Little Boy Has Busy Time With Five 4-H Enterprises

Editor's Note: Charles Cheyne, hatched four but they all died so I lost money there.

By CHARLES CHEYNE

This was my first year in club work. I was eleven years old on September 4 of this year. You can just imagine how busy I have been when I tell you I had five projects. They were: rabbits, turkeys, a dairy calf, a baby beef, and I was a member of the Henley Wood club.

I didn't like the rabbits much. They were such hard work all the time, but it was the only way I could make plenty of money to feed my calves and turkeys and have spending money too, so I stayed with them. I won a 1st, 3rd, 4th and 5th on the four does I exhibited at the fair. When I first started I sold at the Klamath Billiards. Then I got more than they could use and I got a market every week from Mr. Rucconich at Emil's market. Soon I had so many I couldn't get them dressed, and sold at Martie's Produce alive. I sold quite a lot for breeding stock and did real well, but now that school has begun again and I have my calf money I'd like to sell them all.

I could not exhibit my turkeys for they were all young and the entries called for an old and a young one. I have all four kinds: Bronze, Maragansett, White Holland and Bourbon Reds. They are beauty now and if I could sell a few of my nicest toms for breeders, I'd sure like it. I tried a setting of White Polish bantams and Win contest. I missed that too, but now I think I can buy me that for myself this fall if I manage right. I have to be careful and save enough money to invest to make me more next year.

I won a trip to the Salem state fair on my stock judging at our local one and the I didn't do so hot up there, next year I'll know more about it. I certainly saw a lot and had a grand time. Mr. Jenkins gave us all a nice long boat ride at Odell lake. I liked our own fair the best. Boys up at Salem all have just dairy stock. They had lots of horses there and the horse show at night was great.

I think club work gives us kids a fine chance to make money, and I know it keeps us busy, and interested as well. I'll certainly be in it next year, but not quite so deep.

CHARLES CHEYNE.

GRANGE COUNCIL MEETING CALLED

The regular quarterly meeting of the grange county council was called Tuesday by President Amos Slack to meet with Bonanza grange Tuesday, October 19, at 7:30 p. m.

The program of the council will consist largely of matters pertaining to the development of agriculture in the Klamath area, and an agricultural program for 1938 will be considered and recommendations made for adoption at the Pomona grange at the regular quarterly meeting on November 13.

Among other features Pomona Master L. Alva Lewis has arranged a meeting of all young members of subordinate granges with the objective of organizing a young peoples' council. It is proposed that the young peoples' organization within the grange will encourage young people of the farms to join the grange and to look after their own welfare, such as formulating educational and recreational programs and creating a department in the grange composed of young people and managed by their own officers.

In order to perfect this organization the young people of all subordinate granges are urged to be present and take part. The young people will hold their meeting in a separate room and will formulate their own programs. Committees of the council are now at work on a complete program which will be announced later. The council will be opened in the fourth degree by officers of Bonanza grange. At the close of the session there will be a potluck luncheon and all granges attending will contribute.

EXTREME PENALTY

BLUFFTON, Ind., (AP)—Anxious to get a meal underway, Mrs. Rufus Glendinning rang a dinner bell so vigorously she broke her arm. The wire on the bell parted. She fell over backwards, her arm striking a bucket.

Twists and Turns in The News

A NEW ONE

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—George B. Melrod was booked in police court on a reckless driving charge but Patrolman Walter G. Mauf said it was a new offense—three-wheeling.

He testified he arrested Melrod for driving a mile and a half through city streets at 30 miles an hour with the right front wheel missing from his car.

"I didn't know it could be done," commented Judge Robert J. Summers as he set the case for trial Thursday.

EASY STREET?

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—They are going to burn up a city street to keep relief clients warm this winter.

City council voted to turn over to relief headquarters for fuel more than 150,000 creosote-impregnated wooden paving blocks torn up from a street where an old bridge was replaced.

