

Louis-Farr Battle Postponed Until Monday

NOBODY LIKES SOUR BRITON

Experts Figure Bout Will End Between Third, Eighth Rounds.

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (P)—The heavyweight championship fight between Joe Louis and Tommy Farr, scheduled for tonight, was postponed until Monday night because of rain.

The four-day postponement was announced by Promoter Mike Jacobs shortly after the rival fighters weighed in, at the offices of the state athletic commission.

The Welsh challenger had a nine pound advantage on the scales, weighing 207 to 198 for Louis.

Because of the length of the postponement, the fighters will be obliged to go through the official weighing-in and examination ceremony again on Monday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (P)—Tommy Farr, the sour citizen from Tontogany, didn't need a crystal gazer or anybody else to tell him this was going to be a big day in his life when he climbed out of bed down at Long Branch, N. J., this morning.

Some time after 10 o'clock tonight, something very big is going to happen to Tommy. If it doesn't rain. Either he's going to get splattered all over the Yankee stadium infield by Joe Louis, an eventuality ardently desired by most of those who know Tommy well, or he's going to come out of the ring a rich man.

If he escapes the fireballer Louis throws at him for 15 rounds, the Welshman might go back to bed tonight the new champion. Outside of Farr himself, however, the only man around town who came right out and picked the pugilistic challenger to lift the crown was a visiting British sportswriter.

He had been off the boat only a few hours, though, and some thought he might have confused Joe Louis slightly with John Henry Lewis, a champion of the same color but with much less dynamite in his fists.

With this one important exception, opinion was well-nigh unanimous that Farr isn't anywhere near the hamdronnie he has looked in training. They don't much care how good he might be, to tell the truth. Those who worship at the shrine of Joe Louis' punch don't much care about anything. So far as can be discerned with the naked eye, they've forgotten completely what Max Schmelling did to Joe.

"Anybody Louis hits," they say, "he knocks his block off. Farr can be hit, can't he? Well, . . ."

That is about the extent of the experting that has been done on tonight's bout, which should gross a gate of about $250,000 and attract some 30,000 customers.

The literature from the rival camps has related, respectively, that Louis was walloping his sparring partners, knocking out two and three of them on special feast days, and that Tommy Farr was getting madder and madder at his manager, at his press agent and at everybody, in fact, except Shirley Temple. She didn't visit the camp.

Whole front rows of veteran fight men have watched the Welchman work out and have come away mystified. They concede him a good left, a world of rugged endurance and an aggressive disposition, to say the least. But he has looked wide open for a right, and maybe a left, and he hasn't looked like an individual who would try to play hide-and-seek with Louis like Bob Pastor did, even if he knew how.

"Sure as he comes in at Joe, he'll get knocked out," said Jack Johnson, the only previous Negro champion. "Joe still hasn't learned much. A boy who boxes with him and stays away will beat him every time. But this English boy had better watch himself."

Only the formalities of weighing in at noon at the boxing commission remained to be complied with. Louis was expected to do around 198, with the challenger five or six pounds better.

Farr, they said, wasn't receiving a cent extra for getting on the scales.

Grigger May Play With Wooden Leg
MARIANNA, Fla. Aug. 26 (P)—Undaunted by the loss of a leg, Frank Zych is going to try out for the Marianna high school football team this season.

He hopes special adjustments to an artificial limb will make it possible for him to run with at least a measure of the speed he showed in winning a place on a tri-state all-star eleven last year.

The 175-pound halfback lost his left leg in an automobile wreck last January. He has been walking without crutches since May.

Red Sox-House of David Tilt Expected to Draw Big Crowd

The Red Sox-colored House of David game scheduled for Modoc field Friday afternoon at 5:15 is creating much interest in fan circles, and a big turnout is expected.

Playing throughout Oregon in such cities as Portland, Salem, Eugene, Bend and Grants Pass, the Van Dykes have been drawing big crowds everywhere and pleasing the fans not only with the high class brand of baseball displayed but also with many comedy features as only the colored boys can put over.

