Jean and Edgar Moore, about 9 and 10, were painfully burned by boiling water which spouted out of the radiator of their automobile on Greensprings highway Thursday morning.

The little boys were going without their shirts on the warm morning, and both were burned when the radiator cap was removed to cool the over-heated car.

They were brought to the Klamath Medical clinic for treatment. The burns were not believed to be serious.

The boys, with their parents, are visiting relatives in this city.

Ex-Raying a Name From a Hat

An actress and an actor quite frequently get together in Hollywood and a changed name is the result, but never to anyone's knowledge was the trick turned by drawing slips from a hat, as the above couple are shown doing. It happened when Actress Terry Ray, left, found herself being confused with Actress Terry Ray, right. They conferred, drew lots from the hat and masculine Terry Ray became Terry Rains, while feminine Terry Ray remained as before.
