

EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN SOCIETY, CLUB GROUPS AND FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

Armistice Day Spirit Woven Into the Fabric Of Social Activities

ARMISTICE DAY and memories aroused by the words in hearts of those whose lives were touched by the World War. But see any lives untouched by that great cataclysm which swept the world with its glory, its sorrow and pain and never-to-be forgotten tragedy?

Celebration of the day that brought peace to a weary world. Ah, yes, but in that celebration, the tightened throat and misty eyes brought by thought of those who gave their lives for honor and peace, and for those who emerged from holocaust, crippled and broken.

Falling upon Saturday, Armistice Day gives a long week-end which will be marked by an exciting program in Klamath Falls to Portland. These "old grads," gridiron enthusiasts and merry-makers from all over the state will gather to witness the annual struggle of two great schools, when University of Oregon meets the Oregon State college in a great football game on Multnomah field.

Many of the social set of the city will be entertained in the Rose City after the game, and the homeward parade will not begin until Sunday.

While many of Klamath folk are commemorating the day in Portland, this city will observe the great day of peace in other ways. Veterans of the Great War, patriotic societies and fraternal organizations will march in the annual Armistice parade, and other functions have been planned in honor of the day.

But as always will come the thought of those who are not here to celebrate the day, but who live none the less in the hearts of their comrades.

These hearts were woven of human joys and cares, washed marionettes with sorrow, swift to mirth.

The years had given them kindness. Dawn was theirs. And sunset, and the colors of the earth.

These had seen movement, and heard music; known number and waking; loved; gone proudly friendless.

Left the quick stir of wonder; sat alone; touched flowers and furs and cheeks. All this is ended. There are waters blown by changing winds to laughter and lit by the rich skies all day.

And after, front with a gesture, stays the waves that dance and wandering loveliness. He leaves a white unbroken glory, a gathered radiance, a width, a shining peace, under the night.

"The Dead."—Rupert Brooke.

MANY TO WITNESS GREAT GRID BATTLE SATURDAY

The great gridiron battle between traditional enemies, University of Oregon and Oregon State College, to be played on Multnomah field in Portland Saturday, has lured countless Klamathites to Portland for the weekend.

Motor parties made up of congenial friends left this city Friday and earlier, while others took advantage of low railroad rates for Portland for the exciting football event, and departed Friday evening.

Among those who will be found in Portland during the Armistice Day vacation will be Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kelley, Myron Shannon, Lloyd Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Olfelt, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Woods, Mr. George McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pigney, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Dellert, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rambo, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Geary, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley De Vaul, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Groesbeck and family, George Canning, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Humphrey and daughter Helen Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Faunberg, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Steiger, Jr., Miss Esther Veatch, Miss Jean Van Fleet, Miss Holli Swingle, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Arrit, Misses Anne and Betty Crawford, Mr. Jack Crawford, Mr. Lloyd Prock, Miss Estelle Bell, Mr. Jimmie O'Neill, Mr. "Cap" Hilton, Mr. Ross Bates, Miss Ada Christenson, Miss Jean Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Warren, Miss Nova Palmer, Mr. Wilson Wiley, Jr., Mr. Frank De Spain, C. V. Barton and Roy Taber of Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Watters, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Fahlander, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hayden, Miss Ravenstein, Miss Ellen McVeigh of Merrill, Miss Olive Banks, Bonanza, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Stoakes and many others.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hammel were complimented Saturday evening by members of the East Klamath Improvement club and auxiliary, in honor of their silver wedding anniversary. In addition to members of the club a number of Mr. and Mrs. Hammel's other friends were guests of the evening.

Games were enjoyed, and a mock wedding ceremony, with the honor guests as bride and groom, was one of the enjoyable features of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hammel were presented with an attractive gift, and refreshments, including a huge wedding cake, were served.

More than sixty friends attended the celebration, and Mrs. Charles M. Reynolds, president of the club auxiliary, assisted by Mrs. L. E. Henry, acted as hostesses for the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw have returned to their home in the Lincoln apartments on East Main street, after a fortnight's wedding trip to Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. R. L. Ortell of Corvallis is a weekend visitor in Klamath Falls, spending a few days with her son, Mr. Orville Ortell of this city.

Fine Program To Accompany Great Negro Play

Plans for music which will lend the atmosphere so necessary to a play such as "Green Pastures," have been completed, according to Mrs. Leslie Arrit, chairman of the program committee in preparation for the November meeting of the Klamath Falls Women's Library club next Monday afternoon, November the thirteenth.

