

Sportsmen Protest Late California Hunting

MOVE MADE TO ADVANCE DATES

Resolution Requests Tule Lake Area Be Included in Klamath Zone.

Sentiment against the late November-December duck and goose hunting season in northern California has been growing rapidly during the past week, with sportsmen's associations, chambers of commerce and other civic groups in both Klamath county and the Tule lake district lodging formal protests.

Principal objection is that probably by the time the California season opens—and certainly before its close—migratory birds will have already flown south, with the result that shooting will be at a minimum. The objectors point out that Tule lake area is virtually identical with the Klamath district, and that hunting conditions there parallel those in the Klamath county rather than those in more southerly California shooting grounds.

In a number of cases action has been taken to request that the U. S. biological survey include the Tule lake country in the Klamath district, where, along with the rest of Oregon and other northern states, the hunting season has been set for November 1 to 30, a month ahead of the California season.

Such a request was reiterated Wednesday night by the Klamath county council of the Oregon Wildlife Federation, which requested a resolution deploring the late dates set by the government for waterfowl hunting in the Tule lake basin.

WHEREAS, the migratory wildfowl shooting season in California has been designated from November 27 to December 24, which dates are effective in the Tule lake basin of northern California, and

WHEREAS, such dates provide for a season which is entirely too late for duck shooting in the Tule lake district, for by the time the season opens all birds will have flown into more southerly regions, and

WHEREAS, the dates for Oregon season are November 1 to 30, which dates would provide a fairer and more satisfactory season for Tule lake.

WHEREAS, the Tule lake district is contiguous to the Klamath, Oregon, district, being geographically a part of the same unit, and reserves on both sides of the line are being administered as one unit by the biological survey.

BE IT RESOLVED that the Klamath County Council of the Oregon Wildlife Federation hereby declares itself in record in favor of changing the dates of the season in the Tule lake district, of California, to coincide with the dates for the season in the Klamath district of Oregon, namely, November 1 to 30.

Be it further resolved that this organization urges the biological survey and other game authorities to consider the Tule lake and Klamath districts as one and the same district in such matters as the establishment of hunting seasons.

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be sent to Ed F. Averill, president of the Oregon Wildlife Federation; to Ira Gabrielson, administrator of the biological survey, Washington, D. C.; to the California Fish and game commission; to the Oregon fish and game commission; to Tom Stanley, secretary, Shasta-Cascades Wonderland association.

Signed
President.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Desk Lieutenant Clarence J. Shear captured but couldn't arrest the culprit who stole his glasses.

"Blackey," a crow, flew off with them. Shear found the bird full of buckshot sometime later, nursed him back to health.

Now the policeman has plans for revenge.

"Ever hear of crow pie?" he asked.

Two Favorites Still Left As Public Links Field Cut to 16

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Sixteen survivors of the national public links championship divided forces today as match play reached the third and fourth round stages.

Eighteen holes were ahead for the morning round. The quarter final tour at the same distance was carded for the afternoon.

BILLIARDS LOSE PENNANT HOPES

Weyerhaeusers Move In to Tie for Third; Polins Win.

Although playing without the services of four regulars, Weyerhaeuser rose up in one terrific burst of scoring on the Modoc fall softball diamond Wednesday night to defeat Klamath Billiards, 4-5, and put an end to all the Billiards' pennant hopes.

As a result of the Weyerhaeuser victory, the second-half championship now lies between Smoke and the Woodworkers, who clash Friday night.

In the other game Wednesday night, a free-hitting affair, Polins defeated Elks, 16-10. The contest closed the season for both teams, and left the winner in fifth place, just a notch ahead of the loser.

Weyerhaeuser had a bad first inning, allowing Klamath Billiards to score four of its five runs in that frame, but the millmen came back strong in the second, manufacturing all eight of their tallies in one big assault.

Once in the lead, the Weyerhaeuser defense appeared to steady in spite of the wealth of rookie talent in key positions, and although the Billiards managed to push across another run in the third, they never seriously threatened to reverse the outcome.

A walk and four hits, including a home run by Marsh, gave the losers their initial advantage. This performance was more than matched by the three walks, an error and four hits off Pitcher Harry Griffith, including a homer by Pitcher Buck Ferguson.

Weyerhaeuser and Quinn of the Billiards started behind the plate and Granger accounted for one of the winners' six bingles.

Darrah, Weyerhaeuser shortstop, led his team in batting with two singles. Hedlin of Klamath Billiards got two singles, and in addition to his home run, a single.

