Smoke toppled Weyerhaeuser in a fast 50-minute softball league game Wednesday night, and as a result the league is all clinched up in a three-way first place tie. In the second game, Klamath Billiards started in the first place by shutting out the Knights of Columbus.

The Smoke victory was to the tune of 9 to 0. First four innings were scoreless for each team, with but one hit each. In the fifth inning, Smoke came through with a walk and two singles, good for one run. Then in the sixth, Smoke went to town, scoring eight runs and clinching a skunking for the Weyerhaeuser outfit.

Wesley, Smoke pitcher, helped himself to a homer, a single and a walk, to lead off the winning parade. Klamath Billiards also won by the shutout route, with the KC's unable to score against the KB pitcher, Griffith. They could get only five scattered hits. Griffith and Quinn did some nice hitting, and Shortstop Marshall and First Baseman Marshall showed the fans how things are done. Shortstop Mahoney made some nice running catches for the Casey's.

The southern Oregon playoff in softball is to be held at Medford, August 19. Medford and Ashland will play the first game. Klamath will play Grants Pass in the second game. The winners will play August 20, and the victor in that event will represent southern Oregon in the state tournament to be held at Salem.

An Friday, August 6, Polin's play FWW and Elks meet S. P. on Modoc field.

Szabo Winner Over Chicago Mat Artist

PORTLAND, Aug. 5 (AP)—Sander Szabo, 215, of Hungary, made a date with Bronko Nagurski, newest claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling title, for August 18 here when he threw Ivan Mansgroff, 218, Chicago, here last night.

Harry Kent, formerly of Oregon State college, protested the loss of his match with King Kong Hashey, 220, Minneapolis, claiming he was partially out of the ring when the fall occurred.

Bill Hanson, 210, Omaha, and Bob Kruse, 210, Oswego, went three rounds to a draw; the Golden Terror, a new masked menace, 275, of Phoenix, won from Ole Olson, 245, Sweden, and Paul Boeschy, 215, Brooklyn, three; Bob Mansgroff, 210, Chicago.

CRUCIAL TILT COMES SUNDAY

Red Sox-Tiger Struggle At Redding May Bring First Place Tie.

With the Klamath Falls Red Sox leading by a single game, the long-awaited Red Sox-Redding Tigers battle next Sunday in California looms up as a crucial affair if a first place tie is to be avoided. Manager "Red" Sanders still is of the opinion that Redding has a much better club than the above standings show and regards them as a dangerous foe any time. Klamath is sure of one thing—a tie for first place at the close of the league schedule should they lose to Redding or a spot on top of the pile should they win.

A meeting of league directors has been called for Saturday evening in Mt. Shasta City at which time several important features will be brought up. A protested game between Mt. Shasta and the Weed Sons of Italy will be discussed and if Mt. Shasta wins the protest, it means Klamath will be two games ahead in league competition before taking on the tough Redding Tigers, with assurance of a first place finish for the schedule.

The Red Sox sluggers are clicking along very well and local fans see no reason for a defeat at Redding Sunday. This week is being spent in intensive infield, outfield, and batting practice sessions on Modoc field and every player is in fine form for the fray.

Word has been received from Redding that interest is high over the game down there and a record crowd is expected. The Redding city band will be on hand to furnish music for the affair, this being the first game at which the band has appeared this season. Many Klamath fans plan to take in the contest, some driving down Sunday and others leaving Saturday evening. The majority of the Red Sox squad will leave by autos on Saturday evening and plan to make the Golden Eagle hotel in Redding the official Red Sox headquarters.

Beavers Climb Into Third Place As Result of 3-2 Win Over League Leaders

By Associated Press

Portland's belting Beavers were in third place in the Pacific Coast baseball league race after a cast-off Seattle pitcher gave them a 3 to 2 win over the League-leading San Diego Padres.

San Francisco's failing Seals dropped into fourth place after taking their second beating in as many days from the second-place Sacramento outfit. The Senators picked young Bob Cole for 17 batters and a triple. The score was 15 to 2.

Homers by Alan Strange and Mike Hunt, the latter's coming with one on the bags, gave Seattle a 6 to 3 win over the San Francisco Missions. Thirteen hits were enough to give Los Angeles a 7 to 5 win over the Oakland Aces.

