Supervisor

The local lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose has arranged to conduct an extensive membership campaign for their lodge, and after much effort they have been able to secure Deputy Supervisor J. F. McCracken of the organization department to supervise the membership drive for new members. He comes to the local lodge with the highest of credentials, has 18 years experience in the organization work, and is known throughout the order as "The Little Giant" of Moosedom. He is a member of five fraternal orders, is a 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner. He will be present for the meeting on Thursday evening, November 2, and the local lodge is arranging for a big welcome meeting for him on this night. A record attendance is expected on this night.

The lodge has adopted as its slogan for the campaign, "Each One Get One," and the first class initiation will be held in the Moose hall on Thursday evening, November 16. The local lodge now has a large membership, but expects to double the membership on this campaign.

PELICAN

THREE-CORNERED MOON

The antics of America's craziest family are brought to the screen in Paramount's "Three-Cornered Moon," starring Claudette Colbert, Richard Arlen and Mary Boland, which opens today at the Pelican theatre. The film, adapted from the famous New York play by Gertrude Tenenbaum which had such a long run on Broadway, was produced by H. P. Schulberg.

Also in the cast are Wallace Ford, Lydia Robert, Tom Brown, Joan Marsh, Harlie Albright and William Bakewell. It is the story of the fortunes of the Rimpel family of Brooklyn. In the hands of the apple-headed mother, Mary Boland, is left the family's money after the death of Papa Rimpel. The self-centered children, Wallace Ford, Tom Brown and William Bakewell, are too busy with their own affairs to pay attention to mama's exploits in Wall street. Everybody talks at once in the Rimpel mansion, and nobody knows what anybody else is talking about.

It ends on a happy note and the family remains as insane as it always was with no one, except Claudette Colbert and Richard Arlen, any the wiser.

snub him. Unabashed Max worms himself into their set and tries to marry the belle and make Terry a scapegoat for his fiance and punish the upstart. George E. Stone is in the title role. Phillips Holmes enacts the role of Terry and Miss Wray is seen as the society girl. George Archibald directed "The Big Brain," whose supporting cast includes Minna Gombell, Lucien Littlefield, Sam Hardy, Lillian Bond, Reginald Owen and Reginald Mason.

RAINBOW
The world laughed at Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts when they made their debut together, and the world is still laughing. "The Unexpected Father" was the first co-starring vehicle for these comedians and its popularity has caused it to be brought back for a two day engagement at the Rainbow theatre beginning Sunday.

AT THE VOX
The attraction at the Vox theatre for the next four days is "Storm at Daybreak," a vibrant love story of three lives entwined in an unusual conflict. The plot centers about Kay Francis, young wife of Walter Huston, wealthy Hungarian landowner. Huston has long been worried because he suspects that his wife's affection for him is rather that of a daughter for a father. Nils Asther, Hungarian officer, who has saved Huston's life during a mob uprising contingent upon the assassination of the Archduke Ferdinand of Austria at Sarajevo, becomes military governor of the district. Asther and Miss Francis fall in love but the man who is friend to one and husband to the other is a perpetual bar to their happiness. The story is brought to a terrific climax when Huston discovers what is going on under his own roof. The picture was directed by Richard Boleslavsky of "Rasputin and the Empress" fame, and the cast also features Phillips Holmes, Eugene Pallette, C. Henry Gordon, Louise Closser Hale and Joan Parker.

PARACHUTE STUNT SET FOR SUNDAY

Dick Cooper, Harrisburg, Pa. parachute jumper, will leap from an altitude of 3000 feet at the Airport Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. The daring stunt will hurl Cooper 2000 feet before he opens his chute.

Cooper, who has been barnstorming the country, is a certified pilot and parachute performer. He has appeared frequently in air circuses all over the country.

Cooper will leap with a smoke bag. The bag will be opened before the parachute and a "smoke screen" spread through the air.

WEATHER

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy shows that the barometric pressure has been falling all day and in fact is at the lowest point reached this season. Conditions will remain unsettled for the next 12 hours at least, with possible clearing Sunday.

The Tyco recording thermometer registered maximum and minimum temperatures today as follows:

High 62
Low 44
Forecast for next 24 hours: Unsettled with brisk winds and showers.

The United States weather bureau reports 0.12 precipitation for the hours ending Friday at 5 p. m.; a trace for the season to date; .87 normal; .34 last year.

Fall flowers were used in the rooms and on the attractive tea table. The program and refreshments were in charge of Ewanna circle of the society, under the direction of Mrs. Frederick C. Forbes.

Mrs. Forbes read an interesting paper during the afternoon, and a group of songs was presented by Mrs. Wallace Uerlings.

A large group of members and friends of the society was in attendance.

Mrs. Rahlen Hastings, Mrs. Roy Holmes, Mrs. Elton Moore, and Mrs. Frank Humphrey were co-hostesses to their bridge club Wednesday evening at Mrs.

Holmes' home on Roseway Drive.

Supper was served at 6:00 o'clock, and was immediately followed by contract. Mrs. George Myers and Miss Cecile Vandenberg of Portland were guests of the evening.

MRS. PENWARDEN HONOR GUEST AT LOVELY TEA

Mrs. C. A. Humble was hostess at a charming tea Friday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Walter Penwarden, recently from Oskaloosa, Iowa, who has come to Klamath Falls to reside.

Forty guests called to greet Mrs. Penwarden between the hours of 3:00 and 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Glenn Kent and Mrs. Percy Murray presided at the tea table, which was centered with a lovely arrangement of yellow roses and bronze pom-pom chrysanthemums, and lighted by tall cream colored tapers.

Mrs. Walter West, Mrs. F. E. Drake and Mrs. R. P. Ellingson assisted the hostess about the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holmes left Thursday for Portland and other Oregon cities, where they will spend the weekend visiting friends and relatives. The plans to return to Klamath Falls on Monday.

Mrs. John Boyle and her daughter, Marguerite, of Medford, are spending the weekend in Klamath Falls, visiting at the home of Mrs. Jo Ann De-weese, 815 Eldorado street. Mrs. Boyle and her daughter drove over from Medford to attend the Saturday afternoon football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whitlock will be host and hostess at their beautiful home on High street Saturday evening, at a dinner party preceding the Reames Golf and Country club dance.

A number of other delightful informal dinner parties are being planned for Saturday evening.

The Shamrock bridge club met at the home of Mrs. T. H. Massey on Thursday evening, when three tables were in play. High score was awarded to Mrs. G. H. Rogers, and second high to Mrs. Ona Basley. Low score went to Mrs. Ben Trippett.

Mrs. Wayne Jarry and Mrs. Saxton Avery of Dorris, were guests in Klamath Falls at the home of Mrs. Ira E. Sherman Wednesday afternoon, when they attended an interesting meeting of the study group.

Mrs. Ira Sherman was a guest of the Dorris Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wayne Jarry of that city. Three tables were in play during the afternoon.