The Polins started in early on the job of dumping the Elks outfit. They bunched six hits, a base on balls and an error to score seven times in the first inning.

In the third they bagged five year's pennant and is sharpening up its sights for another major operation on baseball's record books.

They handed a dose of knockout drops to their latest challenger from second-place by trampling the Boston Red Sox 5-2 and 10-4, in both ends of a double bill Wednesday, with a crowd of 36,127 witnessing the execution, and thereby waltzed away to an 11-game lead over the pack—a lead that puts them as good as "in" unless there's a wholesale epidemic of broken bones or an earthquake or two.

With that done, they looked over the field Thursday and found their 1936 record of 152 homers for a season, which was supposed to be first class to a limit a year ago, would be somewhat of a cinch to wipe out and that they have a fair chance to preserve for Yankee posterity new marks for won-lost standings and for the margin by which they can nail the pennant to the mast.

Dynamiter DiMaggio drove his 33rd round-tripper into the stands in Wednesday's 14-inning opener, and Gehrig greeted Buck Newsum with his 25th in the seven-inning nightcap. This pair of Day-off wallopers boosted the Yankees season total to 130 in the 95 official games to date. With 56 games still ahead and 53 homers needed for a record, there seems little chance that the old mark will be on hand when they finish their bombing this season.

The National league lead, currently in possession of the Chicago Cubs, also underwent a "stretching" Wednesday. The Cubs took advantage of the absence of the second-place Giants to pound the Pirates, 5-1, behind Clay Bryant's five-hit fling and boost their pace-making margin to 6½ games.

The Cleveland Indians, with Bob Feller pitching a seven-hit and fanning six in the opener, 5-2 and 7-2, in a twin bill. The Senators just lasted to take a 5-4 decision from the Athletics. St. Louis won the Cardinals to a 3-2 win over the Reds.

The White Sox and Tigers in the American league, and the Giants, Bees, Dodgers and Phillies in the National were rained out.

SEALS REGAIN THIRD PLACE

San Francisco Stickmen Batter Duck Hurlers for 21 Hits.

San Francisco's Seals regressed in third place in the Pacific Coast baseball league again Thursday after blasting the Portland Beavers out of that position with a barrage of 21 base hits which landed outside as well as inside of the Beaver park Wednesday.

Reaping revenge for the defeat which pushed them out of third place Tuesday night, the Seals smothered last year's champions, 13 to 6.

Lefty O'Doul's boys pounded the offerings of three Portland pitchers, the 21 hits including homers by Ted Norbert and Brooke Holder as well as a pair of two bangers by Dominic DiMaggio, two more doubles by Harley Boss and two base hits by Holder and Glenn Wright.

The Seals did their heavy work in the first six innings, being held hitless and scoreless for the last three by Pitcher Moncrief. After two successful tries, Sad Sam Gibson, the league's top notch pitcher, finally won his sixteenth game for the Seals, although he reached for 11 hits by the Beavers.

Three of the five games played Wednesday ended in 4 to 2 scores. Sacramento ganged up on Walter Beck of the San Francisco Missions in the sixth to score four runs on three hits and four passes. Oakland with the aid of a home run by Bobby Gibson, three base hits by Rario Liddigian and Pitcher Jack LaRocca and a double by Merrill May defeated San Diego, 4 to 2.

Los Angeles won the first game of a doubleheader with Seattle, 4 to 2, but lost the second, 8 to 2, when Seattle rallied to come from behind.

If the Angels had taken a pair from the Tribe Wednesday night they would have been tied for third place with the Seals.

Hard luck continued to dog Big Nick Cullop of the second place Sacramento team. Tuesday he was knocked out while fielding a line drive. Wednesday he was hit in the head when he walked into a bat being swung by a teammate, Joe Orseno. As he did Tuesday, Cullop participated in the rally which won for the Senators Wednesday.

Tuesday night eight members of the San Diego club were to be presented with life passes to Coast league games in recognition of outstanding service in baseball for 10 years or more.

The men receiving the honor will be Howard Craghead, pitcher; Eddie Mulligan, coach; Manager Frank Shellenback, Cedric Durst, Herman Pilette, pitcher; Jimmy Reese, infielder; Leroy Cook and Secretary Charley Baam.

Red Sox Meet Tough Redding Tigers Here in Playoff Game

League Standings

League defeats on the home diamond. Every Red Sox player will have to turn in a good game to defeat Redding as the California team, after a number of charged games in the schedule, has suddenly "snapped out of it" and last Sunday showed plenty of pep and baseball ability on the diamond as well as slugging power at the plate. With such an array of sluggers as Flowers, Koehler, Wolf and Wickert, the Redding Tigers will be hard to stop now that they are within view of the finals and the league pennant which they lost last season by one game.