Bill Thomas, who was sold to the Beavers last week by the Tribe, limited the Padres to five hits. Portland scored the winning run in the last of the ninth on George Myatt's wild throw to first after slugging Mike Tresh, Beaver catcher, had hit a two-bagger, and Pete Coscarart smashed a drive to the Padre shortstop, which he could not control in his toss to first base.

Manager Bill Killefer, Sacramento manager, was fined $50 Wednesday for flying a white flag which he said he did not fly. It all started when Nick Cullip got into an argument with Empire Engeln after being called out on strikes. He was waved out of the game and Killefer protested, and for his trouble was bounced out of the game, too.

A little later, it was reported, Engeln noticed what he thought was a white flag waving above the Sacramento bench. He went to the bench looking for Killefer. Not finding him he told the bat boy to tell the Soien manager he was fined $50—at least that is the way Killefer tells the story.

"I was not even on the bench," said Hill. "And anyway, the flag was not white. It may have been Calipoy's sweat shirt. That's the first time I've ever been fined for flying a white flag. And I did not fly it. What you make of that?"

Killefer announced Wednesday Art Garibaldi, who led both clubs at bat Wednesday with three singles, a double and a pass in five times at the plate, has been ordered by Branch Rickey, boss of the Cardinal chain gang, to report to the St. Louis training camp next spring.

Max West did all the scoring for the Missions. He lashed out two home runs and in the ninth blasted a two-bagger, stole third and went home on an outfield fly. Hunt's homer was his 28th of the season.

CLEMENS AND SAVICH MEET

Re-match Slated for Next Tuesday Night; Toots Estes Billed.

Danny Savich and Frank Clemens, who fought to a draw in this week's wrestling card at the armory, have been re-matched by Promoter Mack Lillard for next Tuesday night.

Savich said Thursday that his roughness in this week's match is not his true style, but resulted from the Indiana use of the paralyzer hold. That hold, he declared, is a strange hold, and when it is attempted on him, he will resort to anything to win.

Sammy Kohn, the villain from New York, will meet handsome Toots Estes in the semi-windup. Toots is ex-heavyweight champion of the Hawaiian islands, and one of the favorites with fans in these parts.

Carlos Rodriguez and Jack LaRue will meet again in the opener. LaRue won this week, but Rodriguez thinks he can bring about a different outcome next time.

MENARY COMING WEST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Expressing confidence the senators will have acted on the Bonneville dam bill by Thursday of next week, Senator Charles McNary of Oregon made his railroad reservations for that date.

McNary's bill, which would authorize the construction of a dam on the Snake river, has been a subject of much discussion in the Senate.

The bill would authorize the construction of a dam on the Snake river, which would provide for the irrigation of a large area of land in Idaho.

The bill would also authorize the construction of a dam on the Snake river, which would provide for the irrigation of a large area of land in Idaho.

Here's Duck Season Information

Hunters Who Shoot in Both Oregon, California to Have Almost Two Months Again.

Additional information on the duck hunting season for the benefit of Klamath's scores of scattered enthusiasts is given herewith. Duck hunters like to clip these regulations for later reference.

The biological survey announcement shows that those who hunt both in Oregon and California will have from November 1 to December 26 to get birds. Here are the seasons:

Intermediate zone, which includes Oregon; November 1 to 30, inclusive.

Southern zone, which includes California; November 27 to December 25, inclusive.

This year's regulations, says the U. S. biological survey, represents the continuation of a program that has checked the decline of waterfowl and resulted in an increase in the numbers of these birds. Investigations are conducted annually by the survey over a large part of the continent, including Canada and Mexico, and reports this summer indicate that for the second year in succession there has been a noticeable increase in most species.

Survey officials attribute the increase in part to success in the federal refuge program for restoring large areas of marsh land to the birds for breeding, feeding, resting and wintering. But they consider the present gains largely due to success in reducing the annual kill, through stringent regulations that have been supported by the large body of sportsmen. It will be years before the refuge program will produce maximum results, and in the meantime the preservation of adequate breeding stocks is an especially critical problem.

"The slow but steady increase noted last year appears to be continuing," says the survey, "but it is not great enough to warrant any lengthening of the season or removal of other restrictions."

Regulations First Since Mexican Treaty

This year's regulations were approved on July 20 by President Roosevelt. They include regulations pursuant to the amended Migratory Bird Treaty Act of last March with Mexico for the protection of migratory birds and game mammals.