It has been announced that doors to the main auditorium of the library will be open at half past one o'clock, and the meeting will be called promptly at two o'clock in the afternoon. Late comers will be seated at stated intervals. There will be no interruption or applause once Mrs. Mortimer Hartwell opens the play, "Green Pastures," by Marc Connelly, and reads the lines which have become familiar to those who love the theatre, as well as those who enjoy an excellent and smoothly written play.

Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt, music chairman of the year, announces the following program: Vocal solo by Mr. Wendell Smith, "All God's Chills Got Wings," in the first group, and in the second, "Go Down Moses." Mrs. Zumwalt will accompany at the piano.

Vocal solo, Mr. W. W. Southwell, "Roll, Jordan, Roll." Duet, with guitar accompaniment, Mr. E. Fred Southwell and Mr. R. E. Patterson.

Selections by the Kiwanis chorus, R. E. Patterson directing. "My Lord's A' Writin'," "All the Time," "Deep River." Solo by Mr. Wendell Smith, off stage at the conclusion of the reading, "Ride On, King Jesus."

Inasmuch as the afternoon will be a full one, there will be no business meeting, it has been announced by Mrs. R. C. Groesbeck, president. Mrs. Charles N. Blyden of Dallas, Oregon, president of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs will be introduced and say a few words to the guests.

Mrs. Hartwell, resident of Portland, while in Klamath Falls will be the guest of her long time friend, Mrs. R. W. Merseware, of Linda Vista apartments. It is through Mrs. Merseware that Klamath Falls finds itself so fortunate as to enjoy Mrs. Hartwell. She is known for her talent throughout Portland where she has read many times for various social and civic groups.

Following the reading, a tea, in charge of Mrs. F. Cecil Adams, will compliment both visitors, Mrs. Hartwell and Mrs. Blyden. Assisting Mrs. Adams will be Mrs. Samuel J. Coull, Mrs. Louis Serrups, Mrs. Russell D. Busard and Mrs. Earl Reynolds. Mrs. George Lindley and Mrs. G. A. Krause will pour during the tea hour.

All women of Klamath Falls are invited to attend the program Monday afternoon in the main auditorium of the city library where the Klamath Falls Women's Library club sponsors an interesting three hour with the reading of "Green Pastures" by Mrs. Mortimer Hartwell of Portland.

The library club is a civic organization, and any woman in the city interested in the furtherance of such a work, finds a cordial invitation for membership. Dues for the year have been reduced to one dollar.

The program Monday starts promptly at two o'clock with late comers seated only at stated intervals.

Mrs. Z. W. Dixon, 2356 Eberlein street, and Mrs. L. E. Sherman, 2366 Vine street, were guests of the Dorris, Calif. P-T. A. meeting Friday evening. Mrs. Dixon is president of Mills P-T. A. in this city.

Norval Hamilton, son of Mrs. Ida Hamilton of Klamath Falls, has pledged Theta Kappa Psi at the University of Oregon Medical college in Portland, according to word received by relatives here.

Mrs. Fay Sturgis was hostess to the Bridgites' bridge club on Thursday afternoon, November 9, at her home, where high scores was presented to Mrs. Davis, and consolation to Nina Nyback.

The following members were present: Grace Birk, Lola Myers, Grace Day, Kathleen Hegburn, Lucille Helter, Nina Nyback, Beulah Wiese and Fay Sturgis.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Lucille Helter on Thursday, November 23.

The Child Study group of Mills P-T. A. met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. E. Sherman on Vine street, for an afternoon of sewing on articles to be offered for sale at a bazaar to be held in connection with a P-T. A. carnival set for November seventeenth and eighteenth.

The next meeting of the study group will also be held at the home of Mrs. Sherman, on Wednesday, November 22. Anyone interested in child study is cordially invited to be present.

MEMORIES

Nearly 300 Attend A. A. U. W. Dessert Bridge Benefit

One of the largest affairs of the fall season was the dessert bridge benefit given by the Klamath branch of the American Association of University Women at the library club rooms Saturday afternoon. Lovely baskets of chrysanthemums were artistically arranged throughout the rooms with a grouping of palms as a background.

Seventy tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon with prizes awarded to the following: In contract bridge Mrs. A. B. Purcell won first prize, Mrs. Vernon Norval, second prize, Mrs. P. A. Albertson, third prize and Mrs. B. E. Wright, consolation prize.

The committee in charge of the bridge benefit was headed by Mrs. George Myers, chairman. Other members were Mrs. George Gardiner, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Kenneth Moore, Mrs. C. B. Sweet, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Lloyd Goble, Mrs. R. C. Woodruff and Miss Ruth Flood.

HAPPY DOZEN CLUB MARKS ANNIVERSARY

The Happy Dozen club met at the home of Georgia Collins on Thursday afternoon, November 9, when a delightful luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock.