FIRST AID

COVINGTON, Va. (AP)—A bread truck, crashing into an electric wire pole in a heavy fog, summoned assistance for its driver, trapped in the crack-up.

The truck snapped a wire and automatically turned in a first aid alarm.

The driver, Roy Benzley, grinned at the fire department ambulance which drove up as he succeeded in extricating himself from the wreckage.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (UP)—An amazed courtroom today heard the story of William H. Richeson, 26, that he had masqueraded as a woman for 19 years, danced with a chorus in a burlesque show and acquired a "husband" who in six years never learned that he had been fooled. The deception was discovered when Richeson was arrested for accepting a policeman, taken to a women's prison as "Mary Baker" and given a bath.

Richeson kept his hands at his face during the hearing, where he appeared in men's clothing for the first time since 1927.

PROFESSOR

FOUNTAIN, Col. (AP)—A freight train came to a screaming halt after shrill whistling failed to budge a pedestrian from the right of way. The man apologetically said he hadn't heard the whistle—he was thinking of an archeological thesis for a master's degree at the University of Arizona.

PUNCHY IDEA

CHICAGO (AP)—A farmer in Ohio who wants to identify his pigs has taken up the matter with the Chicago Street Car company. He said a "V" type punch was used on transfers by the company when he lived in Chicago years ago, and he wanted one "to cut identifying notches in the edges of ears of small pigs." A sketch of a pig's ears (V-notched) accompanied his letter.

RICH HARVEST

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Joseph Burnett was pulling up tomato vines in her garden when she spotted a wedding ring in the roots of a plant. An inscription identified it as belonging to Mrs. Matt Van Parys, who once occupied the house. Mrs. Van Parys said she lost the ring 31 years ago while washing clothes.

THITH ITH THO THILLY

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Fretmen at Richmond division of William and Mary college are hitting, because the thith ith iththiation week.

What makes it harder, they have to lip only every other sentence.

The hitting will end with a threat ceremony Thursday night—thank goodness!

THEIR FIRST MILLION

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—"Step right up, ladies and gents! Grab hold of this million dollars! Feel it, hold it in your hands for only one dime—the tenth part of a dollar!"

That's the kind of concession a group of San Franciscans want to operate at the 1938 Golden Gate International exposition. It proposes cashing in on the fact few persons have seen $1,000,000 and the hope that enough would pay a dime to boast they had.

TIME CHANGES

HONOLULU, S. C. (AP)—Bert Martin had dark brown hair but it grew white as he aged.

Physicians advised him to have his teeth removed.

He did. Now his hair is turning dark again.

FOR ART'S SAKE

MARYSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Mary McCormick changed her mind—and almost had to sleep in a hotel lobby.

"I'm goose pimply," she moaned when Manager Bo Krofta told her the hotel was full. "Where is your chivalry? Please, a room for art's sake."

Krofta set up a bed in a vacant room for the singer, who decided at the last minute to remain overnight after a concert. But Miss McCormick's manager, Anton Miller, had to sleep in a chair in the lobby.

BPW GLEE CLUB SCHEDULES FIRST MEETING THURSDAY

The first of the fall meetings of the Business and Professional Women's glee club is to be held at the Willard hotel Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. Lillie Darby is directing the club this year. All old members and anyone interested are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

DEMONSTRATION OF MEAT COOKERY SET

Emily Conklin, well known lecturer and home economist from Iowa State college, will bring to the home makers of Klamath county the latest and best methods of meat cookery in a demonstration to be held Friday, October 22, at 1:30 to 4 p. m. This demonstration is sponsored by the National Livestock and Meat board and the extension service of Oregon State college, with the local county agent's office making the arrangements. The place for this demonstration has not been selected to date but will be announced within a few days.

Miss Conklin is a member of the staff of the National Livestock and Meat board, the organization which represents all branches of the meat industry, and which initiated several years ago a study of the right way of preparing all kinds and cuts of meat. These studies were carried on in cooperation with the U. S. department of agriculture, and the home economics departments of leading universities and colleges.
