Plan Postoffice Help—Word has been received here that Postmaster General Farley has announced plans for postoffice employment of temporary help during the Christmas mailing season in order to afford the maximum amount of employment for those in distress throughout the country. Postmasters have been instructed to employ competent and deserving men and women who are unemployed and have dependents. They are to cooperate with federal and local relief agencies in selecting help.

To Return Monday—Mayor Will E. Mahoney is expected to be back at his office Monday, following a trip to Portland, where he spoke over the radio and to the Willamette society, a democratic organization.

Fire Fire Quenched—The fire department was called out at 5:30 o'clock Friday evening to quench a chimney fire at 217 North Third street. Although the blaze looked threatening, it was quenched without damage to the house which is the property of E. W. Vanuice.

Langell Valley

The Guild of St. Barnabas church held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday. Mrs. Baird came out from Klamath Falls and plans to meet with the Guild each month and give a course in church history.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner who have been visiting in the valley for several weeks have returned to their home in Nez Perce, Idaho, taking Mrs. Turner's mother back with them.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ticknor attended the all-day meeting at Henley of the state and Pomona grange officers. Round table discussions were held throughout the day and in the evening the fifth and sixth degrees were given to many members throughout the county.

The regular meeting of the Y. P. F. of St. Barnabas church was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Virginia Monroe. It was decided to try meeting at the homes of the young people for the winter months in stead of meeting at the parish hall.

Hattie Weygant spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Weygant.

The Misses Virginia Monroe, Grace Brown and Emily Lou Hanks were the Langell Valley girls who attended the Business and Professional Women's club in Klamath Falls, when the club entertained the "future business women" of the county at a banquet. The junior and senior girls of all the county high schools were invited to attend.

FT. KLAMATH

M. and Mrs. Guss Page and son Gene spent the week-end visiting relatives in Medford.

Among local fans who attended the wrestling bouts held Friday night in the American Legion hall in Klamath Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Taylor, Mrs. Sadye Page, and Mrs. Margaret Doty.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mollen and baby son of Klamath Falls spent Sunday in Fort Klamath, where Mrs. Mollen and baby visited for the day at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards, while Mr. Mollen and Mr. Edwards enjoyed a day of hunting ducks and geese.

WEATHER

Barometric conditions continue to be favorable for fine weather and Sunday will probably be another fine day. The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy shows that the barometric pressure is slightly higher than Friday. Temperatures likely to remain at present levels.

The Tyco recording thermometer registered maximum and minimum temperatures Saturday as follows:

High ..... 47
Low ..... 27
Forecast for next 24 hours:
Fair with moderate temperatures.

The potato crop being the basis of its principal export, alcohol, Esthonia is nicknamed "the potato republic."

SMITH PASTORATE ANNIVERSARY SET

Three years ago this Sunday the First Presbyterian church heard the Rev. Theodore Smith for the first time.

During that period 189 members have been received into the fellowship of the church. Of these 104 were on profession of faith, the remainder by letters of transfer from various parts of the country.

Not only is every department of the church and Sunday school in a flourishing condition, but two fine Sunday schools are under the direction of this congregation in Altamont and in the Fairhaven district. George W. McIntyre is the superintendent of the main school, Mrs. Ralph Henry of the Altamont school, and Mrs. Stella Bowne of the Fairhaven school. This congregation has the honor of being the pioneer church in Klamath county. In addition to this it has been self-supporting from the very beginning of its history in 1884. This February the local church expects to celebrate its fiftieth birthday.

MERRILL

MERRILL, Ore. — The Christian Endeavor society gave a Halloween social at the church annex Wednesday evening. The room was attractively decorated appropriate to the Halloween season. Games were played and refreshments of elder and doughnuts were served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bowman had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Haskins, Myron and Wilbur Haskins. Mrs. Leah Van Brimmer has been visiting friends and relatives in Merrill. Mrs. Van Brimmer is one of the pioneer residents of Merrill, but for several years has been making her home in California. While here she was the guest of her brother, George Wilson, and niece, Mrs. E. F. Merritt. She is the grandmother of Lyle Merritt.

Miss Dorothy Haskins made a trip to Medford Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Millard spent several days in Medford last week visiting relatives. They returned Sunday evening.

Mrs. John W. Taylor made a trip to Beatty Monday. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Anderson left Saturday for Chiloquin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wyan spent Sunday with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Shuck, at Tule lake.