In honor of the club's first anniversary, a large cake, centered by one candle, was served by the hostess, and in connection with the club's anniversary, the birthday of Cora Connie was also celebrated.

Cards were in play during the afternoon, with high score awarded to Betty Schaffer, second high to Dorothy Johnson.

Members present were: Dorothy Johnson, Betty Schaffer, Mabel Hunsacker, Myrtle Donaldson, Ethel Hamilton, Ellen Smith, Polly Schroeder, Alva Dickerson, Florence Lee, and the hostess, Georgette Collins.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, November 23, at the home of Mildred Aiken, at 1826 Crescent avenue.

A delightful program was enjoyed by Mills P-T. A. last Wednesday afternoon at the school.

Several musical numbers were presented by Lloyd Pearson, Lois Dixon and Gail Clapp, assisted by Mrs. Dixon.

Mr. W. E. Mahoney, mayor of the city, presented an address on "The Present Emergency and Education," followed by a response by Alonso Palmer, one of the students of the school.

Mrs. Charles M. Reynolds, delegate to the recent state P-T. A. convention in Salem, presented a report, and Rev. T. Davis Preston talked on selection of modern moving pictures for children.

A group of numbers was presented by the glee club of the B. and P. W. club, directed by Mrs. A. J. Voye, and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The Three R club was entertained this week by Mrs. Grace Harris, who presided at 1:00 o'clock luncheon.

The hostess was assisted by Myrtle Donaldson, Georgia Collins, Melissa Hammel and Mrs. Ella Panley, who presented a delightful reading.

Members present during the afternoon were Mesdames: Betty Schaffer, Myrtle Hart, Kathleen Hegburn, Josephine Robinson, Kate Hogue, Maude Shuey, Ruth Brandenburg, Ada Hughes, Fay Sturgis, Noreen Hale, Melissa Hammel, Nina Nyback, Lucille Helter and Mrs. McCornick.

Guests were Dr. Sarah Ethel Smith and Grace Davis, who joined the group at the last meeting.

The 3R club will hold a costume party at its next meeting on November 21. All new members are urged to be present for initiation.

The Oregon State Nurses association was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. P. Mason on South Riverside avenue. After the regular business meeting, Mrs. Lena Dennis, a guest of the association, presided at a mock meeting in the parliamentary rules class. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess.

Engagement Told At Lovely Tea on Sunday

Mrs. Clara Shaw was hostess at tea Sunday afternoon at her home on Alameda street, when the engagement of Miss Frances English to Mr. Everett Dennis was revealed to eighty guests who called during the hours from 2:00 until 6:00 o'clock.

The betrothal was announced in tiny folded hearts tied to dainty corsages of pom-pom chrysanthemums which were presented to the guests. The marriage of Miss English and Mr. Dennis will be an event of December.

Miss English is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stephens, of Eugene, and is connected with the Kennell-Ellis studio in Klamath Falls. Mr. Dennis is with the local bureau of reclamation.

The hostess was assisted by Miss Catherine Gaylord, Miss Mary Shaffer and Miss Pauline Carter during the afternoon.

From 2:00 until 3:00 o'clock Mrs. Stella Bowns and Mrs. J. C. Cleghorn presided at the tea table, from 3:00 until 4:00 o'clock, Mrs. Arthur Porter and Miss Nina Kennedy, poured; from 4:00 until 5:00 o'clock, Mrs. Harry Hill and Mrs. Myrtle Helm presided, and from 5:00 until 6:00 o'clock, Mrs. Marshall Cornett and Mrs. Jack Marshall.

The tea table was charmingly arranged with a centerpiece of chrysanthemums in fall colors, and tall lighted tapers in harmonizing colors.

AMUSING DIVERSIONS MARK NEW YORK SEASON

By Julia Blanshard NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The other evening in Elsa Maxwell's charity "scavenger hunt," one of the 200 society couples seeking the prize brought in Marilyn Miller's autographed pink satin slippers. There were among the 24 items listed by Miss Maxwell as things that must be hunted for and produced at the party.

The day afterward, Marilyn got a note from Louis Bromfield (who had been one of the judges) and Mrs. Bromfield, saying that if she wanted her slippers back, she must come out to their house and hunt for them. "I'll be there!" Marilyn wrote in reply.

Sincere Tribute Paid To Ex-Service Nurses

In the volumes which have been written and in the countless tales of the great war which have never yet been unfolded, the war nurse holds her place by right of her dauntless courage, her steadfast bravery and calm womanliness.

Not for her the blare of trumpets and the peonies of parade, but none the less she is exalted. Filling the place of mother, wife and ministering angel to a wounded soldier, maintaining her place for hours under fire, on duty for hours unending to carry on the work which there were so few to do, were all in a day's work for her.

