

DEATHS MANY IN WEEKEND OVER OREGON

By The Associated Press

Accidents on highways and rivers claimed the lives of seven persons over the weekend in Oregon and southwestern Washington, while search was started for an eighth. A score of others were injured.

The dead:

William Thissell, 27, of Alsea, fatally injured when motorcycle he was riding with Gilbert Wilson crashed into a fog post 15 miles east of Waldport.

Gilbert Wilson, 30, of Alsea, fatally injured in motorcycle accident. Both Thissell and Wilson died in Corvallis hospital.

Grant Miller, 75, of Lebanon, fatally struck by car driven by J. W. Sanderson of Upper California river, on Santiam highway five miles east of Lebanon.

Wilbur B. Henderson, 45, Salem Negro, drowned at Quatville fork of the south Santiam river when he fell into the stream while fishing.

Luther H. White, 48, of Portland, drowned in chilly Sandy river while attempting to rescue 11-year-old Bonita Phillips. The child was saved by other swimmers.

Joe C. Barber, of Vancouver, 49, died of a heart attack while leading 20 CCC workers to quench a fire above Hemlock.

Richard Caldwell, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Caldwell of Portland, drowned in the east fork of the Lewis river while on a triant swim. Vancouver firemen were unable to resuscitate him.

Multnomah county sheriff's deputies dragged Maya lake for the body of James Butler, 11, son of Charles Butler. The boy failed to return to his home Saturday and was believed to have drowned in the lake.

Seven persons were injured when a truck driven by W. L. Albert of Portland collided head-on with an automobile driven by Ernest Johnson of Oregon City on the Sucker bridge near Oswego on the Pacific highway.

Mrs. W. L. Post of Oregon City, riding with Johnson, was taken to an Oregon City hospital with a fractured skull. Mrs. C. R. Post and her two small children were also seriously injured. Johnson suffered head injuries and Mr. and Mrs. Albert sustained bruises.

Howard None, 18, of Pilot Rock, received serious injuries and two other parties received lesser bruises when the car driven by Elmer James of Pendleton blew out a tire and swerved into a ditch while the trio was returning from a dance near Pendleton. The driver was cut and bruised and John Boomer of Pendleton injured his leg in the mishap.

Mrs. Roy Roberts, 28, of Portland, was taken to a hospital with a badly crushed leg. She was struck by an automobile while standing alongside the Foster road.

WOODBURN, July 26 (AP)—Deaths resulting from the head-on collision of two automobiles on the Woodburn-Mt. Angel highway last Thursday night mounted to three when Richard Jack Howe, Portland, died of injuries in a local hospital this morning.

Paul R. Walberg, also of Portland and occupant of the car in which Howe was riding, is still in the hospital with a fractured skull but is reported to be recovering.

Nine other persons were less seriously injured in the crash, which also resulted in the death of Miss Helen Claypole of Hubbard, and Mrs. Ione Des Boudins, Portland.

TENT REVIVAL AT EIGHTH, OAK WILL CONTINUE

The revival campaign in the big tent at the corner of Eighth and Oak streets, conducted by the Meyers Evangelistic party from Bradenton, Florida, is reported to be very successful.

The meetings have been in progress for the past four weeks and were to close last night, but because of the unanimous request of those attending and the spirit in each service, Evangelist Meyers announced the meetings would continue each night at 7:45 and every afternoon except Saturday at 2:30 o'clock.

Evangelist Meyers must get back south in time to conduct a camp meeting in North Carolina before the opening of the fall term of the Bible school at Bradenton, Florida. Several young folks from Klamath are expected to go to the Bradenton Bible school this fall.

The tent revival is strictly non-denominational and all are invited to enjoy these services.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS BILLESTER

A large audience heard Dr. Michael Billester speak last evening at the First Baptist church on the subject, "How a Russian Found Christ" according to the pastor, the Rev. Cecil C. Brown.