The Red Sox are expected to give the traveling club plenty of opposition. They took the Van Dykes two in a row last summer in twilight games played on Modoc field.

GIANTS DEFEAT CHICAGO TWICE

Cubs' Margin in National League Sliced to Two Games.

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS
National League
New York 8-4, Chicago 7-2, first game 11 innings.
Brooklyn 2-2, St. Louis 4-5.
Boston 0, Pittsburgh 6.
Philadelphia-Cincinnati, double-header postponed, rain.

American League
Chicago 5, New York 10.
Detroit 10, Philadelphia 4.
Cleveland 5-2, Boston 4-7.
St. Louis 6, Washington 7.

By the Associated Press
The Cubs met the enemy—and couldn't get away from them. Even if they'd been in the next county, it's doubtful if those Chicago clouters could have gotten the Giants out of their hair Wednesday as they blew both ends of their doubleheader with the second-place New Yorkers. They kicked away a five-run lead in the opener and a one-run edge in the nightcap, which shaved their National league lead to a mere two games.

As a result, the National league race seemed headed Thursday for a photo finish, with enough rough riding to make it look like a rodeo, and with the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis' revving Cardinals the outsiders that may decide it.

Even a couple of startling performances in the American league couldn't take the spotlight Wednesday. For one, there was Bobby Feller, looking like a real pitcher, fanning 14, allowing four hits and hurling the Indians to an 8-1 victory over the Red Sox in the opener of a twin bill, the nightcap of which went to the Boston, 7-2. For another, there was a major league record equalled when the Tigers' outfield didn't have a fielding chance as the Detroiters drubbed the Athletics 10-4.

But the National league race was the thing. In fact, it may

Missions Keep Solons From Extending First-Place Lead

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS
Portland 3, San Diego 1.
San Francisco 7, Seattle 3.
Missions 4, Sacramento 3.
Los Angeles 5, Oakland 6.

By the Associated Press
The San Francisco Missions, the only team in the Pacific coast baseball league a clinch to finish in the position it now holds—last—was a thorn in the side of league leading Sacramento Solons Thursday.

Sacramento had an opportunity to increase its leadership to a game and a half Wednesday night after Portland had handed second-place San Diego its second setback in two days by a 3 to 1 score. Going into the seventh inning the Senators led the Missions 3 to 1. Then Chick Outen singled, scoring Don Johnson. Steve Barath smacked a two-bagger, and Outen crossed the plate. Barath followed a second later to give the Missions a 4 to 3 win as Lou Almada singled.

Mission misplays accounted for two of the Solons runs, and the only earned run off Walter Beck was a homer by Dibs Williams in the fourth inning.

Ad Liska, Portland submarine hurler, won his twentieth game of the season as he limited the Padres to three scattered hits. Dick Ward, Ted Williams and George Myatt were the only

GIANTS DEFEAT CHICAGO TWICE

Cubs' Margin in National League Sliced to Two Games.

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS
National League
New York 8-4, Chicago 7-2, first game 11 innings.
Brooklyn 2-2, St. Louis 4-5.
Boston 0, Pittsburgh 6.
Philadelphia-Cincinnati, double-header postponed, rain.

American League
Chicago 5, New York 10.
Detroit 10, Philadelphia 4.
Cleveland 5-2, Boston 4-7.
St. Louis 6, Washington 7.

By the Associated Press
The Cubs met the enemy—and couldn't get away from them. Even if they'd been in the next county, it's doubtful if those Chicago clouters could have gotten the Giants out of their hair Wednesday as they blew both ends of their doubleheader with the second-place New Yorkers. They kicked away a five-run lead in the opener and a one-run edge in the nightcap, which shaved their National league lead to a mere two games.

As a result, the National league race seemed headed Thursday for a photo finish, with enough rough riding to make it look like a rodeo, and with the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis' revving Cardinals the outsiders that may decide it.