Regulations first put into force under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of 1918 have been amended annually to embody provisions found necessary under changing conditions for protecting migratory birds. The amendments this year are included in a "re-statement" of the regulations—or 12 regulations which include a new one covering the transportation of game mammals between the United States and Mexico.

Summary of Regulations

Other restrictions embodied in this year's hunting regulations on migratory birds are summarized by the survey as follows:

Continuation of the regulation providing no open season on snow geese and brant in Florida and in states north thereof that border on the Atlantic coast, and no open season in any part of the United States on Ross' geese, wood ducks, ruddy ducks, canvasbacks, redheads, bufflehead ducks, and swans.

Bag and possession limits, continued from the last two seasons, place the daily bag limit on ducks at 10 in the aggregate and make the possession limit conform to the daily bag.

The daily bag and the possession limit on geese and brant of the kinds permitted to be killed have been increased this year to five in the aggregate of all kinds. Last year the limit was four.

The new daily bag limit on geese is 25. Last year the limit was 15.

Hunting of waterfowl and doves and the use of live decoys in hunting waterfowl are not authorized regardless of the distance between the hunter and the shot.

The 3-shot limit on repeating shotguns either hand operated or auto loading, in effect the last two seasons, is continued this season. Hunters may use shotguns not larger than No. 10 gauge.

Waterfowl and geese may be hunted in season from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Angels, rails, gallinules (other than coot), woodcock, mourning doves, white-winged doves, and band-tailed pigeons may be hunted in season from 7 a. m. to sunset. No changes were made in the regulations on band-tailed pigeons.

In Alaska north of the Alaskan range and the Aleutian mountains the waterfowl hunting season will open September 1 and close September 30; south of these mountains and west of the 141st meridian and east of False Pass at the tip of the Alaska peninsula the open season is September 16 to October 15; in southeastern Alaska from the 141st meridian to Dixon's entrance, October 1 to 20; and islands of Unimak, Unalaska, Adakian and Akutan west of Unimak Pass in the Aleutian Islands group, November 1 to November 20.

Open seasons on rails and woodcocks have been restricted in several states, and the daily bag limit on snipe rails has been reduced from 25 to 15. These birds, the survey explains, are abundant only in a few restricted areas.

Open seasons on white-winged doves, one of the species included in the Mexican treaty, are established only in Texas and Arizona. The daily bag limit on both mourning and white-winged doves is 15 in the aggregate of both kinds.

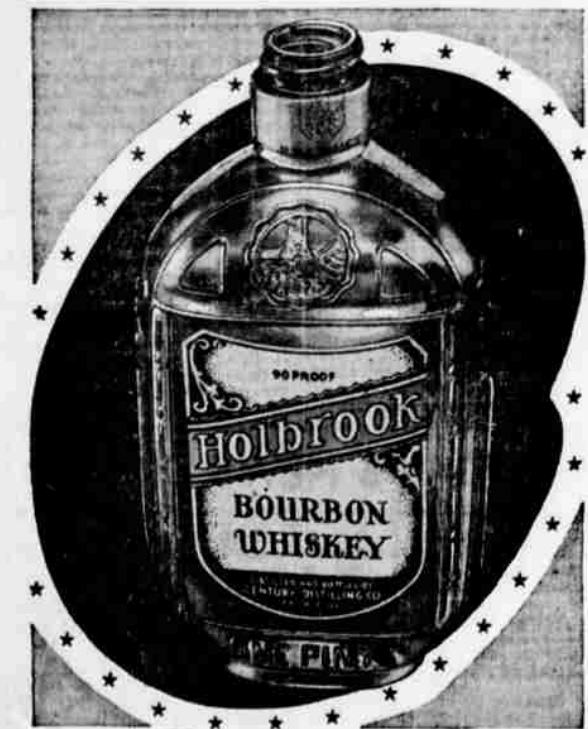

Duck Stamp Required

Possession of a federal duck stamp is required by law of every migratory waterfowl hunter over 16 years of age. The stamps are on sale at post offices.

The regulation permitting the killing of migratory birds when they become injurious to crops or property has been modified so regional directors of the survey can also issue permits in individual and isolated cases.

Copies of the new regulations, as soon as available, may be obtained from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.