Klamath feels that if it can get over the tough semifinals, the finals will not look so hard, especially if the opposition turns out to be the Weed Sons of Italy. The only two games lost by the Weed Sons this year were to the local Red Sox, and the Klamath team seems to have a special talent for blowing up the Latin outfit.

Next Sunday's game should be one of the best in the playoff. Both Redding and Klamath are eager to take the opener, and with the two clubs so evenly balanced as to defense and slugging power, a break or two for either squad will mean victory or defeat.

It will be a real battle Sunday and the largest crowd of the season is expected to be on hand to lend needed support to the Red Sox nine, who will be battling their way toward the Klamath pennant, which has never been won by an Oregon combination.

Individual hitting averages for the Red Sox squad are as follows:

Player	At Bats	Runs	Hits	Per Cent
Comstock	38	17	447
Hammerickson	33	28	444
Wheeler	64	27	422
Cryslator	44	17	356

Granger	31	19	315
Harshbarger	55	19	315
Brooks	65	22	335
Fryer	27	5	296
Donaldson	44	12	272
Turnpin	8	2	259
Shipman	8	2	259
Molatore	29	6	267
Duracha	14	3	187
Oakes	13	2	134
Hogan	6	0	999

Team average (end of regular schedule), .347.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Jim (Ripper) Collins, the Chicago Cubs' disabled first baseman, expected to leave the hospital today on crutches.

His right leg, from heel to halfway to the knee was encased in a cast to hold in place a bone fractured in the first inning of Tuesday's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates, but he said he would be back in the battle within a month. Dr. John F. Davis said the cast probably could be removed in three weeks.

That end he has been negotiating with Herbert Fischer, San Francisco capitalist and principal owner of the Missions. He said he preferred to acquire the Oakland club because of its connection with the New York Yankees.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12 (AP)—Bronko Nagurski, former Minnesota football star, won in straight falls here last night over Vincent Lopez of Los Angeles, ex-Idaho grifter, before a crowd estimated at 20,000.

The show was billed as the world's championship. Nagurski used body slams to pin the 225-pound Mexican to the mat in 29 minutes, 16 seconds, and one minute, 19 seconds. The victor weighed 235.

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 12 (AP)—George Cornell, hard-driving senior left halfback, will not compete on the University of California football team next season. He has withdrawn from school and obtained a job.

Cornell, considered certain of first-string service despite his recurrent knee injuries, indicated he would attempt to return in 1938 to suit his final year of athletic eligibility.

Loss of Cornell was the second suffered by the Golden Bears during the summer. Jack Howard, senior fullback, also withdrew from school.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP)—If every bidder at the Saratoga yearling sales was like Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of Chicago, life would be sweet for the auctioneers and breeders of thoroughbred yearlings.

Mrs. Mars has spent $122,700 at the sales thus far, adding $69,000 to her total last night when she purchased seven yearlings.

Last night she was involved in a hot battle for a bay colt by Imp. Teddy out of Cinema with Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan. She finally took the colt at a bid of $16,900. Mrs. Sloan dropped out when the bidding hit $16,800.

CLEANIES MEET IN MAIN EVENT

Clemens Paired With Estes in Mat Bout, Savich Faces Kohen.

Two cleanies are paired and a meanie and gentleman of undetermined leanings are matched in the two feature events of next week's armory wrestling card. Promoter Mack Lillard announced Thursday in announcing the Golden Terror, 218; his manager, Harry Demetree, 210, Portland; Bill Middlekauff, 240, Florida; and King Kong Kashay, 213, Minnesota.

Later, Middlekauff lost to the terror; Olson won from Demetree and Kashay and Hansen wrestled a 15-minute draw.

Lillard said he thought Estes and Clemens were about as close a match as he could find even if he had the whole junior heavyweight ranks to choose from and that the fact that they were both here at the same time and could be tossed together was just one of those lucky breaks that only occur once in a wrestling millennium.

Both boys are noted for their speed and scientific methods as well as their ability to absorb punishment and still win. Great support was expected to be given evenly divided, as both lads are highly popular with the mat-munited gentry.

The Kohen-Savich affair will provide a meeting of the toughest element, Lillard said he thought that, once he was up against a dyed-in-the-wool villain, Savich would return to his normal ways, which feature a devastating flying tackle. The promoter figured that the fans down on him following two successive matches in which he pummeled Clemens, the Utahen might toss off the cloak of gentility for keeps and mix it up with Kohen in the manner in which the New York Jew specializes.