Even a couple of startling performances in the American league couldn't take the spotlight Wednesday. For one, there was Bobby Feller, looking like a real pitcher, fanning 14, allowing four hits and hurling the Indians to an 8-1 victory over the Red Sox in the opener of a twin bill, the nightcap of which went to the Boston, 7-2. For another, there was a major league record equalled when the Tigers' outfield didn't have a fielding chance as the Detroiters drubbed the Athletics 10-4.

But the National league race was the thing. In fact, it may

Missions Keep Solons From Extending First-Place Lead

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS
Portland 3, San Diego 1.
San Francisco 7, Seattle 3.
Missions 4, Sacramento 3.
Los Angeles 5, Oakland 6.

By the Associated Press
The San Francisco Missions, the only team in the Pacific coast baseball league a clinch to finish in the position it now holds—last—was a thorn in the side of league leading Sacramento Solons Thursday.

Sacramento had an opportunity to increase its leadership to a game and a half Wednesday night after Portland had handed second-place San Diego its second setback in two days by a 3 to 1 score. Going into the seventh inning the Senators led the Missions 3 to 1. Then Chick Outen singled, scoring Don Johnson. Steve Barath smacked a two-bagger, and Outen crossed the plate. Barath followed a second later to give the Missions a 4 to 3 win as Lou Almada singled.

Mission misplays accounted for two of the Solons runs, and the only earned run off Walter Beck was a homer by Dibs Williams in the fourth inning.

Ad Liska, Portland submarine hurler, won his twentieth game of the season as he limited the Padres to three scattered hits. Dick Ward, Ted Williams and George Myatt were the only

REDDING GETS THIRD PLAYOFF

League Directors Schedule Crucial Game for California City.

After much bickering back and forth between the Redding Tigers and the Red Sox over correct interpretation of league rules concerning where a third game should be played in a tied series, the whole matter was turned over to the Northern California league directors for final settlement.

A special meeting of the eight league directors was held Wednesday evening in Mt. Shasta City and a vote of 6-2 was cast in favor of Tigers field in Redding. The directors pointed out that Modoc field was not suitable for a crucial play-off game due to various hazards, such as light poles, wires and cinder track rails.

Regarding a neutral field part way between Redding and Klamath, the directors stated that the three towns of Weed, Mt. Shasta and Dunsmuir all wanted the game and in order to avoid partiality, the game was voted to Redding, which has a fine baseball park.

With the directors' decision final, the Red Sox must play in Redding next Sunday or forfeit the game.

At Dollarhide, Red Sox business manager, stated that the club will leave early Sunday morning for the California town, and would not think of a forfeit. He further stated that the Red Sox were still "right in there" with eyes on the finals and coveted pennant.

The Standings

By the Associated Press

COAST LEAGUE	W.	L.	PCT.
Sacramento	55	43	.564
San Diego	54	44	.554
San Francisco	79	79	.500
Los Angeles	74	71	.522
Portland	73	72	.503
Oakland	70	79	.473
Seattle	66	82	.444
Missions	57	92	.383

NATIONAL LEAGUE	W.	L.	PCT.
Chicago	70	45	.609
New York	66	45	.595
St. Louis	62	49	.563
Pittsburgh	61	52	.540
Boston	55	60	.478
Cincinnati	45	64	.413
Philadelphia	45	67	.402
Brooklyn	44	67	.396

AMERICAN LEAGUE	W.	L.	PCT.
New York	77	35	.688
Detroit	67	46	.592
Chicago	65	51	.560
Boston	61	49	.555
Cleveland	55	57	.491
Washington	52	57	.477
Philadelphia	55	75	.423
St. Louis	35	77	.312

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 26 (P)—Frau Breuvra Wendell abandoned an attempt to swim the English channel today, five miles from the English coast, because of high winds.

ESTES, SAVICH GET REMATCH

Hot Tempers Given Full Play in Next Week's Mat Feature.