W. F. Hill made a trip to Medford the last of the week. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Haskins of Ashland spent several days in Merrill last week visiting relatives.

The weather the past week has been ideal. There is enough moisture in the ground to plow and some are taking advantage of this to save on the spring work.

Beetle Control Crew At Work

ALTURAS, Calif. — Working under the forest service NIRA program, a crew of 30 men are engaged in bark beetle control work in the western part of this county where the inroads of the bark beetle has played havoc in the ponderosa pine stands.

The camp is located at the Pickering Lumber company, in the heart of the heaviest bark beetle infestation and in a section where many millions of feet of merchantable pine timber have been killed by the pest during the past few years.

Termites enow away from the inside and their damage to wooden structures is unsuspected until the object attacked is ready to collapse.

Today "Who's Afraid To Fight!"

LEE TRACY in PRIVATE JONES ANY SEAT 15c ANY TIME
Rainbow THEATRE

Amusements

The Pine Tree—Now playing, "Blind Adventure," with Robert Armstrong, Helen Mack and Roland Young.

The Pelican—Now playing, "Charlie Chan's Greatest Case," with Warner Baxter.

The Rainbow—Now playing, Lee Tracy in "Private Jones."

At the Vox—Now playing, "Turn Back the Clock," with Lee Tracy.

PINE TREE

The most amazing burglar ever to ply his trade on the motion picture screen is responsible for much of the hilarity and excitement in "Blind Adventure," RKO-Radio Pictures' thrilling story of midnight adventure coming to the Pine Tree theatre today, with Robert Armstrong, Helen Mack and Roland Young.

This light-fingered and nimble-witted gentleman answers to the name of "Sherlock" Holmes. He preys upon fellow crooks, risks his life to rescue a beautiful girl in distress, and aids an amateur detective in running down a gang of criminals.

PELICAN

"Charlie Chan's Greatest Case," the new Fox production that opens today at the Pelican theatre, is Charlie Chan's greatest picture. It presents this famous Chinese-Hawaiian detective in his most attractive and most charming role to date.

Warner Gland, whom you will remember as the screen's official portrayer of Charlie Chan, has a field day of philosophy and crime detection. And he will win you with a charm that is so characteristically his that you will cease wondering why you always associate the names of Oland and Chan.

RAINBOW

Lee Tracy in the finest role of his spectacular career—that of "Private Jones," at the Rainbow theatre today.

This brilliant young actor, who heretofore has been seen in metropolitan roles, dons the olive drab of an American doughboy and gives us an entirely new type of war drama, making "Bill Jones," the rebellious soldier, live as no screen soldier has ever lived before in motion pictures. "Private Jones" will entertain you and it will touch you—just as it did us. Don't miss it!

AT THE VOX

Described as the most unusual story ever to form the nucleus of a film plot, "Turn Back the Clock" opens today at the Vox theatre with Lee Tracy in the starring role.

Edgar Selwyn and Ben Hecht are the co-authors of "Turn Back the Clock," with Selwyn also responsible for the direction. Mae Clark, remembered for her sensitive performance in "Waterloo Bridge," has the role of Mary. Another prominent role is filled by the noted stage actor, Otto Kruger. Completing the cast are George Barber, Peggy Shannon, C. Henry Gordon and Clara Blandick.

PROGRESS WEEK IS SET IN NOVEMBER

Plans are nearing completion for making Progress Week, November 20 to 25, an outstanding event in the Christian Science movement. A large amount of interesting and unusual material is being accumulated of the "Monitor," past since its beginning 25 years ago. It is also in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Christian Science Publishing society, and the completion of their new publishing house, in Boston, Mass.

In other fields throughout the world, writers are preparing accounts of the progress of the last 50 years in art, invention, music, literature, economics, politics, and other important activities.

Local headquarters for Progress Week will hold open house to welcome all visitors.

Lindberghs Fly On Way To Spain

GENEVA, Nov. 11 (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh left Geneva today on a flight to an unannounced destination.

The colonel said he wished to have a look at snow-covered Geneva from the air, but it was known that if flying conditions were good he would continue to San Sebastian, Spain.

The nautical club fired a cannon salute as the Lindberghs' big seaplane soared aloft from the lake and spiraled above the city.

