clary committee but did not commit themselves on the bill itself. A show-down vote on the court was delayed today when both sides agreed to an extension of the truce that began with Robinson's death. The court issue will be brought up again before Thursday at the earliest. Tomorrow the senate democrats, meeting in caucus, will choose between Barkley and Harrison for majority leader.

Both candidates were confident. Harrison said, "I don't think there is any doubt about this fight," and while Barkley himself was silent his campaign manager, Sen. Sherman Minton, D., Ind., said he was sure of 49 or 41 votes. A majority of the senate's 75 democrats is 35.

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)

An administration spokesman said today that a new compromise court bill possibly would be offered to win the support of opponents of the measure now before the senate.

The official, who would not be quoted by name, said there was very decided belief all around that the bitter contest over court reorganization in the senate would "work out surprisingly satisfactory to all concerned."

He expressed these opinions after Vice President Garner had spent more than an hour at the White House with President Roosevelt.

Will Continue Discussion

Meanwhile, on Capitol Hill senate court bill opponents abandoned their plan for an immediate showdown on the court bill. After an hour's conference with a score of leaders of the opposition, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) announced it had been decided that when the bill comes up in the senate again "we are going to continue to discuss the measure."

The developments at the White House and the capital came almost simultaneously when administration and opposition leaders returned to work after their journey to the funeral of the late Majority Leader Robinson in Arkansas. They returned here last midnight.

Yesterday, some of the opposition leaders had said there was strong likelihood that they would move, when the senate convened today, to send the court bill back to the judiciary committee.

Administration chiefs, however, were determined to oppose any showdown until the senate democrats have chosen a new leader to succeed Robinson.

Harrison, Barkley Even Strength in the leadership contest was almost equally split between Senators Harrison (D-Miss) and Barkley (D-Ky). A caucus of party members in the senate is scheduled for tomorrow morning. The question of leadership may be settled at that time.

The administration spokesman said public opposition to the court bill voiced yesterday by Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York was not particularly surprising to the administration but that the timing of the publication of his letter to Senator Wagner (D-NY) was "deadly" aimed.

"Rather Graciously" The spokesman added that no one in responsible positions in Washington was "furious" or particularly "jolted" by Lehman's action, least of all President Roosevelt.

He said frankly, however, that although Lehman's attitude toward the bill had been known for some time, the administration had not expected him to make his views public. In that respect, he added, the New York governor's action was looked upon as "rather gratuitous."

GUGLIELMO MARCONI DIES SUDDENLY AT PALACE IN ROME

dent supporter Marconi had been, was notified of the death immediately. He dispatched a telegram of condolences and later went to Marconi's home in the Via Condotti and paid his respects beside the body.

Il Duce approached the bed, which was lighted at the four corners by tall candles. He paused, then bent and kissed the dead man on the forehead.

Pope Sends Blessing
The first intimation that Marconi was not feeling well came yesterday afternoon when he was forced to cancel an appointment with Il Duce.

Pope Pius XI, with whom the inventor had had a long audience Saturday concerning the new radio station he was building for the vatican, was notified by telephone at his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo. He sent a special blessing to the inventor.

Marconi had been closely associated with the pontiff. He installed the first radio station at the vatican and when it was inaugurated in 1931, it was Marconi who introduced Pius, the first pope ever to speak over the radio.

Insists on Working
Despite his illness yesterday, Marconi insisted on working on his latest micro-wave experiments. The Marconi Luigi Solari, head of the Italian Marconi company, the inventor's biographer and lifelong friend, said that late yesterday afternoon Marconi came into his office "to talk about his micro-wave experiments."

The Marconi company offices are in the inventor's home and today the employees learned of his death as they arrived for work. They stood together in little groups in the corridors whispering gravely among themselves. Many of them were weeping openly.

"Marconi told me he planned to spend the whole summer aboard his yacht Elettra conducting experiments," Solari said. His idea was to adapt the micro-wave to long range transmission.

"Great Affection" for U. S. "Marconi was very hopeful of the success of these experiments and they are in such shape and have reached such a point we can go ahead with his work."

Solari said that "Marconi had a great affection for the United States. Next to his own country he had a greater love for America than any other country."

Among the thousands of telegrams of condolence already pouring in was one from Alexander Kirk, charge d'affaires of the United States embassy, who sent it in the absence of Ambassador William Phillips on vacation.

Marconi's body will be removed to historic Farnesina palace, headquarters of the Italian Royal academy of which he was president, on the banks of the Tiber, this afternoon to lie in state in the blue robes of an academician.

Burial At Bologna
Following a preliminary funeral service in Rome, the body will be taken for burial to Bologna where he conducted his first experiments in a barn on his father's country estate.

Morning newspapers published special editions which were sold out immediately to the crowds that swarmed around the newspapers. Il Messaggero's comment was considered representative:

"This is not only a loss to Italy but all the world, a loss for science and for humanity. With him disappears one of the sovereign geniuses who, because of the glory of their effort, are sufficient unto themselves."

Marconi apparently had been in good health for the last few days although he had suffered serious illnesses in the last two years.

Three Developments
At the time of his death Marconi was working on three different developments of the principle he discovered: television, especially with the use of ultra short waves; further developments of the micro-wave, a new type radio transmitter for airplanes.

Much of Marconi's work had been devoted to military purposes the last few years, and he had been repeatedly at work on a "death ray." This, however, was denied as frequently as it was reported.

Two events of the last year were believed to have accentuated Marconi's heart condition and hastened his death. One was the sudden death of his brother, Alfonso, in London a few minutes before he was to have left for Rome to visit the inventor.