Toots Estes and Danny Savich got together with Promoter Mack Lillard, ansered, leered and threatened each other, and now it's all over but the fighting. Estes and Savich are scheduled for a return main event on next week's big and late program, a part of the prospective reward but an opportunity to engage in legal mayhem the major incentive.

Lillard says he doesn't think he's exaggerating when he talks of the imminent Savich-Estes affair as the peak grudge match of his promotional career.

"I've put on grudge matches often enough before," Lillard says, "tough, grisly fights in which one wrestler or the other didn't care about anything as much as to paste or pull his opponent into insensibility."

"But I have never before seen a case where the fury was so mutual. Usually, it's one boy or the other who thinks he's come out with the short end of the stick and wants to get even. Sometimes the other fellow would just as soon let the matter drop and agree just because he's afraid he may get a poor sport or something."

"This Estes-Savich affair, however, is one in which both fighters feel that they've had a dirty deal, and they're both—well, just mad as hell."

"I don't know how it's going to turn out. I wouldn't even want to guess. But I do know it's going to be a fight. You'd know it too, if you had sat in on some of the matchmaking conferences we've had in the last couple of days."

What looms as another of those fast, clean, scientific exhibitions such as the Dick Trout-Bobby Wagner go which stood the crowd on its collective ear last Tuesday night, has been billed for the second spot.

In that event Trout will tangle with Marshall Carter, the erstwhile referee and one-time University of Missouri rascal. Prof. Carter appeared on this past week's program at Medford, and the word drifting over the hills from the Rogue river valley is that he is "remarkable."

No one-hold specialist, like so many modern wrestlers but a master of everything in the book, the report goes.

Wild Man Zim, whose excursions against ring villains on two successive weeks ended in a tie score, will be able to forget about his hair and demonstrate whatever real wrestling ability he may have next week.

He's billed against sensational young Bobby Wagner, who wouldn't molest a strand of an opponent's locks if it meant his life but who knows plenty of other ways of making life miserable for his mat rivals.

SALEM, Aug. 26 (P)—Coming from behind to overcome an eight-run lead acquired in the first inning, Mt. Angel defeated the Portland Neighbors of Woodcraft team 12 to 13 in the first round of the women's state softball tournament here last night.

Manager's Death Makes Future of Steele Uncertain

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 26 (P)—Freddie Steele, world's middleweight boxing champion, was in seclusion today, his plans for a title defense against Ken Overlin, Washington, D. C., next week, disrupted, and his future uncertain, following the death of his manager, Dave Miller.

Miller, 34, who had guided Steele since he entered the ring at 16, died Wednesday of spinal meningitis that developed after an emergency mastoid operation. Miller's brother, Eddie, said the fight with Overlin, scheduled in Seattle Tuesday night, would be indefinitely postponed.

Pro-motor Nate Drumman insisted the fight had not been called off and said no definite decision would be made until he talked to Steele, probably today.

Miller rose to fame as one of the most astute managers in the fight game as he guided Steele from a spindly-legged flyweight to world's middleweight champion in seven years.

The retund Miller, who weighed more than 240 pounds, was in Steele's corner at every fight. Observers said Miller virtually signalled the champion's every punch and directed his maneuvers in the ring as Steele kept one eye on his opponent and one on Miller.

Their relationship went further than the ring. Miller, reportedly worth $250,000 himself, tied up all Steele's earnings so the champion, at 24, could retire even today on a steady income for the rest of his life.

Miller was part owner of six of Tacoma's largest theatres, a hotel and the concessions at the Longacres horse racing plant, near here.

Steele, who had guided Steele since he entered the ring at 16, died Wednesday of spinal meningitis that developed after an emergency mastoid operation. Miller's brother, Eddie, said the fight with Overlin, scheduled in Seattle Tuesday night, would be indefinitely postponed.

Pro-motor Nate Drumman insisted the fight had not been called off and said no definite decision would be made until he talked to Steele, probably today.

Miller rose to fame as one of the most astute managers in the fight game as he guided Steele from a spindly-legged flyweight to world's middleweight champion in seven years.