In either case Savich is a tough customer for any man's wrestler to handle. As far as that goes, Kohen is too, and there will be plenty of followers in his corner next week despite his defeat by Estes last Tuesday night.

The opening bout will pit Jack LaRue, he of the knee-bone back-breaker and hammerlocks, against Wild Man Zim, a newcomer. Zimmy is listed as an Arkansas mountaineer and is reputedly a very strange character.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12 (AP)—A baseball job loomed today for the bambino of home runs, George Herman Ruth.

The mighty Babe, actor George Raft disclosed, is considered the ideal prospect for manager of a Hollywood baseball team in the Pacific Coast league.

With a group of screen associates, sports-minded Raft wants to transfer the Oakland or San Francisco Missions franchise to the movie capital next year.

To that end he has been negotiating with Herbert Fischer, San Francisco capitalist and principal owner of the Missions. He said he preferred to acquire the Oakland club because of its connection with the New York Yankees.

Raft Hopes to Move Oaks or Missions South

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Old Babe, a four-ton elephant who entertained thousands in her lifetime, was buried last night in a huge grave at the national zoo. She died yesterday at an age estimated at 99.

Ernest P. Walker, acting director of the zoo, spoke of her as "a grand old lady."

Old Babe traveled with a circus more than 50 years and came to the zoo three years ago. When she collapsed Sunday, attendants said it was the first time she had lain down in nine years.

Two elephants still in their 20's will occupy a new $300,000 elephant house which Babe did not live to enjoy.

Kruse Wins Over Masked Manager in Portland Bout

Portland, Aug. 12 (AP)—Bob Kruse, 218, Oswego, and the masked manager of the Golden Terror survived a battle royal opening the wrestling card here last night, and the latter was posed as Strangler E. White, 217, of Alabama, when he lost to Kruse in a later match and forfeited his incumbent.

With Kruse on the "cleanie" side of the team scramble, Paul Hensch, 215, Brooklyn; Bill Hansen, 217, Salt Lake City; Sander Sando, 215, Glendale, Cal.; and Ole Olson, 243, Sweden.

The "meanies" consisted of the Golden Terror, 218; his manager, Harry Demetree, 210, Portland; Bill Middlekauff, 240, Florida; and King Kong Kashay, 213, Minnesota.

Later, Middlekauff lost to the terror; Olson won from Demetree and Kashay and Hansen wrestled a 15-minute draw.

Marion Miley Holds to Pace in Medal Play

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—One more sample of the kind of golf she has been shooting for the last three days was all Marion Miley of Cincinnati needed today to win her third consecutive women's western 72-hole medal play derby in record fashion.

Black-haired, dark-eyed Marion went into the final round of the longest medal play tournament women's golf today with a five-stroke margin over red-haired Patty Berg of Minneapolis. From the manner in which she completed her 54-hole total of 232 strokes, eight under par for that distance over the Onwentsia club course, only an almost total collapse of her game could keep her from retaining the title she won in 1935 and 1936.

She was well on her way toward bettering the tournament record of 329 recorded by Mrs. S. L. Reinhardt of Chicago, in 1932. She also was an even 10 strokes under her pace of last year at the same point when she headed the Minneapolis star by only one stroke.

Miss Miley, who started Monday with a 74 and added a Tuesday, came up with another 78 yesterday. Miss Berg, a winner of a course record 74 Tuesday after taking an 83 the first day, scored even par 80 yesterday for a total of 237.

Hetty Jamison of Austin, Texas, made a belated rally yesterday, matching Miss Miley's 78, to move from a tie for sixth, to third place at 240. The 1937 trans-Mississippi champion had little chance of catching the leader, but still was in the running for the runner-up.

By the Associated Press
The society for the perpetuation of the Yankees as American league champions ("Jaks" Ruppert, Pres.) is on the way toward proving again that the sky is the limit so far as its long-range firing is concerned.

With charter members Lon Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio as chief "disher-outers" of the daily dose of pitchers' poison, the wall squad has just about demolished what little race there was for this year's pennant and is sharpening up its sights for another major operation on baseball's record books.

They handed a dose of knockout drops to their latest challenger from second-place by trampling the Boston Red Sox 5-2 and 10-4, in both ends of a double bill Wednesday, with a crowd of 36,127 witnessing the execution, and thereby waltzed away to an 11-game lead over the pack—a lead that puts them as good as "in" unless there's a wholesale epidemic of broken bones or an earthquake or two.
