

Pictorial Highlights of Events in News of Day

Drawn Guns Hold Farm Strikers at Bay

On one side of the tree stand deputy sheriffs withdrawn revolvers. On the other side, huddled in grim silence, stand striking farmers. This dramatic scene near Waukesha, Wis., typifies the tense situation in midwestern and northwestern farm regions where farmers threatened to continue striking until their demands are met at Washington.

Makes Gary Doubt Bachelor Bliss

Heart whole and fancy free days are over for Gary Cooper, if the little bird of Hollywood whispers the truth. Sandra Shaw, statuette beauty, shown here in a striking portrait, has made the film idol forget his bachelor vows, according to friends of the pair, and word of their betrothal is expected soon. Miss Shaw is an actress, niece of Cedric Gibbons, director-husband of Dolores Del Rio.

Where Seven Died as Plane Crashed Into House

Death hurried out of the sky to take seven lives in one of the most unusual aviation accidents on record. These smoldering ruins were all that remained of a New Jersey National Guard biplane and a house in Shrewsbury Township, N. J., after the ship had crashed into the two-story structure, exploded, and taken fire. The pilot, Lieut. George R. Johnson, noted explorer-airman; his observer, and five occupants of the house were killed.

Boy's Letter to President Saves New Jersey Home

A letter that brought results was the one 12-year-old Adam Schmidt of Trenton, N. J., wrote to the president saying that while he'd be "willing to sleep under a tree," loss of his home by mortgage foreclosure would be hard on his parents. This was the scene in Trenton as Adam smilingly looked on while his father and mother (right) received the first loan check made out by the New Jersey branch of the Home Owners Corporation.

Baruch Cousin Is U. S. Envoy

(C.) Bachrach A cousin of Bernard Baruch, New York financier, now represents the United States as minister to Bolivia. He is Fay A. Des Portes, shown above in a recent portrait.

A NEW BAT FOR BABE

Few can tell Babe Ruth how to wield a bruising bludgeon, but when it comes to swining an outrigger canoe paddle, the Babe is not so hot. Above you see him, right, with Duke Kahanamoku, center, great Hawaiian swimmer, as he took a lesson in paddling at Waikiki Beach, Honolulu.

Beauty Winner

Native of Flushing, L. I., blond, 16-year-old Jean Cummings comes from the east coast all the way to Hollywood to make her name. She won a recent beauty contest, and now she's working in her first picture, "Blond Poison."

Attempt to extort $10,000 under threat of kidnaping Mrs. R. J. Reynolds, wife of the North Carolina tobacco heir, resulted in arrest of John Thomas Lanier, 30, shown here in jail in Winston-Salem. He faces a federal charge for misuse of mails and is held under $25,000 bond.

Special Mass Celebrates Rome's Mass Marriages

The wedding march was the popular tune of the day when 5,000 men and women were the principals in mass weddings throughout Italy, following the appeal of Premier Mussolini for more marriages and more children to repopulate the nation. In Rome 700 couples were married at their various parishes, and the brides and grooms here are pictured as they all assembled in the church of Santa Maria Degli Angeli for the celebration of a special mass.

'They Shall Not Pass,' Farm Strikers' Ultimatum

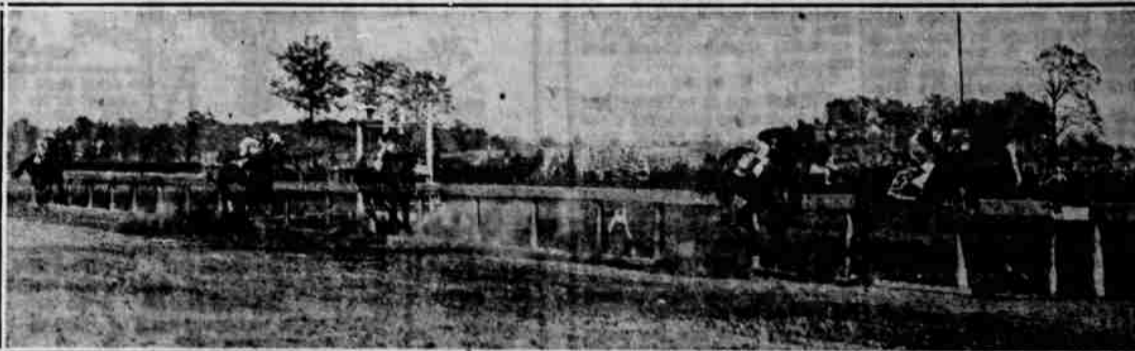

Road blockades, defended by resolute bands of farmers, face drivers of milk, produce and livestock trucks as they seek to reach markets in the farm strike zone. Above is shown a determined group, stationed at a barrier on the outskirts of Sioux City, Ia. Trains have been halted, livestock freed, and milk dumped in the outbreak, in which one man has been killed and several injured. Troops may be called in some sections.

"The biggest imitation dead end thus far thrown by NRA foes is the one about freedom of the press," declared Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, opening his western campaign in Chicago, as shown above. "We have no right to license or censor newspapers," stated the NRA chief.

AN INVADING CHAMPION MEETS DEFEAT IN MARYLAND CLASSIC

He went to the post an odds-on favorite, but the 'set Winooka, Australian sprint champion, could do in the featured Challenger Purse at Laurel, Md., was to finish last in a field of five. All five may be seen in this picture at the finish as A. C. Bostwick's Mate (right) won the race nine and one-half lengths ahead of the Australian thoroughbred seen at the extreme left. The winner's prize was worth $5,500.