The retund Miller, who weighed more than 240 pounds, was in Steele's corner at every fight. Observers said Miller virtually signalled the champion's every punch and directed his maneuvers in the ring as Steele kept one eye on his opponent and one on Miller.

Their relationship went further than the ring. Miller, reportedly worth $250,000 himself, tied up all Steele's earnings so the champion, at 24, could retire even today on a steady income for the rest of his life.

Miller was part owner of six of Tacoma's largest theatres, a hotel and the concessions at the Longacres horse racing plant, near here.

Steele, who had guided Steele since he entered the ring at 16, died Wednesday of spinal meningitis that developed after an emergency mastoid operation. Miller's brother, Eddie, said the fight with Overlin, scheduled in Seattle Tuesday night, would be indefinitely postponed.

Pro-motor Nate Drumman insisted the fight had not been called off and said no definite decision would be made until he talked to Steele, probably today.

Miller rose to fame as one of the most astute managers in the fight game as he guided Steele from a spindly-legged flyweight to world's middleweight champion in seven years.

The retund Miller, who weighed more than 240 pounds, was in Steele's corner at every fight. Observers said Miller virtually signalled the champion's every punch and directed his maneuvers in the ring as Steele kept one eye on his opponent and one on Miller.

Their relationship went further than the ring. Miller, reportedly worth $250,000 himself, tied up all Steele's earnings so the champion, at 24, could retire even today on a steady income for the rest of his life.

Miller was part owner of six of Tacoma's largest theatres, a hotel and the concessions at the Longacres horse racing plant, near here.

Steele, who had guided Steele since he entered the ring at 16, died Wednesday of spinal meningitis that developed after an emergency mastoid operation. Miller's brother, Eddie, said the fight with Overlin, scheduled in Seattle Tuesday night, would be indefinitely postponed.

Pro-motor Nate Drumman insisted the fight had not been called off and said no definite decision would be made until he talked to Steele, probably today.

California Heavy Drops Ruggirello

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 26 (P)—Louis Nova of Alameda, California's No. 1 heavyweight contender, floored Salvatore Ruggirello of Chicago three times before the referee halted their 12-round no-decision match in the third round here last night.

Ruggirello brought fans to their feet in the second round when he caught Nova with a right to the chin and sent him tumbling to the canvas for a short count.

Miller was part owner of six of Tacoma's largest theatres, a hotel and the concessions at the Longacres horse racing plant, near here.

Steele, who had guided Steele since he entered the ring at 16, died Wednesday of spinal meningitis that developed after an emergency mastoid operation. Miller's brother, Eddie, said the fight with Overlin, scheduled in Seattle Tuesday night, would be indefinitely postponed.

Pro-motor Nate Drumman insisted the fight had not been called off and said no definite decision would be made until he talked to Steele, probably today.

Miller rose to fame as one of the most astute managers in the fight game as he guided Steele from a spindly-legged flyweight to world's middleweight champion in seven years.

The retund Miller, who weighed more than 240 pounds, was in Steele's corner at every fight. Observers said Miller virtually signalled the champion's every punch and directed his maneuvers in the ring as Steele kept one eye on his opponent and one on Miller.

Their relationship went further than the ring. Miller, reportedly worth $250,000 himself, tied up all Steele's earnings so the champion, at 24, could retire even today on a steady income for the rest of his life.

Miller was part owner of six of Tacoma's largest theatres, a hotel and the concessions at the Longacres horse racing plant, near here.

Steele, who had guided Steele since he entered the ring at 16, died Wednesday of spinal meningitis that developed after an emergency mastoid operation. Miller's brother, Eddie, said the fight with Overlin, scheduled in Seattle Tuesday night, would be indefinitely postponed.

Pro-motor Nate Drumman insisted the fight had not been called off and said no definite decision would be made until he talked to Steele, probably today.

Miller rose to fame as one of the most astute managers in the fight game as he guided Steele from a spindly-legged flyweight to world's middleweight champion in seven years.