The missionary related his life's experience of seeking for Christ in his native religion and told of the years of unrest and turmoil of a life quest that finally brought him to the shores of America where he heard the Gospel and found the Savior. Rev. Mr. Billester is an interesting speaker and has a wide knowledge of life and world conditions.

The Rev. Mr. Billester was to speak tonight on the subject, "Religion, Revival, and Revolution in Russia" or "The Fall of the Russian Empire." Tomorrow evening he will use as his subject, "Rasputin, the Holy Terror of Russia" or "Why the Czar Lost His Throne." These messages will be illustrated with stereoscopic slides showing Russia and other countries in natural colors. During the week the missionary will speak on the Jews and Palestine in Prophecy, "The Menace of Communism and its growth in America," and "The Second Coming of Christ." The pastor states that he believes that the community has a rare opportunity in having Dr. Billester in the city and urges the public to hear his messages.

These services will begin each week night at 7:45 and the public is cordially invited to attend.

BEAL CASE AGAINST DUNN, BAKER OPENS

The case of Orson A. Beal, versus Dunn and Baker company, a corporation, went on trial Monday morning in circuit court with Judge Arthur D. Hay of Lakeview presiding.

Beal is suing Dunn and Baker for $4000 damages and an additional $4000 exemplary damages for loss of his crops at Adams Point.

He alleges that the loss of his crops was due to negligence of the defendants in allowing sparks from their steam shovel to blow into his fields, starting a destructive fire.

Selection of jurors was still in progress Monday afternoon, and it was believed that the jury would be completed by 3 o'clock.

OUR HOME TOWN

VACATION CONVERSATION

By EARL WHITLOCK

Wouldn't it be a fine thing for Klamath Falls and for all its citizens if every one of us, on our travels, would appoint himself a committee of one to say a good word for our town and our county at every opportunity?

Who knows what far-reaching consequences for good, such words might have?

There's many an instance on record, of an important industry having located in a city just because of some such word-of-mouth advertising, and of many a worth while citizen having established his home there.

We're all of us fond of our town. We are proud of it and of the country surrounding it, as we have every right to be. And each of us has it in his power to do the town incalculable good by just such personal boosting. You notice I said "boosting"—not boasting.

Banish from your mind the few disadvantages under which we labor. No city is perfect. Concentrate, instead, on our advantages. Total them and you'll be surprised at the number of reasons why anyone could enjoy living here. No town ever had too many newcomers of the right class. And your single word may be the deciding factor in influencing someone to locate among us, who would be a most welcome addition to our citizenry.

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on The Fisherman.

News About Personalities and Events

On August 7th and 8th, just a week from next Saturday and Sunday, the eyes of the American Legion; particularly that part of the American Legion interested in Junior baseball, will be turned on the little city of Woodburn. Here again, as in the last three or four years, will be waged the battle that will determine the Junior American Legion baseball championship of Oregon. Four teams, champions of their respective districts, will gather at Woodburn on those dates for the final and deciding series. It will be a sight to see.

Sixty of as fine a lot as you ever could hope to see will take part in that tournament. They will be there to give everything they have in the way of ability, team-work and clean sportsmanship in an attempt to win that state championship for their respective teams. The championship also means the right to represent Oregon in the regional tournament which will be played in Washington a week or so later.

Woodburn really put on a show at the time of the annual state tournament. Klamath Falls may have its Backdoor Days, Pendleton its roundup and Salem its State Fair but to Woodburn the championship series of Junior American Legion baseball is the thing. The lads there spare no effort, and no expense in putting on as fine a show as you ever saw. They really put it on. That is why Woodburn draws this tournament year after year.

Legionnaires and baseball fans from all over the state will be at this tournament. Big-shot sport writers will be there as will tight-lipped, sharp-eyed baseball scouts. Kids who have been on other teams and who have lost the chance to play in this tournament will be on hand to cheer for the team from their district. Hundreds and hundreds of others will pack the stands and the little city of Woodburn will be the gracious host to all.

