Billy Edwards Defeats Thye; Karasick Draws

PORTLAND, Nov. 2. (AP)—Taking two out of three falls, Billy Edwards, 159, of Kansas City won the main event on last night's wrestling program here from Ted Thye, 196, of Portland.

Edwards won the first fall with a headlock in 10 minutes, lost the second in 10 minutes to Thye who used a series of shoulder butts and a body press, then took the deciding tumble in 5 minutes with another headlock.

Al Karasick, 191, Portland, and Billy Burns, 195, Omaha, went five rounds to a draw in the semi-windup.

Leo Jensen, 162, Vancouver, B. C., won from Glenn Storne, 167, Olympia, Wash.

Period of Forest Exploiting Ended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—The end of forest exploitation in the United States was foreseen here today as a check of national and state foresters and representatives of the lumber industries found all groups emphatic in the opinion "that forest perpetuation has been definitely determined upon."

The era of exploitive utilization of the product of 500,000,000 acres of land—one-fourth of the area of the entire country—is definitely at an end," said officials at the National Lumber Manufacturers' association headquarters, where it also was pointed out that "in ordinary times this would have been an achievement that would have rocked the nation with gratified amazement."

Lumbermen and foresters have found a common ground of action in their pledge to "make sustained production of forest resources a definite part of their operations," thus ending "the war between lumbermen and foresters."

The final form of the conservation program, which was agreed upon at the recent lumber conference here, will be decided upon here in December after leaders of the industry in all sections of the country have had an opportunity to study its provisions.

Following approval by the lumber conservation conference, it will be presented to President Roosevelt for inclusion in the NRA lumber code. At the same time the recommendations of the conference for public action with regard to taxation, financing of forest growing, fire protection, public purchase of forest land, systematic treatment of tax forfeited timber lands, disposal of government timber and cooperative management of adjacent or intermingled public and private forests will be presented to the president.

Final Result Of Anti-Liquor Drive Known Next Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—By next Tuesday midnight the nation should know whether the eighteenth amendment is to be deleted from the constitution. Ballots in six states will tell the tale, although actual ratification of the result, in state conventions, cannot come before December 5.

Kentucky Tuesday postpones tabulation of ballots for a day, but returns from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Utah and North and South Carolina should show the outcome.

Administration leaders express no doubt about the result, claiming that all these states will join the wet parade now numbering 33 commonwealths. Thirty-six states are necessary for ratification of the substitute constitutional amendment, leaving but three to be added.

Early tabulation is expected in most of the states because of the few issues before the voters.

REFERENDUM VOTE DISCUSSED HERE

Probability that a referendum vote on the city's gross sales tax, if called for, will not take place until the regular city election in November, 1934, was given by city officials and other observers Thursday.

It was stated that the city council could call a special election or could permit the vote to wait until the general election, under terms of the initiative and referendum ordinance. One city councilman said that it was his opinion no special election would be called.

If the referendum is invoked, the new ordinance would not take effect until a popular vote is taken. The measure is scheduled to go into effect on January 1.

Mayor Mahoney said that while the referendum would postpone the date the ordinance takes effect, if it is sustained in a later election it will be retroactive and the city can then proceed to collect the back payments.

Opponents of the tax are believed to be considering the referendum, but no public action has been taken in that direction. An alternative would be a court fight against the ordinance, which might develop when the city attempts to collect the tax from merchants after the first of the year.

Members of the council can alter or repeal the ordinance at any time, it was said.

Long Shot Wins In Bay Region Racing Event

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Boardwalk, once considered a Kentucky Derby possibility, won by a nose from Harry Unna's crack Teralco in the San Francisco Inaugural, paying off at $75.00, or better than $7 to 1.

In custody, however, was a woman who agents said they believed was his wife. She was seized at the Sheridan Road apartment hotel where the Miller had registered, as Mr. and Mrs. George Hayes, a few minutes after Miller made a spectacular dash from the place last night while machine guns rained bullets all around him.