The retund Miller, who weighed more than 240 pounds, was in Steele's corner at every fight. Observers said Miller virtually signalled the champion's every punch and directed his maneuvers in the ring as Steele kept one eye on his opponent and one on Miller.

Their relationship went further than the ring. Miller, reportedly worth $250,000 himself, tied up all Steele's earnings so the champion, at 24, could retire even today on a steady income for the rest of his life.

Miller was part owner of six of Tacoma's largest theatres, a hotel and the concessions at the Longacres horse racing plant, near here.

Steele, who had guided Steele since he entered the ring at 16, died Wednesday of spinal meningitis that developed after an emergency mastoid operation. Miller's brother, Eddie, said the fight with Overlin, scheduled in Seattle Tuesday night, would be indefinitely postponed.

Pro-motor Nate Drumman insisted the fight had not been called off and said no definite decision would be made until he talked to Steele, probably today.

Miller rose to fame as one of the most astute managers in the fight game as he guided Steele from a spindly-legged flyweight to world's middleweight champion in seven years.

The retund Miller, who weighed more than 240 pounds, was in Steele's corner at every fight. Observers said Miller virtually signalled the champion's every punch and directed his maneuvers in the ring as Steele kept one eye on his opponent and one on Miller.

Their relationship went further than the ring. Miller, reportedly worth $250,000 himself, tied up all Steele's earnings so the champion, at 24, could retire even today on a steady income for the rest of his life.

Miller was part owner of six of Tacoma's largest theatres, a hotel and the concessions at the Longacres horse racing plant, near here.

LOADING RUBBER ON SMALL BOATS IN LIBERIA FOR TRANSPORTATION TO OCEAN FREIGHTERS

From the Firestone plantations in Liberia comes an ever-increasing supply of the world's finest rubber. Money saved here and in manufacturing and distribution enables Firestone to sell a safer, better-quality tire at lower prices.

Why FIRESTONE MAKES A SAFER TIRE AT A LOWER PRICE

IN THE Firestone Standard Tire, you get extra value in the form of extra safety. It costs more money to build a safer tire. But Firestone can build a first-quality tire made of top grade materials and sell it for less money, because Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber of every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

You need all of these features to make your car tire-safe on your week-end or vacation trip. Firestone gives them to you at lower cost. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON SMOOTH WORN TIRES! DO YOU KNOW

THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?

That a million more were injured?

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires?

At right is a section cut from a new Firestone tire. Note the thick, smooth tread, which provides extra protection against skidding, blowouts and punctures. Look at the left is a section cut from a smooth, worn tire. Note the thin tread, which provides less protection against skidding, blowouts and punctures. Look at the left is a section cut from a smooth, worn tire. Note the thin tread, which provides less protection against skidding, blowouts and punctures.

JOIN THE Firestone Save a Life Campaign To-Day

Listen to the Voice of Firestone, Monday evenings over Nationwide N. B. C. Red Network

J. W. KERNS

734 SOUTH SIXTH PHONE 1053

ESPECIALLY FOR SEVERE AND CHRONIC CASES

No matter with what you are afflicted, Nature's Root and Herb treatments will positively relieve diseases of Stomach, Heart, Lungs, Gall Bladder, Kidneys, Uterus, Piles, Neuritis, Kidneys, Catarrh, Stomach Trouble, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Nervousness, Indigestion, Intestinal and Bowel Trouble, Stomach Ulcers, Rheumatism, Arthritis, Distress, Headache, High or Low Blood Pressure, Liver and Bladder Trouble, Blood and Urinary Diseases, Appendicitis, Female Complaints.

Head Office at San Francisco, Established Since 1906—Consultation Free—Herbs Sold Reasonably

CHAN & KONG CHINESE HERB CO.

111 South Seventh St., Klamath Falls, Oregon.
Hours: From 10 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Sundays: 10 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Century's HOLBROOK BOURBON WHISKY

from our modern sunlight distillery

65c PINT • $1.15 QUART