lion. The challenge was not accepted so he decided to give the money away anyway, aiding by the choice of the voters.

MERRILL

LAKEVIEW

TULELAKE, Calif.—On Friday evening, Oct. 13, Tulelake Sunday school entertained the high school pupils and grade school teachers with a party given at the church. Games were enjoyed for several hours, after which refreshments were served by the ladies in charge.

There was a good attendance at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the American Legion, held Tuesday night, Oct. 16, at the Legion hall. A number of subjects of importance to the post and community were discussed. The Legion auxiliary met at the same time in another part of the hall.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. G. Frey, Mrs. C. Penlar and Mrs. R. Gauger, hostesses for the evening.

Regular services are now being held at the Tulelake church. Rev. S. H. Jewell of Merrill has arranged to hold morning services at Tulelake on the second and fourth Sundays of the month and evening services the first and third Sundays. Sunday school is at 10 o'clock every Sunday morning as usual. At the evening service there will be a Christian Endeavor meeting followed by a short service conducted by Rev. Jewell.

On Thursday evening the Tulelake grange held a meeting in the Legion hall. Following the business meeting a card party and excellent refreshments were enjoyed by all present.

Tulelake P. T. A. held an executive meeting at the grade school on Friday afternoon. Plans were made for the reception to be given to teachers and parents on Friday evening, Oct. 20. At this time the new high school building will be completed and the reception will be held there, giving the parents an excellent opportunity to inspect the new building.

JACKSON LEAVES FOR CONFERENCE

Paul T. Jackson, principal of Klamath Union high school, left Thursday to attend the annual conference of high school principals at Salem. The session opened Friday, and will continue Saturday.

Mr. Jackson expected to return Sunday.

SALEM, Oct. 20. (AP)—More than 100 high school principals from over the state were in attendance today at the opening of the two-day conference at the capitol with Charles A. Howard, superintendent of public instruction.

Speakers during the morning in addition to Howard were Clyde E. Bear of Roseburg, Fred D. Wolf of Salem, and Rex Putnam of Albany. The business session will get under way during the afternoon, with the conference dinner set for tonight.

Officers of the association are Rex Putnam president, E. D. Towler of Astoria, vice president, and R. W. Tavener of Salem, secretary-treasurer, W. E. Kratt of North Powder and Chas. C. Johnson of Lapine are additional members of the executive committee.

MURDERER HANGED AT SAN QUENTIN

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Oct. 20. (AP)—Offered all the whiskey he could stand in his walk to the gallows, Dallas Eagan, 40, climbed steadily and alone the 13 steps on the scaffold here today and was put to death for the murder of William J. Kirkpatrick of Battle Creek, Mich., in a Los Angeles holdup last July.

Prison authorities said Eagan took only one small drink of Kentucky bourbon a half hour before he was executed and asked for no more. The order to give him all he wanted was made a few days ago by Governor James Rolph, Jr., after Eagan had refused to seek clemency and had proclaimed his willingness to die by the noose, which he referred to as "the best way out."

Eagan refused spiritual guidance after first talking with a Presbyterian minister and then with the Rev. William J. Meade, Catholic priest.

EMPLOYERS GUESTS OF TWENTY-THIRTY

City employers were honored Thursday evening when they were special guests at a dinner given by the local 29-30 club, when each member of the club brought his employer or a guest to the banquet, which was given at the Willard hotel.

E. B. Hall was the principal speaker, taking as his subject, "Importance of Service Clubs and the Chamber of Commerce in Building Up the Community."

Hall asserted that the development of the whole state depended upon the activities of such organizations and said that Oregon was more in need of such support than either California or Washington, because of her smaller population.

Special music for the evening was furnished by Ed Fargo, at the piano, and Les Spannus on the saxophone.

Ray Beers, of the Klamath Flower shop, and Lester Thompson, of the New Method Cleaners were introduced as new 29-30 members.

MURDER SUSPECTED IN SILVERTON CASE

SILVERTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Foul play brought death to Mathew Hage, 60, here last Saturday morning, a coroner's jury found at an inquest here yesterday. Identity of the assailant or assailants remained a mystery.

The jury reported that a skull fracture caused from a blow on the head by a person or persons unknown resulted in death. Witnesses testified that Hage had taken two drinks of moonshine and three glasses of beer the night before and that he had between $15 and $20 on his person, a small portion of which was in his pockets when he was found.
