

MAE K. SHORT PARTICIPATES IN STATE MEET

Mae K. Short, Klamath county clerk, was unanimously elected secretary of the state association of county clerks and recorders at the closing session of their 21st annual convention in Portland Tuesday afternoon.

M. S. Brimhall, Tillamook county clerk, was chosen president; Anna M. Harthorn, Umatilla recorder was elected vice-president; and Henry W. Scherrer, Wasco county clerk, was re-elected treasurer.

Mrs. Short stated on her return to Klamath Falls Wednesday that the association adopted a resolution directing its legislative committee to endeavor to obtain repeal of the so-called "gin marriage" law and the statute requiring male applicants for marriage licenses to submit to physical examinations. The association voted that the legislature be requested to repeal these two laws until the state of Washington passes similar laws. Since the passage of these two laws, Oregon has lost thousands of dollars in license fees, Mrs. Short reported, because of going to Washington to be married.

The clerks also voted to ask that the election law be changed so that notices of elections may be published in newspapers instead of by posting notices, the present method, which, the association claimed, is simply a waste of money. It was also recommended that election board members be paid at the rate of 25 cents an hour for the actual time spent in the conduct of elections.

In another resolution, the association favored legislation which would require a filing fee of $5 for each road franchise granted, with an additional sum of 20 cents per folio for recording the proceedings. The fee for recording chattel mortgages would also be raised to the same basis as the fees for recording deeds and other instruments. In the same resolution, the association instructed its legislative committee to draw proper bills which would correct the condition brought about by the present law which requires counties to file and record all state instruments and litigation without charge.

Mrs. Short asserted that at present no fees can be charged the state, including all its commissions and all political subdivisions, and municipal and quasi-municipal corporations for filing or recording. The counties are thus deprived of a great source of revenue besides being put to the expense of furnishing labor and materials in the handling of these matters. In the circuit court alone, Mrs. Short said, $500 or $600 per year is lost to the county because no filing fee can be charged in litigation where the state is in any way involved. If the change in recording chattel mortgages is made, nearly $2000 additional will accrue for the benefit of the county.

"If the legislature corrects existing laws as suggested by the resolutions passed at the clerk's convention," Mrs. Short said, "much will have been accomplished for all the counties of the state."

MOTOR PROTECTED AS MERCURY DROPS

An automobile motor, like the human body, operates more effectively within certain temperature ranges, asserts A. H. Bartsch, general parts service manager for Pontiac.

"We wear heavier clothing in winter and eat more heating food to maintain our body temperature at normal," says Mr. Bartsch. "In the Pontiac eight, a similar result is attained through automatic thermostats, which are important factors in safe-guarding Pontiac's high gasoline mileage and assuring efficient cold weather lubrication."

"One of these thermostats guards the cooling system, preventing water circulation through the radiator until the motor has reached its most efficient operating temperature. Then it holds the motor at that temperature, and so corresponds in a way to the warmer clothing that we wear in winter."

"The other thermostat utilizes the heat of the exhaust gases to control the temperature of the fuel mixture, or 'food' which is fed to the motor through the intake manifold. Like the thermostat in the water circulation system, the operation of the pre-heating thermostat is entirely automatic at all seasons of the year."