The contestants will have a splendid time. They will be fêted and fed. They will be honored and entertained. They will have personal escort wherever they go. The showhouses will be thrown open to them. Prizes will be given for almost every conceivable sort of a play. Their expenses will be taken care of and every team, when it gets back home, will feel that the Woodburn crowd was pulling for them to win. That is the sort of spirit that prevails. It is a wonderful thing for a lad to play in this state tournament. He gets impressions and experiences there that he could get nowhere else.

It hasn't always been like that at Woodburn. It hasn't been so many years back when the town didn't even have a ball park—worthy of the name. It has all come about by cooperation, hard work and a desire to do something for the children of the community. Our own recreation committee is doing the same thing for Klamath Falls. They are beginning to build — from the ground up — like Woodburn had to do.

As Clipper Ended 'Uneventful' Atlantic Flight

At the end of its epochal but "uneventful" survey flight from Botwood, Newfoundland, the Pan-American Clipper III is pictured in this radiophoto from London on the placid surface of the romantic River Shannon at Foynes, Irish Free State. Circling above the Clipper III is a welcoming English plane. Inset shows the Clipper crew being greeted by Ireland's President Eamon De Valera (in broad-brimmed hat). Fifteen minutes after the Clipper III landed, the Imperial Airways "Caledonia" completed the east-west crossing and landed at Botwood. The flights were preparatory to establishing regular passenger service from New York to London.

In a little while—just a few years—Klamath Falls will have a park and playground set-up to be proud of. This, of course, if the present interest and activity continues. There is no reason why it shouldn't. We realize the need for these improvements and we are the type of people who provide ourselves with the things we need. Some day Woodburn and the rest of the state may be coming to Klamath Falls to see our tournaments.

Will Klamath county have a team in this state tournament? The answer is "No. Not this year." But we have hopes. The added playground facilities, the baseball school which started this year, the increasing interest in supervised summer recreation, all will have a bearing on our interests in future years. Perhaps next year we may be in there. Perhaps we will not get to the state finals but we may be trying mighty hard. You never can tell. We will see what next year brings.

The battle is on—Erl Roman, famous sportsman, vs. 600 lbs. of savage, fighting, blue marlin!

How would your nerves stand up to two hours of this?

ERL ROMAN LANDS A BIG ONE!

AQUAPLANE EXPERT. Miss Gloria Wheeden is a typical American outdoor girl. "Yes, I smoke," she says. "Like all my crowd, I enjoy Camels—especially at meal-times."

"WHEN I'M TIRED after a match or need extra energy, Camels give me a 'lift' in energy," says Joanna de Tuscan, U. S. Women's Foils Champion. "Camels do not make my throat harsh."

BENNY GOODMAN SWINGS IT EVERY TUESDAY NIGHT!

Tune in! Hear the trio—the quartette—and all of Benny's boys swing the popular favorites. Every Tuesday at 8:30 pm E.S.T. (9:30 pm E.D.S.T.), 7:30 pm C.S.T., 6:30 pm M.S.T., 5:30 pm P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network.

AS the Miami, Florida, "Herald" said of Erl Roman's struggle with the big fish (above): "The battle was tough. Erl had his hands full staying in the fishing chair." But a sporting spirit and healthy nerves kept Roman going. After a 2-hour fight, he landed the second-largest blue marlin ever taken on rod and reel. "Healthy nerves are necessary for keeping on top. Camels don't get on my nerves," Erl says. Above, right, Mr. Roman enjoys good digestion and a Camel after his tense fight. "I make it a point," he says, "to smoke Camels with my meals and after 'for digestion's sake.'"

Smooth Blending of Costlier Tobaccos. Camels are made from costlier tobaccos, in a matchless blend. A mild, cigarette for steady smoking that does not rasp the throat or upset the nerves.

CAMELS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS... Turkish and Domestic... than any other popular brand.