The other was the fire aboard his yacht Elettra in the harbor of Civita Vecchia. Much of his experimental work was done in a laboratory on board and when Marconi was aroused by the fire during the early morning he helped fight the blaze for more than an hour.

since shortly after the battle until the last session began July 14.

The 10 killed in the battle in which more than 100 were injured were Sam Popovich, Earl Handley, Otis Jones, Joseph Rothmund, Kenneth Reed, Anthony Taglieri, Leo Francisco, Lee Tisdale, Hilding Anderson and Albert Kauey.

Officials said the adjournments were taken so the inquest sessions would not conflict with the investigation conducted in Washington by the LaFollette civil liberties committee and the state attorney's inquiry here.

A high point in both the inquest and the senate committee hearings was the showing of a Paramount feature of the battle, the only professional motion picture obtained.

JAPANESE SEIZE TIENTSIN HARBOR

military commander in north China had been completed, fighting was resumed shortly before midnight.

It was apparent Japanese military strategy will be to drive out the 29th army from its positions below Peiping, sweep southward over the plains toward Pootung, where two crack divisions of the nationalist armies reportedly were marching northward, and thus isolate Peiping.

The city would thus automatically fall under Japanese military rule. The Japanese army, now more than 30,000 strong in north China, would be in a position to drive the Chinese nationalist divisions back across the Yellow river and effect virtual military occupation of north China.

TIENTSIN, July 20 (AP)—The Japanese army seized control today of the entire waterfront at Tientsin, including wharves, Chinese customs offices, and foreign shipping companies in preparation for the expected arrival of 25,000 troops from Japan.

Tangku is the port for Tientsin, connected by rail and water with this city in the center of the north China conflict.

Reports of the imminent arrival of Japanese reinforcements indicated four "troop" transports were expected Thursday.

Concentrations increase The Kailan wharf was not immediately affected and the British warship Grimsby, which arrived this afternoon, moored alongside it.

Heavily loaded trains were expected at Tientsin after midnight, further increasing Japanese concentrations here. Extensive new Japanese troop movements by railroad were reported.

Alarmed Chinese streamed from Tientsin into the foreign concessions with the first reports of today's new fighting near Peiping.

cisco Franco 10 divisions of troops if Germany will send five divisions to Spain, Genevieve Tabouis, political commentator for the newspaper Oeuvre, said today.

Copyright, 1937, by United Press LONDON, July 20 (UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy tonight shattered a British "last chance" plan to salvage the Spanish non-intervention project and dissolve the threat of a general war in Europe.

Ambassador Dino Grandi of Italy informed representatives of eight other key powers, meeting in the foreign office, that Italy refused to discuss the withdrawal of foreign "volunteers" from Spain's battlefronts.

Grandi's announcement deadlocked the session and forced its adjournment "sine die" because France and Russia refused to consider recognition of the Spanish nationalists as belligerents until all foreign soldiers are out of Spain—particularly the organized Italo-German units fighting for the nationalists.

Germany supported the Italian refusal to discuss the withdrawal of volunteers, thereby maintaining solid anti-fascist support of the Spanish insurgents.

FORD FIRM, EIGHT MEN FACING TRIAL

organizational director, and Walter Reuther, president of the West Side local.

Harry S. Toy, Ford attorney, said he would move in circuit court for dismissal of the complaint against the company on the ground that a corporation cannot be charged with assault and would contend the warrant was faulty because there was no testimony that all the defendants engaged in an attack on Merriweather.

NLRB Hearing Continues
Judge Liddy announced his findings as a national labor relations board hearing on charges against the Ford company continued with Stanley Ziek, former foreman in the paint and varnish shop of the company's Highland Park plant, testifying he was ordered to discharge veteran workmen because of their affiliation with the UAW.

Exploding into profanity to emphasize some of his testimony, Ziek, who said he resigned his job after he was forced to fire men with more than 20 years' service with the Ford company, told the NLRB trial examiner the first man picked out for dismissal was Joseph V. Bailey. Bailey already has testified he joined the union two days after the supreme court declared the Wagner act constitutional.

The NLRB heard the end of the evidence today in its hearing on a complaint charging the Ford company with unfair labor practices.

PORTLAND, July 20 (AP)—If Henry Ford "wants to continue building automobiles in the United States," he must accept union organization, Charles P. Howard, secretary of the Committee for Industrial Organization and president of the International Typographical union, said in an interview yesterday.

Censures A. F. of L.
"Of course he may stop production here and move to Ireland. In that case, we might not organize him, but if he builds 'em here, he will be organized," said Howard, who heads a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor at the same time he holds an office with the opposing CIO.

Howard, who said the printers are "openly favorable" to the CIO, censured the A. F. of L. for "decadent" leadership and "obsolete" policies. He added it would be impractical for his union to quit the A. F. of L. because of large investments involved.

FFA MAKES TEST OF GRASS SEEDS

BONANZA—In the spring of 1936 the Bonanza FFA boys put in a seed plot to test various grasses—mostly range grasses and dryland grasses. The seed was obtained from the Oregon State college and some was collected by William Holloway, agriculture instructor.

The created wheat grass has made the best growth this year and will produce a good seed crop. Last year it did not look as promising as some of the other grasses.

As the ground is a very sandy soil it was necessary to irrigate to get the seed up. This year the grasses have not been irrigated. No care has been given until recently when the weeds were cut out between the rows. The seeds were planted in rows a rod long.