Georgia Bulldogs Defeat Yale, 7-0

YALE BOWL, New Haven, Conn., Nov. 11 (AP)—Georgia's unbeaten Bulldogs registered their fourth successive victory over Yale today, 7 to 0, before a crowd officially placed at 35,000. The southern team were hard pressed to hold their margin, gained on Homer Key's running and Chapman's touchdown plunge, as the Elis rallied strongly in the second half.

TULE LAKE

TULELAKE, Calif.—The old time dance given by Tulelake grange on Wednesday, November 8, was a decided success, both financially and socially. The music was good, the crowd was good and all attending declared they had an excellent time.

On Friday afternoon, November 10, under the sponsorship of the P.-T. A., there was a "Pet Show" at the Legion hall, at which Tulelake children displayed their favorite pets. Much enthusiasm was shown by the youngsters, and a large number of their little animal friends were entertained.

The Wisema club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Ival Wolf on Thursday afternoon, November 9.

There was a meeting of Tulelake grange Thursday night, November 9, at Legion hall, at which time election of officers was held.

Sunday church service will be held at Tulelake church on Sunday, November 12, as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; church service at 11 a. m., with Rev. S. H. Jewell of Merrill in charge; Christian Endeavor service at 8 p. m.

English Reporter Ousted by Nazis

Widespread indignation in England followed the arrest and imprisonment in Munich of Noel Pantar (above), London newspaper correspondent, and his subsequent deportation. German authorities did not make a formal charge against the writer, but they are understood to have objected to Pantar's account of a review of 20,000 Nazi storm-troopers.

Opera Pitcher

Antonio dell'Orfice, chorus master of San Francisco Opera Company, with the pitch pipes he invented, whereby the pitch in any of 12 notes can be given to a wayering chorus from the stage without being noticed.

MURDER CHARGED

ATHENS, Texas, Nov. 11 (AP)—Four charges of murder were filed today against George Patton, 51-year-old recluse, in connection with the disappearance a year ago of J. W. McGhee, 25-year-old farmer, his wife, Carrie McGhee, 21, and their two children.

A low estimate puts the value of Great Britain's crown jewelry at $30,000,000.

FORD HAS RIGHT TO SELL TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The comptroller general ruled today that unless and until Henry Ford is proven to be violating the NRA automobile code he is eligible to sell automobiles to the federal government, but Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, said he believed "the whole thing still is up in the air."

Johnson expressed belief the comptroller general, J. R. McCull, had misinterpreted executive ruling with reference to codes.

"As far as I know Mr. Ford is complying with the automobile code, but he has not signed it," Johnson said in Fox Worth, where he arrived for an address. "If he complies with it then he probably would be eligible to receive government contracts."

"Of course, there is no law, all depending on the president's ruling about compliance. That is a matter for President Roosevelt to determine."

Horses Trespass On Machine Age

FT. BIDWELL, Calif.—While all the latest in ultra-modern road building machinery is in action in the western part of Modoc county, working the Alturas-Klamath Falls highway, old Dobbin has come into his own recently on the same class of work here.

Teams and wagons, hired from local ranchers, are being used by county supervisor, Harry G. Ward, in road gravelling work, and teams and scrapers have also been used lately by men from the Crane Creek CCC camp on roads in this section.

Fire Destroys Ranch Bunkhouse At Wood River

FORT KLAMATH, Ore.—Fire which broke out about 6:30 Monday morning totally destroyed the large two-story bunkhouse at the Wood River ranch, four miles south of Fort Klamath, the building having been used as sleeping quarters for cowboys employed at the ranch, which comprises 27,000 acres of fine pasture and hay land. Immediately upon the discovery of the blaze, the Fort Klamath telephone operator, Mrs. Gladys Brewer, was notified by William C. Hackler, superintendent of the ranch. Mrs. Brewer at once called various Fort Klamath residents, a volunteer force of about twenty men responding quickly to the alarm and rushing to the scene of the fire by automobile.

Owing to the prompt action of the men, all the contents of the bunkhouse were saved. An adjacent woodshed which caught on fire several times, was also saved from the flames by the efforts of the volunteer crew. The large ranch house and barn, situated in the vicinity of the bunkhouse, were not injured by the fire, the cause of which was thought to be either a defective flue or an overheated stove. Mr. and Mrs. Hackler stated that the loss was fully covered by insurance.
