POMONA HOLDS CONFERENCE AT FORT KLAMATH

FORT KLAMATH, Aug. 20—Klamath county Pomona grange met in Fort Klamath Saturday for its regular quarterly session. The business meeting was called to order at 10 a. m. in the local church, with Pomona Master L. Alva Lewis in the chair. A number of important resolutions were passed during the morning, and members acted upon the resignation of David Bliss of Hildebrand as Pomona treasurer by electing Owen King of Hildebrand to act as treasurer.

The business meeting was adjourned at noon, when luncheon was served in the clubhouse to 86 people by members of Fort Klamath, Shasta View and Altamont granges.

Following luncheon, the following program was presented, under the direction of Mrs. John W. Taylor, master of Merrill grange, who is also Pomona lecturer: group singing, "School Days," and "Farmer in the Dell"; violin solo by Ruth Briscoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Briscoe of Klamath Falls, accompanied at the piano by her aunt, Mrs. Ray Briscoe of Fort Klamath; duet, "The Quarrel," by Louellen and Elmore Nicholson, accompanied at the piano by their mother, Mrs. T. R. Nicholson of Fort Klamath; talk by County Agent Charles A. Henderson on the topic of small seeds and grains; solo by William House of Bonanza, accompanied at the piano by his mother, Mrs. Elliott House; closing song by gathering, "My Wild Irish Rose."

At 6 p. m., refreshments were served in the clubhouse to about 40, many having gone home at the conclusion of the afternoon's program. At 7:30 in the evening, the high school gymnasium was the gathering place for a good crowd, when drill and degree work were the order of the evening. The officers' seating drill was exemplified by officers of Fort Klamath grange, who had practiced with a view to competing with other county drill teams for the trophy cup awarded annually by Pomona grange. The cup was won from Bonanza grange by the local grange without a struggle, as there was no other competition.

The work of the fifth degree of the grange was put on beautifully by Past Pomona Master Earl Mack and the Pomona degree team. This degree is especially impressive, and Mack is to be complimented on the fine way in which the work was exemplified by himself and other Pomona officers.

At the conclusion of the drill and degree work, short talks were made by several out-of-town visitors. State Grange Overseer Morton Tompkins of Dayton, Ore., was present and spoke on the agricultural work of the grange. W. J. Wilcox of Mosier, Ore., master of Wasco county Pomona grange, and Vernon Livesay of Deschutes county Pomona grange, gave talks which were of much interest to those present. Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. Livesay, the former being a member of the state grange home economics committee, accompanied their husbands to Fort Klamath for the Pomona meeting.

On Sunday a good crowd enjoyed a day's outing at the George Denton park north of Fort Klamath for the annual Pomona picnic. Several remained in Fort Klamath over night in order to be on hand in the morning for the all-day affair. The highlight of the day was the bountiful picnic lunch served at noon at long tables in the beautiful surroundings of pine trees and green grass in the Denton park. Several interesting talks were made during the day, and perfect weather greatly contributed to the enjoyment of the outing.

Famous Cowboy Star Coming

"Trick riding, roping and even the picturesque cowboy of the movies are not typical of the plains," say Ken Maynard, the screen celebrated western star. "They are the outgrowth of the circus."

"Ten years ago, there was little roping among the cow hands, and those who practice it today received their inspiration largely from circus performers," he continued.

"As a matter of fact, the first trick roper in this country was Oro Peso (Gold Dollar). He was a Mexican brought to the United States to join Buffalo Bill's Wild West.

"Women are responsible for the cowboys of today. They love the artistic and picturesque and when boys from the ranges began riding before the ladies, the feminine mind dressed him in tailored breeches, monogramed silk shirts, mufflers and the like. No real cow hand wears a rig like mine, he loves his overalls, open neck and wide-brimmed hat. The hat is the best friend the cow puncher has, and he spends as much time and money buying it as a woman does her Easter bonnet.

"Riding came naturally to me, just as talents of any kind are born in some of us. My first rodeo appearance was in 1918. A few years later I won the world's championship for roping and trick riding in Chicago.

"To be a good rider one must be born with love of it. I came from Mission, Tex., and spent all my summers on ranches around there learning all I could from cow hands. Soon their tricks were simple for me. Riding and roping are like any other profession. The thought constantly in mind, 'what can I do to be different.' All depends on muscular development, nerve and practice."

Ken Maynard and his great congress of rough riders, Indians and Cossacks will be seen with the Cole Bros. circus in Klamath Falls, Monday, August 30. Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m. Doors to the Clyde Beatty menagerie will open at 1 and 7 p. m. An immense street parade will be seen on the downtown streets at 11 a. m.

BROADCAST BRINGS PROMPT CAPTURE

Bill McDonald, wanted in Lakeview on charges of larceny of an automobile, was apprehended in Klamath Falls just five minutes after a call was received at local police bureau from Lakeview and the information broadcast from the police radio station.

McDonald was arrested at Spring and Esplanade streets at 11:15 p. m. Thursday driving the alleged stolen automobile registered to Mary Hartley of Lakeview.

Sheriff Herb Carroll of Lake county was expected to arrive here Saturday to take McDonald into custody.

It is estimated that the total number of trucks produced and sold this year will be at least 830,000 units, as compared with 649,000 in 1935.

DRIVER ACCUSED OF STEALING TAXICAB

Accused of driving away with a taxicab, Robert H. Davis, 30, was named in a complaint filed Friday charging larceny by bailee. The police said that Davis came here with a carnival July 4, and got a job as driver for the Hurry Cab company.

The cab company reported Friday that Davis and a cab were missing. State police received word from Alturas that the cab was seen there.

CAR OVERTURNS ON LAKEVIEW HIGHWAY

John H. Crockett of Valsetz, Ore., was driving a car which overturned on the Lakeview highway south of town Thursday afternoon.

Crockett reported to authorities that he swerved to avoid a car driven by Walter J. Sanborn of Klamath Falls. The Crockett car struck a pile of bridge planks beside the highway and turned over.

Seven states require no fee for automobile trailers; one specifies a fee only if the trailer weighs more than 3000 pounds; and, in other states, fees range from $3 to $70, based usually on the weight.

Taste Wines that are Blended from selected stocks

Bottled and sealed by the winery . . . tamper-proof! Under the Fidelis label, your choice of favorite varieties . . . Port, Sherry, Muscatel, Burgundy, Sauterne, Angelica, Riesling, Claret, Zinfandel

FIDELIS WINES begin as certain chosen kinds of California's finer grapes . . . each selected in the vineyard for special qualities.

Mellowed in chosen casks, each of the resulting wine stocks develops its individual gift . . . the gift of superb aroma, of pleasing strength, of flavor or "body."

At the proper time, master vintners of Fidelis blend together these perfect wine stocks. By their art of blending is achieved the trueness to type, the unvarying excellence of flavor and bouquet which distinguish Fidelis Wines.

To know the miracle wrought by this art of blending you must drink Fidelis Wines. Try one or more varieties. They are not costly.
