

Stock Disease Thought Causing Death of Deer

REEDSPORT, Feb. 27 (AP)—The mysterious disease which has killed considerable livestock hereabout recently, Wednesday was believed the cause of death of several deer whose carcasses were discovered.

Lee Kuhn of Oregon State college is investigating the possibility that the disease might be a blood taint sometimes known as "sickle cell" prevalent in the southeast but rare elsewhere. Kuhn said it is known to be contagious among animals. More than 15 deer carcasses have been found and examined.

Missionary Has Plan to Wipe Out Poverty

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 27 (AP)—Abolition of poverty through a redistribution of the world's raw materials was included in a five-point program for world reconstruction offered Tuesday night by Dr. E. Stanley Jones, American missionary to India. He spoke at a national Christian mission mass meeting. Other points included elimination of race, class and color barriers to equality of opportunity; substitution of Christian thoughts for incorrect moral and mental attitudes; a spirit of forgiveness, and a new world beginning through cancellation of debts and redistribution of lands.

PORTLAND, Feb. 27 (AP)—You can believe this or not, as you choose, but Orchestra Leader Gary Nottingham, filling an engagement here, told a newspaper interviewer today: "It's a gospel fact—I never played 'Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair' in my life."