Klamath county is proud of her war nurses, and adds a humble tribute to them on this Armistice Day.

Listen to a few of their records; are they not the stuff of which courage, bravery and romance are made?

Mrs. Walter Smith of Langell Valley is a graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

She joined the Harvard Unit of Boston, and went into service with the British Expeditionary forces two years before the United States entered the war.

The Harvard Unit was stationed at Cambrai, France, and Mrs. Smith saw three years of active service with this organization. It was while in this hospital that Mrs. Smith met her husband, who was the first American soldier to be brought there.

There blossomed a romance that later flowered into marriage after they returned to the States. Any one looking for real, genuine hospitality will find it in the Smith's happy home in Langell Valley.

They have a family of three children, two boys and a daughter. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their children were visitors in Klamath Falls for the Armistice Day ceremonies.

Mrs. Lydia Fricke, public health nurse for Klamath county, served with the Base Hospital at Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, Miss., for seven months at the time the United States entered the conflict. She then sailed for France, and served there in Camp Hospital Number Twenty-Six at Noyes, for seven months.

For ten months she was stationed at the War Classification Camp Hospital of St. Alizon, and for three months she nursed at Evacuation Hospital Number 12, in Treves, Germany.

She has been an inspiration to many who needed her guidance and care, and has been ever willing to help in any capacity for the good of the community.

Ms. Fricke is an outstanding personage in Klamath county and a pioneer in public health work in the community, where she has served in the capacity of public health nurse for more than twelve years.

She has been an inspiration to many who needed her guidance and care, and has been ever willing to help in any capacity for the good of the community.

Mrs. Pearl Clark has a record of five months service at Camp Custer, near Iron Creek, Mich., at the beginning of the war, and later served over-seas with Base Hospital Number Sixty-Eight at Mars-sur-Alles, France, for eight months.

From there she was transferred to the Canadian Army Medical corps and sent to St. Omar, France. After only a few months there the hospital was shelled out and Etaples, France, was her next post. There, a few weeks later, the worst air raid was witnessed that was known to a hospital.

About 5,000 British and Canadians were stationed in a British area there.

For a week the enemy came over daily and took pictures from planes, and at night came over and raided the hospitals.

After spending three years in active service over-seas, Mrs. Long knows something of the suffering war brings and the futility of it all. She declares that she sincerely hopes we will all work unitedly for "Peace on Earth, Good Will to All Men."

Mrs. Long is president of the Oregon State Graduate Nurses' Association of Klamath Falls, and is the wife of Paul C. Long, chiropractor, who served over-seas fourteen months with the American forces.

Mrs. Louis K. Porter of Klamath Falls also has the distinction of being an ex-service nurse, having been stationed at the Navy Base Hospital at Bremerton, Washington, for almost the whole duration of the war.

Ruth Taylor Ferguson served at Camp Kearney near San Diego for a long period, and later at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco.

Mrs. Zona Hatfield nursed at Jefferson Barracks, at St. Louis, Mo., for fifteen months after the United States' entry in the World War, and later was transferred to Camp Taylor at Louisville, Ky., for an additional seven months' service.

Miss Mary McClymonds served at Fort Riley, Kans., for seven months as a war nurse, and Mrs. Jean Butler was stationed at Camp Fremont, at Palo Alto, Calif., for four months.

The Home Mission Society class of the First Methodist Episcopal church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of its president, Mrs. Anna C. Whitmore.

Following a brief business session, the afternoon's study was conducted by Mrs. Riley D. Henson, and an interesting program was presented.

WINTER DANCING CLUB ANNOUNCES HARVEST HOP

A gay festive spirit will reign Saturday evening, November the eighteenth, in the ballroom of the Willard hotel when the Harvest Hop of the Winter Dancing Club is enjoyed.

Invitations, printed on orange paper and bearing a turkey motif, were in the mail to several hundred of the younger set of Klamath Falls this week. Tickets will be available from any member of the executive committee including Mrs. Harry H. Panning, chairman; Mrs. Frank Humphrey, Mrs. Robert Fulton, Mrs. Henri Conradi and Mrs. Karl Traubart.

Hosts for the party Saturday night will be Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gullby, Mr. and Mrs. Russell D. Russard and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pennington.

Sticks to the Wood Mrs. Fenton Roberts, editor of Arts and Decorations, always packs her own cigarettes, wicked looking long negro-brown ones, imported from Puerto Rico. The other day at lunch she said they were the only kind that she had ever smoked, that she knew nothing about others and wouldn't experiment. Said it was sentiment.
