Named Again in Heiress Bride Magdalen Role Of Opera Star

Brown shirts of the Nazi regime have replaced the patriarchal robes of Oberammergau, scene of the Passion Play, and the Hitler salute is the greeting to visitors in the far-famed Bavarian town. But the "new day" means little to Clara Mayr, above, for her thoughts are centered on her portrayal of the role of Mary Magdalen in the next Passion Play. In the recent election, she was chosen again for the part which she played in 1930.

The golden notes of Miss Mona Chapman Wood, above, southern California heiress, and Richard Bonelli, famous baritone of the New York Metropolitan Opera Company, have been blended in a matrimonial duet. The ceremony was performed at Riverside, Calif.

Gets Post on Democratic Committee

Long an active campaigner for President Roosevelt, Miss Mary W. Dawson (left) was appointed director of the women's division of the Democratic National Committee by Postmaster General James A. Farley, committee chairman. She is shown with Mrs. Roosevelt, one of her best friends, after induction ceremonies in Washington.

GRID VICTIM

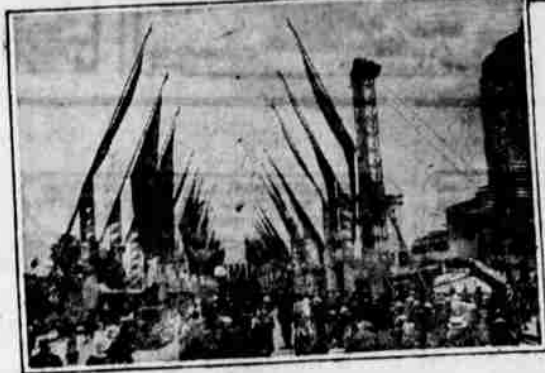

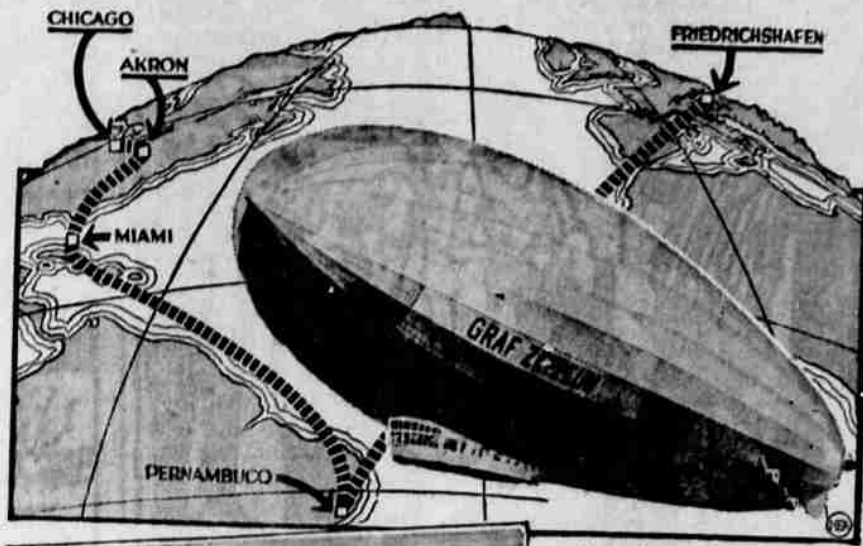

Add to the growing list of grid injury victims the name of Harry Temple, captain and speedy halfback of New York University's squad. Temple, an Altoona, Pa., boy, suffered a concussion after being kicked in the head in the Lafayette game. He is in a New York hospital in "fair" condition.

HEAD MAN?

The report suddenly has started to make the rounds that Mickey Cochrane, above, great Athletics' basketball, will direct the destiny of the Detroit Tigers next season. Mickey has been said to be slipping with Mack's crew, which adds weight to the Detroit report.

Graf Zeppelin to Climax World Fair Thrills

Eager throngs at the Chicago World's Fair will tender a tumultuous welcome to the exposition's most distinguished visitor—the Graf Zeppelin—late this month. The German air colossus turning north from its regular trans-Atlantic terminal at Pernambuco, Brazil, will fly first to Miami, Fla., then on to Akron, and finally to Chicago. It is due in Miami on October 23, according to present plans, in Akron on October 24, and in Chicago possibly October 26, all arrangements for the trip not being complete. Above are shown the Graf, its course, and a World Fair scene.

Nature's Magic Beautifies Towering Building

Verdant beauty of a country estate blends with the cold stone pile of the French building, Rockefeller Center, New York City, to form a horticultural masterpiece in the heart of the metropolis. Atop the sixth floor terrace roof, as shown here, a velvety lawn has been placed, shaded by trees, and flanked by yew hedges. The British Empire building, in background, has been landscaped in similar manner.

Depression Flees Before Dragon

Chinatown just said "sic 'em" to its dragon and the depression was over! Celebration of the return of better days marked the famed Jade Festival in San Francisco, when the Great Dragon—150 feet long—made his first appearance since 1913. The monster is shown here as he was drawn through the streets, preceded by Chinese workers to cast out the evil spirits, in a spectacular night parade.

Barney Scores Another Kayo

A romance that began when they met by chance in a Chicago physician's office will be climaxed by the wedding of Joan Abbott, above, of stage fame, and Barney Ross, below, champion lightweight pugilist—if reports started by their friends are true. Neither Ross nor Miss Abbott will confirm or deny the report.

Blue Eagle to "Fly" Over South Pole

One bird going farther south this winter than any other is the renowned blue eagle of NRA fame. Here you see General Hugh S. Johnson (right), NRA administrator, giving Captain Al Williams, speed flyer, the blue eagle banner which Admiral Byrd will take to the South Pole and drop from a plane.
